SORORITY SPEAKING CONTEST IN CHAPEL FRIDAY

Vol. LIV., No. 3 | MEADVILLE, PENNSYLVANIA | OCTOBER 9, 1935

Ziskind Wins Annual Delta Sigma Rho Contest

Independent Group Representative Awarded Cup Trophy.

The annual Delta Sigma Rho Extemporaneous speaking contest was held Friday, October 4, at 12:00 o'clock in the college chapel, with first place being taken by Sam Ziskind, non-fraternity representative, who spoke on the subject, "Should not the members of the Supreme Court be elected by the people?"

Second and third places were taken respectively by Kenneth Powell, representative of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity, who spoke on the subject, "Should not the Supreme Court be abolished?" and Everett Hendricks, Phi Delta Theta representative, with the subject, "Should not the decisions of the Supreme Court be handed down by a two-thirds majority?"

In his appeal for popular election of the supreme court judges, Mr. Ziskind maintained that "the Supreme Court has become a court of justice, but in a qualified sense a continuous constitutional convention with powers to interpret the constitution in whatsoever way they will." He cited several instances in which the supreme court had ruled out legislation which was for the better interests of the American people. "As a result," the speaker said, "if we are to guarantee a government interpreted to conform with a streamlined age's need and demands the Supreme Court judges should be elected by a democratic process."

The speakers consisted of one representative from each fraternity on the hill and one from the Independent group.

The other speakers were:—

Ben Raskin, Phi Kappa Psi: "Should not the Supreme Court be required to give an advisory opinion for Congress or the President?"

Henry Riley, Beta Kappa: "Is not the Supreme Court an obstacle to social progress?"

Edward Carney, Delta Tau Delta: "Should not Congress have the right to over-ride the verdict of the Supreme Court by a two-thirds vote of both houses?"

George Kish, Alpha Chi Rho: "Should not the power of the Supreme Court of judicial review of legislation be abolished?"

Armour Hillstrom, Phi Gamma Delta: "Should not the term of the Justices of the Supreme Court be changed from life to a ten year term?"

The judges for the contest were Dr. Long, Dr. J. Ross and Mr. Paul Cares.

Ziskind received a cup for his achievement which will be placed in charge of the non-fraternity group.

Phi Beta Phi, Outing Club Progress In Lodge Projects

Work at the recently purchased Bousson farm has progressed rapidly during the past few weeks. The Phi Btea Phi cabin is well started and work on the Outing Club lodge began recently.

Situated well back in the woods, the biological cabin is well along the road to completion. Concrete foundation posts have been poured and the log walls have been built up to a height of five feet. The cabin, when completed, will be approximately thirty feet long and twenty feet wide. Drilling for a well has started and plans for a fireplace have been made. There will be two doors and several windows to the cabin. The roof will be of slate.

The Outing Club lodge will be built on the shore of Lake Siple. Plans call for a building twenty-five by forty feet. A hardwood floor for dancing, a small kitchen, and a large fireplace are to be included. A balcony in this cabin as well as in the Phi Beta Phi cabin will be used for sleeping purposes. At present holes have been dug for the foundation posts of the Outing cabin.

Much of the material to be used in building and finishing of both cabins will come from the barn which is on the property. The slate has been removed from the roof of the barn and the work of removing the board and timbers will start soon.

Two Men Received In Phi Beta Kappa Honor Recognition

In recognition of superior scholastic performance, "Scholarship Day" was observed during Chapel exercises, Monday, Oct. 7. Supplementing the usual announcement of first and second honors in the respective classes, names of two seniors elected to Phi Beta Kappa were made public.

Frank W. Bailey and Herbert A. Nye were the students signally honored by election before the termination of their senior year.

Speaking on prevailing trends and emphasis in Phi Beta Kappa, president-emeritus William H. Crawford declared that a well rounded life, in addition to scholastic prowess, should be a determining factor in election to that organization.

Nye and Bailey, the only two selected, have both maintained high A averages for their first three years scholastic work. Nye has majored in Physics, now holding an assistantship in that department. He has also been prominent in activities, being a member of Omicron Delta Kappa. He is a member of the Alpha Chi Rho fraternity.

Bailey has majored in the field of history and political science, with a great deal of concentration coming in the foreign language department. He is prominent also in playshop and journalistic activities. He is also a member of the Alpha Chi Rho fraternity.

New Number Added To Concert-Lecture Course For October

One more number has been added to the College-Community Concert-Lecture Course according to announcements from the directing committee which has been successful in securing the world famous explorer and adventurer, Captain Burr Nickle, who will appear in person on October 16 with "the strangest motion picture ever made."

With the engagement of Captain Nickle there will remain seven numbers on the course. The next number, "Dramatic Interludes," will be presented tomorrow night.

The appearance of V. L. Granville at the high school auditorium tomorrow night will be a presentation, in costume and make-up, of the principal characters from the drama of all time. Mr. Granville will personate Falstaff, Svengali, Mrs. Malaprop and several other well known characters.

ANNUAL HOMECOMING DAY PLANS ARE BEING STARTED FOR OCT. 19

On Saturday, October 19, the campus will be crowded with alumni returning to help Allegheny College celebrate its annual Home-coming Day. The main feature of the Home-coming week-end will be the football game with Bethany College.

