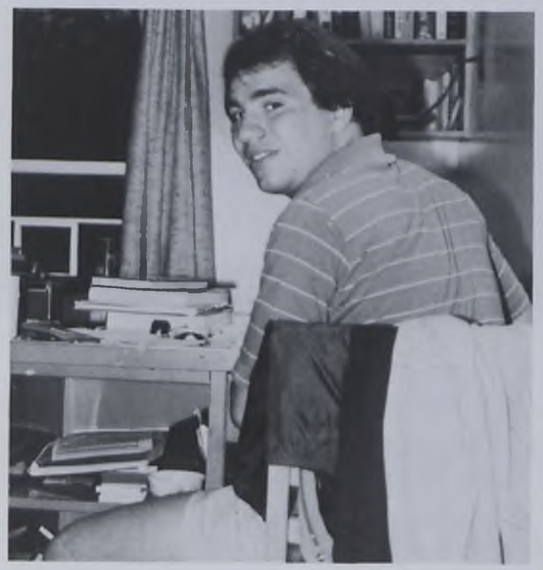
WHATEVER YOU HEAR . . .

THE FIRST BIG snowfall sent everyone out for a snow-ball fight. I wonder who started it?



SOMETIMES RUMORS can start in the privacy of someone's room. Could Brian Pierson be thinking of one?

RUMORS CAN START anywhere. They lurk in the shadows waiting to come out.

RUMORS. . .

Do you believe everything you hear? One of the "neat" things about going to a small, private liberal arts institution is the gossip, the stories, the RUMORS!! Everyone enjoys hearing them and starting them.

How many have you heard? Most likely thousands if you are a senior. You may have even been the subject of a few. What could be more entertaining at Sunday brunch than hearing stories from Saturday night's escapades.

Think of how many people left the campus on the heels of the Halloween Bo Peep massacre. What really was on the record that the WARC dj played? RUMORS, vicious little rumors, we all love em'.

Is President Sullivan really going to disband varsity sports? Or the Greek way of life? Who was really with who last Saturday night? The gossip at a small school goes on and on, every day. RUMORS fly, stories become distorted and facts are lost.

RUMORS will always be a part of Gatorland. Everyone loves to talk and hear all the juicy gossip about so-and-so as long as they aren't so-and-so.

HEY, did you hear about . . .

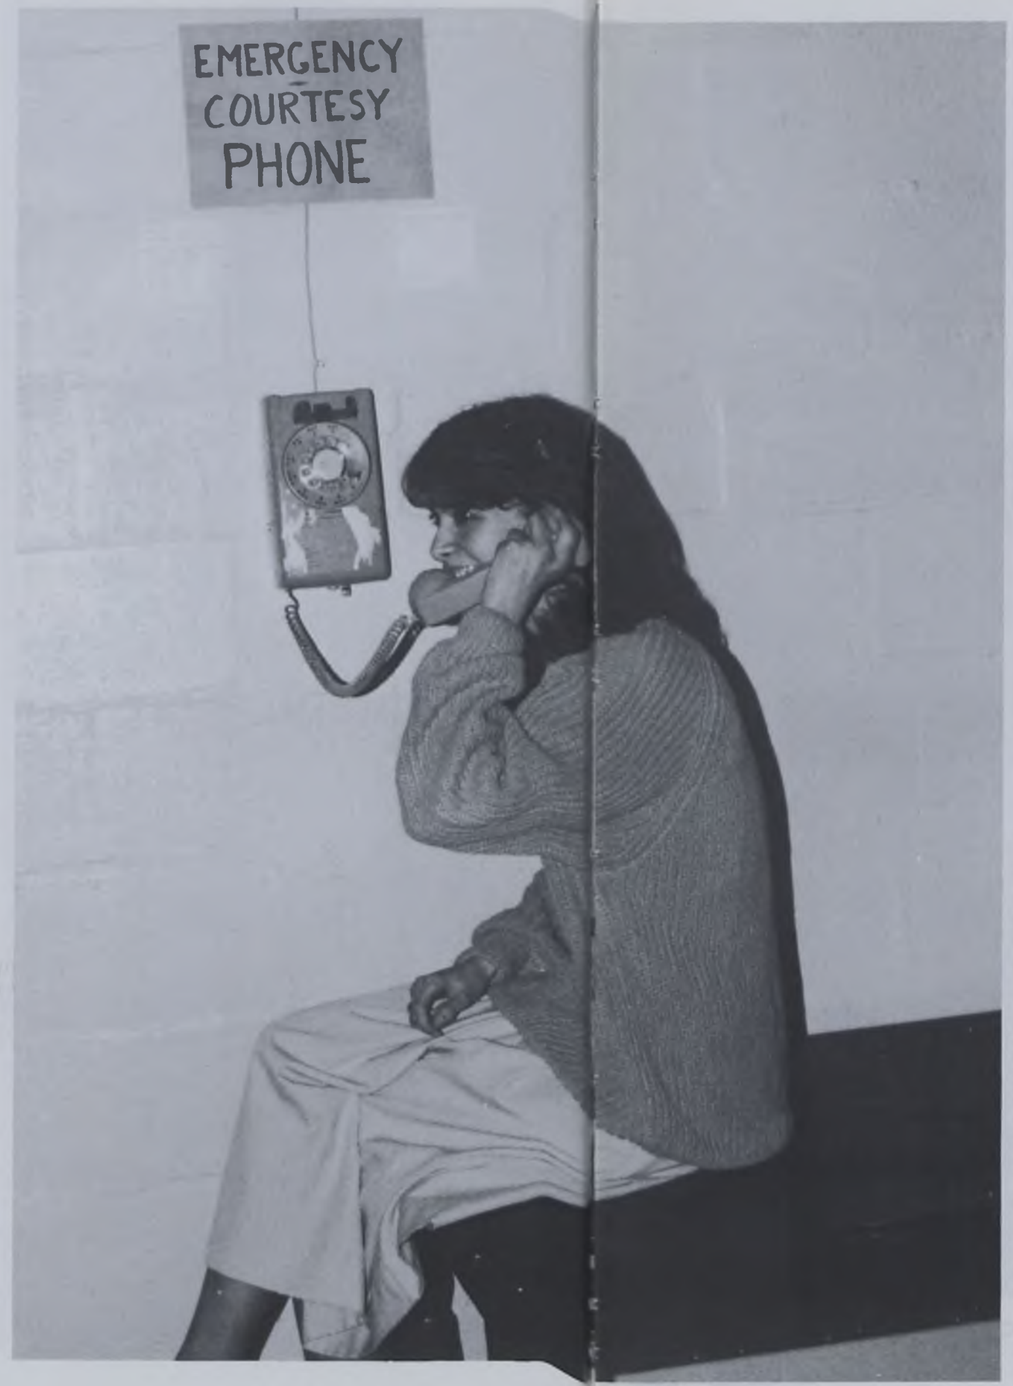
GOSSIP

A small campus is a breeding ground for a variety of rumors and gossip. Most of the students know one another and sometimes confide in each other their deepest and best kept secrets. The only problem is that secrets are hard to keep and by the time they run their course, the truth has been somewhat twisted.

The best story to come out of Allegheny this year was the "Bo-Peep" murder prediction. The story goes like this. A psychic on the Johnny Carson show predicted that a mass murder would be committed at a college in Pennsylvania that had an enrollment of less than 2,000 students. Furthermore, the name of the school would be the same as a river, mountain range, and a valley. The crime was to occur on Halloween and the murderer would be dressed up like "Bo-Peep".

Of course, Allegheny fit the bill. Some people took the rumor to be serious and stayed inside for Halloween while others dressed up as "Bo-Peep" and carried toy guns. It was just a story someone made up and goes to show you that you can't always believe what you hear. Rumors and gossip will always be part of college life, you just can't take them too seriously.



A GOOD CONVERSATION on the telephone can sometimes get a rumor started. If you can't see someone in person, telephone gossip will do.

TRYING TO DISCERN fact from fiction is hard to do and requires listening intently as two people can easily start a rumor or gossip.

THE BIG SCARE of the year was the infamous "Bo-Peep" episode. It sure gets our vote for the best RUMOR of 1986-87 at Allegheny.

Every year at Allegheny has its identifiable events. This year's included a Presidential inauguration, a winning football season, the loss of a fraternity chapter, the appearance of a Broadway hit, and much more.

But we all know that life at Allegheny really means tests, sleep, parties, and RUMORS!

STUDENT LIFE

Back To School

After a slow-paced, long summer, September brings back life into the campus of Allegheny College. THE STUDENTS GO BACK TO SCHOOL!!

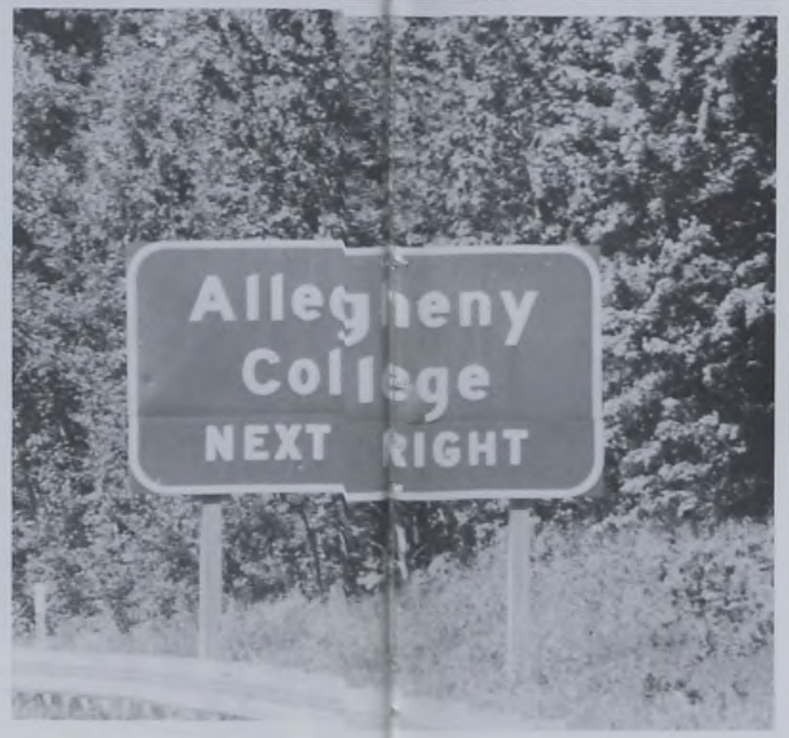
As the students slowly begin to arrive, so do the familiar sights and sounds of college life. Students yelling to old friends, parents helping to unload over-stuffed cars, and Freshmen wandering about trying to get their bearings about campus.

But before long, the students settle into their schedules and the friendly, inviting atmosphere of the Allegheny campus is restored.

It never takes Alleghenians long to adjust to the beautiful campus that most simply refer to as "home".

DORM LIFE. An empty dorm room sits alone awaiting the arrival of students coming back to school after summer vacation.

A COMMON SCENE. In early September, the flood of students and packed cars makes for a real parking problem.



HERE IT IS. The sign of I-79 signals that the exit to Allegheny College is next. An incoming Freshman always feels a little nervous upon seeing the exit sign.

PARTY TIME. The best of night life can be found at a fraternity party. These students can mingle with friends in a relaxed, happy atmosphere.

HOT SPOT. Johnny B's (top) is a favorite hangout of the upperclass set on Friday or Saturday night.

HOLLYWOOD. Many students find that a movie is a nice way to relax and forget about all the homework that sometimes swamps them.

Night Life

Night life at Allegheny can take you almost anyplace, but sometimes your age and class rank have a lot to do with where you go. For instance, upperclassmen like a night out at Otter's, Mickey's or Johnny B's.

Most underclassmen can often be found at the Cinema taking in a show. These breaks from the routine of studying or a dull night on campus usually occur on Friday or Saturday night.

Still, however, a fraternity party is still tops on the agenda of many students. But no matter where they are or what they are doing, most students know how to make the best of Meadville's night life.

Work Study

Sometimes students have to work to get that extra bit of spending money. With tuition being a tough road to haul for many parents, a part-time job on campus really helps.

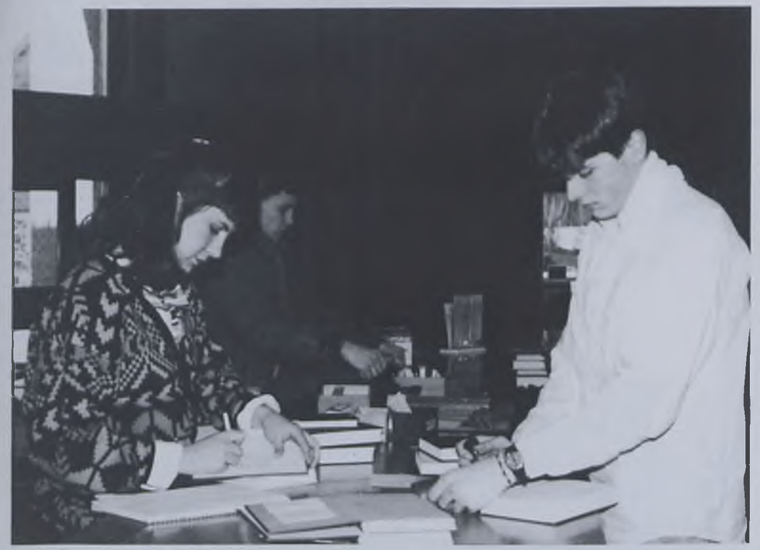
Work-study jobs range from dining hall work to secretaries to teaching assistants to just about anything. The average work-study student gets in 10 hours per week at minimum wage.

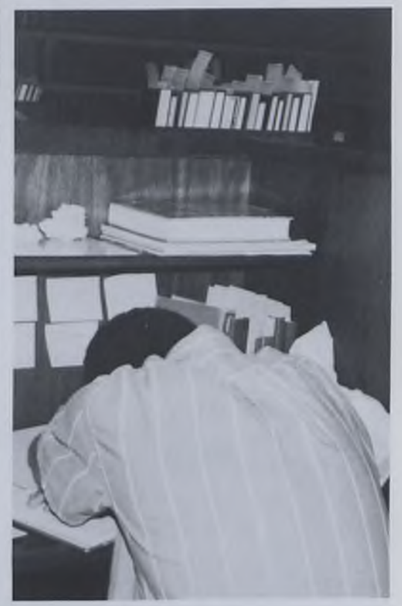
Payday comes once per month and usually falls on a Friday. You can always tell by the long lines at the bank outside the Post Office door.

Balanced out with their study load, work-study students are fast becoming commonplace at Allegheny.

SECURITY FIRST. Susan Sanford walks her beat with walkie-talkie in hand as part-time security monitor.

CHECKING IT OUT. Library assistant Mark Knisley (below) checks out a book for a student.





TIRED. Sometimes the combined schedule of working and studying can get to you as this student shows.

DISH IT OUT. Many students work in the dining hall filling trays with food and washing dishes.

Choir Boys

The VIP series brought the Vienna Boys Choir to Shafer Auditorium on Friday, October 10th. The group came to be in 1498 when Emperor Maximilian I ordered that a group be formed so that the Imperial Chapel would have its own choirsters.

Since its founding, the choir has boasted affiliation with some of the world's finest composers, musicians, and singers.

Their performance was breathtaking! They charmed the Allegheny audience with classical compositions, folk ballads, operettas and sacred music. It was a true honor to have such a fine group come to Allegheny to perform.

Concerts

The tradition of low priced quality entertainment at Allegheny was continued again when both Eddie Money and Spyro Gyra played to enthusiastic crowds at Shafer Auditorium.

Spyro Gyra appeared on January 17th, disappointing no one with their brand of diverse music and talented instrumentals. The concert, part of the VIP series, provided the hungry ears of all with favorites both old and new.

On Monday, March 9th, the ever popular Eddie Money appeared on tour for his new album, Can't Hold Back. He kept the crowd wild with favorites which keep him in demand. Limited Warranty warmed up the crowd for Money. They were Star Search winners.

IN THE SPOTLIGHT. Eddie Money belts out a tune to the delight of the crowd. He made Allegheny a stop on his tour.

GYRA-TING. Spyro Gyra is a multi-talented group of individuals whose music runs the gamut of styles and different moods.

WAILING. Playing the saxophone is an Eddie Money tradition. Here he jams on the sax during a break in the song.

Alpha Chi's show Homecoming spirit as they ride in the Homecoming Parade. This year's theme was Showtime!

Senior Homecoming King and Queen for 1986 were Kevin Bender and Linda Wagner.

During the Homecoming game against Ohio Wesleyan, Gator quarterback John Logue lets one fly as the Gators go on to a Homecoming victory!

HOMECOMING

Students, alumni and families gathered on Saturday, October 11 to take part in traditional Allegheny Homecoming festivities. Phi Kappa Psi and Alpha Gamma Delta's float won first place in the competition. On the field, the Gators conquered Ohio Wesleyan 21-0, capping a three game winning streak. Good food and good friends were enjoyed by all at the pre-game picnic.

Heather McCafferty catches a few z's while studying hard for those midterms. Looks like the Pepsi didn't work.

For the first time in a long time the Gator stands are filled to capacity. The fans had something great to cheer about - the Gator football team had a winning season!

What better way to spend a early Saturday evening than watching the NCAC Champs, the Lady Gators, win another one.

WEEKENDS

Friday finally came . . . T.G.I.F. What's there to do on the weekends at Allegheny? WELL . . . going home . . SLEEP . . . single for the weekend . . . 4 Star Pizza . . . tuna deck . . . "She said what?" . . . Basketball games . . . fraternity parties . . . "I'm going to stay in and study" . . . Backstage . . . guys on the hall!? . . . In the bathroom? . . . house parties . . "What time did you get in?" . . . football . . . HANGOVERS . . . "He was with her?" . . . RUMORS . . . Baseball/softball games . . . Sunday brunch . . . "You did what?" . . . With who? WHERE? . . . Hit the books.

INSTALLED. Chairman of the Board of Trustees, Mr. Thomas St. Clair, puts a medallion around the neck of new Allegheny President Dr. Daniel Sullivan.

PROCESSION. Mr. Thomas St. Clair walks with soon-to-be installed President Daniel Sullivan. He became the nineteenth President of Allegheny.

PROTESTERS. Allegheny's decision to keep South African investments led to a protest during the inaugural procedures.

Inauguration

Daniel F. Sullivan was inaugurated on May 2, 1987 as Allegheny's nineteenth President. Dr. Sullivan took over as President of the college on August 1, 1986 after fifteen years of service to Carlton College.

The procession of professors, administrators, and honored guests was a lengthy line of robes and caps. The inaugural address was given by Martin Frow and the installation of Dr. Sullivan was the highlight of the event.

The ceremony wasn't without controversy however as protesters over Allegheny's South African policies formed lines holding signs. But the protesters' views gave way to the events of the day and Dr. Sullivan became Allegheny's President.

