PLAY PRODUCTION CLASS TO OPEN 1928 SEASON

PLAY WRITTEN BY ALUMNA TO BE PRESENTED IN BENTLEY

Allegheny's Little Theatre, situated on the third floor of Bentley Hall, opens the 1928 season next Monday and Tuesday afternoons under the direction of Miss Alice Huntingdon Spalding, Professor of Public Speaking.

The theatre is conducted by a class in play production (Public Speaking IV) in which students are taught everything about producing plays which can be taught. Acting, producing, and business management are all taught.

The class will present two one-act plays next Monday and Tuesday. These are "The Sunny Morning" and "The Pardon." Members of the class do the acting, making the scenery, and tend to all the business connected with the presentation. The only help they receive is that of Miss Spalding who acts as a chief director and general overseer.

The play, "The Pardon," is one that has never before been presented on any stage. It was written by an alumnus of the college, Miss Grace V. Henderson '92. Miss Henderson sent the play to Miss Spalding with the request that the play production class be the first to produce it. It is a tragedy. The authoress will be present at the initial performance.

Many people from the town as well as the college have expressed their desire to attend the plays presented by the class during the year, but, owing to the lack of space, admission to these two plays will be by invitation alone.

The casts of the plays are made up of the following students: Paul C. Reynolds, Carol Moodey, Robert C. Wilson, Frances Antico, Dorothy Winter, Phillys Connell.

Men's Glee Club Sings; To Leave Friday Morning

Allegheny College's rejuvenated Glee Club sang in chapel yesterday morning at the regular chapel period. The program which the club presented was the same that will be presented on their trip to Pittsburgh.

The program is as follows:

At Father's Door—Russian Folk Song
The Broken Melody.....Sibilius
Prayer of Thanksgiving....Kremser
Special arrangement of "Hark Allegheny" by M. J. Luvass and James Meadowcroft.
Solos by David Whitsett.

At 2:30 this afternoon the club will sing at the chapel hour at the High School. Friday morning at 7:45 the club will leave by bus for Pittsburgh, stopping in Butler for lunch. On arriving in Pittsburgh a rehearsal will be held in the Carnegie Music Hall where the contest will be held. This contest will consist of clubs from Bucknell, Carnegie Tech, Juniata, Penn State, Allegheny, and Pitt, and will begin at 8:15. The singing will be broadcast over one of the Pittsburgh stations. Following the concert, the club will be entertained by the Pittsburgh-Allegheny Alumni Association at the University Club and will return to Meadville Sunday.

PLANS COMPLETED FOR INTER-SORORITY HOP

Plans have now been completed for the annual inter-sorority hop to be held March 3 in Cochran Hall. Kress' Olympians will furnish the music, and the chaperones will be Doctor and Mrs. Beebe, and Mr. Church and Dean Anderson. Punch and cakes will be served by the girls.

The members of the committee which has made possible this affair have worked hard to make this dance a big success, and have taken as their motto, "Bigger and Better Inter-sorority Hops." The personnel of this committee, consisting of one representative from each sorority, is as follows: Jane Eckert, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Mary Butler, Alpha Chi Omega; Alice Stephens, Theta Upsilon; Milded Gilmore, Alpha Gamma Delta; Alice Rorabaugh, Alpha Xi Delta, and Martha Carr, Kappa Alpha Theta.

The American Association of College Women held its quarterly meeting on Saturday, February 11, at three o'clock at Hulings Hall. Miss Anderson, Dean of Women, was hostess. Mr. Kalfayan, the speaker of the afternoon, gave a most interesting talk on Turkey. Tea was served in the loge.

The club arranged a recital for the second of March by Mrs. Mary Jones Sherrill of Pittsburgh. Mrs. Sherrill, who is equally gifted as a singer and interpreter, will present "The Witch of Salem," with music by Charles Wakefiend Cadman.

Social Committee Revises Rules for College Parties

Several important changes have been made in the regulations governing the social functions of the fraternities and other groups about the college. The recent bulletin issued by the social committee of the college has just been distributed and the various changes are listed therein.

