New Rochelle N.Y.

Aug. 8, 1924.

My dear Mrs Tarbell:

The copies of the Lincoln letters you promised me came a few days ago and I thank you for them, but owing to the death of my brother I have been unable to give them any attention. Later when my affairs clear up I want to go over them in which event I shall try to write you again especially if I run acroos anything significant or unworthy.

Again thanking you,

Hastily yours

Jesse W. Weik.
