BASKETBALL PRACTICE TO BEGIN NEXT WEEK

Few Losses from Last Year's Squad—Many New Men at Work.

The regular call for basketball men has just been made by Coach Hammett. Practice is beginning a little earlier than usual this year in order to get the men into shape for the unusually hard schedule which is being arranged. Regular practice starts on Monday, the 17th, under the supervision of Captain Nicholls, '14, who will have charge of the squad until after the football season when Coach Hammett can give his personal attention to the formation of the team. The call is addressed not only to last year's squad but also to all other contestants for places on the team.

With the exception of three men—Hawk, Mates and McNulty—last year's squad is intact. Beyond doubt Hawk will be greatly missed for his phenomenal work at center, which so greatly aided the team in his four years' work with it. Though there is not a great deal of hope for finding his equal, there is at least a worthy substitute in the five men who have already signified their intention of trying out for this important position—Zelwis, '14, McKay, '16, Parks, '16, Kramer, '16, and Bash, '16.

Captain Nicholls, '14, forward, is in fine shape and there is little doubt of his repeating his work for the past three years. Jonter's strong point is his ability to find the basket from any place on the floor.

Cox, '16, although he did not play regular forward on the team, so distinguished himself by his speedy, clever work that there is little question but that he will have a place.

In Thomas, '14, and Graham, '16, Allegheny has the best pair of guards that she has ever had. The man that succeeds in getting a basket off "Puss" or "Osh" has good reason to congratulate himself. Both of them, together with Cox, are hard at work on the football field and will be in excellent shape for basketball when the present season is over.

The two utility men, Lindberg, '14, and Dunbar, '15, are both back and are ready to dispute with any one who may desire to try for their positions. Lindberg is a very valuable man as he is able to play any position on the team. Dunbar made the team last year for the first time and will make a strong bid for the same place again this year.

N. L. Ramsey, '14, the other member of the 'varsity squad, has played two years on the team. Last year, however, he was so unfortunate as to receive an injury to his ankle which forced him to leave the game after he had played but a few weeks. He expects to be out this year and will give some one a hard run for a place.

Manager Carr, '14, is hard at work on the schedule and thus far has made arrangements for games with the following teams: Carnegie Tech, Geneva, Grove City, Washington and Jefferson, Buchtel, Syracuse, Ohio Wesleyan, and Rochester (two games). One of the games with Rochester and the games with Ohio Wesleyan, Syracuse and Buchtel will be played on the opponents' floor. As yet the manager is unable to announce the dates of the different games so that at present it is impossible to print the entire schedule.

DR. CRAWFORD PLANS FOR COLLEGE SERMONS

Men of National Prominence Will Be Heard—Three Alumni on List.

The college sermons, which have been a factor of great value in college life at Allegheny for the last two years, are to be continued during the present year. The list of college preachers for the winter and spring has been announced by President Crawford this week. The list is made up of the strongest men of the pulpit and college chair that have ever spoken at Allegheny, although each year before this the speakers have been regarded without exception as filling just the place desired of them.

No effort was made to start the series of sermons at the beginning of the school year nor as early as they were started last year, because President Crawford felt that while the sermons were appreciated by the students who attended, and had afforded unusual opportunities to the community in general, yet the number of students who availed themselves of this opportunity had not been large enough to justify the continuance of the sermons. The matter was allowed to rest until action was taken by both of the Christian organizations of the college, the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A., whereby a unanimous request for the continuance of the sermons was sent to President Crawford and the entire support of both associations was pledged to tnem.

When such action had been taken on the part of the students, steps were immediately taken to provide the following list. The sermons are to be given in Ford Memorial Chapel at three o'clock in the afternoon of the second Sunday of each month from January through May. The speaker for January is Rev. Robert E. Brown, D.D., '01, of Asbury M. E. church, Rochester, New York; for February, Rev. Charles Bayard Mitchell, D.D., '79, of St. James Church, Chicago, Ill.; for March, Chancellor Franklin E. Hamilton, D.D., of the American University, Washington, D. C.; for April, Harry F. Ward, Professor of Sociology in the Boston University, Boston, Mass.; and for May, Rev. H. Lester Smith, D. D., '04, of the Central Church, Detroit, Mich.