The complete list of regulations governing the social functions as set forth by the Committee on Social functions of the college is as follows:

General Regulations for Social Activities in Allegheny College

All social gatherings whether formal or informal held in college buildings or in fraternity houses, and all social gatherings under the management of any college organization or of any body of students at which both men and women are present are under the control of the Committee on Social Functions. This regulation applies to recess and inter-term parties as well as to those during the college term.

All social gatherings, except as noted below, must close in time to allow residents of Hulings Hall to be in the Hall by 11 o'clock. College girls living outside Hulings Hall are subject to the same regulations.

No student social function shall occur within one week prior to examination period, or during commencement week.

A maximum of one social gathering per week is permitted in any fraternity house or by any one organization.

The chaperons for all parties excepting the small parties shall include the wife of a member of the faculty or of a trustee or the Dean of Women.

In securing permission for any social gathering a card must be secured from the chairman of the Committee on Social Functions granting permission for the party as to date, place, and type of party to be held. This card must be presented to the Dean of Women at least three days in advance of the party for all large parties, and at least 24 hours in advance for all small parties, for approval of chaperons. Cards should be secured at the office of the chairman in Bentley Hall at the following hours: Monday, Wednesday, and Friday at 11-11-:15; Thursday, 9-9:15. Office hours of the Dean of Women are every day except Saturday 1:15-3:00; Saturday 11:00-12:30. Appropriate penalties will be inflicted for non-observance of this rule. Cards need not be secured for Sunday dinner parties, but fraternities holding such parties shall report them in advance to the Dean of Women, giving names of chaperons and guests.

Number and Types of Parties Permitted

Each fraternity or non-fraternity organization may have a maximum of four large, or all-organization, parties per semester. For one of the parties 12 o'clock permission may be given.

Additional parties may be held in fraternity houses during vacation periods only if authorized by the committee and properly chaperoned.

Each fraternity or non-fraternity organization may have small parties of less than six couples, subject to the regulations which govern large parties.

All other parties not provided for above are to be decided on merit by the Committee. It is the policy of the Committee to encourage inter-fraternity parties.

All social gatherings, except the small parties and the 12 o'clock parties, shall be held on Friday evening. The small parties may be held on any week day; the 12 o'clock parties on either Friday or Saturday.

Special Regulations for Parties at Which Dancing Takes Place

It is expected that all social functions held by college organizations shall be conducted according to the accepted standards of good form.

There shall be no smoking in rooms used for dancing either during the dancing or during intermissions.

Large or small parties when held at hotels shall have exclusive use of the dance floor.

For each party there shall be a student committee responsible for carrying out the above regulations.

"Y" Secretary Talks In Chapel Before Glee Club Concert

Mr. Andrew Roy, secretary of the college division of the Young Men's Christian Association, spoke in chapel Wednesday morning before the concert given by the Glee Club.

Mr. Roy spoke in defense and explanation of missions and missionaries and showed just how such men were inspired. Mr. Roy explained very clearly the method by which missionaries obtained the desired results in their fields of endeavor.

BAKERMEN LOSE TO BEAVER FALLS QUINT

ALLEGHENY, PLAYING SLOW GAME, DROPS TO GENEVA

Disappointing is perhaps the best way to describe Allegheny-Geneva game of last Tuesday night which resulted in a 32-23 victory for the lads from Beaver Falls. The first half was particularly displeasing to the Blue and Gold fans, who kept hoping for the Baker boys to get going, but not until the end of the period were their desires at all realized, and then not to any great extent.

Whether it was over-confidence or a loss of head which caused the poor showing of the Allegheny team during the first fifteen minutes is hard to decide. The regular team was not functioning as well as it is capable of doing, and Coach Baker realized this when he substituted Lewis and Gillies in an attempt to make things go better. In the second half, the Blue and Gold were able to keep Coach McMillan's team under control a little better, although they were outscored, 17-14.