The ceremonies will begin on Friday night before the game with a pep meeting around a campfire behind Arter Hall.

The gathering of women alumnae at 8 o'clock at Hulings Hall will be in charge of Mrs. Warren P. Norton, Adelaide DeMaison and Mina French.

At the same time in Cochran basement a men's smoker will be in progress in honor of Carl Lawrence, new coach at Allegheny. Ben Miller and Sam Bates will be present to add to the festivities.

A buffet luncheon for the returning alumni will start the program on Saturday. Saturday evening the celebration will come to an end. A play, telling the story of a troupe of Shakespearean actors on the road, will be presented in the Playshop. The men's gymnasium will be the scene of the annual Home-coming dance that evening.

Inter-sorority Speaking Contest To Be Held Friday

Under the auspices of the Philo-Franklin Union, the annual inter-sorority extemporaneous speaking contest will take place in chapel, Friday, Oct. 11. The general subject for discussion is to be the Ethiopian situation. Each of the seven speakers will talk on some subject related to that problem.

The women who will speak are Catherine Gardner, representing Kappa Kappa Gamma; Dorothea Ely, Alpha Chi Omega; Marian McCardell, Theta Upsilon; Mary Calvin, Alpha Gamma Delta; Elizabeth Brady, Alpha Xi Delta. Kappa Alpha Theta and the non-sorority group will also be represented.

Betty Elliott, winner of last year's contest, will preside.

Kappa Delta Epsilon To Hold First Meeting Tomorrow Night

Kappa Delta Epsilon, national professional educational fraternity for women, will hold its first meeting of the year tomorrow night in Ruter Hall.

The program for the year will be planned, a treasurer elected, and new members nominated.

This year's officers are Jean Morrow, president; Dorothy Phillips, vice-president; Sarah McGranahan, secretary, and Mina L. French, sponsor.

Strong Offensive Drive In Second Half Gains Victory

Clark Runs Around End 20 Yards For Only Score of Game.

Staging one rapid fire offensive drive, after an almost lifeles first half, Allegheny's Alligators started the season off on the right foot by scoring an early second half touchdown to eke out a 7-0 win over the Clarion State Teachers aggregation last Saturday on Montgomery field.

The 'Gators started rather slowly and raggedly, but as the game progressed, they began to find themselves, and with an attack that smoothed out as the time went by, they produced enough power to repulse a surprisingly strong Teachers team.

The only score of the game came in the third quarter, after the Blue and Gold had been outplayed the entire first half. A half dozen plays carried the ball 54 yards to a touchdown.

After a preliminary exchange of punts opening the third period, Allegheny came into possession of the ball on its own 46 when one of Bedysck's punts carried out-of-bounds. Then, without warning, the 'Gators struck. Blaisdell drove into right tackle, came through the line of scrimmage and cut sharply toward the side-line, rambling 20 yards through an open field before Griffen bounced him out-of-bounds on the Clarion 34. Two running plays netted only four yards, but Clark went back and tossed a pass to Dick Horn, received just as he was being pulled down by Griffen, on the 12-yard line, a gain of 18 yards. Clark tried a swing around right end but was dropped for a loss of two yards, but he tried it again on a reverse play and swept around the left wing to ramble across the goal-line, untouched.

DICK HORN — END

Blaisdell's kick for the extra point was low into the line, but Clarion was called for offside and the 'Gators were given another chance. With the ball moved up to the 1-yard line, big "Moose" Petrequin blasted off right tackle on a fake kick formation to add the seventh point.

During the second half the Lawrencemen tightened up on the defense as well, holding the Teachers to a scant 17 yards gained as compared to 142 in the first half. The 'Gators rolled up a total yardage of 121 yards as compared to the 159 total of the Clarion team. After they had scored the touchdown the team settled down to strict defensive football and had the Teachers cracking up against a stone wall defense. Running the ball only a couple of times and then kicking was the routine of 'Gator play after that, in an attempt at safe football to protect their margin, though most of the second half was played in Clarion territory.

Hazel Dixon Fills New Position As Athletic Leader

Activities of the Women's Athletic Association started last Wednesday with a meeting with Hazel Dixon, '37, presiding in her office as president of the Association. Two sports reports were given and plans for the coming year were made.

Tennis manager Libby Blackwood, '38, reported that the tennis tournament, which was delayed by the weather, would be played off during the week. A field hockey game between the freshmen and upperclassmen is scheduled for the near future, according to Blanche Allshouse, '37, who is in charge of this sport.

HAZEL DIXON

Other sports in which activity is scheduled to start soon are Archery, under the management of Elvira Peffer, '38; Badminton and Deck Tennis, Virginia Schiek, '38; Basketball, Beverly Sims, '38; Riding, Marianna Rall, '37; and Swimming, Eleanor Keefer, '38.

November 16 has been set for the annual novelty dance of the Association. The women students invite the men as their guests to this affair.

The year's events are climaxed by the annual banquet of the Association held in May. The officers for the next year are installed and individual awards are made. The May Day celebration follows the banquet, concluding the activities of the Association.

Other officers for the coming year are Betty Heath, '37, vice-president; and Edna McClure, '37, secretary-treasurer.

German Professor Relates Summer Travels In European Lands In Interview To Campus

Dr. Spann-Delorme traveled the entire road of her summer trip abroad last Saturday in the short space of twenty minutes for the benefit of a befuddled reporter who accompanied her from the uncomfortable confines of her official chair.