Three of these men are Allegheny College alumni and all are well known in their particular line of work. Dr. Ward holds the same place in the Methodist church in relation to labor and its problems that Charles Stelzle holds in the Presbyterian church. He will probably speak to the labor organizations of the city on the Saturday evening that he is in Meadville, and the assembly morning will be changed that week to Saturday morning so that he may have the extra time to speak to the students in Chapel. A similar arrangement will probably be made for Chancellor Hamilton.

This series of sermons offers an opportunity to the entire student body that none can afford to let pass. The true value of these sermons is shown by the recognition given them by the town people in their attendance upon them. With the support promised by the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. the sermons will be received in a heartier manner than in either of the two previous years they have been given here.

The advantages which these college sermons give to the students as well as the town people can not be justly estimated. Many of the men who are procured for the monthly addresses are accustomed to speak only in the largest churches of the country. The speakers come here with the primary intention of speaking to college students, and consequently choose subjects that will be of especial interest to such an audience. During the past two years the town people and friends of the students have taken an active interest in the series of sermons and have attended in large numbers. A cordial invitation is extended to anyone who is interested in the addresses.

ALLEGHENY DEFEATS STRONG TECH ELEVEN IN HOTLY CONTESTED GAME

BLUE AND GOLD SHOWS SLIGHT REVERSE IN FORM—ARNOLD, DOTTERRER AND GILBERT MAKE POINTS SCORE, 17-0

Allegheny's football team entered Tech field last Saturday afternoon undefeated and in a little over an hour made their departure a still unconquered aggregation, having met the Plaid warriors and won from them a hard-fought but decisive victory by the score of 17-0. The result of this game gives Allegheny her sixth triumph. Although the score plainly indicated the Gold and Blue superiority, there was little evidence throughout the game of the true strength of the team. As a matter of fact they failed to show usual form.

Dotterrer, '14, Who Blocked Clair's Punt and Scored.

The two touchdowns were fairly earned, but a combination of bad judgment and losses when gains were needed to make the distance, prevented additional scores that were easily possible. Arnold secured the first touchdown at the very end of the first quarter on a spectacular run of 25 yards around right end. The second touchdown came in the middle of the second period when Dotterrer blocked a punt back of Tech's goal line and fell on the ball. Both of these goals were kicked by Thomas, so that when Gilbert made a successful place kick in the last quarter the score was 17-0.

The extremely bad condition of the Tech field, resulting from the rains of the night before, prohibited any continued use of open play. Only three or four times was a forward pass completed. Both teams were thus put at a disadvantage—Allegheny not so much so on account of the fact that with her slightly superior weight she could rely more on straight football. By the end of the first half of the game Tech had found the Gold and Blue almost impassable and so resorted to the use of Burke's good toe and an occasional forward pass. Allegheny on the contrary, easily found holes in the Tech line and gained at will by tearing through it. It was by this route that the Blue and Gold made their way across the field for the two touchdowns. End runs were not as productive of gains as usual.

The punting, occurring continually, was exceptionally good on both sides, but Thomas and Dotterrer easily outkicked Clair and Burke. Outside of Munhall and Arnold who were the best individual ground gainers, special mention must be made of Captain Gilbert and H. Pierson. Gilbert, undoubtedly, was the best man on the defensive, having more to do with breaking up plays of the opponents than any other one man. Time and again he would break past his man and get through to stop a runner or to break up interference. While his name figures little in the handling of the ball after the pass to quarterback, it was his work that opened large holes for the backfield men to advance through. Pierson too was a hindrance to every attack in his section of territory. Not content with stopping what came his way, he was often down the field in time to stop runners for a loss. For Tech, Clair and Kesner showed the best form. McCaughey also deserves mention for several good gains. Tech, as a whole, appeared at their best when being pushed hard in front of their goal line. The one significant fact of the game is that Tech was able only once to make their first down, (when they made a long forward pass for a gain of 18 yards). Following is a summary of the game:

First Quarter.

