OF ALLEGHENY COLLEGE.

VOL. XVIII. NO. 1. MEADVILLE, PA., SEPTEMBER 24, 1901. NEW SERIES.

College Opening.

MANY CHANGES GREETED THE STUDENTS—NEW BUILDINGS AND BRIGHT PROSPECTS FOR THE FUTURE.

The first week of the eighty-seventh year of Allegheny College has already been counted with her many years that are past. It has already become a part of her college history. There was enough of the routine and ceremony of previous years to impress the new students the same as it has impressed many hundreds before. The week differed enough to make it memorable in the hearts of the old students and professors The slow, tedious ride, the waiting crowd, the struggle through a line of shouting baggagemen, the worry and anxiety incident to securing of rooms and a boarding house, the first meals with the other students, the first glimpse of the campus, the crowded office and the slow and difficult task of registering; the first chapel, the first recitations—this is the unchanging order that has greeted every student for years, and will perhaps never be varied as long as Allegheny opens her doors for a new Freshmen class.

But for the old students it was an opening week distinct from all others. The usual joy and pleasure of meeting old friends was lost in the sadness felt in every heart for the loss of the nation's President. All the streets of Meadville and the buildings of the college were heavily draped, which added a gloom to the town and campus which has never before been seen at Allegheny. It was a different campus that greeted the students this year from that of any previous year. The three new buildings, which have already assumed their shape and are on the rapid road to completion, have altered the campus and made it an entirely different place. The new students seem to be already a part of it, while the old students yet belong to the college of the past.

The faculty has changed, and with its many new faces it seems to have become a different body than that which we remember of other years. Surely the old and the new both in the faculty, the student body and campus, should blend to form a perfect college and one that will keep pace with the progress this century, like the dear old Allegheny of the past kept pace with the years that are gone.

Although college did not open until Tuesday, Sept. 17, students began to arrive on Friday and Saturday of the preceding week; but not until Monday did they arrive in large numbers. From Monday until the middle of the week every train brought a large number and each one was met at the station with the crowd of eager students so characteristic of any college town. The Y. M. C. A., as in previous years, kept a large committee in waiting ready to take charge of any new student who might come. The efficient work done by these Y. M. C. A. boys did much to relieve the worry and anxiety felt by the beginners in regard to their rooms and boarding clubs. The earliest indication pointed to increased attendance, and as the week advanced it became evident that the roll of this year would exceed that of any previous year.

When the first chapel exercises were held on Tuesday at 3:30, a crowded chapel was the result. The number of new students was the subject of much comment. From appearances there seemed to be more new students than old ones. The first two days of the week, as in previous years, were given over entirely to registration. Both Prof. Elliott and Prof. Ross spent the entire day enrolling new students. At the close of the second day the enrollment of students was almost completed, the earliest it has ever been done.

On Wednesday classes met for the first time, and from then until the end of the week college classes were held regularly, as if there had never been a three months' rest.

On Thursday regular classes were held until chapel, when special memorial services were held in honor of President McKinley, after which college was dismissed for the rest of the day.

Perhaps the greatest change of the year is that which has been made in the recitation periods. Instead of the 45-minute periods of last year, with no afternoon work, the time has been divided into six class periods extending through the morning and afternoon. Fifty minutes are given to recitations, ten minutes are allowed for a change of classes, and a warning bell is sounded three minutes previous to each recitation. The first two periods are from eight to ten. At ten o'clock chapel is held, which lasts until 10:30. Two more periods extending until 12:30 concludes the work of the forenoon. The last two classes extend from two until four. Another change that will greatly relieve the instructors is the method of paying fees. The system now in vogue is as follows: The registrar determines the amount of fees and presents it to the student before he is given his class card. This card contains three statements. One is taken by the treasurer, the other is kept by the registrar, and the student keeps the third as a receipt for his money.

The faculty this year presents many new faces. Dr. Ernest T. Bynum succeeds Dr. Thomas as professor of modern languages. Dr. Albert M. Reese will have the professorship of biology, in the place of Prof. Smallwood, who has been given a year's leave of absence. Mr. R. Elmer Hendershot will take the place of Mr. McClure in the preparatory school. Mr. Snook has been engaged as assistant in the chemical and physical laboratory. Mr. Born, gymnasium insructor, is teaching German.

