Dear Miss Tarbell:

Any request from you is important and I wish I could respond to your request on behalf of the Foreign Language Information Service, but the demands made upon me during the past year have been so heavy that I find myself staggering under the burden.

How to meet these needs, which are increasing is a problem, which is complicated by the fact that one's means are constantly shrinking.

If after the year progresses, I feel that I have not dug too deeply into my capital for other things, I will do a "bit" for the F. L. I.

With all good wishes to you for the New Year, I am

Sincerely yours,

August Belmont