Thomas kicked to Burke who passed to Balsinger, the latter running the ball up to Tech's 32-yard line. McCaughey, their big fullback, gained one yard on a line buck. A delayed pass by Kreider yielded no gain and on the next play Munhall got through the line in time to stop Kesner who was trying for a hole. Clair was forced to punt, upon which, Ricker receiving the kick advanced to the middle of the field. Graham made six yards through tackle. Munhall tried two plunges; the second was good for seven yards. Arnold lost three yards. Graham made eight yards, and Ricker added three more. At this point a forward pass for H. Pierson fell into Dotterrer's arms and would have been good for a large gain had he been eligible to receive it. As it was, the ball was brought back to the starting point, the 28-yard line, and given to the opponents. Clair punted to Ricker who fumbled, Arnold recovering on Allegheny's 40-yard line. Another fumble, by Munhall, was recovered by Fulmer of Tech. McCaughey advanced less than a yard. A forward pass to Kreider was incomplete. Clair punted out of bounds on Allegheny's 13-yard line.

Arnold, '15, Who Made Allegheny's First Touchdown.

Thomas punted to Balsinger who came up as far as the 40-yard line. Kreider lost a yard and Kesner failed to make it good. McCaughey, however, in a good line smash advanced seven yards. Kesner faked a place kick on the 40-yard line and passed incompletely. This, being the fourth down, gave Allegheny the ball on their own 34-yard line. Graham gained one

GOOD ISSUE OF THE LITERARY MONTHLY

Several Articles of Unusual Interest—New Contributors Now at Work.

The November number of the Literary Monthly, the second number of this magazine for the year, will appear on the fifteenth of this month. A review of the contents shows that this number contains articles of the same interesting type and style that have made this magazine popular among the students. The article of chief interest, because of its value to Alleghenians at this time, is an account taken from a contemporary newspaper of the "Laying of the Cornerstone of Bentley Hall. The account is from a copy of the Meadville Weekly Messenger of July, 1820, the summer the building was started, and was compiled with much trouble and care by Miss Isabelle E. Marvin, '15. So far as anybody knows definitely, there is only one copy of this particular issue of this paper in existence, that being in a private library of this city. The style of the author is especially pleasing in its quaint expression and charm which is quite fitting for this account of an old event.

There are two good poems, one by Miss Alice Chapin, '15, called "The Knight's Yeomanes Tale," written in a very clever manner in imitation of Chaucerian style, and the other called "The Kingdom of Flames," by Miss Elizabeth Best, '16, written with the skill of expression and charm of content that characterizes this writer's contributions.

An interesting feature is a story in parable form, entitled "The Garden of the King," by Miss Miriam Shryock, '14, told in a simple and attractive way by a new contributor.

There is a timely essay by P. F. Barackman, '14, on "Thanksgiving Dinners," which discusses accurately and pleasingly this appropriate subject, dealing with it in an original way.

The Sketch department of this number contains two short sketches by two new contributors, one called "Dreams," by Miss Margaret Ross, '16, the other entitled "A College Household," by Miss Helen R. Adams, '16.

The three subjects under the Potpourri are each distinctive and original and are by anonymous writers. Each one is well worth the reading, but to describe them is to spoil them. The first is "Beeg Yarlo;" the second, a short dissertation on quizzes entitled "Did you ever?;" and the third one is a characteristic "Sol Taylorette" that will appeal to everybody.

The "Book Talks" department is given over to a review of a book entitled "Over Bemerton's," by E. V. Lucas. The review is by James R. McGowan, '14.

The editorial is in the hands of the newly elected editor of the "Kaldron," P. H. Nichols, '14, who presents a strong plea for the support of the student body in the effort of the Kaldron board to compile and preserve records of typical Allegheny life.

Statistics show that college women marry a year or two later than non-college women, usually get better husbands, average a fraction more children per marriage, and rear a larger percentage of these children to manhood and womanhood than do their fellow women who do not get the benefits of a college education.

Manager's Talk

You had better subscribe to THE CAMPUS this week, if you want to get that football issue. There will be individual cuts of several of the players and a picture of the team, as well as a complete review of the best season that Allegheny has ever experienced. In accordance with present plans the football number will be larger than the usual issue and will be valuable to every Alleghenian. See the Manager soon, or it may be too late.

NOVEMBER 11, 1913.

The following editorial, which appeared in a recent issue of the Kenyon Collegian, will be of interest to Alleghenians:

The Kenyon Game.

