"THE GOOD NEIGHBOR" SUBJECT OF MEETING

Record Attendance at Final Meeting for the Year.

The largest crowd that has attended any of the union prayer meetings this year was out to hear Dr. G. G. Benjamin give his talk on "The Good Neighbor" last Wednesday evening. The basis of his remarks was the passage in St. Luke containing the parable of the Good Samaritan and he also read the one in which is told the incident of the Publican and the Pharisee. After discoursing a few minutes on the ethical principles involved in these stories he read several selections from a book by Mary E. Richmond called "The Good Neighbor" which is an excellent work on this theme. Toward the close of his talk, Dr. Benjamin brought a message of intensely practical value. He said: "What are the problems of modern society? One, of course, is the question of congestion in cities. Another is that of accidents. The unemployed problem is a great one. In 1905 an examination in New York City showed three hundred thousand men out of employment. The child problem is another,—the question of child labor, the child in the streets. Let me suggest some things that are being done elsewhere. During the recent convention of the Intercollegiate Civic League it was reported from the North Dakota chapter that a social survey had been made in Grand Forks, the general condition of the slums had been looked into, the public health had been investigated, laws for workingmen's compensation had been forwarded as well as other labor legislation, and the tariff, the initiative and referendum had been taken up. At Williams College the club made a study of the child labor in the cotton mills. As a result of their report the United States Government made a special examination. Other matters such as the 'rotten boroughs' were investigated.

"It seems to me that the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. could take up some such work as this in this vicinity. For instance, the boys who are arrested in Meadville could be looked after. Men might volunteer service as probation officers; the 'Big Brother Movement' might be established as it exists in New York City. Another thing that could be done is to make a social survey of Meadville and vicinity investigating tenement house conditions. Or the Italian labor problem could be investigated. I am told that the padrone system exists right here. Also there could be volunteers to serve as district nurse in Meadville. Indeed, there are a great many chances for work of this kind that the Christian Associations could perform in this vicinity."

At a conference of student employment secretaries of nine eastern colleges and universities, held at Columbia University during the Easter holidays, it was decided to take drastic action to prevent the employment of students as book agents during the summer months.

Tennis Standing

Cox, '16, Defeats Brownell in Close Match—Other Notes.

During the past week the tennis tournament has commanded its share of attention, although the wet weather has somewhat handicapped the players from engaging in their matches on schedule time. Since the tournament is nearing completion and will probably be continued only another week, the interest taken by those who are playing in Class A has been quite keen, for the members of the varsity team will be chosen from the men leading in this division. Cox, '16, is now at the top of Class A, but Mates, '13, and H. Brownell, '15, will still give him a hard race for the leadership of the first division. In the doubles the Brownell brothers are undoubtedly playing the best game, although at the present time they do not lead the double division. This team won the doubles championship of Northwestern Pennsylvania at Oil City last summer and if they represent Allegheny this season, will undoubtedly prove a hard proposition for any opponents. The schedule has not been entirely ratified, but will probably include a date here with W. and J. on June 3, and another at Grove City on May 28.

Perhaps the most interesting match of the whole tournament was played yesterday afternoon when Cox met Brownell, who has been at the top of Class A almost from the beginning. Little fear was felt that the position of the contestants would be changed by the result of the match, but by playing a cool, strong game Cox was able finally to win out and with it first place in the tournament. He first showed his strength in the first set, winning it 6-2. The second, however, went to Brownell, 6-3. Both started the third with determination. The first two games went one to each man. Then Brownell took the next three and Cox followed with three more, making the score four all. After this neither man was able to take two in succession, each alternately winning and losing during the next nineteen games. When at last the set was finished the score stood 15-13 Cox. Few undoubtedly have witnessed a longer set. Both men played excellent tennis with spectacular strokes being made frequently. As the constitution now stands it is probable the fight for first place will be between Cox and Mates.

The following is the standing of the men in both singles and doubles. The tournament will be completed this week:

HIGH SCHOOL TEAMS TO COMPETE HERE SATURDAY

Ten High Schools to Enter Teams in Inter-Scholastic Meet.

