ALLEGHENY WINS WESTERN STATE CHAMPIONSHIP BY VICTORIES OVER PITT AND CARNEGIE TECH

Big Crowd Sees Gold and Blue Defeat Down State Five for Ninth Time in 30-29 Contest—Hardest Fought Basketball Ever Played in Pittsburgh—Carnegie Tech Defeated by a 37-25 Score

Friday night, before a crowd so large that it taxed every inch of room in Trees gymnasium in Pittsburgh and crowded on the floor so far it was necessary for police to push the people back, Allegheny not only spoiled University of Pittsburgh's hopes for the coveted championship of the East, which they were already claiming, but again established her own right to the championship by defeating Pitt in a wonderful game by the score of 29-30.

This is the ninth consecutive time that Allegheny has humbled University of Pittsburgh in basket ball, but this year it meant more to both teams than ever before. Pitt has just completed the most successful year in the history of the institution. Never before has this down-state team won such decisive victories from such big teams as during the past season. The fastest teams in the country have been humbled and gone down to defeat. Yale, Pennsylvania State, Lafayette, Rutgers, Army, Lehigh, Juniata, Westinghouse, Colgate, Carnegie Tech., and Washington and Jefferson have all fallen as easy victims to aspiring champions. It remained for Allegheny, in the closing game of the season, on the home floor of University of Pittsburgh, where it was supposed that the Panthers could not be beaten, to wrest the championship from the conquerors.

Pitt was undoubtedly the greatest team that Allegheny has met since the times of their defeating the world's champion Buffalo Germans; and the victory certainly was sweet.

The result of the victory gives to Allegheny the championship of Western New York, Western Pennsylvania, Ohio, and West Virginia and some papers even go so far as to state of the entire East. The honor is great, and yet, this is by no means the first time that Allegheny has held it. In fact, during the past twelve or fifteen years, the honor has belonged here nearly half as many times and during this time we have been beaten on our own floor but once or twice. This season, the team stands undefeated, like many other Allegheny teams of years before.

The game was close and an even matter all the way through, with Pitt leading at the end of the first half by a score of 19-17. Pitt supporters discounted the fact that their team had never won a game from Allegheny by the fact that the Panthers had this season been able for the first time to capture games from Penn State and Lehigh, and defeat the Army team, which has not for several years been on the losing end of the game. Lubic of Pitt, who it was known would be playing opposite Cox, who has led Allegheny in scoring during the season, had successfully held Oliphant of the Army, Blakesley of Penn State, Van Alstyne of Colgate, and McCreight of Washington and Jefferson, and it was hoped would be able to kill or strangle the jinx which Pitt has blamed for previous years' defeats.

One of the Pittsburgh papers says: "It was nip and tuck throughout, with Allegheny playing the better basket ball. Allegheny showed great team play with Cox as the apex man. The Meadville passers might have played with their eyes closed, so sure were they of their passes and the aim. Every man semed to be at the place he was intended for, and the result was that nearly all the baskets were the results of passes and short ones. Pitt did not have this team work, and nearly all its baskets were made from long shots. And, strange to say, Pitt would have won had it been favored with some luck, as it missed many shots at the Allegheny cage."

Another paper says that Volk had an annoying habit of suddenly running up the side line, receiving a pass and shooting,—four of these actions resulting in baskets.

It is safe to say that our Allegheny team work and five-man game, coupled with the fact that every man is an accurate shot, was responsible for the great victory.

The stars for Allegheny were Volk, Bash, and Cox, and for Pitt, Hastings, Matson, and Lubic. McKay and Bianchi, while not featuring particularly in the scoring end of the game, did remarkable floor work and passing, and held their men, two of the best in the state, to but two goals apiece.

The game in detail was:

First Half.