Almost all the rooms on College Hill are taken and it is with difficulty the students coming late can find a place to room or board. All the boarding clubs of last year ,with the addition of the Chautauqua Club, organized by Harris, are running, most of which are filled. At Hulings Hall a queer condition exists. Every room is taken, the new members outnumbering the old ones two to one.

Although many students of last year's classes have entered other colleges, Allegheny numbers students this year from Buchtel, Ohio Wesleyan University, Western Reserve University and Ohio

Welcome

TO OUR NEW CORPS OF INSTRUCTORS.

The Campus finds it a pleasure to extend a hearty welcome to our new corps of instructors. We trust that they shall find their work among us very pleasant, and that in a short time they shall become so thoroughly incorporated with us, that we shall not think of them as the new instructors, but as members of the college body, whose places would be filled with strangers were they filled by any one else. They come to us at a time when our college is taking a more prominent place among the educational institutions of our land. We look forward, with enthusiasm, to the future of "Old Allegheny" and feel inspired to do our very best toward making our college what we would have it.

In the department of biology we are glad to welcome A. M. Reese, Ph. D., Johns Hopkins, class of '00. Mr. Reese is a teacher of considerable experience, having taught in the Homeopathic School of Medicine, Baltimore, Md., also in Pennsylvania College, Gettysburg, Pa. His teaching prior to this year's work was done before he had received his degree of Ph. D. He comes to us highly recommended as a man well up in his line of work. His experience at Baltimore Medical College is invaluable to him as a teacher of biology. Mr. Reese's home is in Baltimore. His Meadville address is 783 Park avenue.

In the department of mathematics and science we extend a hearty welcome to Mr. R. E. Hendershot, M. S., Wesleyan University, class of '94. Mr. Hendershot has done two years post-graduate work in Wesleyan, his special work being mathematics. He comes to us thoroughly equipped and not without experience, having taught in the department of science and mathematics in Pittsburg Academy. His present address is 273 Prospect street.

H. Clyde Snook, the new assistant in the department of science, is a graduate of Ohio Wesleyan University and was a member of the class of 1900. Before entering the university Mr. Snook graduated from the Paulding High School, and spent one year in the Preparatory school of the university. He spent four years in the college, during which time he specialized on science, particularly physics and astronomy. During his junior year Mr. Snook was assistant in astronomy and had charge of the observatory. To these duties was added during his senior year the charge of the physical laboratory. After graduating Mr. Snook taught physics and chemistry at the Soldiers' and Sailors' Home at Xenia, Ohio. At Allegheny he will have charge of all the laboratory work in chemistry and physics, besides assisting Dr. Montgomery with his classes in these two studies. When the new observatory is completed Mr. Snook will assist Dr. Montgomery in that building. Mr. Snook is a member of the American Association for Advancement of Science.

Dr. Ernest T. Bynum, appointed to the chair of modern languages, to take the place of Dr. Thomas, is a native of North Carolina. After graduating at the Pittsboro Academy, N. C., Dr. Bynum spent four years at college, two years at the University of North Carolina and two years at Trinity College, where he graduated with the class of '92. After leaving Trinity, Dr. Bynum spent one year at Johns Hopkins University, where he did post-graduate work. He next went to Europe, where he secured his doctor's degree in '97, after spending three years at the University of Halle.

Since leaving college D. Bynum has spent considerable time in traveling in Europe in the interest of his studies. He has held several high positions in the leading colleges of the South, among which are the University of North Carolina and the University of Arkansas.

At Allegheny Prof. Bynum will have entire charge of the modern language of the college, teaching second, third and fourth year German and four years of French. He has been appointed a member of the Athletic Board, and has already become popular with the students by the interest he has shown in all college affairs.

Foot Ball Season.

OUR NEW COACH—A LIST OF THE CANDIDATES AND THE SCHEDULE SO FAR AS ARRANGED.