With the first interscholastic track meet scheduled to take place on next Saturday, Allegheny has entered upon an innovation which promises to be permanent in its organization. For a few months past Coach Dunlap and Manager Ball have been arranging this meet with the leading high schools in this vicinity and as a result of their work ten of the leading secondary institutions of Northwestern Pennsylvania and Southeastern New York have signified their intentions of entering. As this is the first time that such a meet has ever been held in Meadville, the student body as well as the town people are looking forward with great expectation to seeing some close races between the representatives of these schools. With the present facilities of the college in having Montgomery Field, no better track can be offered by any institution in Western Pennsylvania for the holding of such a meet. This gathering of secondary school athletes promises to offer an exceptional opportunity to witness the best kind of a contest in this popular spring sport.

Up to this time the high schools which have written to Coach Dunlap that they will have representatives present on next Saturday are as follows: Meadville, Jamestown, N. Y., Westfield, N. Y., Northeast, Erie, Greenville, Kane, Franklin, Conneaut, O., and Rochester. Although it is not known definitely how many men will be sent by each school, Jamestown and Westfield will probably send ten men. Of course Meadville will be able to have a full team present, while Erie usually sends a strong team. All of these high schools who have signified their intentions of entering are the best in their immediate vicinity and of course this promises to make the meet unusually close. It is hoped that this meet will become an annual affair, so that every year the leading secondary institutions from which the college draws its students will be seen in action on the local field.

Gold medals will be given to the men taking first place, while silver and bronze will be given to those taking second and third respectively. Ribbon badges will also be given to those men who take a fourth place. Four places will be counted in the meet, as it is customary in all interscholastic as well as inter-collegiate contests. The meet in itself will include thirteen events. On Saturday morning the preliminaries will take place which will be run off in the following order: 100-yard dash, high hurdles, running high jump, 220-yard dash, discus throw, pole vault, running broad jump, low hurdles, and hammer throw. The twelve-pound shot and hammer will be used. All

Farewell of Imp

Kaldron Imp Gives Parting Salutation Before Appearance of Book.

Well here's your last chance. Thursday will absolutely be the last day to get any of those things you have been thinking about into the Kaldron. Sorry, but we simply must have that book out on time and the time waxes short most rapidly. You have lots of time left between now and then to win that Kaldron for either a prose or a poetic work, and we are awfully anxious to give a couple of those books away. If you have been allowing some clever thought to germinate within that fertile frain of yours and have been holding it off until it gets a little riper, for goodness sakes, slip it into an incubator now and hurry that process a little. Remember it's up to you to help this college generation laugh during commencement week.

And now listen to this. If you think that you do not have time to write something worth while, suppose you take a little of that time you waste in some of your class rooms to jot down a few of the funny things that happen every day. Write a little limerick about that friend of yours, about the professor or about yourself. Tell us how certain classes impress you. Oh, do anything just as long as you do not do nothing. And that's about all we can tell you this time.

Yes, we have been working hard to get that book out on time and all indications seem to point to our success in doing that. So you might just as well write home for that little bit of spare change you will need to purchase the book and have it all ready when the time comes. The manager will be looking for you and he'll be more than glad to have you try to get the first book, sold. And now "au revoir" until we tell you what we think of you in the other book. We have enjoyed writing to you and telling you all about what you ought to do for us, even if we have not received any answers. And here's hoping that you don't make another poor mortal worry as you have this board of imps.

Delt Reception

Delta Tau Delta Held Annual Reception on Saturday.

Saturday night Delta Tau Delta held their annual reception at their house on Highland Avenue. It proved as usual the big event of its kind of the year. About one hundred and fifty invited guests were present including, besides the chapter's Meadville alumni, others from town and a large number of Hulings Hall girls. On the receiving line were E. J. Hall, '13, Mrs. F. C. Lockwood, Prof. and Mrs. O. P. Akers, Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Lippitt, Miss Sarah McClurg, Prof. M. H. Dewey, '04, and C. E. Hinckley, '13, while other members of the fraternity welcomed the guests throughout the house. Added to the large parlors were the spacious verandas which were latticed in by interwoven strips of crepe paper in the fraternity colors and made a part of the house. The entrance was also prettily adorned by a similarly constructed arch. Besides the colors in various ways some tasteful decorations were made by the use of apple blossoms. Refreshments were served in the dining room and on the large front veranda. During the evening the Festival Orchestra discoursed a fine program of popular and classic music.