After a harrowing journey over the Atlantic, during which 'our' ship tried to crash the Berengaria and only missed by 25 yards during a fog when the whistles blew and nary a one was heard, we finally found ourselves in Berlin going to school (The reporter is glad this was only an imaginary journey.) There were 70 students with the same idea, but the feminine percentage was low—although a Danish, an English, and two American women were there incidentally. This school was conducted in connection with the University of Berlin for summer study in economics and politics by foreign intelligentsia, and sixteen nationalities we represented.

Contrary to the mood of exciting travel Dr. Spann spoke seriously of the methods of presentation: "The whole course reviewed about the question, 'What is National Socialism?' We were addressed each day by a man prominent in his field—government, industry, publications, etc. One of the speakers was Professor Fischer, a scientist noted for his interest in the race problem.

"After each lecture we were taken to see evidence of our previous instruction. We saw the homes in which 60,000 Berlin workers live—not tenement houses, but apartment houses and single homes. The latter may be bought by the workers on a nominal rental basis.

"The factories conduct schools, and there are experimental departments in which each student may find his natural interests. They also supply tennis courts, recreation rooms, hospitals, and insurance for their workers."

Mrs. Spann explained that this Labor-Utopia was the result of the work of the German Labor Front, which organizes all workers—even the white-collar job-holders.

"We also saw labor camps similar to the C.C.C. groups. These youths must extract resin from the pine trees, drain swamps, improve roads, raise domestic animals, and raise food to support the camps."

"All these conditions have made a satisfied people. This is the strength of the prevalent national-socialistic trend."

After this three weeks' course, the vacationer had a glorious time swimming in the North Sea where she visited, and then she took another course given by the University of Austria. This course was not as noteworthy due to the lack of representative speakers The traveler found the people, however, the source of much

MUSINGS OVER THE GAME

First, the football game itself. After a slow start, the Allegheny team finally found itself and displayed a brand of football, that, should it continue and improve will provide plenty of action, excitement, and enjoyment to its student backers. Numerous students have been to pessimistic over the outcome of the remaining games of the season, after witnessing Saturday's encounter.

It must be remembered that that hour of participation Saturday afternoon was the first hour of actual real combat that the team has spent under the new system and style of play. The difference of experience can be seen in the type of play produced in the two halves. The first was an inexperienced, somewhat bewildered group, struggling to catch on, being outclassed. The second half found a team more used to their new system, using it as it should be used in good football.

Now it remains to see the further improvement made in the team. Saturday's game was acceptable for that particular opponent. But as the opposing teams become increasingly tough, so must the 'Gators increase their competency. But we feel optimistic over these chances. Each added week of working with a coach who knows his football, and knows how to teach and coach it, increasing his respect with his players, is bound to reflect in the play of the team.

Another evident feature of the game was the show of "spirit" on the part of the rooters. Though the upperclasses showed more spirit than in the past few years, it was mostly the frosh class that provided most of the backing. More power to them, we hope they keep it up. Only, how about the rest of the student body joining in. The cheerleaders have started out on the right foot, now give them some support so they can continue their work in a satisfactory manner. Get some spirit! The team welcomes it, the school needs it, and we need it! Supply it!

The annual sorority rushing week is over, followed by a week of despair and heartaches for the many disappointed freshmen. Many of these girls fully expected to join a sorority but due to the new "Quota System" were barred from entrance —were forced to start their college career with such a bitter frustration. It was believed that the prevailing social situation in previous years was that in which one had to join a sorority whether financially able or desirous to do so or not. Now there seems to be merely an exchange of evils. Now many who are anxious to join cannot do so. The Quota System was installed because of a demand for an increase in the non-sorority group advocating that an increase in number would lessen the woe and unhappiness—rather a 'misery likes company' idea. It would sound rather irrational if we were to apply that adage elsewhere—to the gruesome death toll in the World War. Did it soften the misery and pain for a victim's family to know that millions of others met similar fate?

The appeal that Allegheny has previously made to girls desiring a well-balanced college life has been lessened by this deprivation of sororities, to what extent only time will tell.

FLAPPERS HAVE FOLDED THEIR WINGS

Dr. Frances Gaw, psychologist, of Seattle, says that the ex-flappers (girls who would occasionally break a convention) have developed into sensible mothers "either ultra-conservative or sanely liberal, convinced that the freedom they took in their youth was ultimately a good thing." A harvest from wild oats MAY be crowded out by a little later GOOD seed-sowing and extra care but the emphasis should be on the word "may".

Soft sales are seldom made to hard workers.

Having to remember what they said has proved to be the bane of many otherwise good liars.

Because a soldier must risk his body for a citation it does not therefore follow that a politician must forfeit his honor for an election.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor of The Campus,
Dear Mr. Hawkins:

After reading the estimable president of the Men's Senate quite naive defense of his own quite indefensible position, we feel inspired to pick up our pens and endeavor to enlighten Mr. Dennis how the other six hundred and fifty-one students in Allegheny feel about class affairs.

First of all that farce of the campus, the Men's Senate, represents only the two upperclasses in the college. Of course each fraternity group has two representatives in the Senate, but those representatives really represent the Junior and Senior classes. Why shouldn't the Freshmen and Sophomores have representation before that august body?

