ALLEGHENY WINS GAME FROM HIRAM'S ELEVEN.

The Ohio Boys Beaten by a Score of 21 to 6.

Allegheny Had Her Own Way in the First Half—Hiram Braced in the Last—Students Parade the Town Before and After the Game.

Hiram College foot ball team was defeated by Allegheny's eleven at Athletic Park last Saturday by a score of 21-6. The game started off with a dash. Till near the finish of the second half it looked like a goose egg for Hiram; but a brace, some punts, and some kicks sent Pardee over the line for Hiram's touchdown.

The day was perfect with the weatherman out in his new Scotch plaid. At the summons of Old Bentley's bell, the entire student body assembled, and with the band paid their respects to the Huling's delegation. Forming in line they marched down Main, along Chestnut, up Water to the Park. An Omnibus carrying the class presidents, drawn by patriotic Freshmen, led the procession. The students in two lines marched along the curbing. On the corner of Water and Chestnut while the band made the old bricks re-echo with martial strain, the students performed a very difficult circular march at the same time giving vent to their pent up college yells. The march continued to the park. Throughout the game the rooters held together and made some good noise. Better yet, scores of pennants fanned the air. "For once" Allegheny had the habit. May she keep it!

At all stages of the game Allegheny had the advantage in speed and weight. In the second half Hiram braced. Near its close many substitutions were made for Allegheny. Lack of experience began to tell. Hiram scored. Fumbles were frequent, and often costly to both teams. Both sides were weak on squeezing the ball after punts. Hiram worked the forward pass to her advantage; for Allegheny, the half back diagonal kick was a better gainer.

Hiram, winning the toss received the kickoff from Allegheny. They had advanced the oval 40 yards, when Allegheny forced her to punt. Nelson received and returned it 15 yards. Benedict bucked for 15 yards, then 5 yards. Robinson smashed through right tackle for 5 yards and a touchdown. Nelson kicked goal. Time 4 minutes.

Benedict kicked off to Hiram, dropping the ball on the far side of the goal line. Hiram carried it out to 25 yard line and kicked to Allegheny. Nelson received. Benedict gained 10 yards. Nelson signals for quarter back kick and boots the pigskin over the goal line to be fallen on by Douthitt for Alleheny. Nelson missed goal. Score 11 to 0.

Nelson received Hiram's kick and carried it for 20 yards. Ginn circled end for 8 yards. Allegheny punted to Hiram to have Hiram return the favor. Douthitt bucked for 30 yards. After punting and repunting, Benedict tried place kick from 25 yard line. Allegheny was held for downs. Soon recovering the ball. Nelson gained 10 yards. Benedict bucked successively until he crossed for a touchdown. Nelson failed at goal. After several scrimmages with the ball in Allegheny's territory, time was called. Score 16-0.

Headed by the band the students usurped the gridiron. Fantastic drills pleased the spectators. After marching a figure 8, the band was circled. Reversing, the march turned into an indian war dance and a free for all race.

To begin the second half, Allegheny received the kickoff on her 20 yard line. Nelson passed to Benedict who booted to Hiram. Hiram took a brace this half. Stockton smashed up an end run that looked rather stormy to the gold and blue. At this psychological moment, "Boozer's" drum corps vibrated the air with martial strains. Ginn for Allegheny scores this half, but Nelson fails at goal.

With the game cinched, Allegheny played her subs. Hiram with punts and bucks scored a touchdown. The final score was 21-6.

Benedict on offense and defense was the man of the hour. He was always where needed. "Cot." Nelson made some brilliant catches and tackled well. These two were the favorites. Ginn and Stockton fought a plucky game. The new men showed their staying qualities and with experience promise to round into splendid form.

GREEKS ENJOY PLEASANT SOCIAL EVENING.

A Good Program Presented—Friendly Feeling and a Pleasant Time in General for All.

Thursday evening, representatives from each Greek letter fraternity in the college met at the Delta Tau Delta house. In the fragrant smoke of the friendly weed the Greeks enjoyed a pleasant social evening, supplemented by various refreshments pleasing to the palate of the collegian.