Allegheny enjoyed its only lead of the game at the very outset, but once the Geneva lads got started, they were never headed. Chuck Bair was fouled while dribbling down the floor and made good his free toss. The mite forward followed this with a beautiful long shot, and then Geneva registered a foul. Herb Eighmy dded another point for Allegheny before the Covenantor center broke oose for his team's first basket. The score stood at 5-3 in favor of the Bakermen, but not for long, for the Beaver Falls boys launched an assault which carried the score to 15 for the visitors while the Allegheny score remained stationary. Lewis was injected into the game at this point and he came through with a basket from near the center of the floor, while Bair contributed the rest of the Allegheny scoring for the half with another two-pointer.

The second half was featured chiefly by the improvement in the Allegheny team work. Paul Barber, lately of the Penn State freshmen team, was given his first opportunity at forward and gave a nice account of himself, although he scored only once, from the foul line. With the exception of one basket by Lewis, Bair was once again the whole works for the Blue and Gold. The elusive little forward registered five times from the field and once from the foul line during the stanza. But the rest of the team was suffering another off-night and could do little to support him. Several times during this period the Allegheny team came in striking distance of the Covenantors, but the spurts always fell short, five points being the smallest margin of lead enjoyed by the Beaver Falls team during the half.

SOUTH AMERICAN SNAKE IS FOUND IN MEADVILLE

Our Biology Department has, in the last week, acquired a new resident. This individual probably holds the record of coming the greatest distance to this school. He traveled all the way from Guatamala, concealed in a bunch of bananas. Upon arrival, however, he was troubled with bad teeth and had to have several of them extracted. With few disturbances, he now resides peacefully at his home in the Biology building.

This new resident is a snake known as a Palm Viper. He measures about three feet in length and four inches in diameter. Pictures have been made of him and they are being sent to Doctor Ditmar who is probably the greatest authority on snakes and who at the present time is at the head of the New York Zoological Gardens. The viper was first discovered coiled up in a bunch of bananas by a girl working at Galbo's fruit store. He was finally secured in an old bag and brought to Doctor Darling who has him safely caged. Doctor Darling has removed his deadly fangs which makes the snake practically harmless but he can still hiss vehemently. Brown is the predominating color with various shades of red and yellow. His habitat is the palm trees and he feeds on mice and small snakes and lizards.

COLLEGE SWIMMING TEAM IS RE-FORMED

On Friday, February 10th, at a meeting of the point winners in the Interfraternity Swimming Meet, Morris W. Curtis was elected captain and Burdell Sankey was elected manager of Allegheny's swimming team for this year. There is more interest being taken in the team this year than in previous years, and everything points towards a successful season.

Dual meets are being arranged with Westminster and Thiel, and the team also expects to get meets with Pitt and Oil City Y. M. C. A.

BIBLE PROFESSOR SPEAKS IN ALLEGHENY CHAPEL

"IS LIFE WORTH WHILE?" IS SUBJECT OF TALK LAST MONDAY

Professor J. N. Prince, Professor of Religious Education at the Garrett Biblical Institute, Evansville, Illinois, was the guest of the college on Monday, February 20. Mr. Prince is making a tour of the various colleges and educational institutions throughout the Eastern United States, giving addresses and holding conferences with students. He spoke in Ford Memorial Chapel at the regular chapel hour, and in the afternoon held a period for interview with members of the faculty and student body.

"Is Life Worth While?" was the subject of Mr. Prince's talk at the chapel services. He began by showing that this problem of the worth-whileness of life is by no means so far beyond our minds as some of us think. "As the pagan came to think about the little things in life, the things near him, he became very happy; but as he looked out on the universe his heart sank. However, in this modern age many have been able to specialize in the study of this problem and to solve its difficulties.

"One reason for colleges is that we may gather through our studies a philosophy of life, and find our position in life. We should put ourselves in line with the universe as a whole. If we do not have an outlook life will not bear up under the strain of duty. In solving this problem we can do no better than to look into the life of Jesus himself. His philosophy of life goes down through the centuries. Jesus made his great contribution to humanity in pointing out how man should set out to make his life count. His idea is expressed in the quotation, 'He that loseth his life shall find it.'"

