Mrs. Mannie Horn Andrews,

405 Marlborough St.

Boston, Mass.

Dear Mrs. Andrews:

Your letter of June 26th found me only two or three days ago, I am sorry that I am too far away to have a talk with you again. I shall not finish my work here in the northwest until the first of September and then I shall run away for a short vacation, but surely sometime in the fall we can get together.

I have looked over your plan for a "International conference of Women" and it seems to me that it is most interesting. If I had a criticism, it empathized women more than it does the "League of Nations". In my judgment the thing to work for is to have women on the various commissions wherever a woman can be found who has something to contribute. It might be necessary, however, that to secure such representation, an international conference will be necessary. In any case it is bound to stimulate interest. The International Bureau of Education seems to me an inevitable adjunct to the League and I feel sure that it will be developed in some way. Your scheme is excellent.

I am keeping the documents and shall try to give them a little study as I have time. Keep me informed of how you get on.

I am speaking daily on the "League of Nations" here in the Land of Boreh and Roindexter and I really believe that I am making more converts than they are. Unless I am very much mistaken, those gentlemen are dissapointing and irritating their constituents by their attitude towards the treaty and the League.

I remember with a great deal of pleasure our talk in Paris and I hope that we are going to have a chance to renew them some of these days.

Very sincerely