Lubic started the scoring by dropping in a foul goal, and Cox followed with one for Allegheny. Hastings leaped and made a basket. Lubic ran with the ball and Cox made the resultant foul toss. Cox made another foul goal after Matson had dropped him. Lubic tossed in a foul goal, and Bash made a basket after a series of passes. Lubic tied the score at 5, by making another foul goal. Cox turned in another foul goal ,and Volk threw one from the floor on a pass from Bianchi. Matson turned loose a one-handed overhead toss from almost mid-floor for a basket. Cox turned in another foul goal. Bash had an open shot under the basket and made good. Lubic added a point for Pitt from the foul line, then another. Cox delivered from the foul line twice before Lubic got another foul goal. Matson threw a basket from mid-floor which tied the score at 12. Volk put Allegheny two points ahead with a basket, only to have Hastings do likewise. Lubic put Pitt ahead, 15 to 14, by making a foul goal and McNulty increased the lead two points by shooting a basket. Bash kept Allegheny right in the running by tossing a basket, and McNIty let drive a long shot which went through the net, and Pitt had a three-point lead, 19 to 16. Cox had a chance at the foul line after the whistle blew and he made good.

Second Half.

Cox threw in a basket, and then, when Lubic had a chance from his foul line, he made good. Cox came back with another basket, and Lubic with a foul toss, and the score was tied at 21. McKay put Allegheny ahead with a basket. Volk took a pass and threw in a basket. Lubic cut down the lead one point from the foul line, the score being Allegheny 25, Pitt 22. He came back with another foul toss. When Bash fouled Matson, Lubic had a chance from the foul line and delivered. Volk cut in with a basket and Cox threw another from mid-floor. Lubic, too, tossed in a center of the

Popular Alumnus Speaks in Chapel

W. E. THOMAS, '08, TELLS OF TRIP AROUND THE WORLD—SOUVENIRS FROM ORIENT DESCRIBED.

The student body had a rare treat last Friday morning when William E. Thomas, '08, spoke in Chapel. Mr. Thomas is a graduate whose name will be long remembered in Allegheny because of the track records he made while here, and because of his unusual personality and ability as an entertainer. His powers in the latter direction were fully demonstrated in the brilliant talk he gave in Chapel.

Mr. Thomas, a few years ago, while touring as reader for the McWalon Around the World Quartette, with whom he was associated for five years made a trip around the globe, taking in nearly every country. In this trip he gleaned many ideas for entertainment as well as souvenirs by which to remember the trip. A large number of these he brought with him a few days ago when he returned to visit at the college.

He opened his remarks by telling of this fifty-thousand-mile trip he took, and before he had said many words the wit and humor began to creep out, until every one was convulsed with laughter over his unique descriptions. One of the first things he brought out from his valise was a big poster, done in Chinese, which announced the concert to be given by the quartette in that place. The next was a church calendar—or what we would use as a bulletin board. This he described in a few Chinese-American words, and then brought out a square piece of embroidered cloth with a long ribbon fastened to each end, which he most eloquently described as a Chinese baby carriage. Next came a shoe from Damascus, beautifully inlaid and horribly uncomfortable, and a fan to be carried by a Japanese gentleman. Then he pulled out from his store of treasures a long slender wooden stick, shaped like a long slender fork, which he said was carried by the poor class of people who had much trouble; and in the times of greatest trouble they used this stick. He proceeded to show how, by scratching his back between the shoulders.

Changing from China, he went to Turkey. From here he showed several things, among which were Turkish veils, used as he claimed, to prevent the women from looking at the beautiful men. From Turkish veils, he changed to those of Palestine, which are very heavy and thick. These are hard to wear because of the extreme heat, for, as he said, it was very hot for three months of the year, and the rest of the year it was,—hotter than that. A Chinese padlock, a Burmese prayer-book, a sling-shot of goat and camels hair, similar to that used by David, a lamp similar to those used in Christ's time, were all shown with appropriate remarks.

He was given such tremendous applause that he returned and gave a short reading in the Swedish dialect. Again he was called back and responded with "Bill's in Trouble," and an impersonation of a schoolboy speaking a piece, and a third time he gave a Chinese story he had heard when abroad.

Mr. Thomas' home is in Brocton, Mass., but he expects to leave next month for Mexico where he will take up work along missionary lines in Mexico City. While in college he was prominent in athletic circles, holding four college track records, half-mile, mile, two-mile and high jump, one of which, the mile, still stands. He was also on the Glee Club, being one of the most successful and popular readers of any of the clubs that represented the college.