"Greek met Greek," but on most friendly terms, and the affair was marked for good fellowship and feeling.

During the evening various entertaining "stunts" were devised and carried out by different men, much to the amusement of the non-participants. The program was variated with college and popular songs, until a late hour when the friendly pipe burned low.

THOBURN CLUB HOLDS MEETING.

DR. RICKER SPEAKS TO STUDENTS.

Inspiring Address to Young Ministers—New Members Elected to Club—Chilcote Named for Committee.

A meeting of the Thoburn Club was held Friday afternoon at four o'clock to which all the students were invited.

Olin C. Jones presided and in a few words introduced Dr. A. B. Riker, president of Mount Union College, who addressed the club on "The Theory of the Ministry." In part, he said:

"In the first place, ministers are a divinely chosen group. It is perfectly in order for a man to select whether he is to be a doctor, or an engineer, but a man is not at liberty to choose for himself in entering the ministry. The call in this day is a call to preparation. Learn to know men and how to handle them.

The foundations of religion are just as solid as the foundations of science. Go to the bottom of things. Be scholars first. When the Lord calls people to do his work, He gives them a supernatural equipment for that work. Jesus Christ proposes to give to us wisdom and power."

After Dr. Riker's address, C. A. Hartung took charge of the meeting and Messers. Cole, Fishel, Morgan, and Chilcote were elected to membership. Mr. Chilcote was appointed on the Committee of Ministerial Support to fill the place left vacant by Mr. J. C. Hughes.

Life.

First comes the morning
With the eastern sky aglow,
Followed fast by noon-tide
With all its heat and woe;
Then comes the evening,
Black with sorrows none may know,
And after that the dawn comes
As heavenward we go.

Preps.

In an issue of the Campus of last year our attitude towards the Prep. school was happily alluded to as being ideally that of an elder brother. In following out this admirable sentiment it is time for us to pat the younger brother encouragingly on the back and voice our appreciation of his acheivement.

The ability to plan and execute successfully ever excites admiration, and we are more than glad that the enterprises of the Preparatory school have been so signally successful.

Athletic Spirit.

There has been much comment concerning Allegheny's possibilities in athletics. Some have made pessimistic remarks, saying that there is no brighter outlook this year than there was last year. We must confess that we have no sympathy with such remarks. In the first place they sound too much like "knocking" and in the second place they are not true. The fact is that there is more real enthusiasm over athletics this year than ever before. When such a proportion of students are willing to part with seven dollars for athletics, as we have in Allegheny this year, something will be done. The seven dollar tickets aside from the splendid financial aid which they render the athletic association, inspire the students with a new, energetic, and enthusiastic athletic spirit. Every man feels that the foot ball team is his team and that he has a material share in the victories and defeats of the team. The same feeling will be true in basket ball and base ball. Last year we had no base ball team; this year the team is assured. Therefore we are sure that any student who cannot see the change for the better, and who has not caught the new athletic spirit needs to pray that his eyes may be opened and that his soul be stirred at the material evidences and demonstrations of that spirit.

FRESHMAN ENTER CLASS POLITICS.

ELECTION HELD FRIDAY AFTERNOON.

W. L. Stidger is Elected President. Harmony Marks the Conclave.

Friday afternoon the Freshman class met to complete its organization The class defied precedent by electing its officers shortly after the opening of the fall term, and the reference to that organization as "temporary" made necessary some action confirming the ticket.

As the time for Friday's meeting approached it became evident that history was about to repeat itself. Rumor and hearsay told of a condition of division similar to the unfortunate situation in the Senior class.

Frat and non-frat joined in a grand melee of wire pulling and general discussion.

Mr. W. L. Stidger, the first choice for president, called the meeting to order. In an enthusiastic address, the president stated briefly and tersely the condition of affairs, reviewing the situation in detail. Closing with a forcible appeal for unity at any cost, and an especial disregard of party lines, the chairman turned the affair over to the class.

After a breif discussion the class almost unanimously ratified the previous election and adjourned in perfect harmony, satisfied with having effected a united and permanent organization.

THE KING'S HEAD.