Mr. Prince went on to say, "It is strange that religion, being a vital concern, is so little known. We have no real solution to the problem of the universe. What we ought to know most about, we seem to know the least of."

In conclusion, Professor Prince gave to the students a few guides which he urged them to consider. He said, "If you once find this wider outlook, make it your goal, and the smaller things of life will take care of themselves. Man is not going to find his life worth while if he does not make it so for his neighbors. The question, 'Is my life worth while?' will never be answered until one first asks himself, 'How much have I done?' Prepare yourselves for a life which will be capable of giving to others what others before have given and made possible for you."

Annual Production Will Be Given By Students March 17

In an interview with Miss Spalding it was made known that the date for the college play to be given this year has been temporarily set for March 17. The play first selected to be presented was "Spread Eagle." However, Miss Spalding was unable to obtain permission to present the play and another play will be selected soon.

Miss Spalding is choosing her cast from those students who tried out last year and whose records have been kept on file. She wants the names of any new people who would like to try out and have their names filed with the rest.

"The big problem in handling a college play," said Miss Spalding, "is to find people for the producing staff who are not anxious to act but who would like to have some kind of work to do. Any one interested may see me about it at any time for the producing staff of the play is not yet picked."

Debate Season Opens Friday With W. & J.

Allegheny's forensic season opens with W. & J. Friday evening at 8 o'clock in Ford Memorial Chapel. The question for debate is, "Resolved, That the United States Should Not Protect Their Foreign Interests." W. & J. upholding the negative side.

This debate with W. and J. comes out of a two year contract by which W. and J. sends a team to Allegheny this year. The question is one that is causing a great deal of argument, pro and con, and is before the public today. The decision on the debate will be rendered by the audience.

The affirmative team is: William Wycoff, Robert Rutherford and Alan Christner.

George Archbold '27, is permanently located in Oil City with the Penn Mutual Insurance Company.

Law School Offers Scholarship to College Seniors

The University of Cincinnati College of Law will offer for the first time in the spring of 1928, law aptitude tests to seniors in colleges of recognized standing. Two scholarships valued at about $425 each will be awarded to those making the highest scores. Preference will be given in the award of one of these scholarships to residents of Cincinnati, but there is no limitation in awarding the other scholarship except that the one receiving it shall be a college graduate before entering law school. The test to be given is substantially similar to one that has been given to first year students in various law schools during the last three years. The test has been found to forecast with some degree of probability the fitness of a student for legal study.

The theory upon which the law aptitude test was devised is that there is a factor of mental aptitude to be reckoned with in every law student. Some traits more specific than general intelligence are needed, the lack of which cannot always be supplied by training, or atoned for by industry. The learned professions vary, one from another, as to the sort of mental operations they involve. Students vary, one from another, in aptitude; yet they often gravitate, hit or miss, into professions. A good many of the so-called failures which result are only misfits. The student himself does not know in advance whether law study will be to his liking or not; or whether he is adapted to its pursuits.

The two scholarships to be awarded were created and endowed as a memorial to the late Colonel Dudley V. Sutphin. Each scholarship will pay $225 in cash during the student's first year in the law school, and will carry free tuition. The value to the student is therefore about $425. Provisions of the endowment place emphasis on the aptitude of the student rather than on his financial needs. The aptitude test is given as a means of determining the relative ability of students and carrying out the provisions of the endowment. Students taking the test will be told the scores they made. An opportunity is thus given to college graduates to try their strength in the test whether they have hope of winning a scholarship or not.

The test does not call for information but is meant to test such capacities as comprehension, of language and thought; ingenuity in analysis; discrimination between the relevant and the irrelevant; memory and accuracy; reasoning by analogy; and the solution of probems in symbolic logic. These traits are deemed especially needful in law study.

This examination will be given at the respective colleges where there are enough seniors taking it to warrant that arrangement.

French Lecture Attracts Crowd To Alden Hall

M. Julien Champenois delivered a lecture Tuesday evening, February 14, in the lecture room of Alden Hall. Unfortunately, M. Champenois could not lecture, as was planned, on "The Tasks and Pleasures in France in the Middle Ages" because the pictures which formed the major portion of this talk did not come. The negatives of these photographs were received but could not be used on the projector in Alden.

