My Dear Family:-

I am sure you would all laugh and perhaps be a little sorry for me, tho. if you knew how hard put to I am for amusement here sometimes today I worked until 5 o'clock in my room & then went for a walk in what the guide book says is the fashionable cafe! Quaeli. The steets are very wide here - I know no city - not even Paris where they are as wide - & most of the buildings have gallows in front so that you can walk for miles under over - The cafes are on the steet & in the gallery you sit outside & as there are no end of cars hooking & generally a street-car clanging it is anything but nonquil — I walked as far as I knew my way & sat down where there was music to watch the people & drink my tea. An hour of it deafened me & I started to the hotel. In the way was a movie! All the music are American in Italy — Valentino everywhere now Tom Mix — Charlie C. — M. Pickford etc — this movie was one I can never resist — that amazing dog Rin-Tin-Tin they call him here. Is that his American name. I went & saw I last acts of a wildly improbable Western melodrama of which the dog was the hero. I actually was all in a tremble at the end of my first — the third act! — I believe the dog finally saved the day we all cheered! I saw R-T-T in Rome in another story — all the nurses I've seen since I left.

There has been a great relief in the weather — rain! Thursday in Genova was the first real shower I've seen since I left America. It is a blessing for everything was gray with dust & crops threatened.
I've seen the big Fiat-automobile nurses here also the biggest artificial silk nurses in the world. To-morrow morning I go at 6 o'clock on an all day motor trip into the mountains to see how they make white coal — electricity for power. I shall go to Milan at night if I get back in time I glad to get there for my mail has been going there since I left Florence. The last letter I had with me from will written about Ag 12, letting of 100° humidity + nothing so bad as that here.

I must get something to eat - I get to bed early for my life - which if exciting will be shamous.
Love to you all