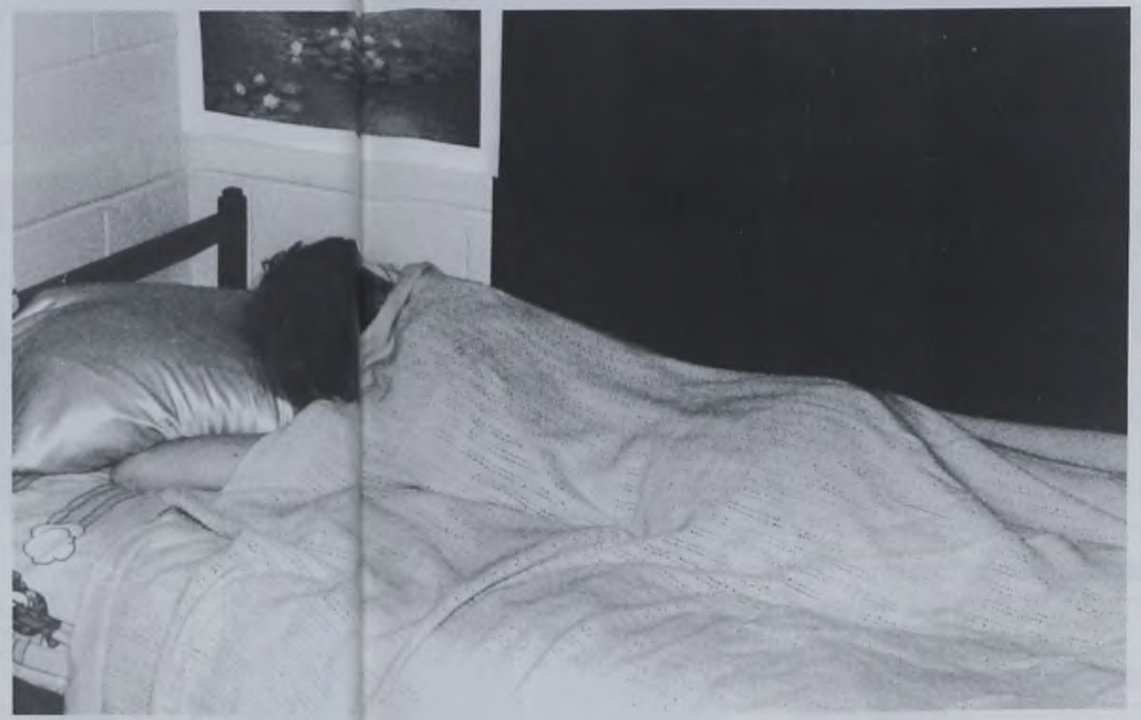
Mondays

There's something about Monday morning that convinces your body that the only logical place to be is in bed. Those 8:00 a.m. classes are a killer!

You get up, sleep through your shower, and have to dress in the dark because your roommate was smart enough to schedule a 9:20 class.

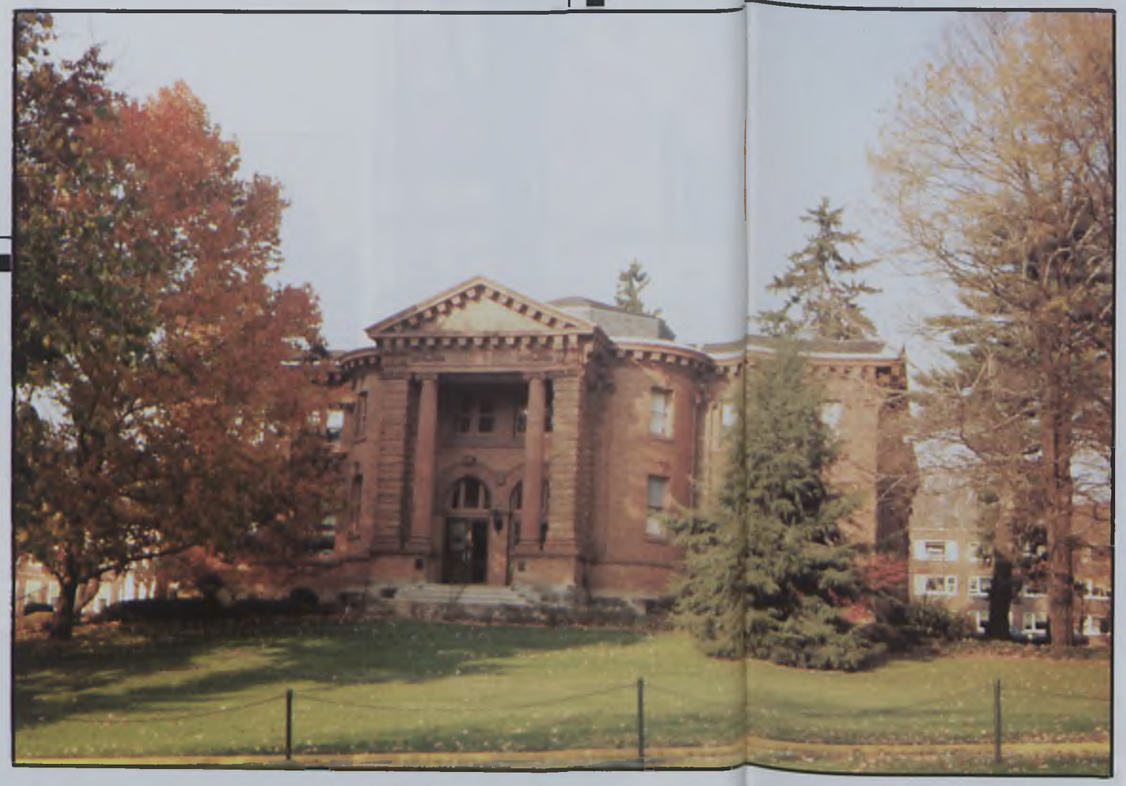
The whole day is spent in a daze as you walk from class to class and try to listen and take notes. And the rain. It always seems to rain in Meadville on Mondays.

Oh well, the good thing about Monday is it only comes once a week. Thank Heavens!!



O, BEATIS-SIMA

Allegheny's campus is nothing less than inspiring. As a freshman walking the campus for the first time it seems to overcome you. The buildings are rustic yet efficient, the trees — majestic, the flowers and bushes — meticulously planted and cared for, and the air — clean and fresh. Through the year at Allegheny Mother Nature allows you to view the campus in four separate and unique seasons. The golden and red leaves of autumn set the campus ablaze. The white snows of winter make the buildings sparkle. The blooming flowers and greens of spring create a painted picture. And the warm tones of summer put the campus to rest. O, Alma Mater Beatissima!



Allegheny's Reis Hall is one of the oldest on campus. It was built in 1901 and served as the college library until the new facility was built 74 years later.

The Anna Cloyde Brooks Hall, built in 1940, now serves as a women's dormitory. The oldest section of this complex, Hulings Hall, was erected in 1881.

The stealing of the 13th plank of the wooden bridge is an age long Allegheny tradition that is still alive today. Newton Observatory, in the background, was erected in 1901.

HEALING THE SICK. Jesus (Rick Dohr) heals the lepers from their afflictions as he cleanses them from their sins.

CONFUSED. Followers of Jesus are surprised to discover his mortality. They discuss life without Jesus after his crucifixion.

ON THE CROSS. Giving up the ghost, Jesus hangs from the cross. His suffering at the hands of the Romans was at last over.

Superstar

On April 24th and 25th at Shafer Auditorium, the rock opera "Jesus Christ Superstar" was presented. The rock opera depicts the last seven days in the life of Jesus of Nazareth.

The two performances were held at 8:15 and were free of charge. Over 100 Allegheny students performed in various roles under the direction of Jeff Garton and Rick Dohr.

Dohr, a music major, played the lead role as Jesus with the remainder of the cast composed of students from all majors and extracurricular organizations.

Professor Robert Bond conducted the twenty piece band that tied the production together. The emotion, hard work and dance came together at once and J.C. Superstar lived again.

Allegheny students crowd the C.C. Activities room to hear President Sullivan speak at the Open Forum which dealt mainly with the disbandment of the Alpha Chi Rho house.

The President would not provide any concrete reasons why the Crows were disbanded, saying it really was not necessary for the campus to know the Crow's "dirty laundry".

President Sullivan answered numerous questions concerning the Crows, the entire Greek system, and their role here at Allegheny.

OPEN FORUM

PROBLEM: AXP charter revoked for one year by President Sullivan. TALK: "He hates Greeks!" "First the Crows, who's next?" "Why wasn't IFC involved?" "Why didn't anyone know?" ANSWERS: Open forum held February 10 was attended by 300 Greeks and non-Greeks. Sullivan fielded questions on any subject for 3 hours. Although there was a lot of talk, there were few answers.

A Chorus Line

The award winning musical, A CHORUS LINE, was performed at Allegheny on Friday, October 24, 1986. A New York company put on the show, part of the VIP Series. It was a rousing success.

The curtain opens with the confusion of performers trying to get any part they can. In the end, the characters become one and experience the closeness of any Broadway musical. A show well done! Bravo!

OUT ON THE TOWN. Laura Eperson and her date pose with some other friends at the Jazz Lab Dance.

ARTISTIC. A caricature artist was on hand to draw any special requests that students might have.

MOVIE-GOERS. Caroline Krebs, Michelle Edwards, Laura McGarry, and Glenna Schultz await the start of the movie, Crocodile Dundee.

C. C. Goodtimes

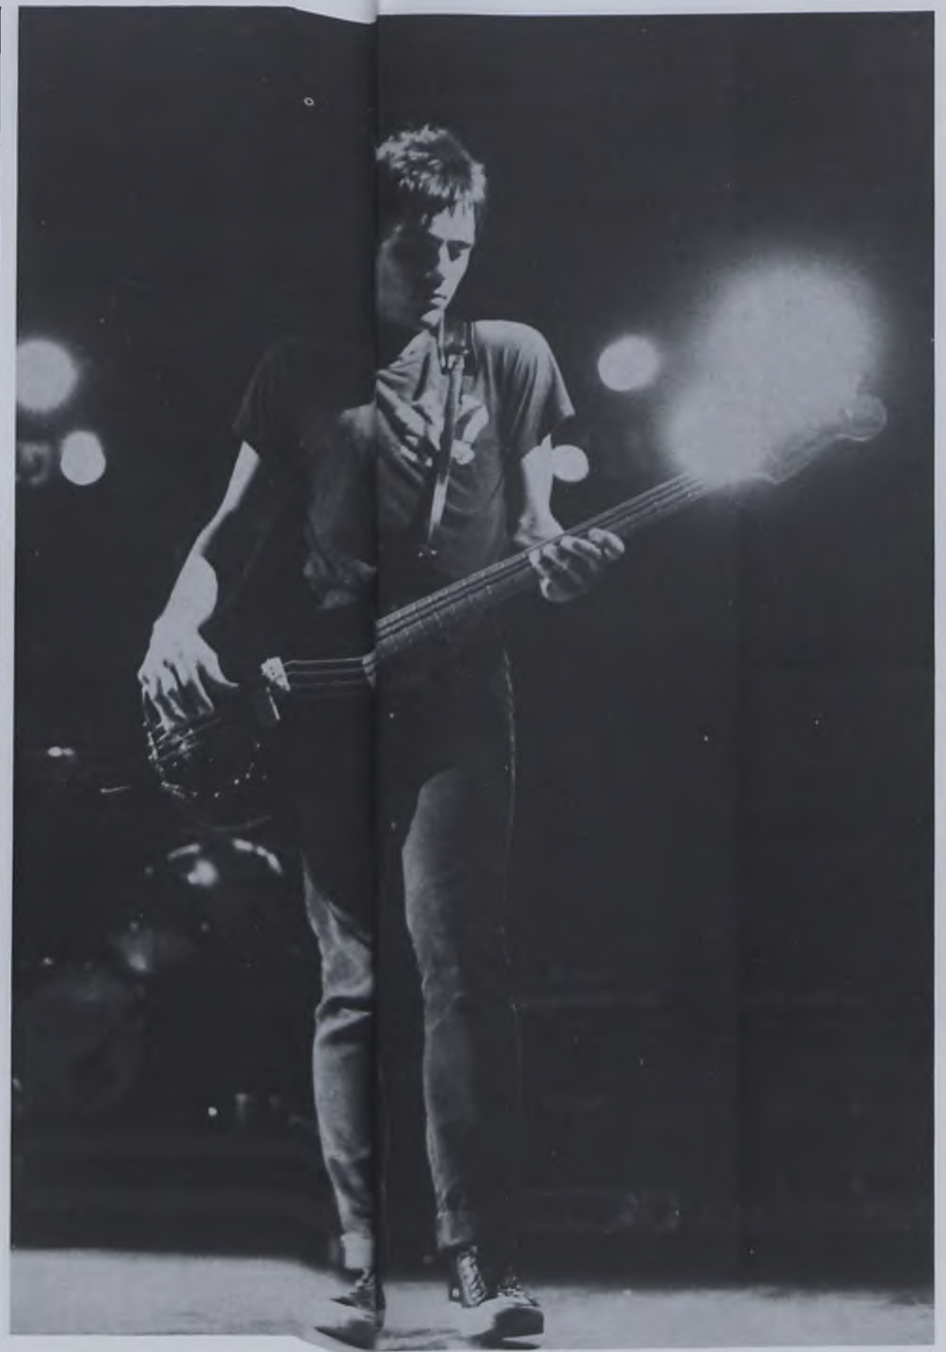
Goodtimes '87, sponsored by the Campus Center Cabinet, was a weekend of various activities. It started on Friday, May 15th as comedian Tom DeLuca delighted the crowd with his hilarious routines. Other events were the Jazz Lab Dance and the hit movie, Crocodile Dundee.

Saturday events included an afternoon carnival and an evening performance by the Smithereens, a travelling rock group. On Sunday, there was a trip to Cedar Point.

The proceeds from the weekend festivities went to Gatoraid, which benefits the Crawford Emergency Services Coalition. The Campus Center also sponsored a Winter Carnival and an All-Nighter.

Smithereens

The Smithereens performed on May 16th as part of the Campus Center Goodtimes Weekend. Band members Jim Babjak, Dennis Diken, Pat Dinrio, and Michael Mesaros dressed in black and jammed to the excitement of the crowd. They were loud and very good.



Club '85

Club '85 is a year round, weekly event sponsored by the C. C. Cabinet. The original concept for Club '85 was derived from the dinner clubs that were so popular during the big band era.

Each week the Club hosts different performers. This year, Magician Stuart and Lori appeared along with Comedian Tom DeLuca and many others. Comedians are a favorite among the college crowd.

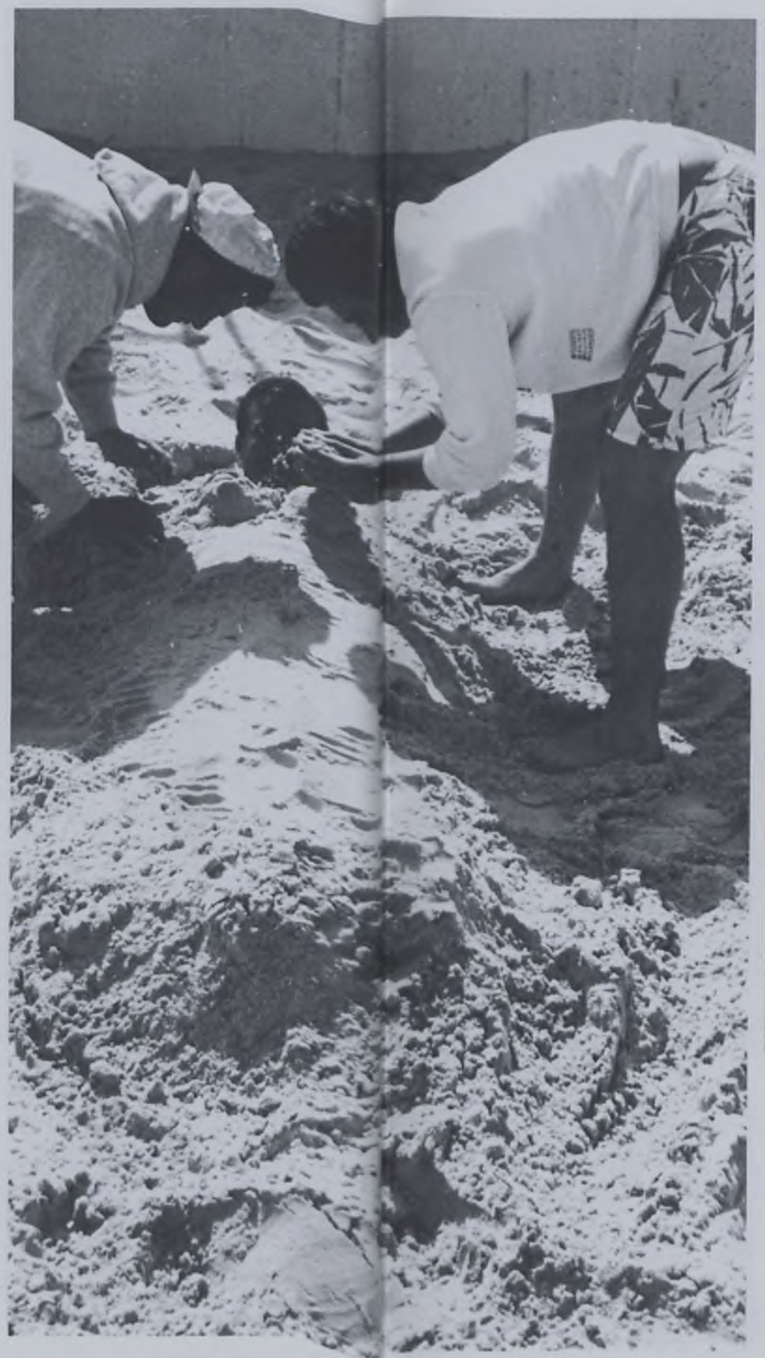
Performances for Club '85 are on Friday nights in the Campus Center Activities Room. Most people will agree that it is an hour well spent and a nice way to spend a Friday night.

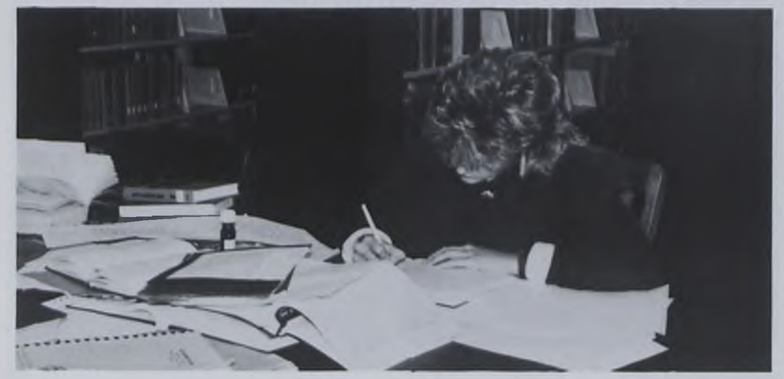
Spring Break

Fun, Sun, Sand, and Excitement! SPRING BREAK IS FINALLY HERE! This is a yearly event sandwiched between second and third term. It is two weeks of freedom from the routine of college life and has become a ritual to students.