Due to this, M Champenois was forced to abandon his subject and talk on "Louis Pasteur," one of the most famous French scientists. M. Champenois however was admirably prepared on this subject.

M. Champenois discussed Pasteur as a man and as a scientist (in French) but so clearly that even the elementary students of that language were able to understand almost all he said.

"Louis Pasteur," said M. Champenois, "was born of a poor family but through hard and steady work he rose to unprecendented heights in the field of medicine. He developed cures for diphtheria and typhoid fever, and his name is known in every nation in the civilized world. He was also a man of the people, a son of modern France who came out of the French revolution. He did much for the freedom of the French people. His conscientiousness, his honesty, his inflexible will, and his interest in all humanity have given him a permanent place in history."

Mr. A. W. Thompson '97, since his connection as president of the United Gas Improvement Company, after his remarkable work with the Philadelphia Company of Pittsburgh, has been prominent in the civic affairs of Philadelphia. On one of his recent public appearances he made a brilliant address at the Penn Athletic Club of Philadelphia. The keynote in his speech was an appeal for high standards in Utility Service.

PANTHER TEAM DEEATS LOCAL QUINT 56-32

ALLEGHENY RUNS UP SECOND LARGEST SCORE ON PITT COURT

Although Allegheny was beaten, 56-32 by Pitt, the boys in Blue and Gold were able to run up the second largest score made by any opponent on the Panther floor this season. The so-called Allegheny midgets certainly deserve much credit, since such teams as Dartmouth, Ohio State, West Virginia and Penn State have appeared there this season.

The fast offensive attack of Reed, Hyatt and Wrobleskie at the opening whistle evidently stunned Baker's youngsters, for they trailed from the start and were behind 30-13 as the half ended. Allegheny's scoring this half was confined to one field goal by "Granny" Bair and four by Nesbitt, who also had three fouls to his credit. Pitt's scoring was done by Reed, who registered five times, and Hyatt, Zehfuss and Wunderlich, with two baskets apiece.

Allegheny's aggregation evidently came to life in the second half, for they scored 19 points, with Nesbitt and Bair leading the spree. They held Pitt to 24 points during this period. Although Panther substitutes were in the game during a portion of the second half, Allegheny displayed some very good offensive and defensive work against the regulars, Reed, Cohen and Hyatt being the only Panthers who were successful from the field.

Bair scored three field goals and two fouls during the last quarter, while Nesbitt sank three more, giving him a total of seven for the evening and ranking him with Pitt's best. Lane scored once from the field and twice from the foul line. The work of Ray Nesbitt was easily the outstanding performance of the evening, for he not only played well on the offense, outscoring the Panther center, Wunderlich, but also he played a good defensive game.

Inter-Class Teams Play Two More Very Close Games

In one of the closest games of the year the Juniors finally nosed out the Seniors by one point to win 14-13. Apparently over-confident, the third-year men found the Seniors harder to defeat than they expected and were forced to their limit to end the game with the long end of the score in their favor. Hughes' good luck in sinking two long shots in the final minutes of play was all that pulled them through. Brown's tight defensiveplaying and Hughes' ability to make baskets were the outstanding features of the juniors play. The Seniors on the other hand displayed machine-like team work.

Inability to locate the basket more than once in fifteen free throws spelled defeat for the Freshmen in their game with the Sophomores. Even with a crippled team they matched the Sophomores basket for basket. Each team played a ragged game for the most part but occasionally flashed a streak of real basketball. The first half ended with the score 9-7 in favor of the Sophs. This low score was the result of much wild shooting. The latter half of the game was marked by a succession of baskets made by Gornall. Haase and Alter were the best for the Frosh.

TENNIS MEN CHOOSE MERRILL AND KILL

At a meeting last Monday in Ford Memorial Chapel Richard N. Merrill, Jr. '28, was elected Captain of the Allegheny College Tennis team for the season of 1928. Robert Kill '29, was chosen as manager of the team.