President Crawford's Father Ninety-Two Years Old

SEVEN CHILDREN HOME AT MANHATTAN, ILLINOIS, MARCH 9, TO CELEBRATE UNUSUAL EVENT.

President Crawford left last Wednesday for Manhattan, Ill., where he went to help celebrate his father's ninety-second birthday which occurred last Thursday. His father, a rugged man, though well on the way to the century mark, was a visitor at the college last summer during the Centennial, and has some very warm friends here.

The Northwestern Christian Advocate recently published a sketch of the venerable old man's life besides using the title page for a splendid portrait engraving, which bore below it his name, John Crawford, of Manhattan, Ill. The portrait shows Mr. Crawford to be the same hale and hearty appearing old gentleman he was when he visited Meadville last summer and met so many new friends. The following is taken from the Advocate:

"We present the likeness of Mr. John Crawford upon our cover. He was born at McGuire's Bridge, near Enniskillen, Fermanagh County, in the north of Ireland in 1824. He joined the Methodist Church when he was thirteen years of age. In 1854, he was married to Miss Lucy Jane Graves, whose home was near Downer's Grove, Ill., and moved to a farm in Wilton Township, Will County, Ill., near Twelve Mile Grove. He was one of the first members of the Methodist Society at Twelve Mile Grove, and his home always had its latch string out to the Methodist preacher. He was chairman of the building committee when the Methodist Church was built in 1868, and gave liberally to the enterprise. It was at his home that Dr. Thomas M. Eddy, at that time editor of the Northwestern Christian Advocate and the dedication preacher, was entertained during his stay in the community. In 1893 Mr. Crawford retired from the farm, and has since then resided in the village of Manhattan, Ill., some five miles from his former home.

"For more than twenty years Mr.

Crawford was president of the New Lenox Campground Association and owned a cottage on the grounds. He has always been deeply interested in the affairs of the church, and frequently attended the sessions of the annual conference. . . . . The three books to which he has given the most attention were the Bible, the Websters Unabridged Dictionary, and the Discipline of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

"There are six sons and one daughter of this family still living and it was expected that all would be present at this anniversary. On March 9th, in 1914, all of the living children assembled at home to celebrate: President Crawford, the Reverend E. B. Crawford of Chicago, George D. Crawford of Tamaroa, Ill., Frank Crawford of Willow Center, Ill., R. King Crawford of Akron, Ohio, Alfred C. Crawford of Englewood, Chicago, and Mrs. Maria Muir, living with her father since the death of her husband. It was then agreed that so long as he might live, the children would be with him on his birthday.

Last June he made his journey to Meadville to attend the Centennial exercises. Mr. Crawford is almost a typical specimen of the Scotch-Irish type, erect in form, strong face, and kindly eye. In politics he is a Republican Prohibitionist. His mind is as clear as ever and he takes a deep interest in all that pertains to human good. He is a father of whom all his children are justly proud. President Crawford left for the old home in anticipation of a delightful visit and reunion in honor of the event."

Track Work Announced For Spring Season

SCHEDULE INCLUDES INTERCLASS, THREE INTERCOLLEGIATE AND INTERSCHOLASTIC MEET. INDOOR MMET APRIL 7.

With the closing of the basket ball season with its splendid record comes has been given up as an intercollegiate sport, everything is to be centered on track work with the idea of making the team this year one of the best, if not the best, that Allegheny has ever had. There is good material left in the college, several letter men remaining, and some very good material in the Freshman class which has not had much development.

Beginning with Tuesday of this week, track practice for the Indoor Meet and for the dual meet with Carnegie Tech. will start in full swing. From 10:30 to 12:30 and from 4:00 to 6:00 daily the gymnasium will be devoted to track training. All apparatus has been taken out and put in readiness for the hurdles, high jumping, and pole vaulting, and from now on Coach Hammett will devote his entire time to the track men.