The abbey bells were chiming over the quiet Essex meadows and calling gentry and peasant alike to evening worship in the old church at Chigwell, as our party pulled up before the King's Head, a quaint old inn of the long ago type. The door-yard was full of dog carts, with here and there the carriage of a country squire, or the conveyance of a Londoner out for an afternoon drive.

Cousin Dick and his "governor" led the way through the low rambling building, whose halls were hung with odd pictures of the chase and quiet pastoral scenes, all delightfully old fashioned and queer. "The Boots' found a seat for us in the pretty little tea garden in the rear of the inn.

The place was enclosed by a high hedge, and carpeted with green, fresh grass, neatly trimmed and interlaced with gravel walks and flower beds. A profusion of rose bushes scented the air. Rustic seatts and arbors were everywher. The setting sun glinted on the diamond lattice windows, and shed soft rays ever the vine grown walls of the old inn, touching and completing the wonderfully beautiful profusion of colors in the garden plot."

This picturesque old place was the May pole Inn of Dicken's Barnaby Rudge. Here on these very benches the famous novelist originated the plot of that production, and dressed it in his own quaint entertaining style. To its pages are transplanted these very hedges and arbors, these green swards releived by flower beds rich in color and design.

When we set off for London, the portrait of King George, swinging above the door was almost hidden in the soft twilight that had settled down over village and country side, bringing with it the quiet of evening and the nightingale's song.

Foot Ball Rules Of Present Day

INJURIES TO PLAYERS WILL BE LARGE AS EVER.

Tom Hall Not Optimistic Concerning Change—More Injured Than in Mass Play.

In Sunday's Buffalo Courier, Tom Hall comments on the football rules and the disadvantages of the change in the following manner:

Reports from the early football game this season indicate that the number of injuries to players of the game will be as large as in former years when the season's windup comes. Sprains, wrenches, and bruises total well in advance of the number reported last year, and while short schedules should hold the figures down, the indications are that game for game the foo'ball injuries this year will be as great as any previous season.

The reason that revised football is proving almost as dangerous as the old game is the misjudgment of the rules committee in ferreting out the source of the evil. Through all the outcry against football the mass play has borne the blame for the majority of the injuries. The specta'or has judged that because many a disentanglement following a mass play has laid bare an injured man, it was the mass play which was to blame. Yet investigation shows that nine out of ten such injuries are the result of th tackling that preceded the piling upof the players rather than the crush itself. How the players look upon this subject by the fact that the average football player fears an open tackle more than being felled in a mass formation. In the open field he is moving faster, is tackled harder, and has nothing but the hard ground to stop his fall.

Thus it is no' surprising that football still is the dangerous sport it always has been. Tackling can not be dropped from the game, and the sooner the rules committee realizes that a certain percen'age of bruises must be expected in every game wherin the players come in physical contact the better for the game. A rew simple intelligible rules, unders'ood and enforced, prove better than many complicated ones, and produce a better game than when the inventive genius of coaches and captain are so definitely restricted to certain lines as in foo'ball as revised for this season.

The heavily handicapped football offense is bringing us more nothing-nothing scores and tie games than was expected by most of the coaches. There were a few exponents of the game who predicted the inability of the restricted offense to overcome a capable defense, but no one forecasted the number of indecisive contests that have taken place in the early season. In spite of the usual custom followed by the big colleges of playing week teams in September and October the scoring done has been li'tle, and in many cases big teams have been unable to make consistent gains against the defenses of academies and second rate colleges.

One of the best examples of how the offensive has suffered by the new legislation was the contest between the navy and Dickinson, which ended with the Annapolis players having been able to make consecutive first downs but twice during the game. Almost as significant was the performance of the light Gettysburg team in holding the University of Pennsylvania to a tie. With these games to be noted it is hardly necessary to mention also the failures of Harvard Nebraska, and other s'rong elevens to make more than a single touchdown against the weakest of opponents. Thus consistently all over the country defenses that easily were torn up by superior offenses under th old rules have been able to play with the attacks of quarters and ends, and handicapped by lines placed upon an unequal footing with the opposing defense.

