My dear Miss Tarbell,-

I have been thinking of you a great deal of late, and have missed your articles in the "Industrial" and am worried about it, hope you are improving in health, when last you wrote me you were ill and about to leave the city possibly you have returned and have called no house and I did not get the message, as there is only an old lady there during the day, and she is very forgetful. When you feel able let us know how you are getting along I am beginning to feel that you are very ill and not improving as rapidly as you should

As ever Mrs H. A. Cook