Mr. Dennis defends the practice of wearing dinks on the ground that these head coverings are to help the freshmen recognize each other on the campus. Alas and alack! We thought that Mr. Dennis would give the freshmen credit for more intelligence than that. It really seems hard to believe that a bit of gaudy cloth will make a freshman recognize a fellow-classmate, while living with a fellow for a month will not accomplish that feat.

When the freshmen came to college, they anticipated some sort of class rivalry, both physical and mental. But lo and behold! They found that this campus is to become the battleground of a tea-drinking socioty under the auspices of the Men's Senate.

We were shocked beyond all hopes of recovery to read that Mr. Dennis regarded any institutions of higher education that allowed upperclassmen to act like a mob of barbarians and the freshmen like a flock of timid sheep as hick colleges. We are exceedingly grateful to learn that Yale, Harvard, Princeton, and Dartmouth can no longer be counted among the elite schools but now must rate in Mr. Dennis' mind as hick colleges.

We deeply regret that we do not have sufficient adjectives to extol your graces and charms as that paragon of Webster, Mr. Dennis, but we do wish you lots of luck this year.

Sincerely,
A Would Be Barbarian,
BEN RASKIN.
A Would Be sheep,
FRED LLOYD.

SPANN RELATES TRAVELS

amusement—and describes them as "not as frank and open as the Germans"—a mild statement for the tact and diplomacy of every citizen. In Austria she found an intense anti-Semitic feeling although Vienna is the home of many refugees.

One of the most striking scenes of the journey was described by Dr. Spann when she told of her visit to Italy's Trieste. "The Battlefront is still a place of the trenches of 1914. Pieces of helmets and guns are all around, 1400 Italians lie buried in the cemetery on a hill much like our 'round-top'. The towns were all shut down as if they were deserted yesterday, for new parts were built up instead of using the old.

Then 5,000,000 concentrated troops of Mussolini marched as I rode by—the war spirit was in the air, and I could almost feel that we were again in conflict."

From there the road led to Venice, where Dr. Spann walked, and walked and walked. Why not the canals? Well the gondeliers charge too much, and the traveller did not speak enough Italian to tell him so. Whereupon we are proud to say that our 'American' representative is not of the "one is born every minute".

Campus Sororities Fete New Pledges At Week's Banquets

With sorority rushing and pledging over, Kappa Kappa Gamma was the first sorority to give its pledge banquet. The banquet was held last Monday evening at the Venango Inn. The alumnae present were: Iantha Boyd, Mary Agnes Miller, Cleo Duffield, Christine Black, Jean Holman, and Nancy Peffer.

Phi Gamma Delta fraternity house was the scene of the Alpha Chi Omega pledge banquet last Monday evening. Mrs. Benjamin Miller was the only alumna present; there were thirty-four Alpha Chi's in all present.

Tuesday evening Alpha Xi Delta sorority held their pledge banquet at the Venango Inn. Frances Canada was chairman of the program; Barbara Burns welcomed the pledges; Shirley Baldwin, freshman, gave a response for the pledges; Elizabeth Brady gave a reading; and Mina French spoke on the meaning of the nine bars of Alpha Xi. Lydia Mieczkowski was toastmistress. Alumnae present were: Mildred Brooks, Elicia White, Mina French, and Dorothy McKee.

Kappa Alpha Theta's gave their banquet at the Venango Inn on Thursday evening. Frances Boone, president, presided. The black and gold color scheme of the sorority was used in the decorations. Mary Jane Kiebort was the only alumna present.

Kepler Hotel was the scene of the Alpha Gamma Delta pledge banquet on Friday evening. Jane Gleason introduced the pledges, who in turn gave impromtu speeches. A trio furnished music after the meal. Alumnae present were: Margaret Smith, Josette Dennis, and Bryce Byham.

Theta Upsilon gave their banquet at the Venango Inn on Friday evening. Peg Stroble, president introduced the pledges. The alumnae there were: Dr. Spann, Mrs. Morten Luvaas, Helen Connell, and Mrs. McClean.

Gospel Team To Open New Fall Program Soon

Shafer Wins Intramural Golf Tourney For Phi Psis

Defeats Miller in Finals; Phi Delts Place Second, Chi Rhos Third.

Ray Shafer, Phi Psi, was proclaimed golf champion of Allegheny Sunday afternoon when he defeated Chuck Miller, Phi Delt, one up on the 19th hole in the finals of the intramural golf tournament. Shafer's win also gave the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity the greatest number of points to earn for them the cup emblematic of interfraternity championship. Phi Delta Theta earned second place, and Alpha Chi Rho took third in the final standings.

Shafer had to come from behind to take the match. At the end of the 13th hole, Miller was 5 up and 5 holes to go. At this stage of the game though he cracked under the pressure exerted by Shafer's steady golf and lost the remaining five holes, sending the match into an extra hole affair. Shafer continued his streak of hole-winning by copping the 19th to take the match and the championship.