"That old 'Spirit of Kenyon' took a vacation last week At least it failed to move the members of our football team to embrace an opportunity that should have appealed to every man of them. Two years ago Kenyon was defeated by Allegheny College at Meadville, Pa., by a score of 24 to 0, and that defeat has rankled in the breast of every alumnus and undergraduate from Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio ever since. The proffer of a game at Meadville for November 1 afforded a glorious chance for just retribution, and many of us must regret that this chance was passed up by the team. The extent of the slighted opportunity can only be realized when we consider how much better it is than that of two years ago, and how little reason there is to suppose that we will have a better one in the near future.

"Looked at in the right way, was there not an obligation in this matter on the part of the team to the college? Football this year has received the heartiest kind of support from all sides, as witness the splendid attendance at home games, gifts from alumni and friends, a vacation from the faculty, and an Assembly contribution for equipment totaling over one hundred dollars. In return for this, it is expected that the team uphold the athletic honor of Kenyon College.

"There is no apparent excuse for this lapse of duty. In the face of facts the plea of injuries is untenable. One is astonished to hear of objection to a hard game as preparation for the coming Conference struggle, in the light of the well remembered effect of an idle Saturday on last year's Reserve game. And we still have sufficient faith to hope and believe that no man on that team is afraid of Allegheny,—but when heroes of the gridiron are daunted by the terrible trials of a two hundred mile railroad journey, surely some long cherished ideas of ours are due for a readjustment!"—Kenyon Collegian.

ELBEL, '14, LEADS MEETING.

The Y. M. C. A. meeting last Wednesday evening was in charge of L. E. Elbel, '14, who spoke on the subject, "An athletic race versus the race of life." He brought out several similarities in the two races; first, preparation. The athlete must have patience to prepare himself properly, he must lay aside all encumbrances in the way of clothing, and must do all he can to make the running easy. The runner in the race of life must lay aside all encumbrances, too, "the weight of sin that doth so easily beset us," and he, too, must prepare himself for the race. The captain of the athletic race has never gone over this very course himself; the captain of the life race has, and knows just what he asks of his men. In each race there is a goal that is sought. The goal of life is more important, however, yet both runners strive for the goal; both runners, too, keep their eye on the goal, tho' in the race of life the goal is never in sight and must be seen by the eye of faith, while in the athletic contest the goal is always in sight. In both races, there are winners and losers, and a runner who plays unfair is disqualified.

But there are some differences, too. Only one man wins in the athletic race, while in the life running everyone who will may win. Only those who are encumbered by sin they will not voluntarily throw off lose. The athlete who runs with an overcoat on is no more foolish than a runner in the other race who attempts to run with a load of sin. Another difference is that in the athletic contest physical strength counts everything, while in life even a sick man can be just as successful a runner. In athletics there is bound to be an unjust decision sometimes; in life, or after the race of life, a just judge decides and decides fairly. There is a difference in prizes gained. The athletic prize is a medal, or some other prize of honor or pecuniary value; in life the prize is life incorruptible and a crown of glory. The athletic struggle is only for a few minutes; the life struggle lasts from birth until death. Everyone can qualify as a runner and as a winner under this captain extraordinary if only he applies himself daily to the race. The question then is, Do I expect to win; am I running fair; Have I the goal in sight always; and am I running with patience?

KALDRON STAFF COMPLETED.

The complete editorial board of the Kaldron was chosen on last Friday afternoon when the electoral board met with Editor P. H. Nichols, '14 and selected the remaining members of the staff for the 1913-14 year book. The completed list selected by the editor with the approval of the board is as follows: P. H. Nichols, '14, editor; C. S. Burwell, '14, associate editor; Clair Sweetland, '14, Donald G. Dunbar, '15, Miss Mary Sansom, '14, Miss Alice Chapin, '14, Miss Arlene McKinney, '15, and Miss Rose Platt, '15, assistant editors; Elmer Hickman, '16, art editor; H. K. Brooks, manager. The editorial board has been chosen considerably earlier this year than the boards of former years. With everything now ready, the outlook for a banner year book is exceedingly bright. From now on will be heard the frequent appeals to the students to begin work and write something that portrays Allegheny life as it really is.

NEW BOOKS AT THE LIBRARY.

During the past month a number of new books of more or less general interest have been added to the college library. As the space available for the display of new books is limited, most of these have been put in the stack and so may not come to the notice of many who would be interested in them.