The indoor track meet will be held Friday, April 7, and the events are twenty and twenty-five-yard dashes, low hurdles, high jump, pole vault, potato race (70 yards) and shot put.

On Tuesday and Thursday, April 11 and 13, the 440, 880, mile, and two-mile will be held on the oval of Montgomery field. These races will count in determining which class wins the meet, and are intended to reveal the most promising candidates for the outdoor dual meets.

This year will be one of the best years for track that the college has ever witnessed as there are three dual meets scheduled besides the annual Interscholastic Meet which will be held here the 13th of May. Every one of these meets promises to be close and interesting.

Freshmen are eligible for 'varsity track team and are especially urged to come out in force and try for a chance in all these events. It is a mistake for any one to wait until their Sophomore or Junior year to start in at track work. In last year's indoor meet held here, the Freshmen showed up very well, several new records being made in the meet, so with the material in this year's beginning class, there is a good chance for some very fast races.

Allegheny to Meet Alumni Next Saturday

INTERESTING BASKET BALL GAME SCHEDULED WITH TEAM OF OLD STARS — HAWK, MATES, BAKER, FIRESTONE, AND DUNBAR MAKE UP TEAM.

Word has just been received here of the arrangements that have been made for one of the most interesting games that have ever been scheduled on the Allegheny floor. While in Pittsburgh, Manager Witherup, '16, was successful in hunting up some of Allegheny's former stars and booking a game with the alumni that will be a whirlwind from all view points.

Next Saturday night there will meet the 'varsity five, a line up of the fastest basket ball players that Allegheny College has ever produced. Several of these men are now in regular training and are in splendid form for the game. This collection of stars, undoubtedly the best that have ever played on the floor, some of them having been members of the "World's Champions" teams of their day, will be composed of "Jim" Mates, '13; "Lou" Hawk, '13; "Doug" Dunbar, '15; "Dick" Baker, '10, and Harry Firestone, '11. Every one of these men is known by every alumnus who has seen a basket ball game here for many years, and

Y. M. C. A. MEETING.

A very interesting meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was held Wednesday evening in the regular rooms. F. D. Gealy, '16, was the leader and his remarks had a point that was felt by every one who heard them. He took for his subject, "Rules of Religion," and he brought his arguments out in a manner that was peculiar and effective.

One of the first things he brought out was that the reason that so many of us grow careless about Christian duties and our Y. M. C. A. attendance is because we have heard the teachings of Christ so much and see these principles so much that we become used to them and forget to pay any attention to them; they lose their meaning for us. On the other hand, one of Jesus' demands was that we accept his teachings and that if we gave Him ourselves, the rest would follow. Christ wrote no books, nor did he write or have written any histories of Himself. He expected His work to go on through His friends by word of mouth and influence. So if we are to persuade people of Christ's teachings, we must have a first-hand experience with Him and be able to give personal testimony. If one has a truth, it is his duty to pass it on. So it is with a spiritual truth as well as anything else. We should cultivate this and above all, we should have one supreme, dominating motive in our lives to bring results.

At the conclusion of his talk a general discussion was taken up of the subject and one of the things brought out was that there is any quantity of the right kind of stuff lying dormant in nearly every man, and it is our duty to bring it out if possible, especially through the power of our influence which must be good.

FORUM MEETING.

While the attendance at Philo-Franklin Forum was none too good last Thursday, the program was one of the best that has been given for some time. The debate was taken up in a rather light way and from beginning to end of the program, wit and humor were the chief weapons of defense. However, this only added to the enjoyment of the debate, which was given in a very brilliant manner. The subject was: "Resolved, That Co-education in Allegheny Should Be Abolished." The affirmative was upheld by Homer Drake, '16, and Homer Castle, '18, and the negative by P. Flick, '19, and R. Howell, '19. The preliminary agreement was that the question was to be interpreted that the men should stay and the girls go if co-education should be abolished.