Most head for Florida where students from other colleges can be found in huge numbers. Penrods on the strip in Ft. Lauderdale is jam-packed with party animals and the beaches are as crowded as Manhatten during rush hour.

Many people elect to stay home and relax during Spring Break. But whatever route a student takes, its still two glorious weeks off from studying.





Comping

Comping is an experience that all seniors must go through if they want to graduate. Comping can last one, two, or even three terms. It's a process of researching, writing, revising, and typing.

Allegheny professors and students agree that comping lends an opportunity to become proficient in an area of the students major that will become invaluable in the work-place.

Topics range from nuclear war to romance in the 18th century. Some become published articles. Some open new areas of research and theory and all are great accomplishments.

CLASS OF 1987

After three years of hard work and sweat, senior year is finally a reality. It's a year of comping, grad school applications, job hunting, and fun.

Senior year is something that you've looked forward to for a long time. And when you finally get that diploma handed to you, it's the end of one phase of your life and the beginning of another.

THE LATEST GOSSIP About SUSAN

Susan Tanner has been involved in many activities at Allegheny, but her favorite has been choir. Although it was hard work, she felt it was fun and a good release at the same time. Susan has also been Assistant Music Director at WARC, as well as serving in the Production and News Departments, and being a disc jockey. Susan says that she loves WARC so much that she does not want to leave; she's really going to miss it. Additionally, Susan has been a Resident Advisor in Brooks. She says that being an R.A. was fantastic, and she loved her hall. Susan has been involved with the Student Aid Committee which reads the scholarship essays; and also the Psych Club, Tri-Beta, Lambda Sigma and Civic Symphony.

Susan is uncertain as to the reason why she was recommended as an Outstanding Senior. She said that she does not view herself as outstanding, but is just involved in many things that she enjoys.

Susan is a Biology major with a Psychology minor. Her comp involved the effects of induced anemia on gas exchange in tadpoles. She plans to attend Thomas Jefferson to study neurobiology.

THE LATEST GOSSIP about MIKE

Mike Jones, a former NCAA Player of the Week, says that basketball has been a big part of his past four years. He has been in two All-Conference teams, named Rookie of the Year, and received honorable mention. "I set high expectations," says Mike about his involvement with basketball. This year, Mike says the team overachieved, because Reynders knew how to pick them each up.

Mike feels he was recommended as an Outstanding Senior because of his ability to get along with people. He dislikes fighting, and feels that he is a fun person to talk with. Mike has good relationships with his professors, and has learned a lot from them. The things that give him the most problems are deadlines. Playing ball and studying is hard to do at the same time. Mike has learned to organize his time so that he can do his best at both.

Mike is an English major. He plans to complete an internship at the Meadville Tribune, and then pursue a career in journalism. He would like to work on the 1988 Olympics or possibly get into broadcasting. "Money is not the key" for Mike, he just wants to do what he likes to do.

GOSSIP about ... JOE

Joe Weyers is President of Volunteers In Support of Admissions. He enjoys working with the Admissions Office and the students. Joe has also been involved with Lambda Sigma and Alpha Phi Omega. He also works with the Spanish Department as a Drill Instructor and as a Language Laboratory Teacher's Assistant. Joe developed the laboratories for Spanish 140 courses.

Joe feels that he was recommended as an Outstanding Senior because he is a perfectionist. He works very hard on whatever he is doing. Joe feels that working in the Student Aid Office also helped to get him chosen. He really enjoys working with the people in the office, and says that it's an "escape from reality." He says that he gives his all to anything that he is doing, and pushes himself to the limit academically.

Joe is a double major in Spanish and Latin American Studies. His comp is an evaluation of family planning in Peru. Joe has been awarded a Rotary scholarship to South America. He plans to go to Uruguay after graduation where he will spend a year. Later, he plans to attend graduate school, and would like to either teach college or work for the State Department.

THE LATEST GOSSIP About NANCY

Nancy Yovetich has been a Student Orientation Advisor for three years. She is a Psychology tutor, and has been a Teaching Assistant for Computer Literacy, Philosophy of Evolution and Buddhism. Nancy says that she loves the tutoring that she does. She also says that Choir is very important to her. She has always loved to sing, but never thought that she was that great until as a senior she gained confidence in her abilities. Nancy is a member of Alpha Delta Pi sorority and a Phi Psi Little Sister. She has been in two theatre productions: The Chalk Garden and The Misanthrope.

Nancy feels that she was recommended for Outstanding Senior because she loves to learn. Teachers like students who are interested in learning. She is very dedicated to Psychology, and enjoys being S.O.A. and T.A. for the seminars. Nancy has received a National Collegiate Music Award, was named Academic All-American and Phi Beta Kappa.

Nancy is a Psychology major with an English minor. Her comp is on coping with stress through laughter. She plans to go on to graduate school for clinical psychology, and then after receiving her Ph. D. she wants to become a college professor.

THE LATEST GOSSIP about MARIBEL

Maribel Cruz is a member of the Orchesis Executive Board. She is also the Student Director of Allegheny Repertory Dance. Maribel says that dance is really important to her and that through dance she has grown as a person. For Maribel, dancing takes up as much time as her academics. A common joke about Maribel is that she is a dancer who is going to school part time.

Maribel feels that she was recommended as an Outstanding Senior because of her visibility. She gets a lot of exposure on campus being involved with Orchesis and Repertory Dance, but does not consider herself to be outstanding. She choreographed the production of Jesus Christ Superstar, a piece for Orchesis, and several for studies and creative process.

Maribel is an English and Psychology double major. One comp deals with a Jungian interpretation of Sam Shepard's plays, and the other comp is about the effects of perceived similarity, victim's sex and victim behavior on attributions of blame. Maribel plans to attend the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor for a doctoral program in social psychology. She plans to do post-doctoral work in dance and English.

THE LATEST GOSSIP About JOE

Joe Miller was First Vice-President of Alpha Phi Omega service fraternity. During his term in office, he expanded the amount of service that was being done around the community. Joe tried to consolidate the services on campus and promote more off campus service. Joe has been on the Student Judicial Board for three years, two of them as Chairman. He says that the Board is very important and has a lot of responsibility. Joe is involved in VISA and Allegheny Newman Fellowship. He has also worked as an intern in the D.A.'s office. Joe says that the internship gave him a different view about society; "there are a lot of bad people out there."

Joe feels that he was recommended as an Outstanding Senior because he is a perfectionist. He feels that it is both a liability and an asset. He likes to do things well, and also likes to be involved in a lot of things. Joe has been both Alden and Doane Scholars, and received the Ruth Knights Award.

Joe is a Political Science major with his comp concerning social spending and affirmative action. Joe plans to marry Deb Quinn this summer. He will then attend Law School, and hopes to work for the government.

THE LATEST
GOSSIP About KAREN

Karen Crump is involved in many organizations across the campus. Karen is Co-President of the Association of Black Collegians, and was Chairperson of Black History Month. She is proud of the support that Black History Month received this year from both the college and the community. She says that it is very hard to get things organized over the break for the events, and is glad Rosa Parks agreed to come to Allegheny to speak. Karen says "it's definitely hard work, but the results are good." Karen is also a Resident Advisor in South Hall, a member of Volunteers in Support of Admissions, and on the Ad Hoc Trustee Committee on South Africa.

Karen feels that she was recommended as an Outstanding Senior because of her campus involvement. She says that her experiences with the administration and faculty of Allegheny have taught her a lot about herself and others. Karen is honored that she was asked to be on the Ad Hoc Committee; and is glad that many of her suggestions have been used wisely.

Karen is a joint Sociology and Political Science major. Her comp is on black ministries in politics. She plans to go on to law school, and then either government work or private practice.

THE LATEST GOSSIP about CHRIS

Chris Brussalis is Resident Director of Baldwin Hall. He views it as being a great and unique experience, which provides excellent opportunities. Chris has received ten varsity letters for his involvement in sports at Allegheny. He has been Captain of Cross Country, Track and Wrestling. Chris feels that the training and competition has provided him with an amazing education. Chris is a member of Phi Delta Theta fraternity, and loves the friendships and brotherhood that it provides. He is also an Advisor to the Council of Allegheny Student Leaders, which advises the College President on how the students feel about current issues.

Chris believes that he was recommended as an Outstanding Senior because people respect him. He is hardworking, an achiever, yet is also caring and kind-hearted. He also feels his service to the community helped in his recommendation, but does not regard himself as outstanding. He also has received the Ruth Williams Knight Award.

Chris is a Psychology major. His comp subject is the parasympathetic nervous system. He plans to attend Medical or Graduate School, and would like to be either a physician or in business management.

THE LATEST GOSSIP about OUTSTANDING SENIORS

What is an Outstanding Senior? An Outstanding Senior is a good student who goes beyond just academics, and pursues extracurricular excellence as well. All seniors are outstanding in their own way, but a few have stood above the rest. Several of those have been featured in the preceding pages.

During the search for Outstanding Seniors, faculty, administration and selected student leaders were asked to nominate the students that they believed were outstanding. From those nominations, the staff of the Kaldron had a hard time choosing just ten seniors. We would like to recognize the following students as Outstanding Seniors as well, even though it was not possible to spotlight them all.

Jeff Payne — For his work in the Computer Science Department and with the wrestling team.

Lisa Morris — For her skills in Communication Arts and her work as a Resident Advisor.

Tom Pendleton — For his work in Economics and as Allegheny Student Government President.

Carolyn Holzer — For her involvement as Resident Director of Ravine and in the Council of Allegheny Student Leaders.

Karl Weiss — For his skills in Philosophy and as a Resident Director of South.

Corinne Lindquist — For her work in Psychology and as the Campus Center Cabinet Manager.

Brian Boyer — For his skills in Computer Science, Wind Symphony, Civic Orchestra and Wind Ensemble.

Megan McArdle — For her involvement in Cheerleading and the Kaldron.

Brice Kirkendall — For his skills in Economics and as General Manager of WARC.

Susie Meyers — For her skills in Track, Cross Country and Orchesis.

Larry Rosenblum — For his work in Jazz Band, Wind Symphony and Wind Ensemble.

Andrea Mulrain — For her involvement in the Mathematics Department and in WARC.

Bud Santora — For his work as a Resident Director of Caflish and as Chairman of the Honor Committee.

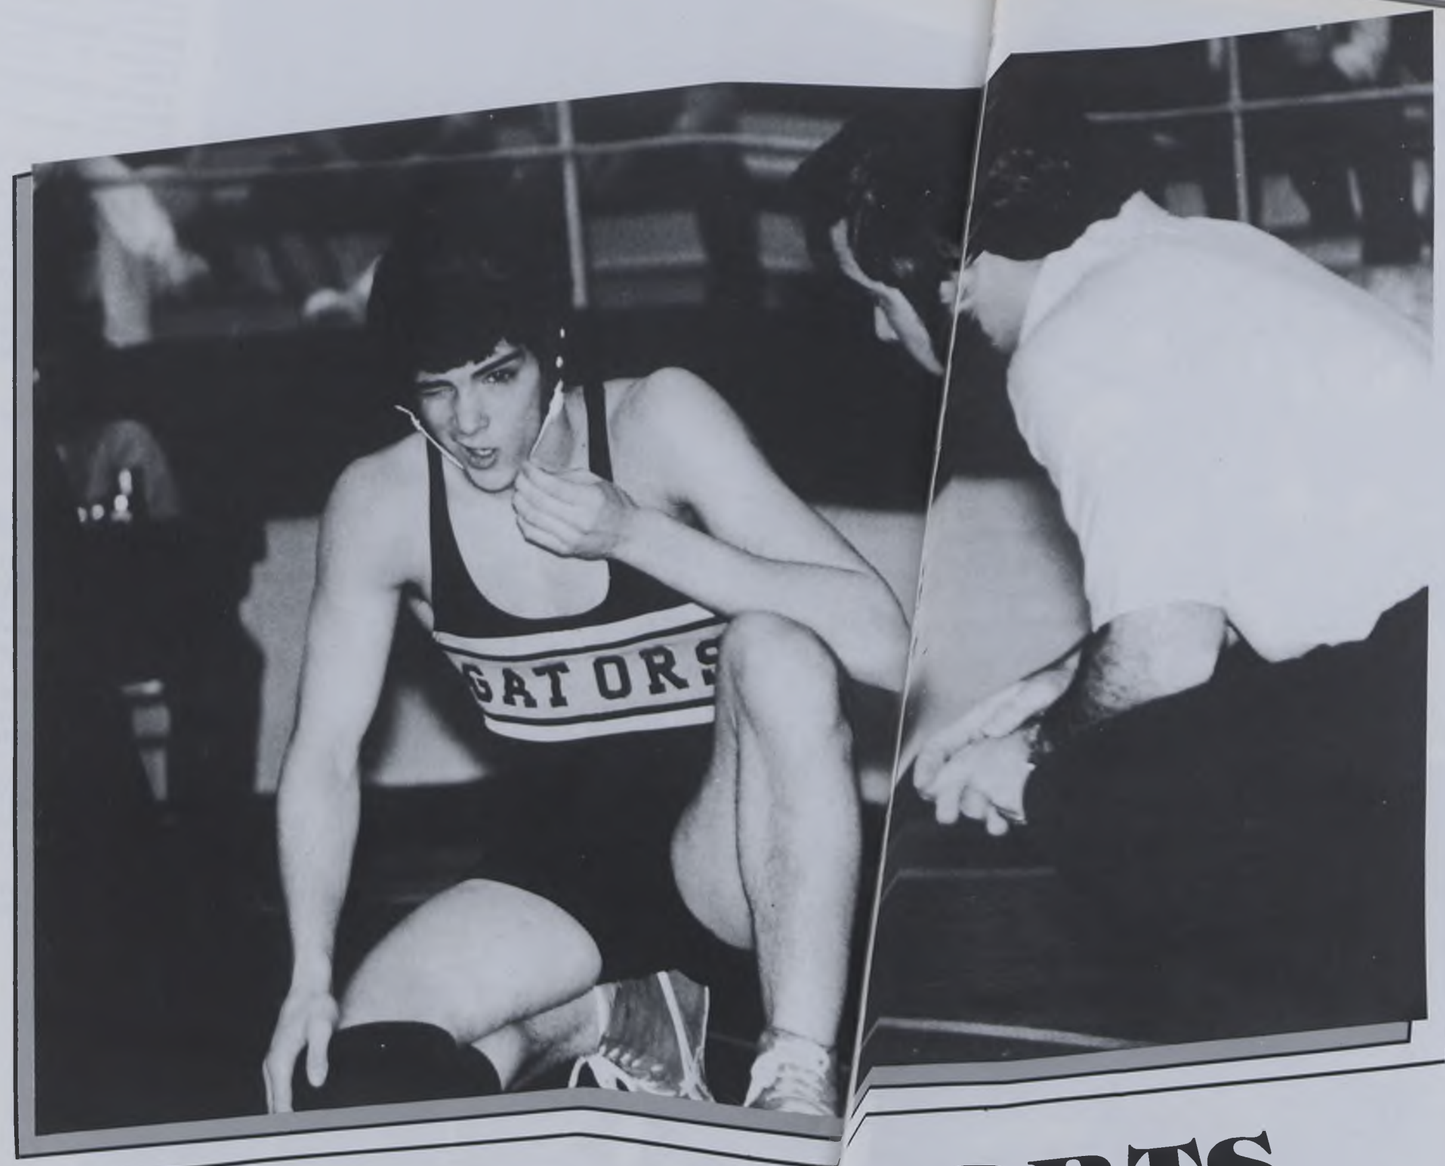
Melinda Mitchell — For her involvement in Computer Science and the Campus Center.

Rick Dohr — For his skills in Music and his involvement in the production of Jesus Christ Superstar.

Rhonda Moore — For her skills in Chemistry and Soccer.

Rob Chernitsky — For his work in the Mathematics Department, the Football team, and as Intramural Supervisor.

Heidi Wiederkehr — For her skills in English, Basketball and Track and Field.



SPORTS

To be a successful athlete is a very challenging goal. It takes practice and lots of hard work, as well as self-confidence. It even takes patience and a little humor. When you combine that with outside activities and a full study load, it is demanding. Allegheny is proud of its athletes who give a piece of themselves to take up the challenge.

GATORS

IN THE TRENCHES. Offensive lineman Brian Currie looks for someone to block. The job of an offensive lineman isn't a pretty one but helps the offense move the ball.

HARD RUNNER. Running back Ed Taylor (33) was a second team ALL-CONFERENCE selection as he complimented team-mate Curtis Brown in the Gator backfield.

TAKING A BREATHER. Quarterback Ron Piso gets some refreshment while resting a sore right knee sprained in the Oberlin game.

