

BENNINGTON COLLEGE
OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

January 14, 1929

Miss Ida M. Tarbell
120 East 19th Street
New York City

My dear Miss Tarbell:

I have your letter inquiring about the Bennington College experiment in training men in connection with women in home making. Our College is designed for young women only and we are not, therefore, in a position to carry on an experiment in training men in this field. My remarks at Teachers College referred to the general problem rather than our specific program.

I am in New York this winter at the address below and am now working on a rather complete program for the College. If you should like to hear our program so far as it relates to the special training of women, I should be glad to talk it over with you.

Sincerely yours,

Robert Leigh
