Dear Ida:

Sometime ago you sent me detailed headings for the first eight chapters of magnum opus. Can you give me similar data for other chapters?

I hope this heat has not laid you low and that you are quiet, even if not cool, up at the farm.

Are you near enough the end of the work to make a close guess as to the date for delivering complete manuscript?

I spent Decoration Day at Uncas and wish you had been with us. Too cool for perfect fishing but I got the first real rest and only sense of relaxation I have captured for months.

I am sailing June 17th and of course must see you if possible before leaving. Please let me know when you are to be in town.

Yours always,

Miss Ida M. Tarbell