Winning Season

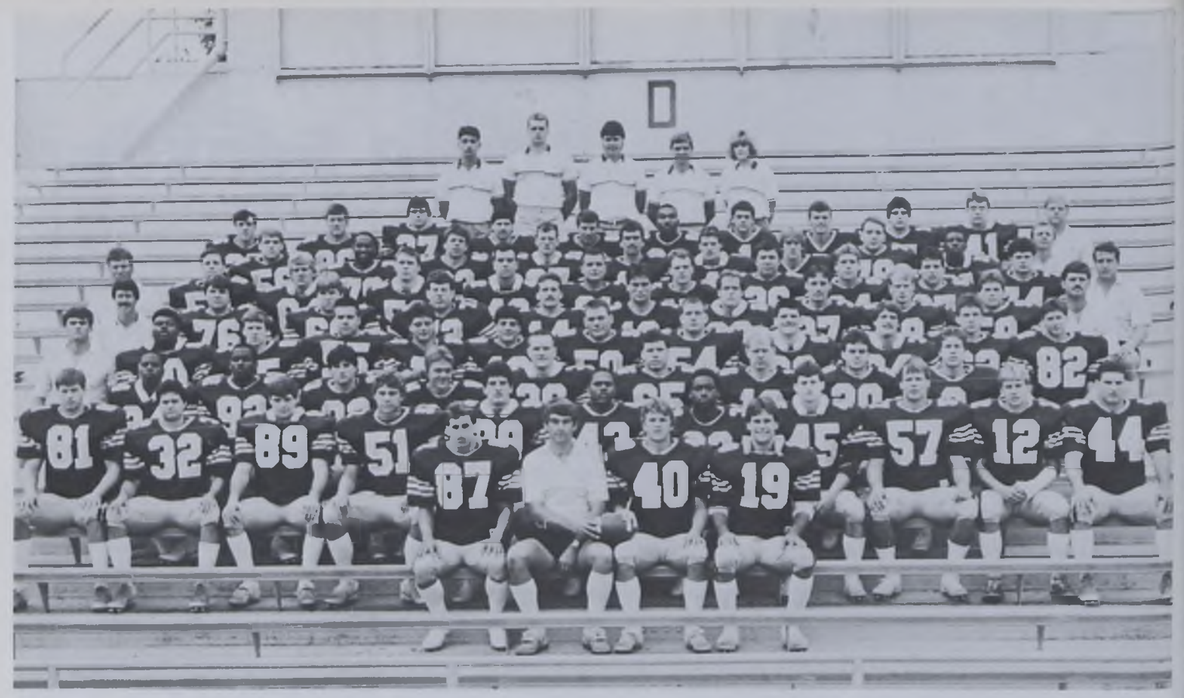
Rumor has it that the 1986-87 Gator football team had a winning season. It was no rumor. The Gators had their first winning season since 1978, finishing 6-4 overall and 4-2 in the NCAC gaining third place. They did it with some great and timely defense. The kind that makes a football team great. The Gators shut out Oberlin, Wesleyan, Thiel and Washington & Lee. Leading the defensive thrust was ALL-CONFERENCE and Honorable Mention ALL-AMERICAN lineman Mike Parker. His stellar play also gathered him the Clair Jackson Outstanding Lineman of the Year. Defensive backs Dave Simko and Ron Schumacher also played tough with five interceptions between them. Another back, John Giliberto, had a steady year.

Even though good defense will keep you in the game, you need offensive people to put the td's on the board. The Gators were blessed with two outstanding running backs in Curtis Brown and Ed Taylor. They rushed for 804 and 747 yards respectively. They also combined for 19 touchdowns. Opening the holes for these big guys were linemen like Mike Mates, Brian Currie, Tom Brown and Mike Mulhair. Rounding out the offense was receiver Jim Stiefvater who caught passes good for 226 yards. Many of these players will be lost to graduation and will be hard to replace. Another senior lost to graduation and the anchor of the linebacking corp, John Gudel, will be sorely missed. But look for the Gators to come back strong, they've gotten a taste of a great winning season to inspire them.

OFF TO THE RACES. Slashing his way through the line of scrimmage, Curtis Brown makes another sizeable gain. He led the Gators in rushing and touchdowns.

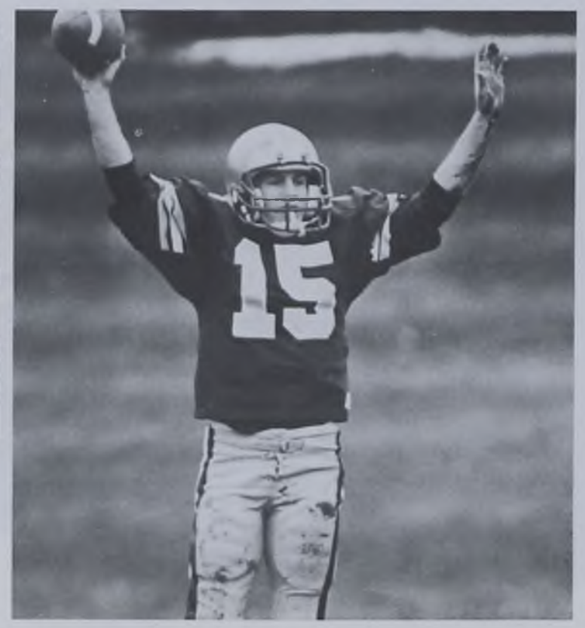
LOOKING FOR PAYDIRT. Senior wide end Jim Stiefvater (87) tries to elude a couple of defenders after catching a pass.

TAKING THE HANDOFF. Quarterback Ron Piso hands the ball off to running back Jim Lazor (28) who prepares to hit the line looking for an open hole.



1986-87 ALLEGHENY FOOTBALL TEAM. Row one: Co-captain Jim Stiefvater, Coach Peter Vaas, Co-captain Ron Schumacher, Co-captain Dave Simko, Row two: John Lehman, Dan Andrews, John McNelis, John Godel, Chris Minnie, Curtis Brown, Eddie Taylor, Rob Chernitsky, Lex Winans, Shawn Wolfinger, Bill Ullmark. Row three: Chris Edmondson, John Lewis, George Zozos, Phil Tuttle, Scott Grava, Dennis Stanhope, Brian Antal, Ron Piso, Jim Milani. Row four: Coach Rankin, Mike Parker, Paul Sullivan, Kurt Moledor, Ray Konopka, John Giliberto, Brian Currie, Mike Mates, Tim Trova, Paul Phibbs, Mike Graham, Bobby Rocks. Row five: Coach O'Keefe, Doug Cabral, Brian Keene, Tom Brow, Doug Woods, John Rosa, Jeff Lazor, Rich Tencza, Scott Phillips, Matt Morano, Coach Haynes. Row six: Coach Leipheimer, Brian Skaps, Tom Hancock, John Ellermeyer, Rob Harbert, Mike Kichi, Doug Carr, Sean Ward, Ken Deininger, Mike Mulhair, Tony Parks, Coach Fraser. Row seven: Rich Scheleme, Eric Crisp, Mike LaCarte, Kyle Lengaver, Bob Klug, Mike Gesing, Chris Wilkinson, Aaron Reynolds, Avis Andower, Coach Radulski. Row eight: David Brown, Tom Gebhart, Ron Klinefelter, John Vesparnia, Jon Chaplowe, Bill Moore, Steve Roux, John Louge, Scott Ferro, Dale Yake, Coach Diogurio. Row nine: Donnie Short, Charlie Smith, Jamie Plunkett, Joe Tartaglione, Tara Lawrence.

STUDYING THE ACTION. Coach Peter Vaas watches intently from the sidelines as the action of the play develops.



SIX POINTS!! Doug Carr signals with his arms another Gator touchdown.

ON THE PHONE. Tom Gebhart gets some help from the coaches up in the press box. They often see things that the players cannot.

MEAN MACHINE. The heat of the battle has Lex Winans looking like he's ready to do bodily harm to the opposition.

MUD AND GUTS. Driving through the sloppy mud, lineman Mike Parker resembles a charging animal. He received Honorable Mention ALL-AMERICAN.

AIRBORNE! Pam Michael is thrown into the air by Brian McAllister and Sharon Trkula. Jumps and tough routines require great balance.

NUMERO UNO. Senior Megan McArdle signals the familiar number one sign after a Gator touchdown.

GETTING READY. Pam Michael stands in the hands of Sharon Trkula and Brian McAllister anticipating her jump into the air and perfect landing.

GIVING IT THEIR ALL. Cheerleaders McArdle, Trkula and Daugherty go wild with enthusiasm before the football is snapped.

ENTHUSIASM

Let's hear it for the Gators! Among the most ardent and best of all Gator fans are the cheerleaders. These dedicated men and women support and encourage the Gators in all kinds of weather and through all kinds of winning or losing seasons. For the first time in a couple of years, men were added to the squad. This provided the cheerleaders the opportunity to do more acrobatic routines. Hard work and practice helped the squad to a third place finish in the tough WVU tournament. A cheerleader must maintain a GPA of at least 2.0 in order to compete. This must be done while attending summer camp, practicing during the week, and travelling with the various athletic teams.

The squad needs strength, flexibility, coordination and the willingness to back the team. During football season, the cheerleaders practice five days a week for two hours. Saturday, for three hours, they cheer at the game.

Travelling time and overnight trips must also be scheduled in. Basketball season offers two games per week. Not only is the schedule a grueling part of the routine, the squad must keep up their studies and learn new routines and cheers.

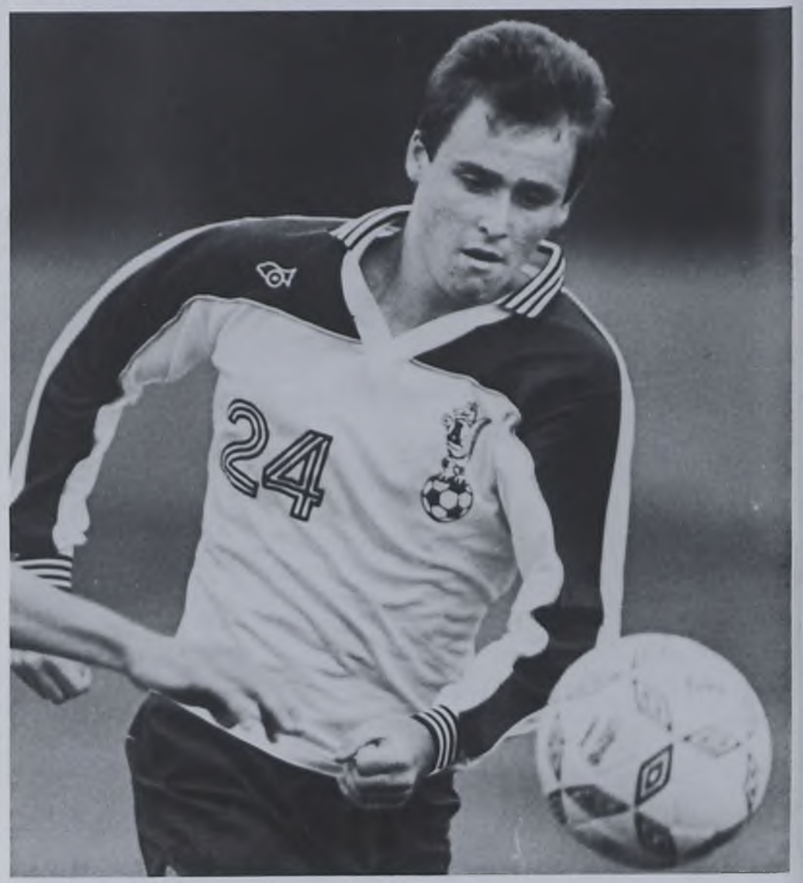
The life of a cheerleader is a tough, competitive one. But they love the Gators and the excitement that perhaps they had a hand in creating. They build enthusiasm. GO GATORS!!

GO, FIGHT, WIN! Sharon Trkula (top) clenches her fists as she cheers the Gators on.

CROWD PLEASERS. Jeri Love, Heather Durkin, Megan McArdle and Pam Michael (left) fire the crowd up in an attempt for some noise.

POISED. With arm in the air, Erin Daugherty lets the boys on the field know that the cheerleaders are behind them.

1986-87 ALLEGHENY MEN'S SOCCER TEAM. Front row: D. Bryson, D. Hirsch, P. Huibers, D. Russell, N. Heyniger, G. Sprott, D. Solomon, T. Mauser. Middle row: Coach M. Goldberg, D. Harper, S. Koch, B. Colby, J. Morrison, S. Allen, R. Keefer, B. Grady, D. McCaleb. Back row: S. Grosjean, J. Gallear, J. Miller, B. Taylor, T. Richardson, J. Maruca, B. Perri, J. Steiger, Ass't coach J. Groff.



USING YOUR HEAD. Senior co-captain Dave Hirsh uses his head to keep the ball from his opponent.

DETERMINED. Gator Jim Gallaer hustles after a loose ball.

A BALLET OF SORTS. Going high up in an attempt to control the ball is Bryce Colby.

Very Competitive

Competition has a way of bringing out the best in all sports and the 1986-87 version of Gator soccer was no exception. After finishing 3-10-4 the previous year, the squad ran to an 9-8-2 mark overall and fourth in the NCAC with a mark of 2-4.

Coach Goldberg and his assistant Jeff Groff were pleased with the team's performance. "We appear to have turned the corner on the revival of the soccer program," Coach Goldberg stated. "After a long period of not being respected, admiration is now being shown." With their goals in sight, the sport has indeed become more competitive.

Leading the Gators this past season were ALL-CONFERENCE players Ryan Keefer, David Hirsch and Greg Sprott.

Sophomore Keefer was the team's offensive leader with Senior Hirsch the defensive leader for the team. Senior goalkeeper Nick Heyniger was named the MVP and finished with a 1.6 goals per game avg. He recorded a shutout against Denison University to be named the NCAC Player of the week. Senior Dan Bryson was awarded the Bob Barndollar '64 Memorial Award for team leadership and Freshman John Carroll was named Rookie of the Year.

Also having exceptional seasons were Junior Nick Heil and Sophomores Shawn Allen and Bryce Colby.

ALL ALONE. Outdistancing her opponent, the Gators leading scorer Nellie Springer races for the net. Nellie also led the NCAC in scoring and selected 1st team All-American.

WORKING FOR POSITION. Denise Petrossi (2) tries to outmaneuver the defender while keeping the ball in front of her to set something up.

GREAT DEFENSE! Goalkeeper Rhonda Moore blasts the ball upfield and away from the Gator's end of the field. She had 7 shutouts this year.

Champions Again

Undefeated and NCAC Champions. The women's soccer team was just awesome. They racked up a perfect 12-0 season in the NCAC and finished 15-4-1 overall. This was good enough to be ranked 12th in the nation.

They did it with a good blend of offense and defense. The offense, led by Nellie Springer's 26 goals, outscored the opposition 72 to 14. Credit the defense and goalkeepers Rhonda Moore and Sally Naser. 11 shutouts were recorded by the pair. Other offensive stars for the team were Sophomore Georganne Morin and Freshman Denise Petrossi who scored 16 and 15 goals respectively.

Nellie Springer was selected as the team's MVP and was 1st team All-NCAC, 1st team All-Regional, and 1st team National All-American. And she is only a sophomore.

Teammate Georganne Morin also was selected 1st team All-NCAC, All-Regional and National All-American. Team members Ellie Pennington, Amy Miltenberger, Kathy Kuhar, Susan Scudder were all selected to the 1st team All-NCAC.

Kuhar was also named to the ADIDAS Academic All-American team. Coach John Wilcher was selected NCAC coach of the year. He was assisted by Rick Creehan. Coach Wilcher had this to say about next year's team, "We have a good nucleus of players returning and I really expect bigger and better things, the team has the potential for additional national prestige."

Any way you look at it, the women's soccer team has arrived. Who knows what the future will hold?

SOLID PERFORMER. Georganne Morin (far left) prepares to kick the ball. She did a lot of that this year with 16 goals and 10 assists.

ABOVE. Kathy Baldauf (20) heads for the goal with a Geneva player in hot pursuit. Only a Freshman, Kathy looks like a promising player in the years to come.

ON THE BALL. Sue Scudder works the ball downfield. Sue scored 5 goals and had 5 assists for a total of 15 points this year.

INTENSE COMPETITOR. Watching the action take place, Allegheny's leading scorer Nellie Springer looks as if she's had a tough game.

HUSTLIN'. Denise Petrossi gets set to kick the ball running full stride. In soccer, speed and agility are essential attributes.

GOAL! Kathy Kuhar (27) smiles broadly after scoring a goal. Kuhar was named to the All-American Adidas Academic team.

DYNAMIC DUO. Nellie Springer hugs teammate Georganne Morin (31) after another victory. The two combined for 42 goals on the year and were both named to the National All-American squad.

HIGH FIVES. Denise Petrossi (2) gives her teammate Georganne Morin (31) the traditionally "high five" after scoring a goal.

BLOCKED. Goalkeeper Sally Naser reaches out to block another shot. In 11 games she gave up only 3 goals and registered four shutouts.

Endurance Run

Cross Country is a sport of tremendous endurance and stamina. The runners have to pace themselves over a two mile course while braving the harshest of elements. The 1986-87 women's squad had a very good year. Not only did they win the Canisius and Buffalo State Invitationals, they grabbed the NCAC Championships!

On the men's side of things, Seniors Chris Keim and Chris Brussalis had outstanding seasons. Keim, a co-captain with Brussalis was named to the All-Regional Team with his 18th place finish among the top 20 individuals named to the squad.

TAKING THE SHOT. Julie Bradley (10) goes high up to return a volley.

Respectable

A new coach, a young team, a very respectable season. Under the guidance of new coach Bridget Sheehan, the Lady Volleyball Gators posted a 25-13 record. The amazing thing was that nine freshmen were on the squad.

The team placed in every one of their tournaments and finished second in the NCAC. The Lady Gators' talent was reflected in three players picked for the All-Conference team, Penny Hess (First team), Carol Frederick and Susan Plyler (Second teams). Hess was captain of the Gator team and led the conference in blocking statistics despite missing a quarter of the season. She posted 111 solo blocks. Frederick led the team in kills with 220. Plyler recorded a whopping 96% in serving efficiency.

Next year should be exciting for the Gator volleyball team. Of nine freshmen, three sophomores and two juniors, only one player is not to return.

Coach Sheehan is also actively recruiting high school players to round out the squad and increase their competition level for various starting positions.

Some goals for next year are to win and improve offensively. The Gator schedule for next year includes a home tournament, 18 competitions overall and seven home events.

The schedule, consisting of mainly Division I and II schools is much tougher, but the Lady Gators are up to the challenge.

VOLLEYBALL

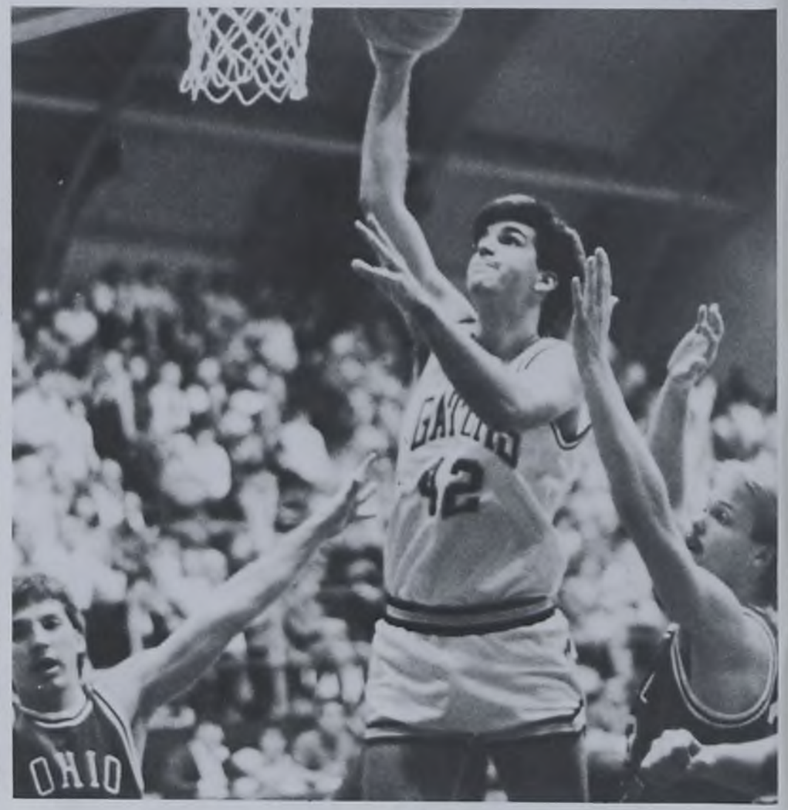
Volleyball is a popular team game that is simple enough to be played as general exercise, yet is demanding enough to be played as a competitive sport.