All who are interested in college athletics may congratulate themselves that we have procured Mr. Eisenberg to coach our foot ball team this year. He comes to us very highly recommended by Coach Newton, of Lafayette, who is one of the leading foot ball coaches of the east.

MR. EISENBERG.

Mr. Eisenberg is a graduate of Lafayette, class of '01, having the degree of B. S. from that institution. He played on Lafayette's foot ball team three successive years. His position on the team was that of quarter back, a position which demads a combination of qualities essential to a successful foot ball coach. Mr. Eisenberg has the honor of having played on Lafayette's famous team of '99. In that year Princeton was the only team to defeat Lafayette, and only one other team succeeded in crossing her goal.

Last year Mr. Eisenberg assisted Coach Newton in coaching Lafayette's team, which fact alone would recommend him as a thoroughly competent man to take charge of our team.

Mr. Eisenberg has not only mastered the style of play peculiar to Lafayette, but thoroughly understands the Pennsylvania and Princeton styles as well. Coach Eisenberg brings with him from the east ideas concerning pure athletics, which we, as a college, have been striving to introduce in the colleges of Western Pennsylvania. He believes that none but college men of good standing should be allowed

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 24, 1901.

The Campus, with this edition, enters upon the third year of its career as a college weekly. The past two years it has been a college paper we could well be proud of. We hope that this year will be no exception. We trust that each member of theCampus board will feel their responsibility and perform their duty carefully.

The Campus is a newspaper, and we shall be glad to publish in it anything the student body ought to know. If this edition is not what it might be, the student body will excuse us, as this is our first attempt. We feel that every student should be a subscriber to the college weekly. You can read your neighbor's, but you ought to have one of your own. The college must have a weekly paper; it costs money to publish the same; it is your duty to help support it.

In the general advancement along different college lines, athletics are not behind. Several good friends of the college have donated $600 for athletics this year. We trust that the proper interest will be taken in foot ball this fall, and everyone do their part in developing the best team Allegheny has ever put out. We need more college spirit and we don't know a better place to develop it than on the foot ball field.

We feel that Coach Eisenberg has been handicapped the past week on account of the scarcity of foot ball material. Such a state of affairs should not exist. We ought to have thirty candidates in the field, and must have them.

The first game of the year is close at hand and some good hard work must be done this week. Let us give the coach thirty men to work with, and see how badly we can defeat Grove City.

The year of 1901 will surely go down in the annals of Allegheny College as a red letter year. It occurs to us that it has been the peroid of transition for "Old Allegheny," and that in the future Allegheny College is to hold a more important place among the colleges of America.

We look upon the past record of our college with much pride; but feel that our college is entering upon a new era of usefulness. In the past we have been hampered through lack of adequate buildings and funds, but the magnificent gifts of the year will go far toward placing our college on a firm financial basis and equipping her with buildings of which we well be proud. Naturally our curiosity is aroused as to the names of our donors, but since they have been so generous in giving of their wealth, we will forgive them for withholding their names.

With Newton Observatory, well on the way toward completion, and the chapel and library walls daily increasing in height, the campus is taking on quite an imposing appearance. We are sorry to see the old shade trees go, but welcome the new building their worthy successor.

Many of us feel that in losing Dr. Thomas we have lost a personal friend; the college will miss him, and it seems strange to us to think of him as an instructor in another school, and not to have "Dr. Tommie" at our beck and call.

The best wishes of the entire student body go with "Dr. Tommie." We trust that you may find your work very pleasant, and that your every effort may be appreciated.

HOW THE FACULTY SPENT THE SUMMER.

Prof. H. K. Munroe spent the summer at River Edge, N. J., doing graduate work in Englisn.

Prof. Morey was at Memphis, Tenn., during the greater part of the year.

Dr. Montgomery, as in previous years, lectured and taught at the Chautauqua Assembly grounds.

Dr. Smith lectured at Chautauqua Assembly grounds.

Prof. Dutton made the preliminary survey for the Meadville and Titusville electric road.

Prof. Smallwood spent the summer at Oswego, preparatory to entering Harvard, where he is doing graduate work.