Probably the most important recent accession is the Dictionary of National Biography in 25 volumes. This is unquestionably the finest biographical dictionary in the English language. Begun in 1884 under the editorship of the late Sir Leslie Stephen, and continued by him with the collaboration of Sidney Lee, the work was completed in 1900. Since then two supplements have been added bringing it nearly to date. Many of the sketches are really monographs, as for instance, the article on King Edward VII, which was written by Sidney Lee and covers 54 pages in double column.

In the following list many volumes which have been added to the department collections and placed on the reserve shelves, are not included.

Walpole, Letters, 9 vol.

Moulton, Library of literary criticism, 8 vol.

Thackery, Complete works, 24 vol.

George Eliot, Complete works, 24 vol.

Mark Twain, Writings, 25 vol.

Leigh Hunt, Autobiography, 2 vol.

Symons, Studies in seven arts.

Elton, Survey of English literature, 2 vol.

Gingerich, Wordsworth.

Khuns, Great poets of Italy.

World's best poetry, ed. by Bliss Carman, 5 vol.

Art galleries of Europe, 12 vol.

Berenson, Central Italian painters.

Berenson, Florentine painters of the Renaissance.

Wallis, Sociological study of the Bible.

Milligan, New Testament documents.

Wilson, John Brown.

Crafts, Intoxicating drinks and drugs.

Patterson, Catch-my-pal.

A number of "readable" books have been placed on the shelf in the reading room. It is the hope of the librarian that any one having a few leisure minutes will look these over. These books will be changed from time to time. Any of them may be drawn for two weeks.

LIBRARIAN.

FORUM MEETS.

The regular meeting of the Forum was held in Philo-Franklin Hall last Thursday afternoon. The subject for debate for the afternoon was "Resolved, that the recently passed income tax is justifiable." The affirmative side of the question was represented by W. J. Armstrong, '16, and J. G. Klingensmith, '16, and the debaters on the negative side were Paul Barrackman, '14, and W. A. Ellis, '16. The members present, by the use of the ballot system of voting for the first time, gave the decision of the debate in favor of the affirmative side, twelve to ten. The election of officers for the month resulted as follows: Speaker, J. Bright, '15; speaker pro-tem, M. A. Dotterrer, '15; secretary, C. W. Flick, '15, and sergeant-at-arms, R. F. Kahle, '17.

FIRST MEETING OF CLASSICAL CLUB

The Classical Club met for its regular monthly meeting in the Library last Tuesday evening, with the members of the Executive Committee in charge. The subject for discussion was "Magazine Reviews." P. W. Johnston, '14, spoke on "Xenophon, the Athenian Gentleman;" Miss Agnes McMahon, '15, spoke on "News Items," and Miss Alice Chapin, '15, discussed "The Common People of Imperial Rome." Miss Sabra Vought who was a former member of the organization, was reinstated, and Professor Harrop of the Latin and Greek departments was elected to membership in the club. The following students whose names had been voted upon the Saturday before the meeting, were received into membership in the club: R. A. Blasdell, '16, A. G. Curry, '16, W. M. Depp, '16, H. E. Drake, '16, R. E. Hoffman, '16, C. G. McCoy, '16, L. H. McKay, '16, O. A. Parmenter, '14, Miss Dorothy Stebbins, '15, Miss Ruth Dodd, '14, Miss Helen Thomas, '14, Miss Bernice Wilkins, '14.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB CHOSEN.

The tryouts for the Girls' Glee Club were held last week with the following results:

Sopranos—Misses Rachel Cleveland, '17, Geneva Buchanan, '17, Mary Carroll, '16, Janet Ellis, '15, Eleanor Gill, '17, Alice Hawkey, '16, Ruth Hotchkiss, '17, Emma Kightlinger, '16, Esther Lyons, '17, Rachel Maxwell, '17, Beatrice Mullian, '15, Bessie Preston, '17, Ethel Roach, '17.

Contraltos—Misses Ruth Allgood, '16, Elizabeth Best, '16, Charlotta Campbell, '17, Esta Ebaugh, '15, Hazel Gaskill, '16, Genevieve Johnson, '17, Eleanor McKay, '15, Josephine Singley, '15, Blanche Taylor, '16, Bernice Thoburn, '16, and Marian Whipple, '16.

MISSION STUDY CLASS.

In the absence of Dr. Cobern, Professor C. F. Ross had charge of the Mission Study Class on last Thursday evening. He outlined the chapter next in order in the book, Dr. Zwemer's text, "Islam, the Challenge of Faith." A large attendance was present to hear these most interesting talks continued.