Minstrel Show

Practice Going on for Annual Moving-Up Day Event.

The annual minstrel show is well started. The chorus of thirty men, under the leader of the Glee Club, has been at work learning the overture for a week. This overture is published by the Witmark Co. and equals any of their productions which have been used in former years. The end-men will be picked from the following: Eckles, Robinson, Taylor, Hall, Scott, Hutchinson, and Graham. The olio will be well taken care of by the end men and others in special numbers.

ALLEGHENY DEFEATS TECH IN DUAL MEET

Fast Time Made in All Events—Two Records Broken.

In the initial track meet of the season, Allegheny won a most signal victory over Carnegie Tech at Pittsburgh on last Saturday afternoon by the score of 74 to 57. A team composed of fifteen men accompanied by Coach Dunlap and Manager Ball left Meadville early Saturday morning to meet Tech on Leed's Field in the afternoon. Judging from the reports sent out by the Pittsburghers, Tech was represented by the strongest team in some years and the victory of last Saturday showed that the gold and blue is in direct line for the championship of Western Pennsylvania.

The meet was interesting and close throughout, for both teams excelled in certain events which caused the score to sway back and forth in the earlier part of the contest. In spite of the heavy track, all the time made in the sprints and long distance runs was unusually good. As it was "Chuck" Dotterrer broke his own record in the shot put by hurling the weight for a distance of 41 feet 2½ inches, besides doing over 118 feet in the discuss. Doran, '15, won the 100-yard dash in the remarkable time of 10 1-5 seconds, which was exceptionally fast time considering the track conditions. "Louie" Wells tied for first place in pole vault at 10 feet 6 inches, also making a new college record. An occurrence which caused considerable discussion among the officials arose as the result of the tie in the pole vault. After Wells and Wright of Tech had reached the height of 10 feet 6 inches, eleven feet was tried but both fell down. However on a fourth jump Wright cleared the bar at 11 feet only to be disqualified by the officials, and both men split the points for first and second place. Haselton, Tech's star distance man, broke the collegiate record of Western Pennsylvania in the two-mile when he finished at 100 yards ahead of his nearest competitor in the remarkable time of 10 minutes 16 1-5 seconds. Van Horn, '13, took first in the quarter mile in the fast time of 53 4-5 seconds, while in the half mile Metcalf, '15, crossed the tape ahead of the field. Scott, '16, was nosed out of first place in the low hurdles by only a foot, while Fahr, '15, lost the high hurdles by about the same distance. Tech failed to put a relay team in the field, so Allegheny's four, composed of Brownell, '15, Perley, '13, Van Horn, '13, and Fahr, '15, ran against time in order to annex the points. As most of the men were already tired out as the result of previous races, the time made was not remarkable, although good for the track.

C. M. Dotterrer, '14, was the highest individual point winner for Allegheny, while Doran, '15, Metcalf, '15, Van Horn, '13, and Thomas, 14, followed in order named. The showing made at this first meet evidenced the fact that the hard training and coaching the men have been undergoing during the past few months under the

Manager's Talk

A certain man of whom you may have heard acknowledged that he was a debtor both to the Greeks and to the Barbarians. On Being a Bonehead.

President Meiklejohn, of Amherst College, recently made an address at Smith College in which he suggested the following thoughts, which appeared in a recent number of the Springfield (Mass.) paper. On account of its applicability to any college at any place, The Campus has given it space in this column.

"If I were going to preach a sermon I should take as text the verse, "Eyes have they, but they see not"; but I choose instead to give a preface to a poem of William Watson that treats the same subject The college term for persons described by the verse is "bonehead," and I know of no phrase that so adequately labels the nature of the substance behind "eyes that see not." And so this is a talk on being a bonehead. Students as they come to college are lacking in information; they must learn about literature, science, social institutions, philosophy—all the great facts of the world in which they live. These things the teacher is to give and they are to receive; it is to understand. So much study is like trying to cram many pieces of a picture-puzzle into one small box instead of intelligently putting the pieces together. The great task and opportunity of four years at college is to put together the pieces of information you get and realize their meaning.