Williams college Track Association reports a total balance of $400 over last year's expenses.

MILLER CHOSEN AS PRESIDENT.

Meeting Held Friday Afternoon—No Political Rivalry Manifest—Fraternity Ticket Elected.

At a meeting held Friday afternoon at five o'clock, the Sophomores elected all their class officers. R. E. Miller had at a previous meeting been chosen leader of the class until class officers should be elected. Cravner, who had been appointed by Miller, called the meeting to order, Friday, and presided during the election. Politics were practically absent in the election.

The non-fraternity ticket consisted of Riblet for president, Miss Bullock for secretary, and Mr. Millward for historian. Little spirit was shown in the election and resulted in a sweeping victory for the fraternity ticket. After the election, Mr. Miller took the chair and a committee was appointed to assess and collect classdues. The following officers were elected:

President, R. E. Miller.
Vice-president, Aiken.
Treasurer, Mould.
Secretary, Miss Fugate.
Historian, Miss Mills.
Poet, Miss Thomas.

College Councils Calmly Considers

CURRENT CONDITIONS.

Conclave is Characterized by Cautious Cogitations.

The College Council met and organized, Friday, Oct. 19, 1906. Prof. Dutton, senior member of the faculty, took charge until the chairman, protem, as provided by the Constitution, could be elected.

The first business brought before the Council was the election of a chairman. The meeting was then thrown open for nominations. Mr. Gill, the only nominee, was elected. He then took charge of the meeting.

The next business was the election of a secretary, the only permanenet office. Miss Bash was elected.

It was then moved and seconded that the secretary should make a list of all clubs, fraternities, et cetera, entitled to representatives in the Council, and the roll to be called at meeting. Motion carried.

Prof. Dutton then brought before the Council for discussion the two following questions:

1. The relation of the upper classmen toward the lower classmen in time of rushes and class fights? Its attitude toward the rush, and shall it exist in the future?

2. Should not the College Council take in hand and organize the mode and manner of organizing classes, together until election?

These two questions were then thrown open for discussion by the Council body. As a result it was moved and seconded that a committee of three be appointed by the chairman to recommend the time and manner of holding class elections. Motion carried.

It was then moved and seconded that a committee of three be appointed by the chairman, to draw up rules to regulate class fights and the cane rush. Motion carried.

It was moved and seconded that the council adjourn until two weeks from date at four o'clock. Motion carried. Meeting then adjourned.

important:

Will the different organizations of the college please elect their representatives to the College Council at once and hand their names to the secretary, Miss Bach. It is necessary that these names be in before the next meeting of the Council, Friday, November 2.

Oration Prizes Will Be Given

WAKEFIELD PRIZE CONSISTS OF FIFTY DOLLARS.

The Class of Ninety Prize Consists of $Forty-two Dollars—Explanation of Tri-State League.

The Oratorial Association has announced changes in the dates of both the Wakefield and Class of Ninety contests. Heretofore the Wakefield has been held during the second week of April, and the Class of Ninety contest during the third week of May. It has now been decided to make an important change in the time of holding these contests. This year the Class of Ninety will be held on Friday evening, Dec. 7, 1906, and the Wakefield contest on Tuesday evening, Feb. 12, 1907.

For the benefit of the new students it may be well to state that the Wakefield oration prize of fifty dollars, offered annually by Mr. James A. Wakefield, of Pittsburg, in the name of his grandfather, Rev. Samuel Wakefield, D. D., to the young man delivering the best oration. The winner of the prize represents the college in the Tri-State Oratorial League Contest held in May of each year. The class of '90, which numbered forty-two persons, established a prize of forty-two dollars, to be awarded each year to the young man or woman delivering the best oration.

It is hoped that the student body will co-operate earnestly with the Oratorial association in its endeavor to make both contests of this year the most succesful ever held. Two years ago Bruce Wright, '05, won the Tri-State contest. The Tri-State League consists of six colleges, Allegheny, Westminster, Waynesburg, Geneva, Muskingum and Bethany. If Allegheny is to win again this year there must be a large number of contestants for each event.