The match was the second in a row that Shafer had to come from behind to win. In the preceding day's semi-final match with Hawkins, Shafer was behind until the 15th hole where he squared the match. Then showing his comeback abilities, which were to be repeated in the finals, Shafer carded birdies on the 16th and 17th holes to win the match on the 17th. On the par three 16th he garnered a birdie 2 to overshadow his opponent's par 3. And on the seventeenth he holed out from off the green to card a birdie three on the par four hole to take the match. Shafer had a match score of 80, the lowest score of the tourney, as compared with Hawkins' 84. Miller entered the finals by winning his semi-final match with Sedwick. After a poor start, Miller settled down to his usual steady game on the last nine to pull out a 4 and 3 win.

Miller's place in the finals gave the Phi Delta Theta group second place in the standing with 13 points. Shafer's win, and the placing of Sedwick in the semi-finals contributed the largest number of points towards the Phi Psi total of 14 points. With Hawkins in the semi-finals, and Swartz in the quarter-finals, the Chi Rho's gathered enough points, eight, to land third place in the tourney standings. The first three groups thus receive the first points in their rush towards the yearly interfraternity sports championship.

Coaches Are Again "Feted" or "Feeted" At Football Dinner

A football team in complete—or almost complete—regalia, coaches, and cheerleaders helped to inaugurate the athletic season at the women's annual dinner, held in Hulings Hall, Thursday, Oct. 3.

Members of the Women's Athletic Association, the players on the team, literally "crashed" into the dining hall. Clad in shorts, sweatshirts, helmets, and cleated shoes, they sat at two "training tables" and gave their own interpretation as to the probable conduct of football men at mealtime.

Introduced by Marianna Rall, "manager", the following "players" greeted the new coach, Karl Lawrence: Edna McClure and Eleanor Keefer, ends; Blanche Allshouse and Julia Ferguson, the "tackless tackles"; Hazel Dixon and Mary Lou Waha, the "last of the old, old guard"; Mary Calvin, center; Libby Blackwood, quarterback; Betty Heath and Evelyn Sleightholm, halfbacks; Betty Elliott, fullback. Of course there was Betty McAlevy as the waterboy.

In addition to Coach Lawrence, the other members of the coaching staff, H. P. Way and Arthur Daniels, were guests of the evening. After dinner, the guests spoke to the women, explaining some of the not-too-fine points of football.

Not to be forgotten in the rush were three other guests. Dick Rushmore, Bill Dunlany, and Joe Phillibar, cheerleaders. Perhaps the presence of 150 women explained Dunlany's confusion in leading cheers, but nothing will explain Phillibar's punning. Rushmore seemed unperturbed.

Freshmen Show Interest In Dramatic Participation

The Allegheny Playshop has been a scene of great activity during the past two weeks. Sixty-eight Freshmen have already expressed their desire to participate in dramatic work

Tryouts for many of these have been conducted and results have been very favorable, according to Prof. Alice M. Spalding, director of the Playshop. There seems to be no dearth of dramatic talent in the Freshman class, and competition for position among the Allegheny Players is keen.

'GATORS BEAT CLARION

The way the Teachers started off it looked like a bad day for the charges of Coach Lawrence. Clarion displayed a passing attack that set the 'Gators back on their heels several times. Bedsyck shone for the visitors with his passing and running. Had he a competent receiver the score might have been of a different nature. Almost singlehanded, with his dazzling off tackle slices, he ran the 'Gator tacklers ragged in the first half. After the Blue and Gold defense tightened up the second half, though, even this elusive half back could gain no ground. Three times the Tippin-coached team was within the Allegheny 20-yard line during the second quarter, but there was no power in the attack sufficient to penetrate further. Once the interception of a forward pass checked the march, again the drive broke down on straight rushing and the final assault ended when an attempted placement kick missed by inches.

The attempted placement threw a big scare into the rooters. On a fourth down Bedysck tried to kick from the 22-yard line. The ball, lifting cleanly, struck an upright and bounded back onto the playing field.

The Clarion team held a margin in first downs of nine to five. But seven of those were made in the first half while the 'Gators could make but one. The second half was a different story.

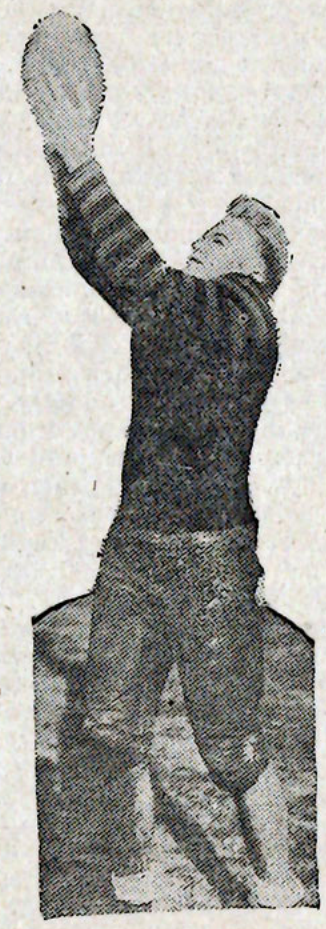
Photography Club Holds First Of Group Meetings

At the first meeting of the Photography Club in Carnegie Hall on October 4, committees on the constitution and the program were appointed. Leon Gregg, who was elected chairman, appointed Dr. Chester A. Darling, David Abel and Robert Muir to the constitution committee. Dr. John Heller, Richard Darling and George Thornton were the members appointed to the program committee.