"We should strive to get some sense of the moral, intellectual, esthetic life in its deeper and truer meanings. For it is possible to see without seeing and to think without understanding. There is still the strange cry of "the danger of making college too intellectual." No one who was ever in a college was afraid of its being too intellectual, if he knew what intellectuality meant. Young fools think they are intelligent because of their fancies, fads, impressions, guesses; if they are different from people with common sense they imagine they have grasped the deeper meaning. Thinking means continual testing, weighing by standards, alertness and work. If you ever catch yourself thinking you have succeeded, be sure you have not even started.

"This is a time of thinking to stir one's blood. The whole social scheme is twisting, changing. The whole order about you is in a state of upheaval, waiting for your guidance—for you to direct and think. The sadness of being four years with the vision of what the human heart may be, and still remaining stupid, unenlightened, carried away by caprice or a bit of fun! This is the sadness that oppresses William Watson when he laments "Man's barren levity of mind"—"the laugh mistimed in tragic presences"—"the eye to all majestic meaning blind."

GROVE CITY GAME.

Allegheny's baseball team sustained another defeat on last Saturday afternoon at Grove City. The usual hard luck, which has pursued the efforts of the team this season was again evident in this game. Until the fatal sixth inning the game bid to be close, with the odds in favor of Allegheny, but four singles, a sacrifice hit, and a three-bagger scored five runs for the red and white. The gold and blue also started a batting rally in their half of this inning, which resulted in two runs, but were unable to bat around as the Grove City nine did. Beach pitched a star game for the down state nine, allowing five hits and having fifteen strikeouts to his credit. Robinson did the best stick work for the gold and blue, as well as putting up a good exhibition of baseball around third base. Hawk managed to keep the opposing batters' hits pretty well scattered until the fatal sixth inning when all the damage was done by the opponents. The score:

INTER-CLASS MEET FOR NEXT FRIDAY AFTERNOON.

The annual inter-class meet will take place on next Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. For this important athletic event the various members of the respective classes have been working hard in order to uphold the class honor, which will be more or less at stake in this meet. Although at the present time the Sophomore class is in the possession of the cup which was offered some years ago by Mr. Brownell, the local shoe store man, yet the other classes have their quota of men who will give the "Centennials" a hard chase for the prize. The present Senior class was a holder of the cup for two years, which was the longest any class had held it up to that time. In order to come into the permanent possession of this prize, a class must win the inter-class meet three consecutive times, that means starting with the Freshman year and then on.

Alpha Kappa Lambda, the local forensic society, initiated D. J. Blasdell, '13, and E. J. Hall, '13, last night. The ceremony was held at the Phi Delta Theta house.

Dr. and Mrs. O. P. Akers entertained the non-fraternity Seniors at dinner on Friday evening. They also entertained the Seniors of Phi Gamma Delta at Sunday dinner.

1914 is boasting of the newest addition to its class roll in form of a young lady whose father is O. A. Parmenter,'14. The young lady was born on last Wednesday morning.

Theta Delta Psi entertained a number of their friends at their spring party at the Saegertown Inn on last Thursday evening. The party left on special car at 4:30 and returned at 11. After an eight course dinner a pleasant evening was spent.

Allegheny was fortunate in having during the last week two of her recent alumni who are now prominent ministers in the Erie Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church present in chapel to speak to the students. The one was Rev. Homer B. Potter, '01, of Union City, and the other Rev. Bruce S. Wright, '05, of Erie.

The regular meeting of the German Club was held in the club rooms in Bentley Hall on last Monday evening before a large audience. Two most interesting papers were read before the members by C. F. Sweetland, '14, on "Dresden," and H. K. Downing, '15, on "Saxony." Both papers presented many instructive accounts of this wonderful city and state and the program was heartily enjoyed by those members present.

RADIUM CLUB FEASTS.