The negative brought forth some very good arguments as well as the affirmative; one which caused no little amusement was that the negative claimed that it is the ambition of every man in college to have a college girl. The affirmative maintained that their opponents had not been in college long enough to be qualified to talk on this subject and could not judge the entire college by what they already knew or thought. The final decision was rendered in favor of the affirmative. Following the debate, there was a general discussion of the relative merits of the question, and Professor Swartley added to this a few pointers on parliamentary rules.

GERMAN CLUB MEETING.

The German Club held its regular monthly meeting Tuesday evening in Wilcox Hall. Miss Elizabeth Best, '16, took charge of the meeting and a splendid program, prepared by F. H. Amon, '16, was enjoyed. The program followed the plan of the series of meetings now being held, this one being "Rhine Evening."

B. E. Nelson, '16, gave the first number on the program, which was a paper on "Cologne." G. E. Engstrom, '18, was the next speaker, who read a paper on "Der Trompeter von Sakkingen." Leonel Strong, '17, told about the commerce of the Rhine in his paper on "Essen." C. M. Miller, '17, read a paper for H. A. Jones, '17, who was to have been "Die Lorelei," but Tower on the Rhine." The last paper was to have been "Die Loreley," but unfortunately neither the writer nor the paper appeared so it had to be omitted.

Following this part of the program, Dr. Mulfinger gave an illustrated lecture, showing a number of slides which gave a splendid idea of the beautiful scenery along this historic old river, as well as of the cities and towns which line its banks.

CLASSICAL CLUB MEETING.

The Classical Club held its regular meeting on Tuesday evening. Miss Helen Adams acted as chairman. The program was in charge of A. G. Curry, '16, and Leo McKay, '16. The subject treated was "Greek Athletics."

A. G. Curry read the first paper, giving a description of the Greek pentathlon. He told of the five events of the pentathlon: running, broad jumping, throwing the discus, hurling the javelin, and wrestling. After the description of the events and how they were conducted, R. E. Kendall, 16. read from the "Victor of Salamis," a very interesting account of such a contest.

Leo McKay took up a comparison of Greek athletics and modern athletics. He treated the origin and evolution of athletics as to its purpose: first to develop men for war, and later for mere sport. Under the superiorities of Greek athletics he mentioned the all-'round development which it produced, and the fact that athletics was not for a few but for all. Over against these good points of the Greek, he placed the one-sided development which our games produce, the destructive rather than constructive character of some of our games, the fact that our athletics are for a few individuals rather than for every individual, and the professionalism which dominates our athletics. As a superiority of modern athletics he mentioned the use of team work which develops character through obedience, unselfishness, and organized effort.

MEETING OF LE PETIT SALON.

Le Petit Salon met Monday afternoon at the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity house. A very good attendance was present and a special program was greatly enjoyed and appreciated. The plan for the afternoon was to have a program of French music and this was followed out in every detail with a result that some very good musical numbers were given, several being from the best French operas.

The first number was a piano solo by Miss Hasek from the "Fourth Mazurka" by Godard. The next selection was a violin solo by Miss Louise Chase, '10, "Meditation" from the Opera "Thais" by Massenet. Following these first two numbers, a paper was read by Miss Emma Waring, '16, on the composer, Massenet. With this paper, to illustrate the opera "Manon," one of his best, four records were played which gave a very good idea of his work. W. A. Ellis, '16, played Chaminade's "Scarf Dance."

The next number was a double number by Miss Marian Baird, of Meadville, consisting of two soprano solos which were beautifully rendered. The first was "Je veux vivre" from "Romeo and Juliet" by Gounod and the second was "Depuis le Jour" from "Louise" by Charpentier. The program ended by everyone singing the Marseillaise. Light refreshments were served by Misses Lilian Fetzer, '17, and Agnes Smith, '17.

floor shot and McMaster one from under the basket, which put Pitt within one point of tying at 29. Lubic tried it from the foul line, only to have Cox put Allegheny ahead by the same kind of a shot. This last shot was made when the score was tied 29-29 and there was less than a minute to play. The crowd was wild, everyone was yelling at the top of their voice, hats were thrown in the air and clothing waved. Cox, cool and showing no signs of excitement, paused for a second then shot, and made the foul. The whistle blew for the end of the game, and the victory was again with Allegheny.