Although not yet a sport at Allegheny, volleyball is one club sport that is on the upswing and many feel that soon it will become part of the athletic program at Allegheny.

The game is played in more than 60 countries and by more than 50,000,000 people. Perhaps the influence of the women's volleyball program at Allegheny will bring about a men's team soon.

CONCENTRATION IS THE KEY when shooting a jump shot. Marcus Amos hit this one and totaled a season high 14 points against Wooster College.

PASSING OFF FOR AN ASSIST against Oberlin, Marcus Amos goes high up in the air. The Gators downed Oberlin in the NCAC tilt, 89-75.



GOOD DEFENSE is displayed by Garret Daggett as he blocks another shot. Daggett blocked 54 shots on the year and led the team in rebounds.

SLAM DUNK. Leading Gator scorer Brian Stadnik jams this one in against Wesleyan. Brian hit 22 points in the 96-94 overtime victory.

OFF THE BACKBOARD. Rich Seidel uses the board for two. He was second in points averaging 14.0.

Awesome Display

The game see-sawed back and forth as the Gators battled Ohio Wesleyan for the NCAC basketball crown. The teams took turns exchanging the lead but the Gators went into the locker room at halftime down 38-30.

Wesleyan widened the margin to 15 points at 8:40 of the third period. But then, the comeback started! Three straight three point shots shaved the margin to 81-79. Junior playmaker Terry Gray hit for two with 42 seconds remaining and sent the game into overtime.

Allegheny took a six point lead and never looked back. When the smoke cleared the Gators were NCAC champs! The title enabled the Gators to receive a bid for the NCAA Division III regional playoffs where they were dispatched in two games by Franklin & Marshall and Scranton.

Even though the season had ended abruptly, the Gators finished the season with a mark of 22-8. Senior Brian Stadnik led the team with 563 points good for an 18.7 average per game. Junior Rich Seidel had a great year too. He hit for 420 points with an average of 14.0.

Mike Jones and Garret Daggett had stellar performances with averages of 12.8 each. Daggett led the squad in blocked shots with 54 and in rebounds with almost 8 per game. Junior playmaker Terry Gray led in assists with 194 and steals with 57. Marcus Amos and Sean Snaith played in all 30 games and contributed heavily to the very successful season.

The Gators also won the Marine Bank-Gator Classic with wins over Hiram and Westminster.

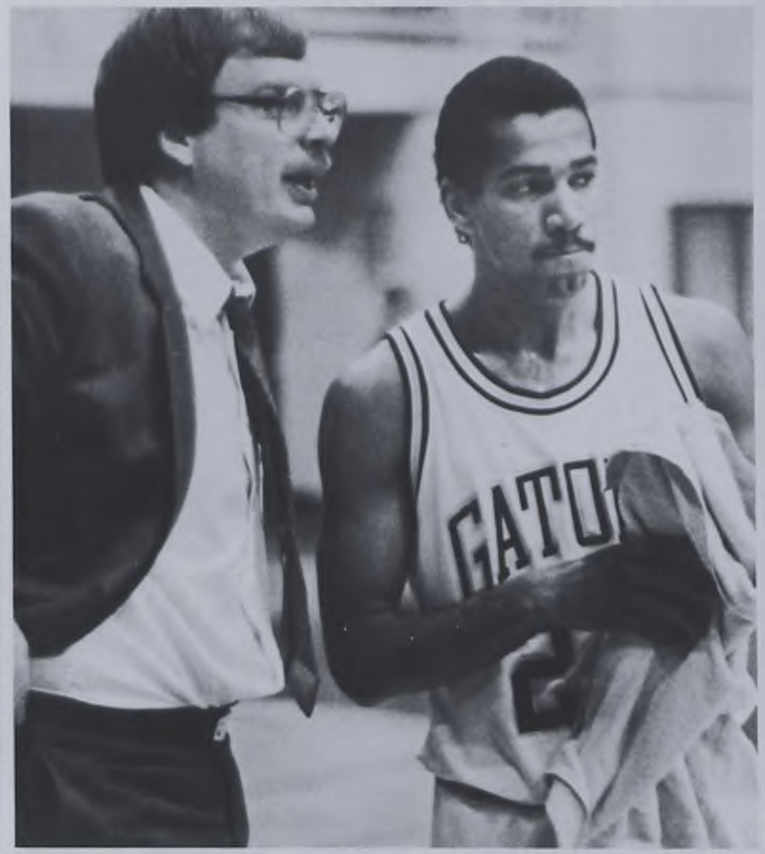
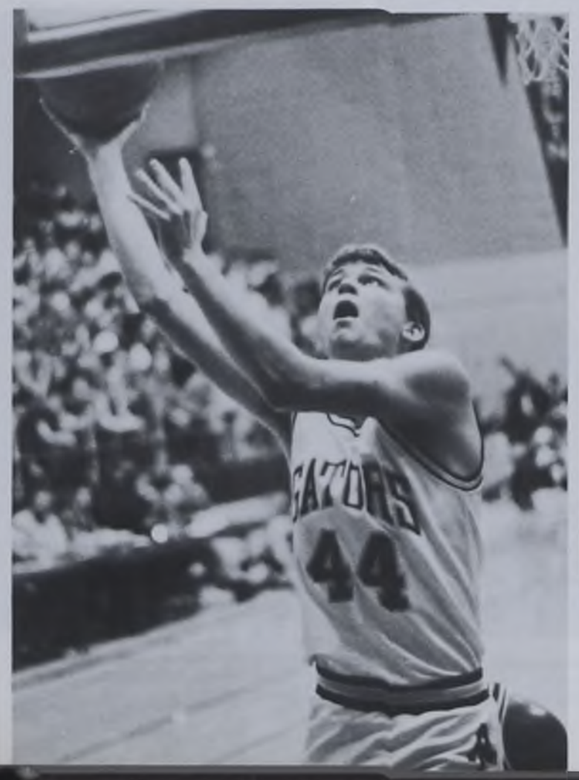
HIGH ABOVE THE CROWD. Playmaker Junior Terry Gray drives the lane for an easy layup against Westminster. Gray led the team in assists and steals during the season.



WORDS OF ADVICE. Coach John Reynders talks over strategy with Terry Gray. Gray brings the ball down the court for the Gators and sets up the plays.

SHOWING HIS STYLE. Senior Brian Stadnik shows great form as he attempts a jump shot. Stadnik led all Gator scorers with an 18.7 points per game average.

MOVE IT AROUND! Playmaker Terry Gray gets set to pass the ball to Marcus Amos (22). Moving the ball around allows a team to get a man open for a good shot.

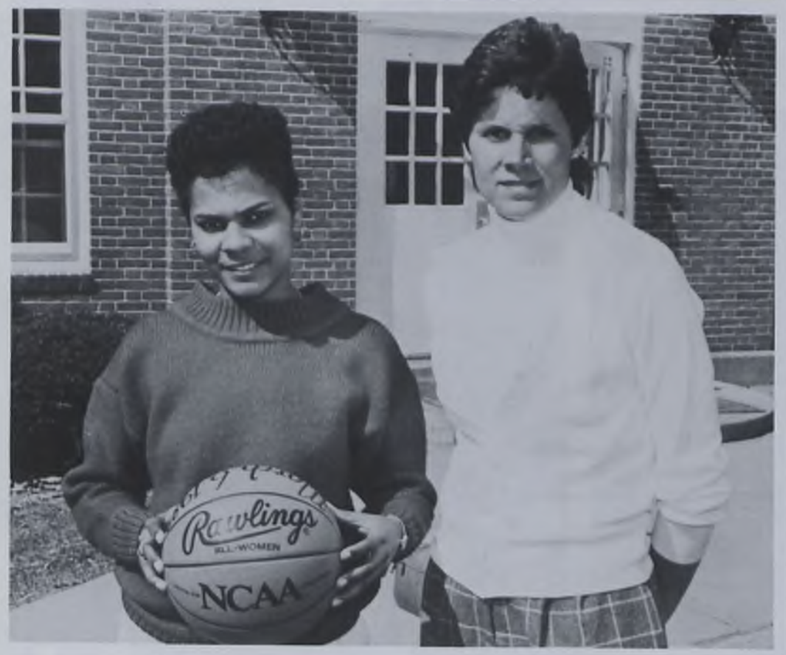


HIGH FIVES. Mike Jones gets a few congratulatory high fives from his team-mates as he is introduced to the crowd.

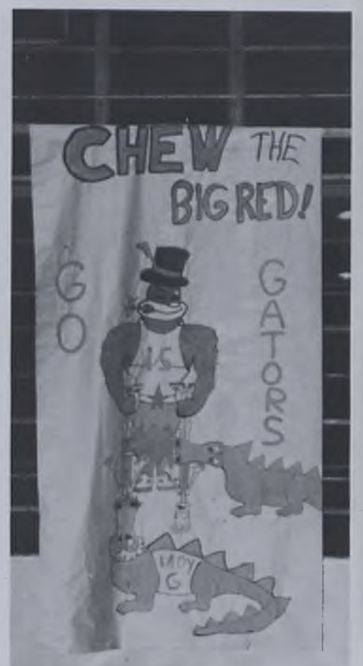
DEUCE! Sean Snaith hits for two points. Sean was a key player off the bench for the Gators, seeing action in all thirty games.

FOULED! Leading scorer Lisa Smith had the ball stripped away as she tried to score. The play resulted in a foul.

OVER THE TOP. High above her foe, Carol Frederick hits for two points. She came off the bench in 25 games to play consistently.



NEW RECORD SETTER. Lisa Smith poses with coach Ronda Seagraves holding the ball with which she set a new Gator scoring record.



GOOD FORM. Heidi Wiederkehr shoots a foul shot against Denison, one of her 14 points. She was second in scoring for the year.

In a row

Even the very best of teams hopes to repeat as champions of anything. The women's basketball team did it again — they won the NCAC championship for the third year in a row.

Their record for the year was 24-3. Even so, they dreamed of only one thing — winning the NCAA Regional Tournament with hopes of becoming national champs. The dream fell through as they were eliminated by tough Kean College 87-68. The cagers bounced back to beat Capital in the consolation game and ended the season with a mark of 25-4. There were many reasons for the successful campaign.

Allegheny's leading scorer was Lisa Smith who led the team in steals as well. She set a single season scoring record with 417 points. Other players who had great seasons were Missy Vogel who led the team with 8.9 rebounds per game, Heidi Wiederkehr with 34 blocked shots and tremendous defensive play, and Suzanne Helfant who led the team in assists with 172. Karen Qubish, Liz Bona and Cindy Kyler all played key roles in helping the Lady Gators. The team outshot their opponents with a 74.7 points per game average to 58.2. They also averaged 10 more rebounds per game than their foes.

SIGN OF THE TIMES. The Lady Gators got a lot of support from their fans during the season. It helped fire them up to become NCAC Champs!

ABOUT TO PASS. Leading Gator rebounder Missy Vogel looks for an open man against Case Western Reserve. A senior, she will be missed.

LOTS OF POINTS. Heidi Wiederkehr holds the ball with which she scored her 1,000th career point. With her is Coach Rhonda Seagraves.

BATTLIN'. Heidi Exline and Heidi Vossler (34) battle for control of the ball against Denison. The Gators won 78-41.

SURROUNDED. Cathy Whitaker tries to get by two opponents who have her well guarded. (14) Liz Bona helps out.

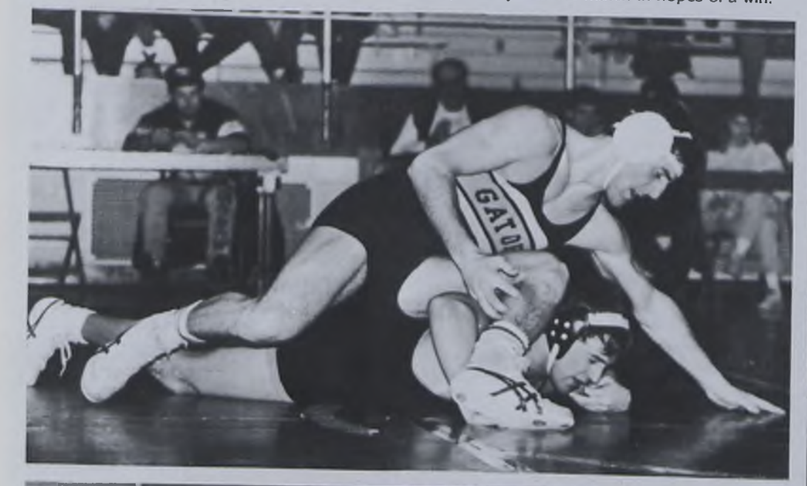
FAST BREAK. Playmaker Suzanne Helfant races down the court on a fast break. Suzanne was named to the First Team All-NCAC.

JUMPER. Shooting from the baseline, Debbie Macejka (32) goes high up while Heidi Vossler (34) gets into rebound position.

SENIOR SPIRIT Senior Gators Lisa Smith, Heidi Wiederkehr, Karen Gubish, Missy Vogel and Coach Seagraves, Gubish was All-NCAC this year.

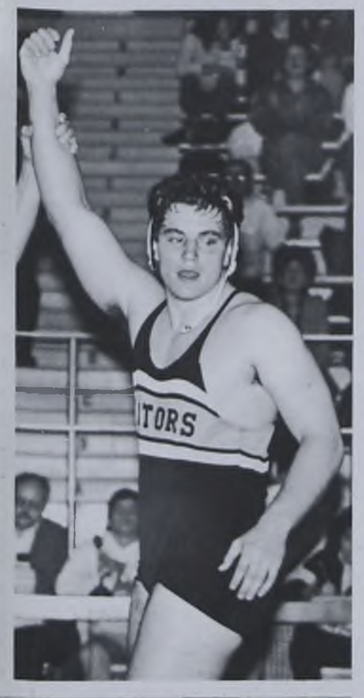
IN CONTROL. Senior Sean Carmody tries to sag back on his competitor in order to set up his next move. He was the only senior on the team.

A WATCHFUL EYE. Coach Mitch Roe intently keeps an eye on the match in hopes of a win.



BACK POINTS. Leading Gator wrestler Jim Cessna picks up back points en route to a pin. His season mark of 23-10 was tops on the team.

IT'S OVER! A weary Rich Kaliszewski has his hand raised after winning his match.



Up and Down

The 1986-87 season was one of ups and downs for the Gator grapplers. The team did not pull together at the same time and wound up finishing 5-5 on the year. Injuries at the 134 and 142 pound classes also contributed to the average season. It wasn't all bad however as the team finished in the top half of all their seven tournaments.

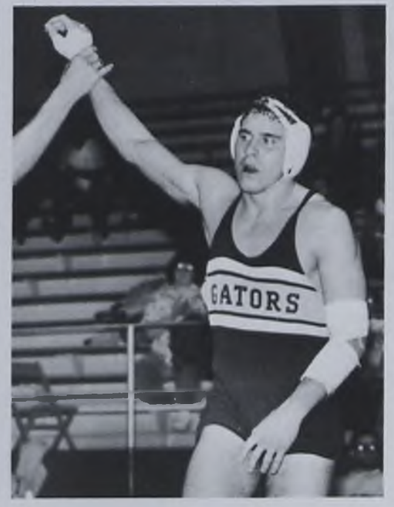
In fact, they even won one, copping the Hunter College Invitational in January. The best overall wrestler on the squad was 126 pounder Jim Cessna. He placed in the top three in every tournament and finished third in the regional qualifier. His mark of 23-10 did not get him a wild card bid to the national championships but it was a good year for him.

Other Gator wrestlers who participated in the regional tournament were Chris Weiland at 142. Bryan Micucci at 150, Matt Mackey at 158, Sean Carmody at 167, Rich Kaliszewski at 190 and Shane Fisher at heavyweight.

The wrestling team has a lot to look forward to next year as they will only lose Carmody to graduation and injured wrestlers Tony Pendolino and Don Burdick will return, hopefully healthy.

We've got about four or five fresh recruits, including Jim Cervone from Meadville at 190 or heavyweight," Roe remarked. "We've got the people to help us next year."

Their schedule calls for more home matches next year and the crowd support is always a big plus.



ANOTHER WIN. Bryan Micucci gets congratulations after defeating his Hiram College opponent.

AWAITING THE OUTCOME. Matt Mackey and Sean Carmody watch the action unfold on the mat in front of them.

LOOKING FOR ADVICE. After being rolled off the mat, Bryan Micucci looks toward the bench for some advice before going back to the center of the mat to start again.

CLOSE TO A PIN. Matt Mackey pulls the arm of his opponent trying to get some leverage and put more weight on him. Macky recorded the pin. In wrestling, a pin is when you place the shoulders to the mat.

CONCENTRATION. Randy DeYulio (right) works on his feet for a takedown. The object is to work your opponent for an opening to get him off his feet and score two points for a takedown.

GETTING POSITION. Gator Brian Shea attempts to "step and hook" the leg of his competitor. Brian's move was in vain as he was caught off balance and suffered a takedown.

Records Fall

Eight Allegheny swim record fell during the National Championships this year. The men's team placed 14th out of 75 competing teams and the women's team finished 11th in the nation.

Seven Allegheny women went to Nationals and all seven were named ALL-AMERICAN. Freshman Marci Hennessey swept the meet with dazzling performances in all her events, including three school records, five All-American awards, and the NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP in the 100 yard backstroke. She became the first woman athlete at Allegheny to win a National Championship. Senior Heather Zinn swam to a 7th place All-American new school record in the 100 yard butterfly. Tammy Bachman set a new school record in the 100 yard breaststroke. New school records were also set by Zinn, Bachman, Hennessey and Amy Relyea in the 200 and 400 yard relays.

For the men, Sophomore Pat Stewart won All-American honors in the 100 yard butterfly, 200 yard butterfly and the 200 yard individual medley which also was a new Allegheny record.

The 400 yard medley team of Pat, John Weyman, Jay Gardiner and Dave Yezbak placed eighth to gain All-American status. All in all it was indeed a Championship performance by all.