The text books, which had been ordered some time ago, were passed out at this meeting. There were also tickets given out which entitled the holder to attend a stereopticon lecture in company with another person. This illustrated lecture will be given in the near future by Dr. Cobern, who has some special slides prepared, illustrating his tour in the Orient. As this is the only time Dr. Cobern will lecture in Meadville on this topic, the Mission Study members are looking forward to the event with great interest.

P. V. Kline, ex-'14, of Oil City, was a visitor on the hill last Thursday.

Gilbert A. Nodine, '80, of Ambridge, spent several days in Meadville last week.

Last Thursday Dr. Camden M. Cobern lectured before the Art Club of Jamestown, New York.

Dr. Crawford gave an interesting lecture before the Italian I. class, yesterday afternoon. Under the subject, "Tuscany's Hall of Fame," he told of many of the famous men of Florence.

President Crawford delivered the monthly paper before the Meadville Literary Union on last Friday evening. His subject, "Tuscany's Hall of Fame," made a very interesting paper before this meeting of Meadville's "literati."

At the elections held during the past week, John E. Reynolds was elected mayor. Mr. Reynolds is the son of the late Hon. William Reynolds, '37, who was for a number of years Allegheny's oldest living alumnus. Mayor Reynolds attended Allegheny for some time before completing his college work at Harvard University.

The meeting held for the practice of yells in Cochran Hall on last Friday evening was very largely attended. All the men who intended to make the trip to Pittsburg were present and after signing up and making the necessary arrangements for the trip, several of the new yells were practiced with great success. The Allegheny songs were also given their share of attention.

German Club met in its regular bimonthly session last Tuesday evening in the club rooms in Bentley. The entire evening was taken up with the business of the club. The following were elected to membership and invitations to join were sent out to them: Miss Nellie Roberts, '16, Miss Janet Ellis, '15, Miss Esta Ebaugh, '15, Miss Gertrude Hammond, '14, Miss Helen Hotson, '14, Miss Ruth Lavely, '15, Miss Bernice Thoburn, '16, C. H. Stevenson, '16, L. H. McKay, '16, W. A. Brownell, '16, David McKinley, '15, Howard Boyd, '15, A. F. Munhall, '16, Miss Thelma Weissenborn, '14, and Miss Jeannette Robinson, '15.

Allegheny College was well represented in the recent elections, particularly in one branch, when two men, one an alumnus of this college and the other a student here for two years, were elected judges on the Superior Court bench of the state of Pennsylvania. The one is Judge J. Henderson, '62, whose previous successful term was his strongest recommendation for renomination, and who led his nearest rival by a good majority throughout the state. The other man is John W. Kephart, ex-'94, of Ebensburg, Cambria county, who attended Allegheny for two years before graduating in 1894 at Dickinson Law School. Both men are members of the local chapter of Phi Gamma Delta.

The regular monthly meeting of the Alliance Francaise was held yesterday afternoon in the Library in the French Club's room, with a large attendance present. The address of the afternoon was made by Professor Theophile Dambach, instructor in French. The subject of his discussion was "The French Army of the Third Republic" and was made especially interesting on account of the speaker's familiarity with his subject. Mr. Dambach was formerly an officer in the French army and gave some vivid descriptions of the great military system of France. There were also several other papers of unusual interest.

Hulings Hall

Miss Mary Barkley, '15, Editor.

Miss Georgia Roberts, '16, is a recent pledge of Alpha Chi Omega.

Miss Georgia Roberts, '16, was the dinner guest of Miss Eleanor McKay, '15, on Thursday evening.

Miss Linda Holt, '14, spent the week-end in Tidioute, the guest of her sister, Mrs. M. W. Morey.

Mr. C. J. Roberts, of Albion, was the guest of his daughter, Miss Georgia Roberts, '16, on Saturday.

Miss Marian Whipple, '16, was the dinner guest of Miss Jeannette Ferguson, '16, on Saturday evening.

Miss Irene Beatty, '13, spent the week-end at the Hall, the guest of her sister, Miss Marguerite Beatty, '16.

The Misses Cecil Edwards and Claire Gates, of Oil City, were the week-end guests of the latter's sister, Miss Helen Gates, '16.

