Dear Sirs:

I have your letter of January 25th, kindly calling my attention to Fleming's book on General Sherman, with the unpublished pages inserted in typewritten copies from the original.

I should like to own the volume, but I cannot afford it. I do not think from the list of fac-simile pages, which have been inserted, add much to those particular points in the narrative which interest me as a student of Lincoln and his relations to the south and to abolition.

But I do thank you for calling my attention to the volume. I should be glad at any time if you will send me information about similar books.

Very truly yours