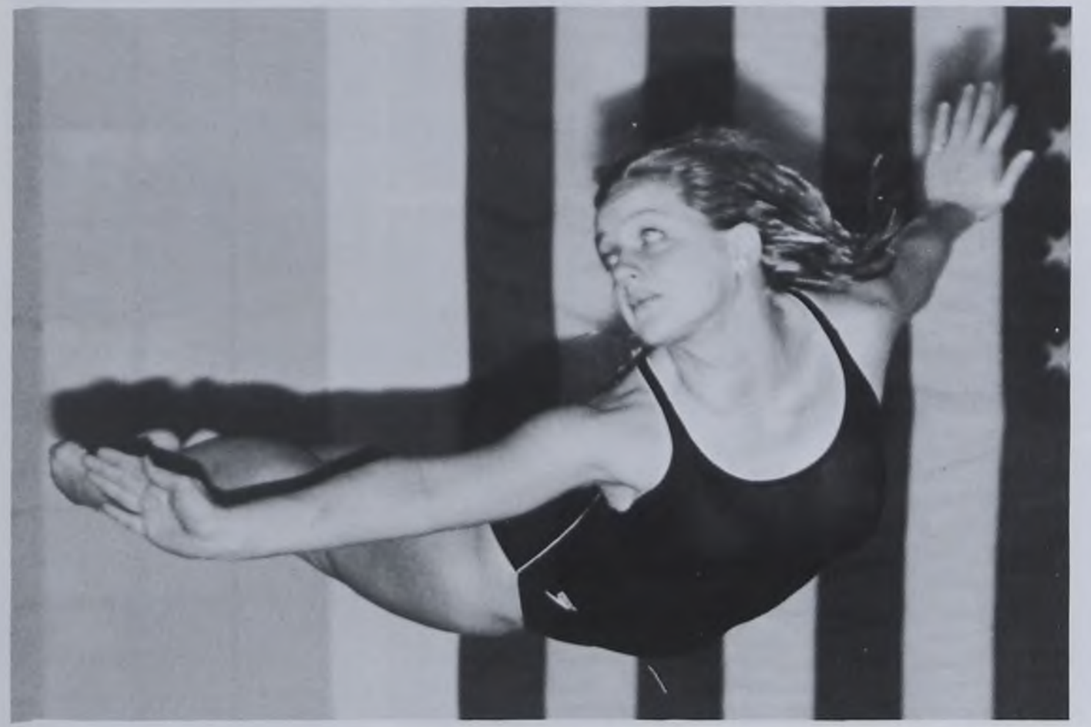
All-American Divers

Junior Keith Lazarcheff isn't one to brag when it comes to his diving talents. But brag he should. Keith placed second in the NCAA one meter dive and fifth in the three meter dive to cop his sixth All-American title. He also won the NCAC three meter dive this year.

"I thought that I had prepared well throughout the year," said Lazarcheff. "I had wanted to do better than last year, but equal is okay too." With one more year to dive at Allegheny perhaps he can do better, but so far he can rest on his achievements. Freshman Paul Svetz placed 23rd in the three meter diving event and his future looks promising.

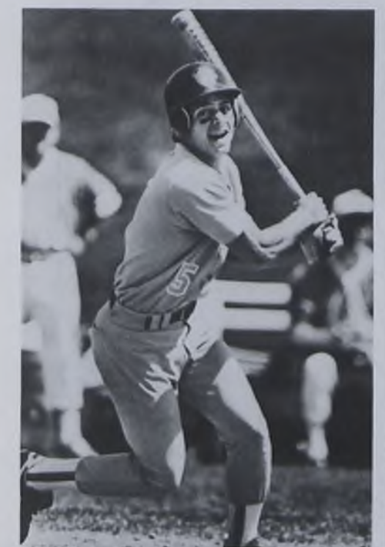
On the women's side of the meet, Donna Killion did her thing again. She earned two All-American awards and set two school records with 16th place in the three meter dive and 13th in the one meter dive. "I was happy considering I was out with a broken hand for six weeks," Killion said. "I only had one and a half weeks to prepare, but Coach Riggs told me to do my best and helped me tremendously; without him I wouldn't have been prepared." But she was and the team as a whole finished with a great NCAA tournament. Todd Sterlitz, also a member of the team thinks that a better team attitude was a big difference.



TWISTING. Junior All-American diver Keith Lazarcheff shows his award winning style as he twists into a forward dive. Keith won All-American status for the sixth time.

GRACEFUL. Women's team member Jeanine Krall seems to glide in the air effortlessly. Form and poise count in diving and concentration is critical.

LONG GONE. Freshman Bill Manno follows through on his swing. Bill hit his first collegiate home run in a 10-1 rout of Kenyon College.



THE WAITING GAME. Sophomore John Retton patiently awaits his turn to bat. John hit for a .353 average and led in hits with 46.

THE PERFECT SWING. Junior Charlie Smith uncoils on a thigh high fastball.

LETTING IT FLY. Tim "Buzz" Bruzdewicz fires a pitch towards the plate. Tim set an all-time Gator record with 17 strikeouts in one game.

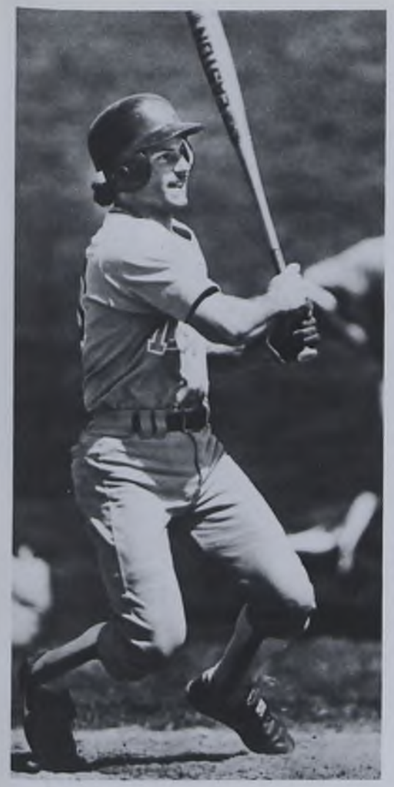
Won 30, Lost 15 Overall
Won 11, Lost 7 NCAC



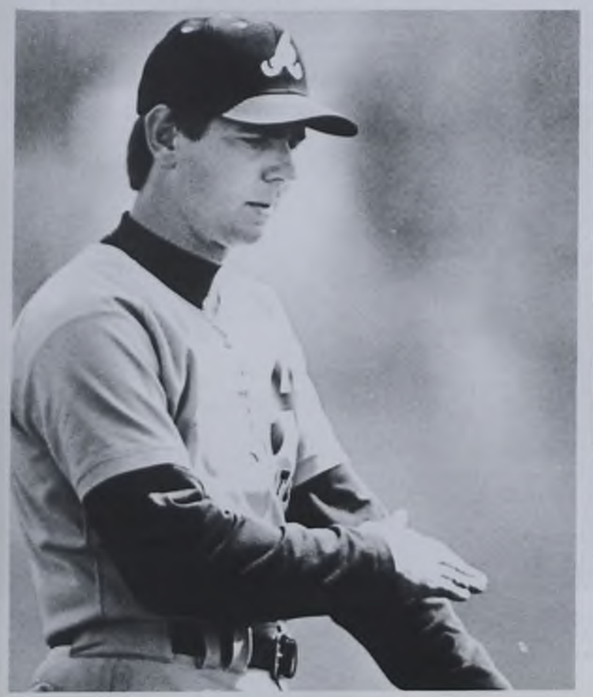
HOT HITTER. Jim Saitta was the hottest hitter with a batting average of .464.

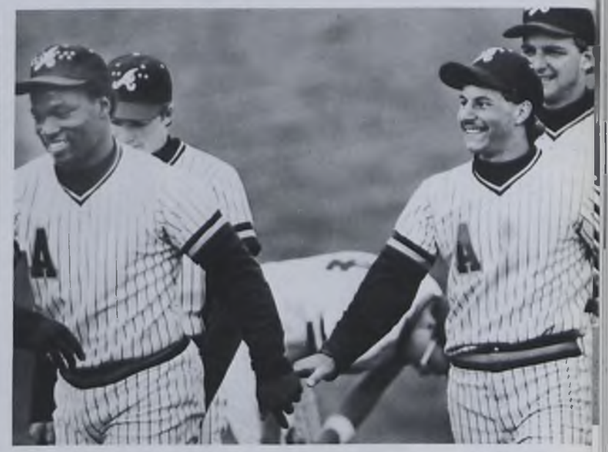
Just Missed

Streaky. That was a good one word description of the 1986-87 Gator baseball club. The team put together win streaks of 9 and 10 games to finish 30-15 overall.

Even these impressive streaks weren't enough to win the NCAC as the Gators lost three of their final four games to Wooster to finish at 12-6 in Division play. There were some memorable events that made the year a great one for the team. Lefthander Tim Bruzdewicz won 9 games and threw 4 shutouts. Tim also set a new Allegheny record with 17 strikeouts against Denison and capped his dream season with a no-hitter against Kenyon. Steve Greenberg was the other pitching ace with 8 wins to his credit.

The big reason for the success of the team was in their bats. The Gators averaged almost 7 runs per game. Jim Saitta led the team with a .464 batting average. Ed Taylor belted 7 homers with 30 rbi's and a .327 average. Charlie Smith knocked in a team high 34 rbi's. John Retton, Mike Manczka, Craig Jones, Bill Manno, Jeff Susan and Jeff Braidic all hit .300 or better for the year. It was indeed a hitting machine. The team hit .303 all-together and belted 27 homers with 313 runs scored. Anytime you get numbers like those, you're going to win ballgames and take the pressure off of the pitching staff. The Gators are looking ahead to next year and perhaps a chance at that elusive NCAC crown.



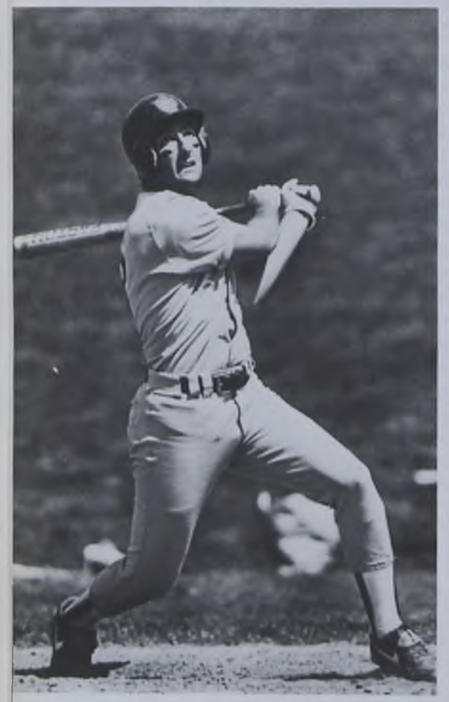


THAT SWEET TASTE OF VICTORY. The Gators are all smiles after another win.

SIGNALS. Head Coach Rick Creehan gives some signs to the batter. A coach will create different signs for different situations like bunting.

WATCHING IT GO! Hard hitting Eddie Taylor completes a home run swing. Ed led the Gators with 7 long taters.

SKYWARD. John Retton watches the flight of the ball he just hit. A durable player, John played in all 45 games hitting .353.



PROFILE. Ed Taylor led the Gators in four offensive catagories, runs scored, triples, home runs, and stolen bases.

WORKHORSE. Pitcher Steve Greenberg won 8 and lost 4 for the Gators and walked the fewest (18) batters of any starting pitcher.

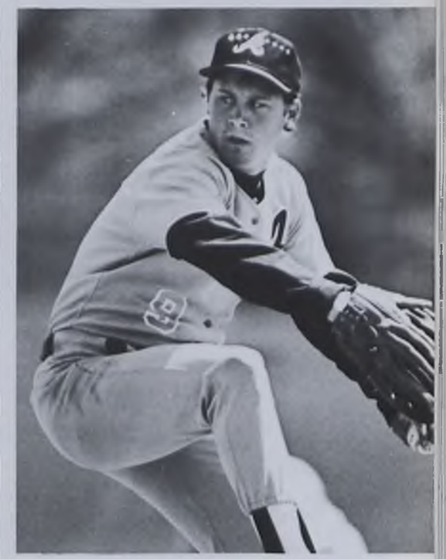
WAY TO GO! Craig Jones receives congrats on blasting a round-tripper. Craig played in 30 games hitting .367 with 3 homers and 19 rbi's.

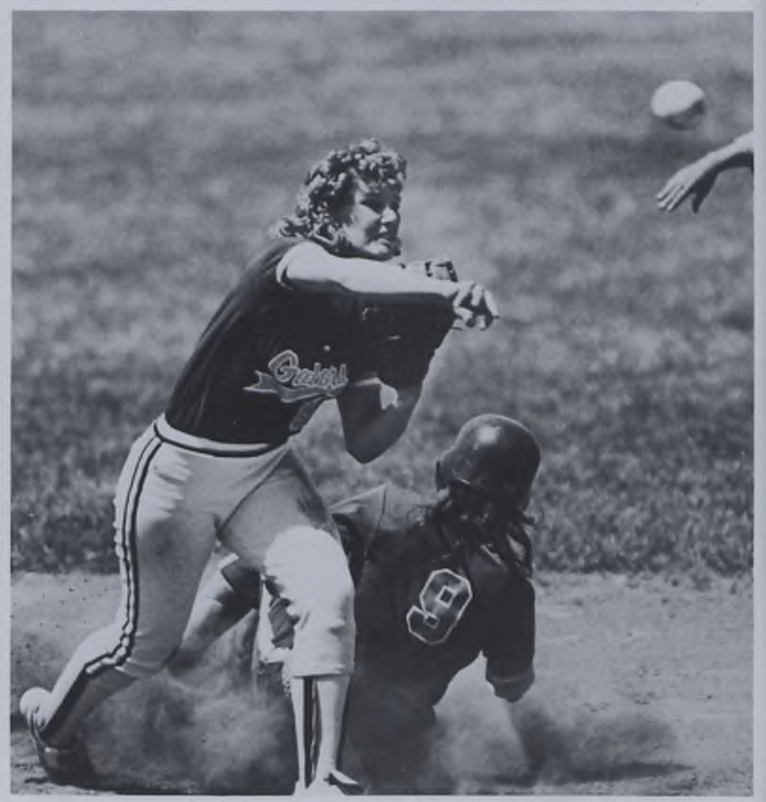


READY TO PLAY. Utility player Jim Settembrino awaits his turn to bat. A back-up player's role requires them to be ready at all times.

MOUND ACE. Tim Bruzdewicz winds up to pitch. Tim came into his own this year winning 9 games, 1 short of the school record.

A SUMMARY OF WORDS. The message written on the batting helmet serves as an inspiration to the Lady Gators on their NCAA title hopes.

READY FOR ACTION. Gator shortstop Nancy Nelson gets down in her stance anticipating a ground ball from the batter.



A PITCHER'S BEST FRIEND. Freshman catcher Kyle Sollenberger proved to be a pleasant surprise for the Gator's this season.

A TWIN KILLING. Shortstop Nancy Nelson eludes a hard sliding base runner for the out at second base and fires toward first to complete the double play.

LETTING IT FLY. All-American centerfielder Missy Vogel cranks up a throw from the field.

HAPPY COACH. Head coach Sheilah Lingenfelter and Gia Celularo are all smiles after a win.

Talented Team

Once in a lifetime an athlete may get a trip to the NCAA tournament in any sport. For Allegheny's Missy Vogel, the fourth time was still not good enough. The sixth ranked Gators dropped two straight games to finish an otherwise great season at 25-12.

First year mentor Sheilah Lingenfelter concluded, "I feel I learned a lot this season. Just getting this far was a great experience." The Gators simply left their bats at home. Their powerful attack produced only 2 runs in the two games they played, losing to Trenton State 2-0, and Wisconsin-Whitewater 3-2.

Missy Vogel was named All-American once again and finished the year with incredible stats. She hit .504 with three home-runs and knocked in 45 rbi's in only 37 games.

Junior secondbaseman Gia Celularo was named All-American for the second year in a row hitting .466 and scoring a team high 44 runs. She also anchored the defense with only 3 errors all season. Junior Nancy Nelson is Celularo's double play partner. She hit .432 with 33 rbi's as the cleanup hitter. Freshman Kyle Sollenberger, a catcher, and Junior thirdbaseman Kathy Kuhar had solid years. Kuhar had been the designated hitter last season. Debbie Macejka, Teva Eiler, Suzanne Helfant and Shelley Brown rounded out the starting nine. Brown was the ace of the staff. Going into tournament play she had surrendered only 2 earned runs in 92 innings. If Brown can't go, the job goes to Eiler, who won six games. Rounding out the pitching staff is Erika Renwick. She tossed a no-hitter earlier in the season and finished with a microscopic .82 earned run average.

HOME SAFELY. Shelley Brown also proved to be as aggressive on the basepaths as the pitching mound.

INTENSE! Thirdbaseman Kathy Kuhar shows the concentration necessary to play the "hot corner".

Women Indoor Champs

Coach Alison Stanford had a lot to be happy about concerning the women's track season. She guided them to the NCAC indoor championship and to a second place outdoors. In additon, she was named as the NCAC Coach of the Year. The Blue and Gold were paced by Jennifer Shaver who won the half-mile and two mile indoor events. Michelle Cochran scored 34 points as she placed in 7 events. Other top indoor efforts were Sandie Starr in the shot put, Barb Pendleton in the high jump. Both won meet titles and Barb set a new school record.

Outdoors, the women's team was paced by All-American shot putter Sandie Starr, Karen Thorndill, Jennifer Shaver and Jennifer Nassar.

Carol Frederick, Chris Binnie, Lisa Smith and Lisa Mahle all chipped in with outdoor points. Frederick set a new school mark in the javelin and Binnie in the 400 meter hurdles.

Coach George Yuhasz's men's team had a decent season, finishing third indoors and fourth on the outdoor circuit. Individual indoor performances were set by Brian McAllister in the shot put and Jeff Reed in the one and three mile races. Pole vaulter Doug Carr jumper Rudy Bruiser also had All-NCAC performances.

Outdoors, the men's team just didn't have the manpower for all the events. Brian McAllister won the shot put and placed second in discus. Jeff Reed placed second in the 5,000 and 10,000 meters.

Sophomore thrower Tom Brown was the only other All Conference performer. During the year, Senior sprinter Mike Mechling set a new 100 meter dash with a time of 10.88 seconds and teamed with Dave Brown, Jose Rodriquez and Dan Henderson on a new 400 relay mark.

Tough Times

Inexperience can be the downfall of many sports teams. This proved to be the case with the 1986-87 men's tennis squad this year. They simply didn't have the experience. With only two starters back from last year's team, the Gators faced an uphill battle from the start. But battle they did.

One of the season's biggest wins came against Gannon University, a Division II team. Vince Beronilla, Jeff Farton, Al Blinn and Dave Bornstein all beat their opponents in what was one of the better matches of the year.

In the NCAC championships held at Wooster the squad finished a dismal seventh and finished the season with a mark of 7-11.