Dr. Crawford, besides his duties at the college. found time to deliver a lecture at Chautauqua.

Prof. Ross and Prof. Elliott remained at Meadville during the entire summer. Prof. Ross revised the alumni list and prepared a card catalogue of former students of Allegheny.

Miss Murray left late in the summer for France, where she will study the coming year.

A PLEASANT AFFAIR.

On Friday afternoon Miss Trego entertained her Kappa Alpha Theta sisters and their friends at a corn roast, given at her home on College Hill. The affair was a very informal one, the chief place of entertainment being the large barn, which was appropriately decorated for the occasion. Refreshments were served and after this a course of instruction in farm languages was offered by competent professors. At 8 o'clock the party broke up and every one went home thanking Miss Trego for one of the most delightful affairs of the kind in the history of the college.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA ENTERTAINS.

On Saturday afternoon Kappa Kappa Gamma entertained by means of a trolley party. All points of interest in and about Meadville that could be reached were visited, and the new students had such an opportunity of seeing the old college town as could be gained in no other way. A trolley ride would necessarily include Ponce de Leon Springs, and on the top of the hill games were played until sunset. A basket lunch was served in the cafe.

Miss Margaret Harper entertained Kappa Kappa Gamma and its friends Friday afternoon at a thimble party.

FOOT BALL SEASON.

on the team. His ideal foot ball man is not only a man of brawn, but of brain as well.

Foot ball is a scientific game and to be played successfully demands a quick and alert mind. The game demands manly men, and Coach Eisenberg has no time for men with yellow streaks. They are not only in the way, but are apt to be run over.

Our coach insists on very careful training off the field. He countenances the use of tobacco in no form, and the man trying for the team, who is found to be using tobacco, will be left severely alone. No questions will be asked, no coaxing resorted to—he will simply be dropped.

One feature of our foot ball work, which our coach fails to understand, and which is very discouraging, to say the least, is the small number of candidates reporting at Athletic Park. There are but five of last year's team back, and they are not at all sure of their positions. Every man who makes a creditable showing in practice, will have a trial in a regular game. There will be no favoritism; each man will have a fair show and will receive individual attention from the coach.

Is it necessary for us to plead with the men of college to come out and make our foot ball team what it can and ought to be? We cannot develop a successful team with only seventeen or eighteen men to work with. So far twenty-nine men have reported for work, but on no one day have all reported. Are we to allow our foot ball team to be a failure, for lack of material to work with? We should have more college spirit.

The following is a list of the men who have reported to the coach on the foot ball field:

Yeaney, Ashley, Taylor, McQuiston, McCune, Johnson, Williams, Fletcher, Beyer, Kelley, Lampe, Turner, Pierce, Harper, Mook, Scott, Planette, Pontius, Bowers, Arnoldson, Campbell, Neff, Herwig, Leffingwell, Frazier, Gardner, Laninger, White, Hayes, Rheinhart.

We have a heavy schedule to play this year; in fact, by far the heaviest Allegheny has ever had. Mr. Smith, our manager, has been untiring in his efforts to arrange a good schedule, and thoroughly equip the team. He is fortunate in having secured the services of Mr. Eisenberg as coach, and we feel sure that he will do everything a manager should do to assist in bringing out a successful team.

The following is the schedule arranged to date:

Sept. 28—Grove City at Meadville.
Oct. 5—Westminster at New Wilmington.
Oct. 12—Geneva at Meadville.
Oct. 19—Western University of Pennsylvania at Pittsburg.
Oct. 23—Thiel at Greenville.
Oct. 26—Open home game.
Nov. 2—Geneva at Beaver Falls.
Nov. 6—Grove City at Grove City.
Nov. 9—Thiel at Meadville.
Nov. 16—W. R. U. in Cleveland.
Nov. 23—Home game (open).
Nov. 28—(Thanksgiving) Westminster at Meadville.

Frazier, captain of last year's team, is somewhat handicapped by a lame shoulder, but we hope we shall not be deprived of his invaluable services, and efforts are being made to put him in shape for work. Mook and Taylor are back in their old places, and Williams is being worked at fullback, and with his ability to punt should make good at that position.

