GOLDIE & GUMM
1540 BROADWAY
NEW YORK

July 17, 1928.

Miss Ida M. Tarbell,
R.F.D. #3,
Bethel, Conn.

My dear Miss Tarbell:

I forwarded the agreement, with your additional provision, to Mr. Sale.

Mr. Sale returned the agreements to me, and wrote me a letter, which in substance is as follows: He has written a scenario around the character of a G. A. R. veteran, for the purpose of the talking picture, which will render it necessary for him to have from you nothing except the right to use a few of your lines. He requested me to endeavor to draw an agreement between you and him covering the new situation.

Accordingly, I have drawn the agreement of which I am enclosing two copies herewith. As the agreement is drawn, it involves no responsibility on your part. You will note that it gives to Mr. Sale only such right, title and interest in and to the use of said lines in talking motion pictures as you possess. Of course, it contains a provision that you will make no claims against him or his assigns because of the use of the material.

If the agreement meets with your approval, and I see no reason why it should not, for the reasons aforesaid, please sign two copies at the place indicated and return the copies to me. I will then forward the copies to Mr. Sale for acceptance by him. If the instrument is approved by him, I will request him to forward to you or to me a check payable to your order in the sum of $500.00, together with one signed copy.

As I am sailing on Friday, if the contract reaches you tomorrow and is satisfactory, I should be glad to have you return it to me at once so that I can forward it together with letter of explanation to Mr. Sale before my departure.

Digital Image, 2009. The Ida M. Tarbell Collection, 1890-1944, Allegheny College Pelletier Library

July 17, 1928.

Miss Ida M. Tarbell,
Page -2-

In any event, I shall leave instructions to give the proper attention to your reply during my absence.

Yours sincerely,

W. Harold Greene

HHG:ES

Enc.

Digital Image, 2009. The Ida M. Tarbell Collection, 1890-1944, Allegheny College Pelletier Library