An open meeting is planned for those interested in photography at Carnegie Hall on October 17, at 7:30 p. m. On the program will be a demonstration by an expert of practical aids for the amateur photographer.

'Gators Prepare For Second Encounter With Hiram

MIKE DE PAOLA



BROWN VINCENT

Mike De Paola, fullback, and Brown Vincent, end, two of Hiram's outstanding stars, who will provide problems in Friday night's game.

Alligators to Stack Up Against Veteran Outfit Friday Night.

Coach Karl J. Lawrence will send his victorious 'Gators on the field for the second time this Friday night against the Hiram "Terriers" at Warren, O. This will be the second time in Allegheny grid history that the 'Gators have performed under the "lights" and the first gridiron contest with Hiram since 1915.

COACH MEFORT

Coach Mefert has built his team around a nucleus of seven veterans. With a line average of 179 pounds, and the backfield averaging 168 pounds, the Terriers prove to be heavy and fast. Mefort has two complete squads, twenty-seven men, reporting for practice daily. Whatever team takes the field against Allegheny, approximately half will be composed of sophomores.

In the years past Allegheny has played Hiram twelve games with one defeat and one 0-0 draw. The greatest victory was in 1914 with a score of 51-0, while in 1915 the score was 39-0 in Allegheny's favor. The last game scheduled in 1918 was postponed and not played for some unknown reason.

Hiram has already played Wooster College and Bethany College. In both games they were downed, the scores being 30-0 and 13-7.

The Hiram aggregation will present a serious threat to the local Blue and Gold aspirations, but after Saturday's exhibition and experience under their belt, the 'Gators will be ready to attempt to add another victory to their record.

Dr. C. W. Skinner Talks Before Meadville Hospital

"The Newer Aspects of Anaethesia" was the subject of a talk given by Dr C. W. Skinner, college physician, before the Junior Auxiliary of the Meadville City Hospital on Monday afternoon.

CAMPUS CLIPPINGS

From the Westminster Holcad comes a little dissertation upon the freshmen who usually receive quite a bit of comment, though we wonder how they like the idea of having poetry written about them.

I like frosh!
They stand about
Put their hands in their pockets
And pull them out.
They look kind of bashful
They twist on their toes
And upperclass students
Borrow their clothes.
They get themselves girls
And lose them to the sophs.
Frosh are queer creatures,
I like frosh!

Again the frosh get credit (?) for something. Among the better definitions already furnished by the incoming classes at various institutions is that describing a saxaphone as, "an ill wind which nobody blows good."

Seen on the bulletin board at Carnegie Tech, was this inscription as described by the Tech Tartan.

"Cheerleader wanted: must be neat, honest, and intelligent." One week later, it was changed to this: "Cheerleader wanted: no qualifications needed."

And then there was the senior at a certain institution who persisted in calling his hair debutante, because it was always coming out.

A columnist at Whittier College, California, decided to deduce the values of notebooks. Here is the "deducement", which is no "inducement": (1) manufacture of paper and ink keeps men in food and clothing, (2) selling them in bookstore keeps a fellow in school, (3) carrying one keeps a co-ed in class, (4) and writing in it during lecture period keeps one in good standing.

Also from Whittier College comes the following "new fraternities": Canta Getta Data, Eata Bita Pi, and Chi Baby Chi. Ouch! Where do they get that stuff?

STARDUST

After that reception last week we wondered what the exact status of this column was . . . and it seems that after it has appeared once there has been a distinct let down in "notable activities" . . . Is that any way to act? . . . But then regardless of whether people conscientiously try to stay out of "this yere colyum", or not, things are bound to pop up that keep us going for another week . . . for instance those three freshman co-eds who now no longer think housemeetings are worthwhile things, just because one of them happened to come on a night when they had so heartily planned on using their lone 12 o'clock. 'Twas a shame that the Scottdale lads had to be so disappointed, and have their dates over at such an early hour. (What must they think of Allegheny? Dear, dear.) But then the reception they got in front of Hulings must have served as some sort of a recompense. Tho' it was probably a shock to the young hopefuls here . . . More than one "sucker" was exposed Saturday night at a certain frat dance, when a quartette was seen enjoying the tastiness of "all day suckers" on the dance floor. They may taste good, those lollypops, but we can't imagine it being a lot of fun having a lollypop stick rammed into your eye while dancing, or the other end reposing gracefully (?) in some dancer's hair . . . That lad of last week's note who received the "tall dark and handsome" reminder, got it in the neck again last week-end at a dance, when his "brothers" so continually ribbed him about it during the evening that his new date also became irate enough to contribute a few remarks to add to the situation. Quite an average that, two "killinks" in succession . . . Maybe by the time this is read a much promised serenade will have taken place. The girls are gradually getting tired of waiting up for it . . . Shame on the lads, treating the lassies in such a manner, when that beauty sleep could come in so handy . . . These freshmen again . . . This time their conversation is nothing to cheer up the men of the school, or cause them to hurl any praise in their direction. Two of them in discussing their dates let loose the following remarks: "Who was that fellow you were down at Doc's with yesterday?" "Oh, him, he was just some (omitted to spare some poor fellows feelings) that I was working on for a bid to the pledge dance, and I got it." My, they sure do catch on to the tricks of the trade in quick fashion, don't they? It looks like some fellow sure got hooked, as did some others, but not in such an open manner . . . We hear Bill Wilson obliged the comment received here last week, by giving his "favorite passenger" another lift downtown. Its getting to be a habit now. And after all these years of continual walking on her part. It's a good thing he hasn't got his pin, or he even might be more generous. "His gal sal" friend had better watch out or Myrtle will be stealing her stuff . . . "Pleasant memories" to original writers of this column, last year, is the cause of the change of the title of this column to "Stardust". But regardless of the title, we'll still try to present something of some enjoyment. When we are through writing for this, guess we will have to ask for a change of name too, for, you know, tho' we write in vain, in our hearts there will remain, that Stardust melody, the memory of it's disdain" . . . The height of something or other . . . An upperclassman ordering a tootsie roll to be delivered to a back booth at Jim's while his date sipped soup . . . We thought it was always the frosh that pulled the boners, but an upperclass woman took the prize this time . . . One senior fraternity man got a distinct shock Saturday night when a soph co-ed asked him how long he had been pledged. After three years as a leading member of a group a remark like that was about enough to shatter all hopes. He's an O.D.K. too . . . Fall styles in women's coats have taken a new trend this year. Or at least, so thinks one of the senior men, who holds a "spotlight" position on the campus. This gentleman took five minutes to extoll the praises of the texture, fit, looks, style, etc., of a coat on a Tarbellite. After asking where she got such a "stunning" coat the questioner and praiser was repulsed by the answer that the coat belonged to her boyfriend and she had just borrowed it for a day. Such a look as came into his eyes . . . Someone had better study up on the present day styles and such, we'd hate to see him wearing a fur neckpiece one of these days through a similar misjudgement . . . And so for another week, Stardust drops its curtain of darkness on the dawn of unusual happenings until next Wednesday when we hope the panorama will be a bit more rosy . . .

