LIBRARY OF CONGRESS
DIVISION OF MANUSCRIPTS

October 10, 1930.

My dear Miss Tarbell:

Under the auspices of the Library of Congress ~~fed~~ and the American Council of Learned Societies, and under my general supervision, work is going forward towards the preparation of a union catalogue of Medieval manuscripts in the United States. We are trying to get information concerning all such possessions, ~~and~~ I am told there is a man in Titusville who has several, and it is suggested to me that you would be pretty certain to know his name, which my informant could not give. If you would supply me with this name I should be greatly obliged.

Very truly yours,

S. J. Jameson,

Chief, Division of Manuscripts.
