Nov. 9, 1923

Mr. A. W. Rushmore,
Harper & Brothers,
49 East 33 St.,
New York City.

My dear Mr. Rushmore:

I will send you the page proof which you ask - 289-411 - the first of the week. I foolishly jumped to the conclusion that since the book was to be put off, you were not going ahead immediately with the manufacturing and that I could have more time on the page proofs, something that I needed very much at the moment for other work.

As to the index; we talked about this one day on the phone and I told you that I never had - and never would! - make an index. They have always been made for me. I talked with Mr. Briggs and he said that they would make some kind of an arrangement. I am sorry if this is not your custom.

Regretting that through misunderstanding I am delaying you, believe me

Very truly yours,

Digital Images, 2011, The Ida M. Tarbell Collection, 1890-1944, Allegheny College Pelletier Library.