Coach Mark Fleming was disappointed with their showing but added, "We played in a tough conference." Those statements were echoed by Junior Al Blinn, "We played well, but the other teams were tough."

A bright spot on the year was the play of Senior John Keefe. John led the squad with 37 victories after joining the team three year's ago. He admitted that the long hours of practice paid off and would help him after graduation. "Having tennis on my resume will show how I have had to budget my time." In sports, finding the time to practice and study helps to mold an athlete's character. In essence, this is what real sports are all about. Not just winning, but growing.

Thomas Sets Record

After losing their first match of the season to West Virginia, the women's tennis team went on a roll, winning 11 straight to finish the season with a record of 12-2.

Leading the way was Senior Tory Thomas who set a new Gator mark of 118-31 for her career. Tory qualified for a berth in the NCAA tournament, only to lose her first round match to second seed Chris Behreus from the University of California. It was the fourth year she had been nationally ranked and marked the end of a brilliant career.

The roll stopped at the NCAC tourney with the Gators grabbing third place. Senior players Cindy Dresser, Kris Kohl and Jen Kolman finished their careers at the NCAC tourney.

One of the biggest disappointments of the NCAC tournament was the final round loss by the doubles team of Tory Thomas and Kris Kohl, who were 17-4 on the year. After defeating Denison in the semi-finals, Thomas and Kohl were unable to hold out against Kenyon stalwarts Campbell and Kepka. In other doubles play, the teams of Cindy Dresser and Jen Kolman, and Amy LaMotte and Meg Hale were able to make it to the semi-finals before elimination.

Coach Mark Fleming called the team's third place finish a "tribute to the conference, one of the toughest in Division II" and would have liked to have a better finish. He was satisfied with the play of the doubles teams however.

Consistent

If you had to describe the 1986-87 men's golf team, it would have to be that they were consistent.

Coach Norm Sundstrom's team topped off another fine season by being invited to the Division III national championships for the 11th straight year.

After a tremendous start at the tournament, played in Mansfield, Ohio, the Gators played poorly and finished 11th in the nation overall.

Junior Dave Chuba's play earned him All-American honors. Co-captain Scott Sundstrom and sophomore Sam Wiley were named to the All-District III team. In the NCAC, the Gators finished in third place and four were named All-NCAC.

Dave Chuba, Dave Glabicki, Sam Wiley, and D.J. Wallace were all part of the NCAC "dream team." Coach Sundstrom will be losing two senior captains to graduation.

Departing will be four-year veterans Scott Sundstrom and Robbie Leppert. The coach complimented both for the outstanding effort during their college careers.

Seniors Dave Chuba and Dave Glabicki will be back to lead the Gators next year along with junior Sam Wiley and sophomore D.J. Wallace. Sophomore Pat Smith saw limited action as a freshman and will be counted on to step in and pick up the slack left by the departure of Sundstrom and Leppert.

JUNIOR DAVE CHUBA gathered the honor of being named All-NCAC and All-American during the season. He is the team leader.

SOPHOMORE SAM WILEY was named to the All-NCAC team and shows his golfing form here as he follows through after a drive.

SENIOR ROBBIE LEPPERT (left) will be sorely missed next season. The four year starter graduated.

Fix Dominates

The Allegheny Fencing Club swept first, second and third place in men's foil at their last tournament April 26th in Montgomery gym.

Allegheny Club captain Pete Fix took first place of the 23 individual competitors. Vice-President Andy Cook said of Fix's victory. "Pete is the only senior on the team, so it was nice to see him win first since this is his last meet with us."

Sophomore Chadd Nesbit grabbed second place and Freshman Tom Nonnenmacher nailed down third.

Other scoring leaders were team instructor Eric Schwerer, women's team captain Andrea Pigey and Club President Julie Finch with fourth and fifth respectively.

The meet was against Case Western Reserve and a club from Warren, PA. Although technical difficulties caused a delay in the match, things ran smoothly. The Allegheny Fencing Club competes in the Western PA Fencing Division and is a club sport; therefore the members depend on the club's instructors for coaching and guidance.

CLUBS

Belonging to a club is very important. It can teach you people and leadership skills that can't be learned in the classroom.

Clubs and organizations can give a student a better perspective on college life beyond academics or athletics.

CLUBS AND ORGANIZATIONS

Allegheny Christian Outreach

Alleheny Christian Outreach is a student led nondenominational Christian fellowship group that was begun at Allegheny in 1971. The goal of A.C.O. is to provide as many learning opportunities as possible for students to understand more clearly what it means to be a Christian in the fullest sense. The group is advised by Scott Harlan and the officers are Christine Colantuoni, Luane Murphy, Amy Maczuzak, Thomas Pendleton and Ann Richmond.

A.C.O. meets as a large group every Friday evening to sing, worship, and listen to guest speakers. The group also organizes bible studies in every dorm, offers discipleship groups, prayer groups, social activities, and plans a Fall and Spring retreat. They also participate in the Jubilee Conference to give students a much broader opportunity to develop a Christian perspective in their major.

Allegheny College Choir

The choir of Allegheny College consist of five groups. Three of the groups, Choir, Chamber Choir, and Women's Ensemble are touring groups. In addition to performing a Fall and Spring concert this year, the groups took a ten day tour of the East coast over Spring break. The tour was very successful and the opportunity to meet new people in each place they sang was invaluable.

The Choir also sings at baccalaureate and the inaugeration of President Sullivan. The total number of people in the three groups is sixty three. All these touring groups welcome new members by audition only. The chorus is open to anyone who likes to sing and performs two concerts annually. The chapel choir sings on Sundays and is open to anyone. Members have a chance to audition for voice scholarships which help defray the cost of voice lessons.

Allegheny Community Exchange

Allegheny Community Exchange (ACE) is an organization designed to encourage student involvement in the Meadville community. Each year over ninety students volunteer their time and services to eleven different groups and organizations in the area. Some of these groups are United Cerebral Palsy, Crawford County Home, Pet Therapy and Headstart.

The amount of time put into the program is up to the volunteer so that a comfortable schedule can be worked out for studies. The adviser is Ruthanne Pitkin and the officers are Eileen Tucker and Caroline Maylock.

CLUBS AND ORGANIZATIONS

Alegheny Literary Review

The Allegheny Literary Review is a student organization whose aim is to provide a literary outlet for the undergraduate writer. Allegheny Review strives to provide this voice of our peers through two annual publications; Allegheny Review and Allegheny Literary Review. These are published in the Spring of every year.

Allegheny Review is in its fifth year of publication and is a national journal of undergraduate poetry and short fiction. The Allegheny Literary Review is in its 98th year and is the voice of Allegheny students featuring poetry, fiction and artwork. The adviser is Sonya Jones and Catherine Forbes and Amy Maczuzak serve as editor's for these widely acclaimed publications.

Allegheny Student Education Association

The Allegheny Student Education Association works with young children and adolescents to discover new things related to childhood, and to explore children's educational issues. They also assist philanthropic and civic organizations that work with children. The group also holds educational events for the college community.

Some of the events hosted this year were a big brother/sister swim party, an educational night with prospective teachers, lunch table discussions with faculty and administrators, and a guest speaker, Dr. Bender and a panel of Crawford teachers on how to improve education locally. The adviser is Jeffrey Dunbar and Susan Meyers served as president.

Allegheny Student Government

Allegheny Student Government seeks to serve the Allegheny college community in a variety of ways. Consisting of an Executive Cabinet to advise the President and a Legislative Council which makes all final decisions, ASG provides a forum for discussing and solving student concerns.

One important function is the budgeting of Allegheny's student run activities such as the campus media, club sports, and special interest organizations. The source of this money is the portion of student activity fees which ASG receives from the college. ASG also provides input on a wide range of College policy: the proposed curriculum changes, the Strategic Plan, and the Presidential Search process.

Advising the student government is Jonathan Helmreich. The President is Christopher Matz and the Vice President is Scott Hamrick

CLUBS AND ORGANIZATIONS

Association of Black Collegians

The Association of Black Collegians was established in the spring of 1969. The fundamental purpose of A.B.C. is to promote interracial understanding, cultural identity, and unity among blocks. A.B.C.'s primary goals are the promotion of scholarship, leadership, knowledge, and understanding of black culture within the Allegheny College community.

A.B.C. carries out its objectives by sponsoring various workshops, rap sessions, films and lectures throughout the year. In celebrating Black History Month in February, the club invited Mrs. Rosa Parks to speak. She gained national attention when she refused to give up her seat on a Montgomery, Alabama bus and thus started the Montgomery Bus Boycott. Bill Wiggins is the adviser and officers were Karen Crump, Ed Taylor, and Leisa Brown.

Alpha Phi Omega

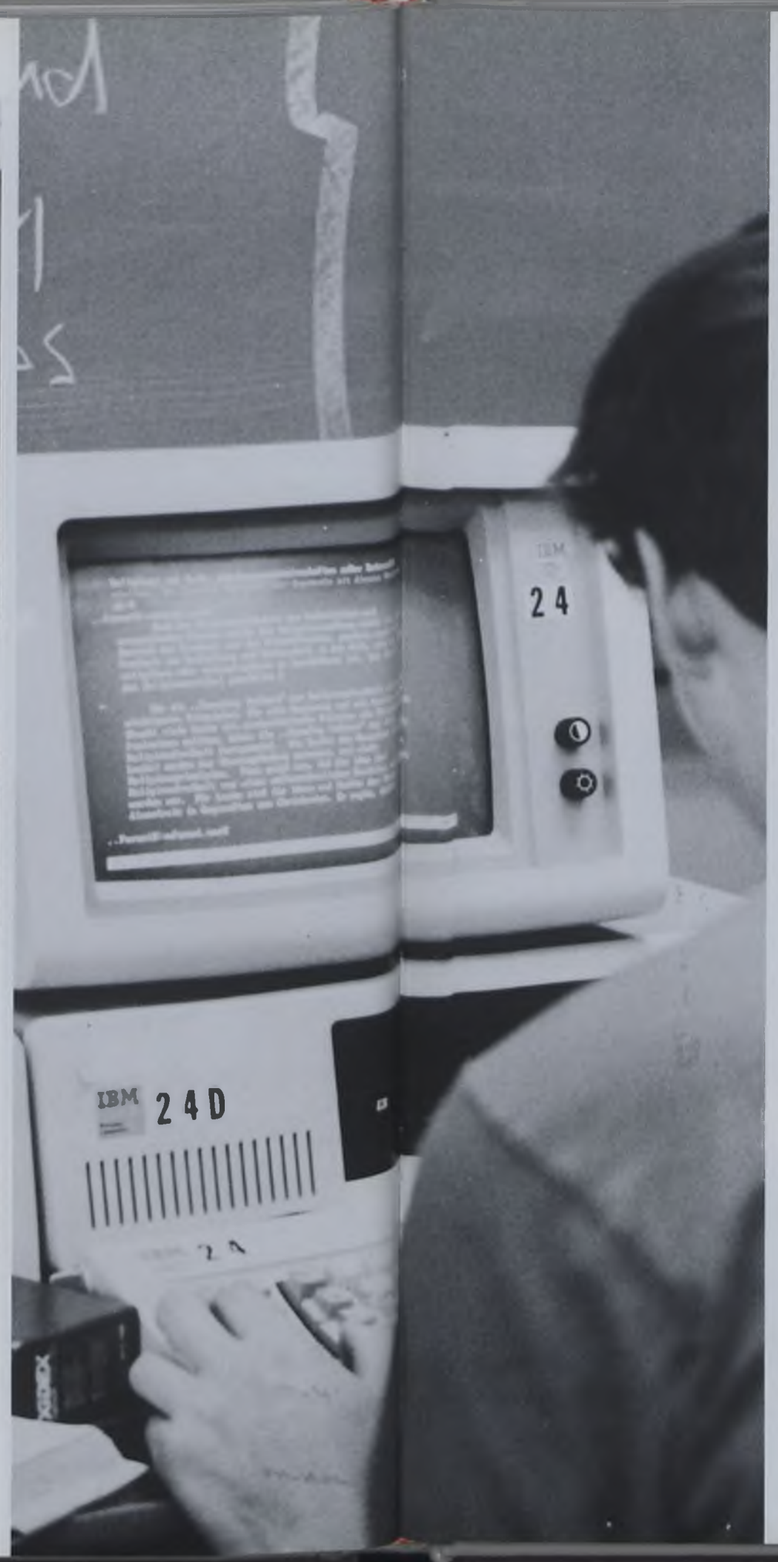
Alpha Phi Omega is a service fraternity affiliated with the Boy Scouts of America. Their purpose is to promote leadership, friendship, and service among people. They achieve this by working closely with the campus and community. Richard McDermot is the adviser and Grant Taylor is the President.

They operate the Used Book Exchange, the Ride Board in the post office, aluminum can recycling, ushering at most campus events, and much more. In the community, they raise money for local charities, visit retirement centers, clean the ARC building and work with juvenile authorities. The Chi Sigma chapter recently received the H.Roe Bartle Award for outstanding achievement and improvement in the chapter which is sixteen years old.

The Campus

Allegheny's Campus is a student-run newspaper. Primarily a sounding board for the college community, it is open to all interested students. The paper provides opportunities for writers, editors, layout artists, and photographers to gain experience.

The Campus covers college and local news, and is open for letters for its opinion columns, editorial page, and features. Editors and assistants are chosen each term and are paid positions. The Editorial Board is also selected each term, although members receive no wages. The Board provides a unique opportunity to learn about campus news and opinions. Sonya Jones serves as adviser and Susan McDonald is the managing editor. Senior editor is Christopher Cary.



CLUBS AND ORGANIZATIONS

Allegheny Wind Symphony

The Wind Symphony is an 85 member group which performs original works for symphonic band and wind ensemble several times a year. Guest conductors and soloists work with the Wind Symphony, allowing members to experience and experiment with the various musical styles and techniques.

In addition to on-campus performances, the Wind Symphony has taured widely, performing for public schools and colleges in the eastern United States. There are also exchange concerts with other colleges and assembly programs at public and private schools.

Members ore selected by auditions and is dependent upon instrumental needs. The Allegheny Wind Ensemble is a 40 member group established from auditions within the Wind Symphony. The Ensemble shores appearances with the Symphony in concert and on tour.

Chemii

Chemii is a student organization affiliated with the American Chemical Society. Chemii offers students the opportunity to get to know the professors of the Chemistry Department. The club's two main objectives are: 1) to enlarge the scope of chemistry orientated experiences available to Allegheny College and the Meadville community, and 2) to advise and assist the Chemistry Department. Chemii also provides information to its members on internships, graduate schools and career opportunities. The club adviser is Edward Walsh.

Allegheny Computing Machines

The purpose of the ACM student chapter at Allegheny is to provide opportunities for everyone to learn about different aspects of computer science. Every term, speakers are invited to campus to talk about advances in the industry. These lectures are for anyone interested in computers. Every Wednesday there is a social during lunch with an invited speaker from the faculty at Allegheny.

The members of the club also attended a regional programming contest at Purdue University. The officers of the club are Derek Simmel, Jeff Payne, Shari Roseman, and Melinda Mitchell.

Every year, student members and faculty of the Computer Science Department attend the ACM Computer Science Conference. This year it was held in St. Louis.

CLUBS AND ORGANIZATIONS

Circle K

Circle K Club, affiliated with the Meadville Kiwanis Club, provides service at the local and international levels. As members of a nationally known organization, members of the Circle K have the opportunity to participate in various state-wide events held each year.

Club projects have included sponsoring a child through the Christian Children's Fund, a poster sale, and the annual 5k race. Circle K meets weekly and all students are welcome. Dr. Alex Dole is the adviser and officers are Stephanie Bucklew, Sandra Bartlett, Roufaida Al-Minsky, Mary Nee, and Allan Weber. Club coordinator is a representative of the Kiwanis, Mr. Dove White.

International Club

The International Club is an organization that started in 1985 from inspired foreign students wanting closer links with each other. The purpose of the International Club is "promoting international awareness and unifying the international students with each other and with U.S. citizens."

The group sends out newsletters, has two international dinners each year, and took a trip to Millcreek to welcome incoming freshmen. The adviser is Chaplain Don Skinner. Officers ore Susan Lexer, Rajesh Viswanathan ond Muhammad Haque. President is Suna Gulgonen. The club is open to all students and someday hope to get a cricket team together.

Kaldron

Established in 1889, the Kaldron is Allegheny's student yearbook. Work on the Kaldron begins first term and continues throughout the year. The Kaldron seeks students who are interested in photography, copy writing, layout and merchandising. No experience is necessary to obtain a position and key editorial positions are paid. This year's managing editor was Carol Garbarino

Other section editors were Megan McArdle, Lisa Toth, Sharon Fair, and Todd Schoonover. The staff worked hard on the theme, "Whatever you hear is true?" and developed section layout styles to be consistent. The staff adviser is Mary Davies. The Kaldron is located in room 225 in the Henderson Campus Center.

CLUBS AND ORGANIZATIONS

Lambda Sigma

Lambda Sigma is the Epsilon chapter of a national honorary organization of sophomores. It revolves around the themes of leadership, scholarship, fellowship, and service. Paula Wurst and Mark Seelbinder serve as advisers to the group. Suna Gulgonen is the President and Christine Prodente served as Vice President.

The organization helped at Freshman orientation, Homecoming, and the Inauguration. They took part in the Phonothon, helped the community during Halloween trick-or-treat, and worked at the Meadville High School prom. They are an honor chapter recognized by the national foundation.

C. C. Cabinet

The Campus Center Cabinet exists to fulfill the co-curricular needs of the college community. Their slogan is "C. C. Cabinet: Campus Centertainment," accurately summarizes the club's purpose. The advisers are Marcia Kennard Kiessling and Winifred Davies-Hancock. The manager of the Cabinet was Corinne Lindquist.

Some of the Cabinet's activities included the Wednesday Night Film Series, The Club '85 Series, Class Dinners, and Auld Lang Syne Dance, several sports tournaments and much more. The group plans two to three trips each term. The Cabinet was also responsible for Freshman Orientation Week activities, the All-Nighter and C. C. Goodtimes.

VISA

The Volunteers in Support of Admissions is a student/alumni program nationally recognized for it's comprehensiveness and quality. The purpose of VISA is to inform high school students honestly and articulately of the opportunities and benefits that are available at Allegheny.

Membership is open to sophomore, junior, and senior students. Staff members may participate by hosting a student overnight, mingling at special on-campus programs, volunteer touring, being a staff member or committee member. William Hancock serves as adviser to the group.

Joseph Weyers and Amy Slade served as Steering Committee members. The VISA office serves as coordinator of the Overnight Host Program for the Admissions Office. Currently over 300 alumni participate in the program covering territories in thirty-one states and five foreign countries.

CLUBS AND ORGANIZATIONS

Orchesis

Orchesis, the dance organization of Allegheny College, is student-run and choreographed, and open to all. It produces new performances each year as well as sponsoring various dances open to the campus, such as a sock hop, a country dance, and a winter waltz.