Campbell, our last year's center, is trying for guard, and his showing in this position is very satisfactory.

With the help of the entire student body, we know no reason why we should not have a very successful team. The success of our team does not depend more on the eleven that shall represent her on the gridiron, than it does on the entire student body; we need your financial support, but far more important, we need your moral support.

Shall we appeal in vain?

Memorial Services

HELD IN CHAPEL THURSDAY MORNING IN HONOR OF THE DEAD PRESIDENT.

Special services were held at the college chapel Thursday in honor of the dead President, at the conclusion of which college was closed for the remainder of the day and all exercises suspended. Dr. Montgomery, in the absence of Dr. Crawford, conducted the services. Dr. Smith and Prof. Elliott were the only speakers. Each discussed some phase of the late President's life.

Dr. Smith spoke of the life of President McKinley, whom he considered was a true representative of America and a model man, both as a citizen and a public servant. His early career was traced from boyhood through his college days at Allegheny, through the Civil war, where he rose from the ranks to the position of major, up to his first public office, that of prosecuting attorney for his native county in Ohio. His rise from attorney to congressman and from there to governor of Ohio and President of the nation was followed by the speaker. In conclusion, Dr. Smith said of him: "His amiability, simplicity, self-control, candor and courtesy made his successful career inevitable. His life might be summed up in the words a 'Sweet Seriousness.' We love him for his private virtues as much as we honor him for his public service."

Prof. Elliott spoke of the scholarship of President McKinley, who, he said, may have caught his spirit of scholarship at Allegheny. The qualities considered by the speaker as placing Mr. McKinley among the foremost Presidents of the nation were his eagerness to use all knowledge, his grasp of facts, his willingness to learn from experience and profit from criticism, his poise of character and his reverence. The latest photograph of President McKinley was described, showing that work and worry were breaking him down as surely as the assassin's bullet, and he doubly gave his life for his country. His self-composure was spoken of and illustrated by his action at the Chicago convention, his refusal of the presidential nomination in 1892, his action at Washington when the Maine was sunk, and his conduct toward the assassin at Buffalo where his first thought was that they might not use him too harshly. The method of certain cartoonists in picturing him as a king sceptered on a throne and ruling the nation as a despot was wrong. He was a king, but it was Carlysle's ideal king of men.

The College Career

OF WILLIAM M'KINLEY — THE WORK OF THE MARTYR PRESIDENT IN ALLEGHENY.

In the midst of the universal mourning for the national loved President, there has been a peculiar participation by our college, since William McKinley was pleased to count himself a son of Allegheny. For in the fall of 1859 he was brought to this city by the now Hon. Robert R. Murray, of Youngstown, who had pursued work here in 1857-8 and was returning at this time to complete the curriculum. In the party also was a cousin of Mr. McKinley, William McKinley Osborne, now consul general at London. The young men had prepared at Poland seminary, a creditable Methodist institution in Ohio. Allegheny then was under the presidency of Dr. John Baker, and the future President of the nation was equipped for entering most of the studies of the junior class. The range of subjects would not be considered large by modern students, the prescribed work being in the first term Horace, chemistry, natural philosophy and Piley's evidences of Christianity. A home was found for the party at the residence of Dr. Goe at the head of Main street. On this cite now stands the Odd Fellows' home for children and upon the occasion of the visit of Mr. McKinley to Meadville in 1895 he was driven in this neighborhood, whereupon he recognized the old location with much evident satisfaction. The new student in the Junior class had not been of a vigorous constitution and though he did duty for some time with his comrades in our beloved Professor Hamnett's Latin class, continued ill health at last induced him to abandon the struggle and return to Ohio.

This disappointment of his plans had its pathetic relation to sisterly sacrifice, since the means for the college entrance had been furnished by the devoted Miss Annie McKinley, of Canton. In later life, Mr. McKinley wrote President Crawford that it was one of the great regrets of his career that he had been cut off from finishing his college education.