Plans for the coming season were discussed and it was thought necessary to find some means of raising money in order that the team might travel.

More than thirty men were present at the meeting and the outlook for this spring is exceptionally brilliant. The tennis team is being revived this year after a lapse of one year due to lack of funds. The interest shown indicates that there is more material than previously in the college and consequently a better team may be expected.

DEBATE

When the Allegheny Varsity Debating team steps onto the platform tomorrow night, in their first meet of the season, a single match with W. & J., there should be a good crowd on hand to encourage the boys. To prepare for a varsity debate takes a lot of very hard work, and it is very discouraging to the debaters to find only a handful of students present. It is not from a sense of duty that the students should attend the debate, but because of the educational value that is to be found in this type of contest. The subject, "Resolved, That the United States Should Protect the Private Investments of Its Citizens in Foreign Countries," is one of wide interest. The debaters will take up our present policy in Nicaraugua, discuss the wisdom of intervening in foreign countries, and point out the liabilities or assets that may accrue from such a policy. There are many authorities today who feel that our present policy will lead us to war, and there are those who claim that it makes for stability and World Peace. What do you think? It will certainly be worth your while to spend a couple of hours to hear an intelligent discussion of this important question.

A TENNIS TEAM

An announcement appeared in The Campus last week to the effect that a meeting would be called for all those interested in the organizing of a tennis team for the present season. The result was a response of some thirty interested men.

Last year the Athletic Board of Control did away with tennis at Allegheny as an intercollegiate sport. After an absence of one year, due chiefly to financial difficulties, it appears as if student opinion has asserted itself to such an extent that Allegheny will once more be represented by a tennis team.

As the writer sees it, there is absolutely no reason in the world why Allegheny should not have a tennis team. The financial question should not be a stumbling block. Tennis is probably the least expensive collegiate sport that there is. If the student body is in back of the idea of the reviving of the tennis team, and it is quite evident that such is the case, the necessary money could be easily raised.

Getting down to the cold facts, the big reason (or the practical reason, we might call it) why Allegheny should have a tennis team in 1928 is that a pre-season inventory of the tennis players now in school, reveals the fact that Allegheny has a wealth of excellent material for a tennis squad, out of which could be molded a group that could certainly cope with the best teams in the district.

A TWO-YEAR COLLEGE?

The question is frequently being asked at the present as to whether or not colleges really do educate a person. A great deal of discussion is heard on both sides of the question. There are those who say that the primary purpose of a college is to give the student thorough scholastic training, disregarding everything else. The exponents of this theory even go so far as to propose a two year college course, in which intensive study will predominate, and little time will be spent on anything else. Then, there are some who believe that the real purpose of a college is to broaden its students, and to develop not only the scholastic side of a person but also the social, spiritual and physical as well. The supporters of this theory are strong in their praise of extra-curricular activities. The question resolves into which type of a college education would best prepare a man for the coming years of his life.

The successful person is generally one who is well educated and who besides having a goodly store of knowledge, also has a pleasing personality which enables him to apply his knowledge tnd meet people successfully. Undoubtedly an intensive two year college course would supply a student with a good many facts and principles, but it would do very little in developing a personality. To a great many people, much time seems to be wasted by the average college student on anything but studying. Journalism, music or athletics occupy much of a student's time. These activities are quite important in developing a broad, all-around person. Experience gained in such activities during the college years may prove of much value in later life. It is for this reason that we take our stand in favor of college as it is today, with all its various activities which we grant may distract from the studies, but which turns out a well-educated person because that person is versatile and broadened.

"ON THE BOOKSHELF"

Ant Hills and Soap Bubbles"

The wife of one of our graduates has again proven herself to be an author of much ability. She is Mary Geisler Phillips whose latest book, "Ant Hills and Soap Bubbles", has been praised by many noteworthy critics. She writes about the habits of ants much the same as she wrote about the life of honey-bees in one of her earlier books The material is scientifically correct and treated so deftly with humor and imagination that it is more interesting reading than is fiction.