Allegheny Repertory Dance (ARD) is comprised of student dancers who attend class or study regularly under master teachers in residence in the college dance programs. ARD is guided by Jan Hyatt, Allegheny dance instructor.

Student Experimental Theatre

Student Experimental Theatre (SET) is the student-run theatre organization on campus. SET made it's debut in the 1960's and has contributed many hours of entertainment to the college students and one-act plays, monologues, and sponsor dance groups.

The purpose of the organization is to better equip the student, whether novice or experienced, with "on-hand" experience for all aspects of the theatre. The adviser is Alice Voigt and Carol Elliott served as President.

WARC

WARC, 90.3 FM, founded in 1963, is Allegheny's progressive, non-commercial radio station. Located on the second floor of Cochran Hall, WARC is owned by the Allegheny trustees and operated by members of the college community. Glen Holland serves as an adviser with General Manager Brice Kirkendall and Suzanne Simanaitis as Production Manager.

Each term there are over 100 students and faculty members who take part in WARC, as disc jockeys, newscasters, production staff, publicity organizers, and managers. Training sessions are held at the beginning of each term, and upon completion of training, anyone is eligible to work at the station.

The format of the station is determined by the D.J.'s taste. Programs focus on anything from blue-gross and jazz, to avantegarde and new wave, but primarily on progressive. Classical music is played Sunday afternoon and early evening. The main purpose of WARC is to provide listeners with an escape from commercials and Top 40 radio.

News and sports are also part of WARC's programming. Four newscasts are offered each day, with stories of local interest, as well as notional news from the AP teletype machine.

The Greek system went through many changes this year. IFC and Panhel have become more predominant forces. One fraternity lost its chapter. For the first time, sororities and frats had separate runouts. But with all these changes, the Greek system continues with its traditional goals.

GREEKS

PANHELLENIC COUNCIL

Panhell representatives and officers pose with Dean McInally. Panhell is a well run, structured organization that knows how to take the initiative and get things done.

The Allegheny Panhellenic officers were Beth Davis, B. J. Cook, Laura Dilts, Barb Kevish, Sarah Orscheidt, Jen Peck and Missy Wagner.

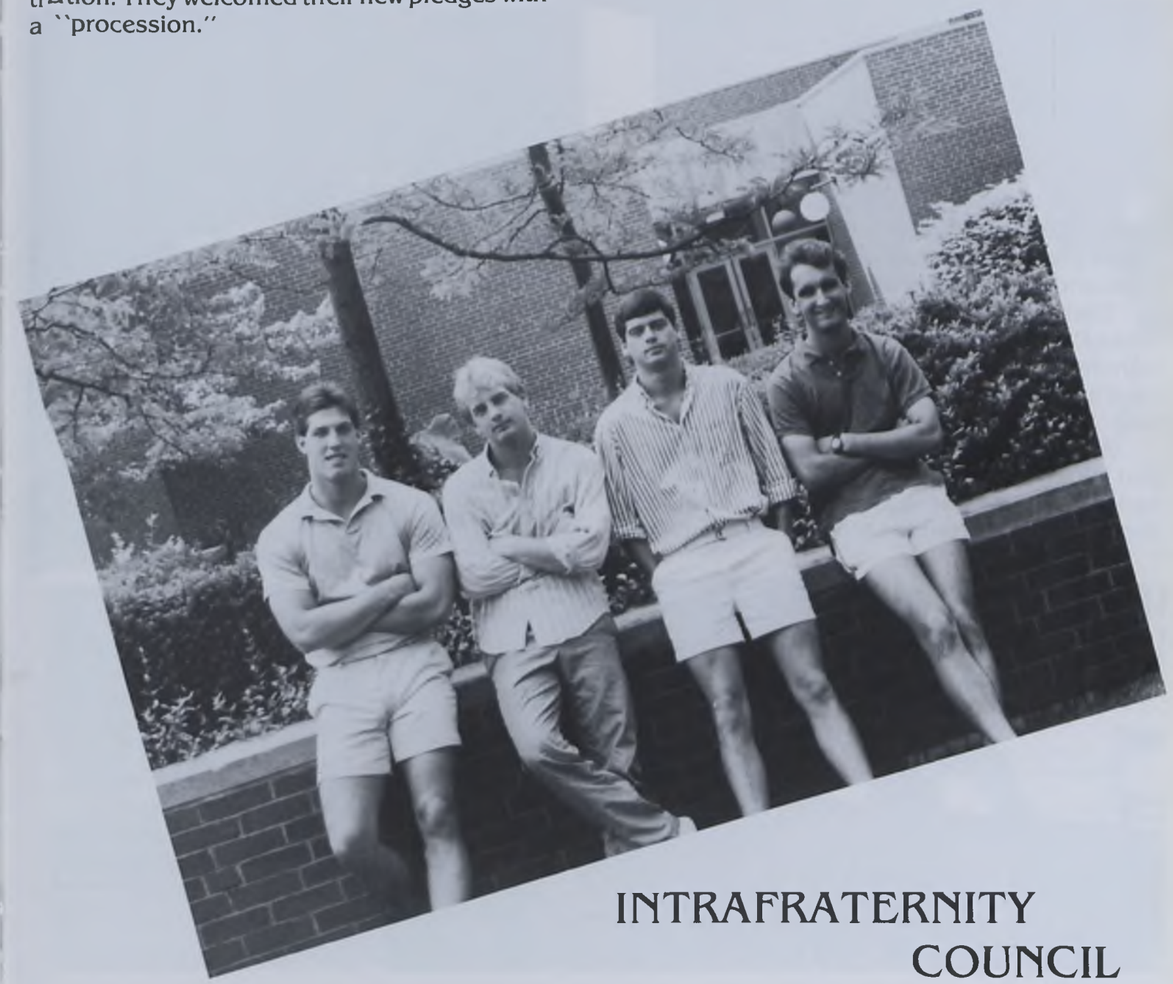
Allegheny Panhell has gone through many changes this year including the loss of Linda Palmiero as adviser after many years of service. She was honored at the All-Greek recognition banquet with the dedication of an award in her name for the most Panhellenic sorority.

Panhell works to promote good relations between all sororities and worked hard to improve their standing with the Allegheny administration. Some of their functions included cosponsoring the Greek Week event with IFC and organizing the sorority rush process.

The IFC officers were Andy McCafferty, Dave Caywood, Bill Dawson, Mark Dodd, Dave Harper and Jeff McGeary. IFC grew stronger this year in their relationships with the various fraternities and their internal affairs. They dealt with the problems of alcohol with the administration and faculty in areas concerning the school's alcohol policy.

This year marked the first time that the sororities and fraternities had separate runouts, even though they were forbid by the administration. They welcomed their new pledges with a ``procession.''

Officers of the Intrafraternity Council put many hours of hard work into this year. Many new challenges and problems face them this year as they work to bring about a better Greek system.



INTRAFRATERNITY COUNCIL

ALPHA GAMMA DELTA

Alpha Gamma Delta sorority was founded at Syracuse University on May 30, 1904. The sorority colors are red, buff and green. Their jewel is the pearl and their flowers are red and buff roses.

Their national philanthropy project is the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation. Kappa chapter at Allegheny was founded in 1919. Since that date they have seen the Greek system expand to what it is now.

Alpha Gamma Delta is relatively small, but that allows for closer friendships, abundant spirit and a loyalty to one another. Their social functions include rush parties and chapter overnights.

ALPHA DELTA PI

Alpha Delta Pi sorority was the first secret society founded for women. It was established at Wesleyan College in Macon, Georgia in 1851.

Their colors are azure blue and white and the flower is the woodland violet. Eta Beta Chapter is the newest of Allegheny's five sororities. Their national philanthropy project is the Ronald McDonald houses.

They teamed with the Men of Allegheny Calendar to raise money for this charity. They are a very diversified sorority.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA

The sisters of Alpha Chi Omega thrive on involvement, both academically and socially. They can be found participating in almost all the clubs found at Allegheny. They worked for Easter Seals, Cistic Fibrosis and the McDowell Colony.

They also planned fall and spring parties, pledge formal and a very successful rush program. The 25 new pledges taken after the second term rush added a great deal of input and spirit into Allegheny's already most active Greek organization.

ALPHA CHI RHO

It was a bad year for the Alpha Chi Rho fraternity. President Sullivan revoked their charter for the 1987-88 school year and recommended to the board of trustees a 10 year suspension period.

The suspension was for various infractions involving the fraternity and school policies. As of press time, the board had not made any decision concerning the 10 year suspension. One thing for sure is that there will be no Alpha Chi Rho fraternity in the upcoming year and perhaps for some time at Allegheny.

The Alpha Chi Rho fraternity house on Highland Avenue will be empty this year due to charter suspension.

The Crows proudly carry their flag at the runout festivities honoring new pledges.

DELTA TAU DELTA

Delta Tau Delta fraternity strives towards unity and brotherhood through numerous activities. Many brothers hold leadership positions on campus. The Delts raise money for their many charities each year with a walk.

The Delts are one of three fraternities with a successful little sister program. They are known for their "prohibition" fall party. This event features 1920's style attire and a real shootout complete with funeral service. (All in fun, of course).

Delta Tau Delta has annually accomplished the goals they set and next year should not be any different.

THETA CHI

Beta Chi Chapter of Theta Chi Fraternity was established at Allegheny in September of 1942 when Beta Kappa Fraternity merged with Theta Chi National.

Since then, Beta Chi has worked to promote leadership, participation, academics and brotherhood. They live up to their motto, "The helping hand". They paid off their home and burned the mortgage at Homecoming and won the IFC award for academic achievement. They raised money for a poor Indian girl and support local charities.

They had a busy and productive year and will continue to be one of Allegheny's best and popular fraternities.

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

Kappa Alpha Theta sorority has a long, very reputable history at Allegheny College. For over 106 years Theta has benefitted not only Allegheny, but many other organizations and charities.

Along with supporting good causes such as Greenhouse Shelter in Meadville, the sorority also places a great emphasis on academics and can still find time to have fun.

The traditional Gape-and-Flame spring party with Kappa Kappa Gamma was celebrated for the 63rd time this year. Thetas can be found at fall party, pledge formal and many other social functions.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA

Gamma Rho chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma was founded February 13, 1888 at Allegheny College. The fraternities dedication to the community is exemplified each year in it's philanthropy project, the Balloon Derby.

Thousands of dollars are raised and donated each year to the Cerebral Palsy Foundation of Crawford County.

On campus, Kappa proves a force in Orchesis, Lambda Sigma, softball, swimming, the SOA program, intramurals, ASG, SET, musical productions, and the student alcohol board.

In all, Kappa women are a vital and important part of the Allegheny community.

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON

The Phi Alpha chapter of Sigma Alpha Epsilon is one of the largest fraternities on campus. Founded at Allegheny in 1887, they are also the largest fraternity in the United States. SAE colors are purple and gold and the flower is the violet.

The lion is their mascot. Phi Alpha chapter has an extensive little sister program. The brothers belong to many campus organizations and athletic teams.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon is a contributor to many charities including the Easter Seals program.

PHI GAMMA DELTA

Phi Gamma Delta fraternity was the second one established at Allegheny College. The FIJI'S are involved in many campus activities and are known for their energetic school spirit. They often wear their purple and white colors to athletic events.

They are very active on campus and their tradition of the tablecloth is as unique as the Kappa Kappa Gamma tradition of stealing it.

The Phi Gamma Delta fraternity has grown a lot during the last couple of years and could end up being one of Allegheny's biggest.

PHI DELTA THETA

Phi Delta Theta fraternity was established at Allegheny in 1879. They recently celebrated their 108th year. The Phi Delts are located the farthest from campus in a house that was once a mansion. Theirs is the most beautiful on campus.

It has a large balcony, pillars, carved ceilings, and hardwood floors. The Phi Delts are one of the largest fraternities on campus.

Their colors are blue and white. They are involved in many facets of Allegheny College and are devoted to academic excellence, leadership skills, and promoting responsibility through brotherhood.

PHI KAPPA PSI

The brothers of Phi Kappa Psi experienced a very busy year. Along with their annual fall and spring parties and pledge formal, the Phi Psi's celebrated the 135th anniversary of the fraternity with a Founder's Day dinner in late February.

The Phi Psi's teamed with Alpha Gamma Delta sorority to capture first place in this year's homecoming float competition. The annual Spring Symposium proved to be another Phi Psi success.

With increasing membership from the seventeen new initiates, Phi Psi is looking toward a more successful future.

Being a member of the faculty at Allegheny is never an easy task. The life of a college professor is a hectic one.

Teachers take hours out of their day to simply listen or help students with problems. But all do one thing, every day. They teach. This is why Allegheny exists. And students are the beneficiaries - they learn.

SENIOR WEEK

Every year the officers of the graduating class plan the festivities of an event that all seniors look forward to - SENIOR WEEK!

Tickets went on sale Friday, May 29th in the campus post office for $15. This entitled all seniors to a week long flurry of activities and a senior week t-shirt proclaiming the theme . . . "The future is so bright, we gotta wear shades."

Senior Week got off to a roaring start on Tuesday, June 9th with a dance held at the American Pie in Conneaut Lake. Music was provided by Toby. On Wednesday, June 10th, students could compete in the golf or tennis tournaments held from 9:00 to 1:00 or attend a strawberry shortcake social held at Dr. and Mrs. Sullivan's home from 1:00 to 3:00.

A sociological tour of Meadville "cultural sites" took place from 5:00 to midnight. This was in essence a night of bar hopping. An all day picnic took place on Thursday at Blooming Valley with reggae music filling the air.

On Friday a brunch at the Brooks Dining Hall in the morning and a dinner dance at the campus center completed a long day. The affair was semi-formal and Dancer provided the entertainment.

Senior week concluded on Saturday with an informal open house for all families and friends at the Baldwin Reynolds House Museum. A parents' reception capped all activities that night and just reinforced what everyone felt, that Senior Week 87 was a smashing success.

GRADUATION

On June 14, 1987 at 10:00 the tradition known as commencement was celebrated. The gathering of the college family was the expression of a living tradition and formed the visible symbol of four years of joint partnership in the search for education.

Led by Senior Marshal Dr. Hogan, the seniors formed the Processional on Bentley Lawn and orderly filled up their seats for the ceremony. The Invocation was delivered by the college chaplain Mr. Don Skinner.

After singing the traditional hymn, "O God, Our Help in Ages Past", three honorary degrees were bestowed upon James Ault (Doctor of Humane Letters), Susan Kieffer (Doctor of Science), and Denise Levertov (Doctor of Literature).

Dr. Daniel Sullivan, President of the College, along with Dr. Ford and Dr. Ainsworth then presented the 432 graduates with their degrees.

Class Valedictorian was David Buerger. Graduating Summa Cum Laude with at least a GPA of 3.9 were David Buerger, John Kane, and Joseph Miller.

After the singing of the "Alma Mater Beatissma," Chaplain Skinner gave the Benediction and once again the students were led out of the ceremony to the tune of "Water Music" played by the Allegheny Brass Ensemble.

With four years of hard work behind them, the graduates of the Class of '87 now belong to the ages. They left to make their mark on the world and are better prepared for it from their experiences at Allegheny College.

Traci,
To a wonderful person who has reached into my darkened life, and has shown me more light than I ever knew existed. My heart will go with you when you leave. Take care and keep in touch.
Love always,

Hey Goob,
When are you getting your new wife?
Luv MB

Lisa,
Always remember the fun times we had in the summer of 86 when we attacked Rich underneath the bridge and got chased by security. We all will miss you.

Vince — Best of luck in all that you attempt. With Maryann rooting for you, how can you lose?

Bill and Beth: The meaning of love.

PM▸ Existance in the game of life is meaningless with you no longer around. The world is falling to pieces as you depart. How can you leave us for Boston, and reality. The only true hope is that some day you will kill Gary Gygax and end our tortured suffering. We will long sing of your skill, and bravery as you invisibly caused the death of many a foe (and friend). May your spell points never run dry, and hit points always roll high. ◂ARPA

Shari,
Good Luck in all that you do. You seem to be the type that will either have it all or nothing, so make sure you have it all.

Cindy and Barb,
Thanks for being so wonderful!

Noelle,
Good luck in your marriage we hope the book helps.

Angela —
Make lots of money and remember your friends!

K. B. and Wags,
We're expecting an invitation!
Cindy and Barb

Geo — What are you going to do without Otter's?

Bob,
Too bad you never got to be head waiter!!!

Shrelle,
Remember to write letters in between experiments.

TO ALL OF OUR ADMIRERS: THANKS!

Andrea —
Wishing you the best of luck in all that you may ever attempt. I hope that you never have problems with men again, (like Scott). I've treasured the time that we have spent together and hope that one day you and I will meet again at some exotic locale where we will discuss the latest in Graph Theory and Progressive Music.

Susan,
I'm glad that your tadpoles did what they were supposed to do, but I'm sad that you are leaving. The Music Department will never be the same without you. If you ever want to come back, you will always be welcome.
P.S. Make sure you keep in touch with the foreign bands, and remember us when you're famous.

Bruce Brice —
It's too bad that things worked out the way they did, but I'm glad we got to know each other better (no matter what the rest of the Board said). I hope that you succeed in Boston or New York. You are one of the few who were born with the talent, don't let it go to waste.

B. T.: Don't work so hard, it makes the rest of us look bad!

Susan,
Be careful when you chew on that!
Chuck.

Bryna — We always knew your were just acting innocent!

Sounds like bullshit to me!

T-All you ever think about is sex! - T

Karen — You are such a bitch, but we love you anyways!

JOE,
Be careful of any rashes!

NO RUMORS HERE . . .

Well, there you have it! Not rumors, but the plain truth. It was an exciting year at Allegheny. A new President was welcomed, clubs and organizations worked to achieve new and lofty goals, and sports teams fared well.

The Little-Bo-Peep scare was just a rumor and nothing more. President Sullivan did not work to disband the Greek system. Rumors sprang up and died - just like that!

Although rumors persist in any small school, they eventually give way to the facts, the truth. And the truth is that Allegheny College excells in education and providing students with the college experiences that will carry them throughout their lives.

Hey! Did you hear that next year the school's going to . . .

Many people are to be thanked for helping us to produce this book. The staff of the Public Affairs Office, Pat Hood and Bernadette Wilson, for helping us to obtain emergency pictures and copy information; Abe and Leigh Ann of Davor Photo Studio for all the last minute prints and film; our printer's representative, Rob Rainier, who kept us on schedule; the Campus newspaper for photos and articles.

And last, but not least, the yearbook staff who put up with early morning and late night meetings to get the job done. Their contributions were many and too numerous to mention.

Congratulations Guys: We did it!

Sincerely,
Carol Garbarino