Miss Edith Haffley, of Kittaning, was the week-end guest of Miss Genevra Campbell, '16. Miss Haffley is a graduate of Clarion Normal.

The Wednesday Y. W. C. A. meeting was led by Rev. Ricker. Choosing as his text, "By faith Moses endured, as seeing Him that is invisible," he developed a very direct and appealing talk. He mentioned some of the problems and temptations which confront the people of the twentieth century.

Among the dinner guests at the Hall on Saturday were Miss Sadie Van Hoesen, '11, the guest of Miss Ethel Gealy, '15, and Miss McKay, '15, the guest of Miss Georgia Roberts, '16. Mrs. Lillian Knowlton, of Pittsburg, and Miss Marguerite Compton, of Meadville, were the guests of Miss Hazel Ross, '16.

The first meeting of the Week of Prayer was held in the Y. W. C. A. room Sunday evening, Miss Dorothea Abrams, '15, being leader. She read "The Call to Prayer," mentioning three kinds of prayer—Thankgiving, supplication and social Christianity—speaking briefly upon each one. Miss Muza Anchors, '14, then outlined the program for the week which is to consist of "Good Night" prayer services each evening, considering Africa especially on Monday evening, Asia on Tuesday, America on Wednesday, Australia on Thursday and Europe on Friday.

LAST SATURDAY'S GAMES.

The wet, slippery condition of the various football fields throughout the United States made good playing impossible and brought about an unusually large number of small scores where institutions probably would have overwhelmed their rivals had the playing conditions been better. Some of the Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio college football scores are of especial interest. Grove City was defeated by Hiram 19 to 6, which seems to indicate that Allegheny has a shade on the Red and White. The Gold and Blue defeated Hiram, at Hiram, 19 to 10, while Grove City lost their game in the Ohio town. Geneva, who will be seen in action on Montgomery Field a week from next Saturday, fell victim to Westminster, who managed to score a field goal on the Beaver Falls team at the close of the first half. This is not a remarkable showing for the Gold and White, since the Westminster eleven this year has as yet failed to show very much football. Washington and Jefferson had an easy victory over the University of West Virginia, the final score being 34 to 0. Mount Union outplayed Michigan Agricultural School in the first half of their game last Saturday at Lansing, Michigan, but the Westerners came back strong in the final period and won out 13 to 7. This is a remarkable showing for the Ohio institution since the Michigan team is undoubtedly the strongest eleven in the West. University of Pittsburgh, Harvard, Yale, Michigan, Dartmouth, and Oberlin were victors over their rivals of last Saturday.

The Freshmen-Sophomore games at the University of Michigan last spring were taken by the Universal Film company for the Pathe Weekly and for the Animated Weekly. The pictures show the relays, push ball contest and the celebrations.

ALLEGHENY DEFEATS TECH ELEVEN

yard but Munhall made none. Thomas punted. Kesner received and advanced only to the 20-yard line before being brought down by H. Pierson. Clair, in turn, punted to Ricker who ran up to Allegheny's 43-yard line. Two considerable drives by Munhall through left tackle and one by Graham brought the play within 25 yards of Tech's goal line. The next half-minute and Arnold was away around right end for the first touchdown of the game. Gilbert kicked out from the corner to the 17-yard line, and Thomas kicked goal. Score 7-0.

Second Quarter.

Clair made a long kick-off, Munhall being able to advance only to the 23-yard line. Thomas immediately punted to the opposite 25-yard line. McCaughey made no gain. Clair and McCaughey were held. Arnold on receiving Clair's punt ran up to within five yards of the middle of the field. Ricker pulled down a forward pass from Arnold, netting him eight yards. Munhall added four, but Arnold failed to gain. An attempted forward pass to Graham was spoiled by Kesner. Burke tried an end run but lost three yards for his team. Burke punted out of bounds. A penalty for coaching from the side lines and a loss by Ricker were made up by two good plunges through the line by Munhall. This was the third down. Dotterrer passed the ball out of bounds giving it to Tech on their own 9-yard line. Trautman was substituted for Fletcher. When Kesner failed to advance Tech chose to punt immediately, and Clair kicked. Ricker received and ran up to Tech's own 25-yard line. A series of gains,—Graham eight yards, Munhall three and two, and Arnold seven,—quickly brought the ball within five yards of the line. Munhall made two yards on the first down, failed to gain on the second, made one on the third, but was unable to get across on the last and had to surrender the ball to Clair to punt. As he kicked, Dotterrer broke through Tech's line, blocked the kick and fell on the ball, securing a touchdown. Thomas kicked the goal. Score 14-0.