As seen by the title, this is a book primarily for children but many grown-ups would no doubt find it entertaining as well as enlightening. It reveals not only the complexity of the ant's life, but also hidden morals which skillfully impress the best things on the mind of the reader. The book is very fascinating, and Mary Geisler Phillips deserves all of the praise accorded her latest book.

English Pronouncing Dictionary

Science has again invaded the field of English language. No new word has been added, but a new kind of a pronouncing dictionary. This dictionary records words as they are used and pronounced. It differs from the standard dictionary in that it does not tell how words should be pronounced, but how they are pronounced by the people. In this pronounciation the most widely known phonetic system is employed. Its value lies in showing the reader how to talk with the layman as well as with educated people. Newspapers are acclaiming it as the beginning of a new manner and thought. It is used by the universities of Wisconsin, Washington, Iowa, Coulmbia, and by many others. Numerous professors have reccomended it to their students. This book can be had at any book store under the title of "An English Pronouncing Dictionary" by Daniel Jones.

A woman always has a tender feeling for a man who pays her a compliment.

Allegheny in Athletics

BASKETBALL HOME GAMES ARE OVER WITH W. VIRGINIA TILT

Allegheny Has Chance to Win Over W. Virginia

On Saturday night the basketeers from West Virginia will meet the Blue and Gold in the annual struggle between these two teams on the Allegheny floor. On a trip to Morgantown earlier in the season, the Blue and Gold were forced to accept a defeat by the close score of 28-22. The improvement in the Allegheny team of late makes them hopeful that they will be able to secure revenge for this setback.

The Bakermen seem to have at last reached a somewhat faster stride and their showing against Pitt was quite pleasing. The game with Westminster last Saturday night was something of a relapse, but maybe Allegheny has got the bad basketball out of its system for a time at least. There is a general feeling among the players that the Mountaineers are going to be forced to go back to Morgantown with defeat as their lot. Of late the West Virginians have not been going too strongly. W. & J. defeated them 29-28, and since Allegheny holds a 29-27 count over the Presidents, there is every indication that the game on Saturday will be a close affair. The Scarlet Hurricane of Davis and Elkins was also successful against the Mountaineers, nosing them out by three points. The Mountaineers have been playing quite erratic basketball lately, but they came through against Grove City last Saturday night, taking a 30-24 game from Bob Thorne's men. It is reported that "Little Sleepy" Glenn, who was an All-American high school forward, is not going too well of late.

Now that Allegheny has broken into the winning column, there will undoubtedly be a large crowd on hand for the game, which starts at nine o'clock. Few of the games that the Blue and Gold have played held promise of more excitement that the one for this Saturday night.

Bowling League Nears Close of The First Round

Ten matches were played in the Inter-fraternity bowling league during the past week. Sigma Alpha Epsilon's representatives turned in the best card, by far, for the week, winning eight games and losing only one. To the Sigs also goes the credit for having the best team score ofr one game, their mark of 645 in a match with the Phi Gams being the best that has been turned in so far this season. The effect of this score was a little too much for the Sigs, however, and they dropped the next game, their only defeat of the season, to their opponents, 495-451.

The race for the best average for three games was quite close. The Beta Kappa boys, leaders of League B, nosed out the Sigs for this honor by one pin, the total score for the three games being 1680 to 1679. Robert Kill, of the Beta Kappa team had the individual high score of the week with 188 to his credit.

The results:

Feb. 13—
Phi Gams, 3; Chi Rhos, 0.
Beta Kappa, 3; Beta Upsilon, 0.

Feb. 14—

Westminster Takes Allegheny Over In Listless Game

Allegheny College's basketball team failed to continue the good work that they have been displaying lately when the Westminster Titans scored a rather easy victory over the Blue and Gold on the Westminster floor last Saturday night. The score, 36-15, was quite an improvement over the 44-11 count of the first meeting between the two teams, but it was not as good as had been hoped for.