1936 Kaldron Staff Is Announced By Editor

The 1936 Kaldron Staff was announced last week by the editor, Walter Jacobson. In years before seniors have for the most part dominated the staff of their yearbook, but this year finds a predominance of juniors and sophomores receiving appointments.

The business manager of the annual will be Robert Byers, '37. Barbara Burns, '37, will serve as Assistant Editor. Senior Editors are Judith Kerr, '38, and Alfred Van Andle, '36. Interfraternity Editors, Frances Wynne, '38, and Jack Hoeveler, '37. Sports Editor, Robert W. Lyons, '37.

Photographers on the staff are Helen E. Miller, '37, Leone Gregg, '36, George Thornton, '37, and Roger Maloney, '38. Janet Fishel will be in charge of the literary work.

Regular Sunday Evening Vespers Held In Hulings

The regular Sunday evening Vesper meeting was held in Hulings Hall, Oct. 6, with John Lytle conducting the service. Lytle also led the singing, while Helen Nagay accompanied at the piano.

The evening discussion was led by Dr. Clarence Skinner, college health director, who spoke on the "Physical Signs in People Who Smoke."

Outing Club To Admit 35; Plans Trips For Juniors

Thirty-five members will be admitted to the Outing Club, it was decided at a meeting of that organization held in the Gym last Wednesday evening. Many applications for membership were received and are being considered by the Executive Council.

It was also decided at the meeting that junior members of the club may go on trips by alphabetical order. Under this plan junior members will probably go on two trips each semester.

The club is composed of members of the senior and junior classes. Junior members of the Outing Club are selected from the sophomore class. Freshmen may not become members but may accompany the club on invitation.

U. of California collegians have found a new way of beating the law so far as parking ordinances are concerned.

Here's their simple plan: First, get a parking tag for over-parking. Second, stick it on your windshield every day when you park to go to your classes.

The theory behind it all is that the police will pass by a car that is already tagged.

SOCIETY

Alpha Chi Omega Pledge Dance.

On Friday evening Alpha Chi Omega entertained its pledges at the Phi Gamma Delta house with its annual pledge dance from 8:30 until 12 o'clock. The Melody Weavers played for forty-five couples. Dr. and Mrs. O. P. Akers, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Layng were chaperones for the occasion.

The dance was under the direction of Emily Shaw, social chairman. Miss Frances Boone, Miss Emily Campbell, Miss M. Youngman, Miss Marian Leslie, Miss Marianna Rall, Miss Elizabeth Blackwood, and Miss Barbara Johnston, Cleveland, were guests of the chapter.

Alpha Chi Rho Pledge Dance.

Alpha Chi Rho entertained 11 pledges Saturday night at their annual pledge dance held in the chapter house from 8:30 until 12 o'clock. 30 couples danced to the music of Bruce Fye and his orchestra. Dr. and Mrs. D. Thomas, Dr. and Mrs. C. Skinner, and Mr. Paul Cares, and Miss Marian May acted as chaperones for the affair which was under the direction of Orin Hawkins, social chairman. Pledge paddles were given as dance programs.

Several members of the fraternity presented entertainment during the evening. Kyle Premo gave an exhibition of tap dancing, Orin Hawkins and Richard McCord gave several vocal presentations.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon Dance.

On Saturday evening, the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity held its annual pledge dance at the chapter house from 8:30 until 12 o'clock. Forty couples danced to the music of Barney Knapp and his Melody Weavers. Chaperones for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. L. J. King. The dance was under the direction of the social chairman, Donald Ervin.