Hellstrom was substituted for Tyler at center. After the kick-off by Burke and a punt by Dotterrer the ball was on Tech's 45-yard line and in their possession. A run around left end by Balsinger was stopped by Arnold for a loss of a yard. Kreider lost four more when tackled by H. Pierson. Kesner followed in the backward movement when Gilbert got him behind the line. The half ended on Tech's 37-yard line.

Third Quarter.

Metcalf went in for Graham at right half. Ricker brought Burke's kick-off up to the 19-yard line. After a gain of three yards by Arnold and an incomplete forward pass to H. Pierson, Thomas punted out of danger to Balsinger on Tech's 45-yard line. Kreider failed once but then succeeded in getting through the line for six yards. Balsinger fumbling, compelled Clair to punt. From the 30-yard line where Ricker brought the punt, neither Metcalf nor Arnold was able to advance. Thomas' punt then put the ball on Tech's 19-yard line. Clair brought it up to the 25-yard line. A first forward pass by Kesner failed, but on trying another, the first and only first down of the game for Tech resulted with an advance of 18 yards. McCaughey aided in the advance by contributing four yards. Allegheny was penalized for being off-side. Emery went in for Thomas. Kreider only gained two yards on two downs, causing Clair to punt. Ricker received and ran up to Allegheny's 45-yard line. Then Munhall gained two yards, Metcalf one, Arnold seven, Metcalf three and seven, and Allegheny's best pass of the game, Ricker to Emery, brought the play to the 22-yard line. Again, Metcalf gained one yard, Munhall one, Arnold five and Munhall two. The ball was in Allegheny's possession on Tech's 13-yard line when the third quarter ended.

Fourth Quarter.

After Metcalf had lessened the distance to the goal line by four yards, Ricker attempted a forward pass to Emery for a touchdown. It failed, however, and Clair recovered getting away and clear across the field for what might have been a touchdown had he not stepped out of bounds. He was compelled to come back to Allegheny's 29-yard line. A forward pass, Kreider to Balsinger, failed. Another was intercepted by Dotterrer and utilized for Allegheny's gain. From the 40-yard line Arnold advanced 12 yards and five yards, Metcalf nine, Arnold two, and Munhall nine and six to the 17-yard line. Metcalf, Munhall and Arnold again worked successively and made the 6-yard line. As it was the last down, instead of trying to make the goal line, Gilbert dropped back and made a neat kick from placement over the crossbar. Score 17-0.

No scoring resulted in the few remaining minutes. The ball was on Tech's 28-yard line in their possession when the final whistle blew.

Notes on the Game.

There were over 100 Alleghenians at the game at Pittsburg Saturday. Besides the 75 that left Meadville Saturday morning with the team there were several who had gone down the day before. These, with the large number of alumni from Pittsburg and the vicinity, who came to see their own team play, brought the total attendance well above the hundred mark.

Perhaps there has never before been such enthusiasm shown for a team in a game away from home. The usual desire to win coupled with the fine record of the team and the special training in cheering before the trip, all went to put the Allegheny crowd in a very enthusiastic state of mind. The result was cheering that even rivalled Tech's with their much greater number.

In order to make the trip to Pittsburg a number of expedients were resorted to among the men. These varied from beating rugs and scrubbing floors to riding on freight-car bumpers. Taking President Crawford at his word that he would bail any student who became involved with the law in making his way to the Smoky City, five Freshmen boarded a Pennsylvania freight train at Linesville Friday evening and arrived at Pittsburg the next morning after a number of thrilling experiences.

It is very interesting to watch Coach Hammett on the field and hear his "That's good," or "That's bad, bad."

"Hez" Pierson came near having some serious difficulties with an opponent who insistently and slyly used methods not altogether the fairest.

Not a little of the "pep" shown by the team was due the haranguing of Captain Gilbert and "Tubbie" Baker on the field and between periods.

Louis M. Lowe, '16, left Meadville last Thursday for Warren, where he has accepted a position with the Warren National Bank.
