Mr. Walter Graves
307 S. Main St.
Wichita, Kansas

Dear Mr. Graves:

I am always glad to hear from you, and to have copies of your articles for my files. I like your "Jazz Age or Jazzelet Scribes."

What a pity you did not see Mrs. Estill before she left the world. Still, maybe it would not have been so much.

The story that you tell about Mrs. Dubois and her little girl interests me.

Do you remember, a long time ago, of writing me about your brother's telling you how he and Robert Lincoln, when they were lads of eight or nine or thereabouts, staged a hanging of puppies or cats in Mr. Lincoln's barn, were caught by him and soundly threshed? I wonder if you have any more definite information about the episode. I already have used it, fictionalized a little. I should be glad to have it more precise.

Sincerely yours