The line up:

Pitt—29.		Allegheny—30.
McNulty	F	Bash
McMaster	F	Cox
Matson	C	McKay
Lubic	G	Bianchi
Hastings	G	Volk

Field goals—Bash 3, Volk 4, Cox 3, McKay, Hastings 2, Matson 2, McNulty 2, McMasters 2, Lubic. Foul goals—Lubic 13, Cox 8. Referee—McCullough, Carnegie Tech.

The Tech Game.

The second victory of the trip south came Saturday evening close on the heels of Pitt when Carnegie Tech was decisively overcome by a score of 37-25. This made the tenth consecutive victory that Allegheny has had this year and was one of the hardest games though the score does not seem to indicate it.

Tech is one of the best teams in the country and while beaten by University of Pittsburgh it is really in the same class with it. However, in Saturday's game the Blue and Gold clearly showed its superiority over the Plaid in practically every department of the game. The wonderful success of the Allegheny team was due during the whole trip to the accurate and speedy passing of the team. Every time the ball was passed there was a man ready to receive it. The short passes were used and the ball was worked up the floor until an opportunity for an open shot appeared and the basket was nearly always made.

In this game, Tech was completely at the mercy of the swift passing of the Allegheny quintette, with the result that during the greater part of the game the ball was in Tech territory. For Allegheny, Bianchi starred with a record number of baskets. During the first half he secured two goals, and in the last half he was everywhere on the floor, guarding his man, passing, and when the proper moment came, darting up the side line, receiving and tossing the ball into the basket with a precision, and ease that seemed almost uncanny to the Pittsburgh spectators, especially in this second period when he put the game on ice for Allegheny by dropping five more baskets in rapid succession from all points of the floor.

Cox was a close second to Bianchi, scoring a total of seventeen points. In the first half he made five out of ten fouls and four baskets, and in the second, he took five more shots from the foul line of which four were successful.

Bash played a fast game, making a tally each half, and McKay and Volk both played good floor games, passing with accuracy and breaking up play after play of their opponents.

For Tech, Lewis led in the scoring with four baskets, and Finley next with two.

Again the Pittsburgh papers give Allegheny credit for the greatest exhibition of team work and passing that has been shown there this season. Unfortunately the game was rough at times, but this was due to its being such a hard-fought contest. However, the spirit which exists between the two teams is very friendly and the treatment accorded our men was as good as could be asked for, both in the game and in entertainment while in the city.

The Plaid put up a plucky fight all through the game which was by no means safe for Allegheny until the last few minutes, but the Allegheny defense could not be penetrated, nor the attack solved.

Bianchi opened the scoring with a goal shortly after the toss-up. Cox and Hines then registered three successful foul shots each. Then the latter tied the score with a long toss. Cox and Bianchi soon put Allegheny ahead, and the half ended 21-14 in Allegheny's favor.

Tech started the second half with a rush and came within two points of tieing the score, but Allegheny sensing her danger hurled a whirlwind of shots at the local's basket and seemingly bewildered her for a short period. The work of Bianchi featured during this period.

Allegheny made no substitutions during the game and went through the whole time with the same men that played Pitt the night before.

The line up:

Allegheny—37.		Carnegie—25.
Cox	F	Lewis
Bash	F	Tumpane
McKay	C	Hines
Bianchi	G	Green
Volk	G	Finley

Substitutions—Finley for Tumpane, Henning for Finley.

Field goals—Cox 4, Bianchi 7, Bash 2, McKay, Lewis 4, Finley 2, Tumpane, Hines, Green.

Foul goals—Cox 9 out of 15, Hines 7 out of 16. Referee—Dr. Flint, University of Pittsburgh coach.

ALLEGHENY TO MEET ALUMNI.

every Meadville fan knows them and their reputation.

"Jim" Mates, of the class of 1913, was one of the fastest forwards that ever played for Allegheny. His floor work was strong and his basket shooting accurate. There was hardly a guard that ever played him who could hold him to less than five or six baskets.