At the time of the visit of the Meadville delegation to Canton in the presidential campaign of 1896, Mr. McKinley began by saying to the Pennsylvania citizens that one of the pleasantest experiences he could recall was the period of his sojourn in this city. Mr. McKinley came to Meadville while governor of Ohio, and delivered the oration in commemoration of the 80th anniversary of Allegheny college. He was at that time given the honorary degree of LL. D.

In Memoriam.

ACTION OF ALLEGHENY COLLEGE ON THE DEATH OF PRESIDENT McKINLEY.

In view of the fact that President McKinley's name is on the roll of former students of Allegheny College, it is peculiarly fitting that the college should take formal action on his death. At the first faculty meeting of the year, held on Saturday afternoon, a committee was appointed to prepare a suitable minute. The committee reported as follows:

It is eminently proper that we should at this time put on record our high estimate of the ability and deep appreciation of the character of the late President McKinley.

His patience of investigation, his persistent acquirement of all knowledge on every subject confronting him, his mastery of detail, his breadth of view, mark him as endowed with the genuine spirit of scholarship.

The thoroughness and positiveness of his convictions blended with the kindest toleration of dissent on part of others; his exhalted sense of duty united with perfect freedom from arrogance and self-glorification; his perfect freedom from nessvbgkqjcmfw fect poise of character and self-control which never failed him. made him a political leader at once safe and inspiring.

The unsullied integrity of his public life; the transparent sincerity of his motives; his unassuming devotion to every task to which he was called; his unswerving belief in his country's divinely ordained privilege and duties; his high ideals of citizenship and public office, insure him a proud place in the list of the nation's statesmen.

And above all his genial affability, his democratic spirit, his spotless personal character. his ideal domestic life; his simple. abiding, unaffected faith in God. appeal to all that is truest and tenderset in human hearts. making of him an object of love as well as of admiration. and revealing him as a splendid embodiment of the noblest and best in American character.

We sympathize with his kindred; we feel bereft as of a personal friend. We lament our country's loss. for the unique place he had gained in influence and affection cannot be filled. We are shamed and humiliated that the crime resulting in his death could be possible in our boasted civilization; we tremble at the weakness it reveals. But we glory in the legacy he leaves of ripened character and rich achievement and pray that this dark calamity may cause such crystalization of public sentiment. such changes in law and procedure. such cherishing of high ideals and noble aims as shall make this heroic man ever greater in his death than in life.

Meadville, Pa., Sept. 15, 1901.

DEATH OF TWO NOTED ALUMNI OF ALLEGHENY COLLEGE.

Professor James Marvin, D. D., LL. D., was graduated from Allegheny College in 1851. From 1862 to 1874 he was professor of mathematics and astronomy in the college, and a man of great and good influence in Meadville. After leaving Allegheny he was prominently connected with college, institute and church work in Kansas and the West, a part of the time with the University of Kansas. His death occurred at Lawrence, Kansas, July 9, 1901.

Dr. Albert L. Long, for many years vice president of Robert College, Constantinople, died July 28, 1901, at Liverpool, while on a return trip to this country. He was a graduate of Allegheny College, of the class of 1852. In an editorial in the Christian Advocate of August 22, Dr. Buckley pays high tribute to Dr. Long in saying: "Allegheny College has numbered among its students men who have risen to eminence, among them Bishops Simpson and Kingsley, and President McKinley, but none has done his alma mater more honor than the learned, meritorious and influential Albert L. Long.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Hurrah for 1901.

What a lot of new faces.

Salsbury, '00, was in the city last week.

Subscribe for The Campus immediately.

And what will we do to Grove City on Saturday?

Alfred Benjamin's Overcoats at Mendel Bros.

Turner, of last year's scrub team, is showing up well at tackle.

What a time Mrs. Laffer will have in breaking in so many new girls.

S. John Morrow, '01, is spending a few days at the Phi Kappa Psi house.

Every one come to the game on Saturday, and don't forget your lady friend.

Abner Neff is again in college. He attended several years ago, but has been out of school for several years.

Rushing now reigns supreme. The Freshmen are having rather a "continuous performance" of entertainment.

Don't let the fair keep any of the foot ball men away from practice. If we win Saturday's game we must have practice regularly.