The evening was enlivened by the vocal interpretations of Bill Ellermeyer, Sig member of the dance band.

Phi Psi Radio Party.

Phi Kappa Psi held a radio party last Saturday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Ben Miller were the chaperones for the affair. There were about twenty couples present.

Phi Gam Initiation.

Pi Chapter of Phi Gamma Delta announces the initiation of Robert J. Ralston, '37; Fred C. Neiman, '37; Robert E. Petrequin, '38, and D. Armour Hillstrom, '37.

Alpha Chi Omega wishes to reannounce the complete list of its pledges due to an error in the last week's Campus. They are: Ruth Stafford, Phyllis Freeland, Joan Large, Nancy Clowes, June Sieberg, Elizabeth Osbourne, Betty Kroegher, and Betty Rehtmeyer.

Dormitory Women Hold Election Of House Heads

The girls' dormitories held their house elections during the past week. In Hulings Hall, two sets of representatives were elected, one for the front and one for the back dormitories. In Hulings front, Betty Elliott was elected for second floor, Beverly Sims for third, and Lydia Miesczkowski for fourth floor. In Hulings back, Julia Ferguson represents second floor, Lucille Stein, third, and Barbara Turner on fourth floor.

In Hammett House, Betty Kroegher is chairman, with Shirley Baldwin and Margaret Jackson as her assistants.

In Cochran Hall, Marjorie Joice and Jane Stoner were elected.

Alice Lyman represents the second floor of Tarbell House, and Betty Jean Gray was elected for third floor.

Jane Stoner To Lead "Los Camaines" In Mexican Study

"Los Caimanes," the Spanish club, held its first meeting last Thursday evening in the Gold Room in Hulings Hall. At this time plans and programs were discussed for the coming meetings.

The Gold Room will next resound with Spanish accents on Thursday, October 17, between seven and eight o'clock. There will be a discussion of Mexico led by Jane Stoner, '37, and Ruth McKibben, '37, of the program committee, and Jean Morrow, '36.

"Trident"

What smooth (?) freshman required the aid of a victrola record to entice his lady love into his "parlor"? . . . Nice of the Phi Psi chaps to legalize the party . . . Can it be proved that a certain good looking Theta got her black eye from playing hockey? . . . It's a good story anyway . . . Imagine the embarrassment of a prominent senior when he discovered that it really was snowing, after having remarked upon what people will say to keep conversation going . . . Very much Chi Rho talent exhibited at their dance, what with singing and tap dancing . . . Nice work . . . Bruce Fye's orchestra not to be sneezed at . . . what with a pianist that is a pianist . . . What handsome Phi Psi recently made his debut into the library on his third year here and was enthusiastically received by the library staff . . . Three is a strange number on the rustic bridge . . . the frosh incidentally should be commended for their originality (?) in decorating said bridge . . . And then there is the frosh who complained about the cramped position of her neck, while dancing, but then adjustment is all a part of one's technique . . . (faux pas of the season) A much publicized proctor asked that self assured senior during frosh week if he found a great change from high school to college . . . The register at the Phi Psi party was a great help to those couples who could sign their names and make people think they had been there all evening . . . It's pretty tiresome to talk to someone whose vocabulary is limited to "it's terrific" . . . Acting one's age is o.k., but lollypops is going a bit too far . . . Last minute flash, as column is closing . . . the nicest couple arrangement on the campus was made official by the hanging of a Phi Psi sweetheart pin . . . congratulations.

A new course is being offered at Stephens College, Missouri. "Artistic Loafing" is the course. There are plenty of students here that could show the prof a thing or two in that course.

Many Alumni Get "Hooked" During Vacation Months

Whether it was the rustic bridge or the Allegheny campus moon which has led to so many true romances on this campus among Allegheny students is hard to say.

However, several Allegheny alumni were married during the last few months.

Miss Thelma Karlen, '30, was married to Wilmot Moss. She is a member of Alpha Xi Delta fraternity and he a member of Phi Kappa Psi. They are living in Indiana, Pa.

Paul Younger, '31, and Helen Walker, '34, were married Oct. 6, in Pittsburgh. Mr. Younger is a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity and Mrs. Walker is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma fraternity. They are at present on a trip to Bermuda and will later live in Ben Avon. Mr. Younger is a field representative of Allegheny.

Ruth Staples, '33, was married to Dr. James Bruce Hamilton. Dr. Hamilton is a member of Alpha Chi Rho and Phi Beta Kappa. Mrs. Hamilton is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta and former national Cwen president.

Miss Alice McClelland, '33, and Frank Layng were married in June in Meadville, and are at present living in Meadville. They are members of Alpha Chi Omega and Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternities respectively.

Rowena Orr, ex '37, and Russell Fleming were married in Ripley, N. Y., and are living in Meadville. She is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta fraternity.

Joe Harre, '34, was married to Martha E. Smith, of Kane, Pa. Mr. Harre is the Allegheny Alumni representative.

Robert Cole, '34, was married to Martha June McMullen Oct. 1, at Ripley, N. Y., and are living in Meadville where both are employed at the Hookless Fastener Co. Mr. Cole is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Mildred Moore, ex '37, was married to Floyd Garlow. They are living in Point Marion, Ohio. Mrs. Garlow is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma.