"Lou" Hawk, of the same class as Mates, was captain of the team for two years in succession. He was the all-state center during his last year in college and made an unusual record as an athlete.

Douglas Dunbar was a graduate of last year's Centennial class and nearly all who are now in college have seen him play and know what he is capable of doing. He was the mainstay of the team last year in some of the hardest games, and never failed to contribute several goals in his guard position.

"Dick" Baker, of the class of 1910, is not as well known to the present generation of students, but his name to any alumnus will bring back visions of a small cyclone on the basket ball floor. As a forward he made a reputation for himself that was known throughout the basket ball world.

Last and by no means least comes Harry Firestone of 1911. Firestone was energy itself, and a whole team when it came to shooting baskets. There was no place on the whole floor but what, if he had the chance, he could land a successful shot. Shooting baskets was the easiest part of his game.

These five men will form a team for the alumni and it is possible that before the time of the game there will be some other members of the "all-state" bunch that will be called back to the ranks.

As far as Allegheny is concerned, there is almost a certainty of winning, but nevertheless there is also a certainty of a close fast game, because this bunch of men who won titles to the world's championships and defeated the Buffalo Germans when that famous team was in its prime and supposed to be undefeatable, are going to uncork a brand of speed that will show to the world that Allegheny's graduates do not join the "has been" class for a good many years after graduation.

When the old and new blood of the Blue and Gold meet both on the floor and on the sidelines next Saturday night with the true Allegheny spirit running high, there is something going to happen and that something is going to prove that no matter whether we are of the "Old" or "New Allegheny" we possess the same spirit, the same fight, and the same loyalty to Allegheny.

Hulings Hall

Mrs. Franklin C. Southworth, of Meadville, was the Saturday evening dinner guest of Miss Ethel Hudson, '16.

Miss Janet Ellis, '15, who is teaching in the Sheffield High School, spent Sunday at her home in Meadville.

The girls who spent Sunday at their homes were: Miss Leda Brooks, '19, at Geneva; Miss Mildred Hazen, '17, at Titusville; Miss Isabel Freer, '18, at Galion, O.; Miss Gertrude Monroe, '19, at Corry; Miss Marie Frances, '19, at Columbus.

Mrs. L. M. Davison, of Oil City, spent the week-end with her daughter, Miss Helen Davison, '17.

Among the Sunday dinner guests at the hall were: Miss Rachael Smith, '14, as the guest of Miss Agnes Robinson, '17; Miss Marian Siggins, ex.-'18, the guest of Miss Doris Stockdale, '19; Miss Helen Easterwood, '18, the guest of Miss Ruth Mumaw, '19; Miss Elizabeth Hendershot, '17, the guest of Miss Charlotte Whipple, '16; Mrs. L. M. Davison, the guest of Miss Helen Davison, '17; Miss Helen Adams, '16, the guest of Miss Norene Saxton, '18; Miss Agnes Smith, guest of Miss Olevia Widdowson, '19; Miss Dorothy Mason, ex.-'18, the guest of Miss Cecil Edwards, '19; Miss Gladys Douds, '19, the guest of Miss Mary Arnold, '19.

The regular Sunday evening meeting of the Y. W. C. A. was in charge of the Misses Helen Mackenzie, '16, and Ginevra Campbell, '16. The subject of the meeting was "Women Working Together." Miss Mackenzie, who had charge of the topic, discussed it under two heads, namely: "The Individual Influence of Women" and "Women Working Together." A special feature of the meeting was a piano solo by Miss Clarissa Randall, '19. The meeting closed with the singing of the "Association Hymn of the Lights."

The Junior girls' basket ball team is made up of the following members: the Misses Martha Nebinger, Mildred Hazen, Agnes Smith, Betty Chase, and Helen Kulp, with Mary Flahavan and Ethel Kelley as substitutes.

The Senior team is made up of the Misses Marion R. Miller, Martha Kelley, Louisa Smith, Marguerite Beatty, and Lulu Lydell.

On Saturday evening the Freshman members of the Kappa Alpha Theta entertained the older members of the fraternity at a "spinster party" in their rooms.