Kelley is doing well at guard. Last year he had the misfortune to sprain his ankle early in the season, which kept him out of the game.

Jos. A. Brady, ex-'93, is spending a few days at the Phi Kappa Psi house. Mr. Brady may enter college again about the first of October.

As has been in other years, the leading and most popular outfitter with the students will be Mendel Bros., on Water street, two doors south of Chestnut.

Manager Scott, of the Glee Club, has arranged for a concert to be given in Erie on Oct. 14. He expects to have Culbertson, last year's leader, to be with the club that night.

Beyer is showing up well at center on the foot ball squad. He played a good game last year until he received injuries that prevented him from playing throughout the season.

Will D. Pew, '01, spent several days of last week at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon house. On Oct. 1 he leaves for Mexico, where he will be an assayer for one of the large mining companies.

We must have more men out on the foot ball squad. Why can't we have 30 men out every night next week? If we want to win our games we must have a good scrub team. Let all of the men be out and try for a position.

We want everybody to attend the first game on Saturday. Grove City has always given us a good close game, and this will not be an exception. The management need you there; the team needs you there; you need to be there, so the best thing to do is to be there.

THE CLASS OF 1901.

A more widely distributed class and one engaged in a greater variety of employments than the class of 1901 has seldom been graduated by any college. Living in seven states and engaged in more than a dozen forms of employment the class of 1901 is an excellent example of the opportunities offered to a college graduate. The members of the class and their present occupations are as follows:

Alleine Affantranger teaching at Meadville.

M. Blanche Beecher teaching at North East.

S. H. Bradley surveying at Mannington, W. Va.

R. E. Brown, pastor State Street church, Meadville.

Isabelle J. Clingensmith teaching at Corry.

O. O. Coon, principal High School, Elizabeth.

A. A. Culbertson, business, Girard.

C. E. Douglass, surveying for Erie R. R., Scranton.

A. R. Elliott, Drew Seminary, New Jersey.

C. M. Hatch, treasurer Erie Traction company, Erie.

P. B. Masters, engaged in business, Warren, O.

A. J. May, assistant Biological Laboratory, Syracuse University.

Jessie Merchant, post-graduate work at Allegheny.

Bertha M. Miller teaching at Butler.

S. John Morrow, traveling salesman.

R. H. Motten, teaching English and German, Denver, Col.

Charles Myers, surveying, Battle Creek, Mich.

W. D. Pew, chemist, Mexico.

H. Potter minister, Sherrette.

J. H. Wolstoncroft, teaching science, Randolph, N. Y.

The following members of the class are at present at their home towns:

Charlotte Borrell, Meadville.
Louise Calvin, Meadville.
Belle K. Chase, Greenville.
Emma Edson, Meadville.
May Emma Larkin, Butler.
Ella Craig, Warren, O.

THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD
OUR SAVIOUR IN ART.

Cost nearly $100,000 to produce. Contains nearly 100 full-page engravings of our Saviour and His Mother by the world's greatest painters. True copies of the greatest masterpieces in the art galleries of Europe. Every picture is as beautiful as a sunrise over the hill-tops. Contains description of the paintings, biography of the painters, the names and locations of the galleries in Europe where the originals may be seen. Also contains a Child's Department, including a Child's Story of the Christ and His Mother, beautifully written, to fit each picture. This wonderful book, matchless in its purity and beauty, appeals to every mother's heart, and in every Christian home where there are children the book sells itself. Christian men and women are making money rapidly taking orders. A Christian man or woman can in this community soon make $1,000 taking orders for Christmas presents. Mrs. Waite, our agent in Massachusetts, has sold over $3,000 worth of the books in a very short time. Mrs. Sackett, our agent in New York, has sold over $1,500 worth of the books in a very short time. The book is printed in velvet-finished paper, beautifully bound in Cardinal Red and Gold, and adorned with Golden Roses and Lilies. It is, without doubt, the most beautiful book of this century. Write for terms quickly and get the management of that territory. You can work on salary or commission, and when you prove your success we will promote you to the position of Manager and Correspondent, at a permanent salary, to devote your time to attending to agents and the correspondence.
