CHICAGO

May 28, 1935.

My dear Miss Tarbell:

I was so glad to hear from you since it is several years ago that I last saw you at Tucson. I know how you feel about Miss Addams. Within the last year and a half I have lost my two best friends, Mary Rozet Smith whom you will remember, and Jane Addams. Miss Addams has been living with me ever since Miss Smith's death, and of course it was a joy to have her always near at hand.

I have never seen anything like the outpouring of grief at her death, and sometime I am going to write you a description of her funeral.

Thank you so much for your letter.

Sincerely yours,

Wm. C. Brown
