My dear Miss Tarbell – Two very weary old Birds have returned to The Nest – after a flight of seven weeks. When feathers are preened a bit you may expect to hear about records gathered. Much elimination – some good items – but the birth or marriage of Lucy or birth of Nancy not found. I do not give up however, but expect to go again with perhaps less ground to cover.

Plese tell me of your effort to find the lost paper. I have been in contact with an expert photographer – (with the magazine "The Camera" –) who tells me that no satisfactory results can be obtained from one of those photographs – but that if you can get the film or plate from the publisher you can get the lost letters brought out.