The game was one of the worst exhibitions that the Blue and Gold has put up so far this year, and, with Westminster somewhat off form also, the contest dragged along slowly. Although there was a crowd of over 1000 persons present, very little enthusiasm was in evidence. Only on a few rare occasions was there any sort of a clamor developed.

The Baker outfit was left far behind during the first half of the game, the Westminster giants putting up such a stalwart defense that Allegheny could score only one basket the whole period. The Blue and White were on a scoring spree at the same time they were holding their opponents helpless, running up 21 points, of which Connor contributed 11 and Delahunty 9. Eighmy and Lane each scored fouls for the Blue and Gold during this period, and Charley Bair was responsible for the field goal. The first half was all in favor of the United Presbyterians.

At the start of the second twenty minute period, the Bakermen made their only real threat of the game. For the first six minutes of the half, the Blue and Gold had things pretty much their own way, although they could not score much. Westminster was held without a basket during this part of the game, and the Allegheny total was increased to 8 by means of two baskets, scored by Lane and Bair. The Blue and White soon recovered their form and outscored the visitors, 2-1, during the remainder of the contest.

The only redeeming feature of the game from an Allegheny point of view was the work of the guards, Eighmy especially playing a brilliant game and holding his man, Delahunty, to three goals, the lowest that he has been held all year. Rowlingson also put up a nice game, being relieved for a few minutes by Allison and then Johnson. Connor, of the Westminster team, was the big star of the evening, with 19 points to his credit.

VOLLEY BALL TEAMS CONTINUE TO MEET

The All-College Inter-fraternity Volley Ball League started the season with three games on Wednesday, February 15. Four games had been scheduled but only three were played, the Phi Psis' team failing to apear, thus forfeiting a game to the Chi Rhos. In the games that were played, the Faculty, Non-fraternity, and Phi Delta Theta defeated, respectively, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Delta Tau Delta, and Phi Gamma Delta.

The Professors were forced to play three games before the Sigs acknowledged defeat. After winning the opening tilt, 21-16, the Sigs weakened and allowed their opponents to win the next two, 21-19 and 21-19. This match was, by far, the best of the evening. The Faculty, although it had only five men on its team, showed great strength.

The Non-Frats were easily victorious over the Delts, winning both games by a wide margin. The scores were 21-6 and 21-8. Miller and Rhodes did the best work for the winners.

The Phi Delts had things all their own way, taking the Phi Gams over with a score of 21-13 in both tilts. Dunlop's serving featured the winners' play: however, the team work of the entire aggregation was effective.

The officials were furnished by Beta Kappa and Beta Upsilon, who drew the byes for the first round.

BAKERMEN LOSE

The work of the Allegheny team, with the exception of Bair, was nothing much to talk about. The guards in particular, who have been doing so well of late, seemed to suffer something of a relapse, and failed especially in taking the ball off the banking board. Bair's total for the night was seven, and Lewis, at center, was the only other scorer for the Blue and Gold, garnering two.

This and That

A BLASTED AMBITION

Pitt had an ambition, but they failed to realize it. In the game with Allegheny, Coach Carlson's lads had hoped to bring their average up to fifty points a game so far this season, but they failed to do it. Pitt had an average of about 48 points a game, and to increase this mark to the desired 50 points would have demanded that the Panthers score 67 points against Allegheny.

ONLY DARTMOUTH

Yes, only Dartmouth has succeeded in scoring more points against Pitt on their floor than Allegheny has. And the big Green registered only one more point than the Blue and Gold, and they were defeated by a worse score, 64-33. Allegheny may be justly proud of its showing against the unconquered Panther.

A QUIET EVENING

None of the spectators present at the Allegheny-Westminster game were very hoarse after that fray was over. The game was of the listless sort that arouses little excitement, the players making more noise in calling for the ball than the spectators did in cheering. The game was one of the poorest showings that the Blue and Gold have made this year.

HERB EIGHMY

Herb Eighmy was the only member of the Blue and Gold team who played up to form on Saturday night. The big guard has shown a remarkable improvement this season and has put up some very brilliant defensive games. Herb is a reminder of Al Cibula, although he cannot reach the basket with the accuracy that Al could.