In probably what was one of the most unique stunts of the college year, the Radium Club held its annual get-together on last Monday morning. Just as the sun was rising in the east, the members of the aforesaid club could be seen wending their way to a noted picnic place in the North Park Avenue ravine. There amid the effulgent beams of the aforesaid members and the sun, a dainty breakfast was served by the young lady members. After the breakfast hour, the club gave its yell and returned to College Hill before most of the student body had awakened from their dreams. It was decided to have this meeting as an annual affair, in as much as the radioactivity of the various members had evidenced itself very frequently in college life. Before the party broke up several pictures were taken which will be colored before sent to the Kaldron and other publications. With the permanent organization of this club, another institution well worthy of being in Allegheny's curriculum of college clubs, was formally made known among the student body.

DEATH OF MRS. REA.

Mrs. Caroline A. Rea, mother of A. A. Rea, '13, and Lois Rea, '14, died at her home near Linesville last Friday evening. She had been ill with bronchial trouble for the past two months and for some weeks it has been evident that her recovery was impossible. The funeral was held at the Rea home, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Flowers were sent by the Teutonian Organization and the class of 1913, and a few members of the Senior class attended the services.

Both Mr. Rea and his sister have had to stay out of school on account of their mother's illness since the Easter vacation. However, both of them will now return to college and Mr. Rea expects to be able to graduate with his class in June. The sincere sympathy of the whole student body goes out to them in their sorrow.

INTER-FRATERNITY BASEBALL.

Intra-mural athletics again were in evidence this last week when two inter-fraternity baseball games were played. This was an unexpected development as no regular schedule has been arranged. The beginning came about in Phi Delta Theta challenging Phi Kappa Psi's bunch of swatters. The game was played Tuesday evening at 5:30, Phi Delta Theta winning after five innings. The batteries were: Phi Delta Theta, Barnes, Dunbar and Hawk; and Phi Kappa Psi, Newlin and Brooks. J. R. MacGowan captained the successful team while "Red" Robinson was field manager for the Phi Psis.

The game was a close one until the last inning when the Phi Delts sewed it up by running in enough scores to win. The score was 10-7.

As a result of the interest aroused by this one game plans for others were immediately made. Delta Tau Delta challenged Sigma Alpha Epsilon for Thursday evening. For five innings neither side was able to score, but then the Sigs got busy and chalked up five marks during the next two innings while the Delts were able to score only once. Captains, Sigs, Galbraith and Delts, Hall. Batteries, Sigs, Harper and Lowe; Delts, Bash, Hall and Fugate.

Several more games will undoubtedly be played before examinations begin. Tonight Phi Gamma Delta has challenged the victorious Phi Delta Theta team to play. This will no doubt be one of the best as the Phi Gams have some fine material to draw from and the Phi Delts have already proved strong.

GROVE CITY TOMORROW.

A chance will be given to the local baseball nine to get revenge on the Grove City College team on tomorrow afternoon when the red and white will be seen in action on Montgomery Field. Although Allegheny was defeated on last Saturday afternoon, as the score indicates, the game was not all in favor of the old baseball rivals. In previous years the series of games with Grove City have been hotly contested and as a rule resulted in neither team getting a decided advantage. The down state team is heralded as one of the strongest nines in Western Pennsylvania this year, but even their record made this season, to defeat them on the local field does not seem at all impossible. Robinson will probably be on the mound for the gold and blue.

QUILL CLUB MEETS.

The regular meeting of the Quill Club was held last Tuesday evening in their rooms in the Library. "Talk versus Conversation" was the subject of the hour, and E. J. Hall, '13, had charge of the program as carried out, the object of which was to attempt to elevate the tone of conversation about college, to make it in the nature of real conversation and not mere small talk. The leader first gave a talk on the English coffee houses and the influence they had on the literature of the time. This was followed by a paper by Miss Beulah Grauel, '13, on the French salon, and P. H. Nichols, '14, on the conversations of German club houses and music halls. Miss Frances Norton, '13, closed the program with a paper on Conversation at the American Dinner Table. After these papers had been read a very lively discussion on the general topic followed and the usual refreshments were served. A motion was carried at this meeting that one of the first meetings of next fall should be upon the same subject. On June 10 the last gathering of the Quill Club of the present term will be held as a farewell meeting to the Seniors.