Miss Jean Mackenzie, '11, was the guest of her sister, Miss Helen Mackenzie, '16, the latter part of the week.

Miss Ruth Brumbaugh, '18, went home Wednesday evening to attend the concert given in Franklin by Leopold Godowsky.

On Thursday afternoon last, Senior Tea was held in the parlors of Hulings Hall. The committee in charge was composed of the Misses Helen Gates, '16; Ginevra Campbell, '16; Marion Miller, '16, and Tillie Bitler, '16. Special music was most enjoyably rendered by Miss McKay and light refreshments were served.

Tuesday evening Mrs. Orr, of Pittsburgh, visited Hulings Hall and gave a very beautiful display of Dennison's crepe paper fancies. The parlors were beautifully decorated with the many shades of the colored paper and effectively showed the different uses to which the crepe paper is put. After the display a short lesson in the art of folding the paper was given to the girls.

Thursday evening the Mission Study Classes organized. The following faculty ladies have charge of the various classes: Mrs. Thoburn has charge of the Senior Class, which is studying "The Students of Asia;" Mrs. Decker has the Junior Class, which is studying "Present Forces in Negro Progress;" Mrs. Henke, the Sophomore Class, which is studying "Rising Churches in Non-Christian Lands:" Mrs. Akers has the Freshman Class, whose book is "Christian Standards in Life;" Miss Edith Rowley, '05, has the miscellaneous class whose book is "South American Problems." There was an unusually good enrollment in all the classes.

Miss Georgia Carr, '17, "annual member" of the Y. W. C. A., attended the "annual member" convention which was held last week at Swarthmore College, Philadelphia. Miss Carr spent Sunday as the guest of a school friend at Darlington Seminary, Philadelphia.

Miss Marguerite Beatty, '16, spent the latter part of the week with her sister, Miss Irene Beatty, '13, of Pittsburgh. While there Miss Beatty attended the games which Allegheny played with the University of Pitt and the Carnegie Technical School.

A party of nine Senior girls and their gentleman friends, with Miss Spalding as chaperone, enjoyed a Leap Year sleigh-ride Thursday evening to Cotton's farm on the Conneaut Lake road.

By action of the executive committee of the Oratorical Association, the time for handing in orations for the Philo-Franklin Contest has been extended one week. Any person desiring to enter the contest can become eligible by handing in three typewritten copies of his oration to L. C. Drake, '17, secretary of the Association, by 12 o'clock Friday night, March 17. The contest will be held as formerly announced, Friday evening, March 24, in the Chapel.

Quill Club meets this evening for its regular monthly meeting in the Library.

News has just been received of the birth of a baby girl at the home of Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Wood, of St. Paul, Minn. Dr. and Mrs. Wood were residents of Meadville last year, while Dr. Wood occupied the chair of Bible here at the college during Dr. Cobern's Sabbatic leave of absence. At present they are residing in St. Paul, Minn., where Dr. Wood occupies the chair of Bible at Hamline University and his popularity is shown by the fact that his students increased from sixty the first term to one hundred and eighty the second. The arrival of Miss Frances May occurred March 3rd.

A large number of students accompanied the team Friday on the basket ball trip to Pittsburgh and while it was feared at first that freights would be out of style owing to the cold weather and the representation would be small, Allegheny was well represented in both games by a large crowd of loyal supporters, many of whom continued with the team to Geneva before returning home.

On Tuesday evening Tingley Biology Club held a most interesting open meeting. The leader for the evening was B. C. McLean, '16, who gave an illustrated lecture on "Sanitary Milk Production." The slides shown and observations made revealed some of the points of danger in our ordinary dairies. The speaker stressed the importance of a very minute precaution in regard to the housing of the cows, the attire of the attendants, and the cleanliness which must be present as the milk is prepared for the market. He also showed the importance of pure milk upon the system and health of the infant. It is a positive necessity that every precaution be taken against bacteria in milk. The meeting was then taken in charge by W. J. Armstrong, '16, and H. A. Jones, '17, who served very enjoyable refreshments.
