Allegheny Defeated

BY WESTMINSTER IN A GAME MARKED BY LISTLESS PLAYING AND LACK OF TEAM WORK.

The annual game with Westminster on their home grounds resulted in the annual defeat by the usual score of 11-0. Allegheny, deceived by the reports that Westminster was weaker than usual, went on the field full of confidence, but before the game had proceeded far it was evident that it would take more than confidence to win the game. The teams lined up about equal in size and weight and each with the same number of experienced men and the same amount of training. But here the likeness ends. Encouraged by a large number of students, who fully expected defeat, yet sang and cheered throughout the game, Westminster went into the game determined to do their utmost. Allegheny on the other hand played listlessly from the start and after the first three scrimmages lost every semblance of team work. Both on offense and defense the men seemed to forget their places. The line instead of getting down and playing low were generally standing straight up and were unable to resist the onslaught of the opposing team. On end plays the half backs and ends seemed to [illegible] play their combination. Instead of breaking interference both men went for the runner, with the result that a large gain was scored against Allegheny. When Allegheny ran with the ball no interference was formed and if the runner gained it was because of his individual playing. The team showed such a reversal of form over last week that it seemed as if two different teams were representing Allegheny. The result of the game will be a thorough shaking up of the team, an injection of a little ginger and nerve and a week of hard work. The Westminster team played the game they can always be relied upon to play against Allegheny. Their formations looked poor, but as they gained at will through Allegheny's line nothing can be said against it. For them Donaldson and McKay gained the most ground, while on defense the ends and halfs did good work. Tennent, a midget end, was responsible for several spectacular tackles in open field, while McKay several times caught the runner back of his own line.

The game itself was interesting only from a Westminster point of view, and when to the poor showing of the team is added the fact that Yeaney, Williams and Frazier were injured, nothing was gained for Allegheny except the knowledge that the team must improve if the League Pennant is to come to Meadville this year.

First Half.

Allegheny received the kick off and at the sound of the whistle Neville sent the ball to the 25-yd. line, where McCartney caught it and advanced 5 yards. The first two plays looked as though Allegheny would repeat her work of the previous week, for Frazier found little trouble in securing 7 yards on two guard bucks. Campbell tried the other side and the best he could do was to gain 4 yards in two downs. Capt. Taylor again called on Frazier to gain the required yard, but to the surprise of all the line never moved and no gain was registered. This gave the ball to Westminster within thirty yards of their visitors' goal posts. The first play resulted in a fumble, the home team still retaining the ball. On a second attempt Donaldson, their fullback, gained almost the required distance by a tackle buck, McKay by a short end buch gained 2 yards, making it first down. Lambie was now tried and his three attempts netted 10 yards. The Westminster team seemed to be relying mostly on a short end run which hit just outside the tackle and turned in or out according as the tackle attempted to stop it. McKay made a trial around end, resulting in 6 yards. Campbell tried the same end for two yards, placing the ball within 10 yards of the goal. Right at this point a play occurred which was unlike any play ever attempted in Allegheny. McKay was given the ball and sent straight through tackle. To all appearances the play was stopped, each Allegheny player was busily engaged in keeping a Westminster man out of the play. There was one who must be excepted, for in the fierce scrimmage he was overlooked and slowly raising himself from the pile of prostrate players he started for the goal posts unmolested. As he carried the ball a goal was allowed and the dopey Allegheny players went to the side lines to discover "how it happened." When Neville kicked the goal the score stood 6-0 with 14 minutes to play.

It was now Allegheny's turn to kick off. Mook did the kicking and sent the ball to the 30-yard line where it was caught by Neville. He made a straight dash through the center of the field, but was stopped after he had gained 15 yards. Frazier, who had made the tackle, dislocated his shoulder and was forced to leave the game. It is the third time that Frazier's shoulder has been injured at New Wilmington and the people of that place have learned what a merry player Frazier is. When he attempted to resume play he was applauded. The coach very wisely refused to allow him in the game again. Turner was put at tackle in place of Frazier.

Westminster started the ball at once toward Allegheny's goal, this time by end runs and straight tackle bucks. Tennent, Neville, Gamble and McKay were each sent with the ball for long gains and were not stopped until within 25 yards of Allegheny's goal line. At this point two end runs were stopped and the line held on a tackle buck.

The ball was now in Allegheny's possession at almost the point it had started from in the beginning of the game. Neff was given the ball and at once circled around the end for 6 yards. It was perfect interference on the part of Allegheny and their drooping hopes began to revive. Fletcher on the end however lost and Taylor barely regained the required 8 yards on two tackle bucks.

Mook on two attempts at the opposite tackle had little trouble in gaining 13 yards and Taylor repeated the gain on his side of the line. The end runs were again tried, but as the opposing ends were not interfered with, two excellent tackles by Tennent and Moore placed Allegheny 10 yards from the required distance. A punt was necessary, but a poor pass caused Mook to fumble and the ball belonged to Westminster. Allegheny soon regain-

Athletic Officers

ELECTED ON SATURDAY — THE GREATEST POLITICAL FIGHT IN THE COLLEGE'S HISTORY.

The greatest political fight in the recent history of the college was finished on Saturday when the athletic officers were balloted for. Starting with the Sophomore election on Tuesday, closely followed by each of the other class elections and concluding with the closest fight of all on Saturday, the week can be truly called Election Week. The class affairs merely served as preliminaries for the fierce fight on Saturday and when the end of the week was reached excitement was so intense that almost everyone in college was taking an active interest. The fight continued to be Frat and non-Frat and with a full ticket from each party the personal fitness of the men was seldom thought of. Party victory and that alone was the end desired. The secretary reported an enrollment of 225, one of the largest the Athletic Association has had. Both sides claimed a majority of votes from the start, but each realized the strength of the opposition. From the time the ballot box was opened until 12:30 when the voting was declared off a crowd was busy around the polls inducing backward members to vote and challenging the votes of [illegible] the doubtful members. The latter became a very obnoxious feature of the day and before the final votes were cast several of the challengers had made themselves unpopular by their ungentlemanly conduct. At the conclusion of the balloting the election was protested and the entire matter was referred to the Athletic Board. Not until 10 o'clock was a decision reached and then it was decided to throw a large number of the votes. The final result of the election is a victory for the Frat ticket, which secured three of the four officers. The result of the balloting is as follows:

President of Athletic Association—J. M. Griffith.

Base Ball Manager—B. B. Whitehill.

Base Ball Assistant Manager—A. R. Webb.

Manager Track Team—H. G. Harris.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1901.

Once more Westminster has succeeded in defeating Allegheny at Westminster by a score of 11-0. The defeat is almost inexcusable, with the splendid coaching Allegheny has had, and the careful training the men have been subject to. Better things were expected. The plain facts of the matter are that the team went to pieces, and did not play as a unit. We think this is due to the fact that in practice the team has not had opposition enough. It is one thing to buck a light scrub team, but a very different thing to run up against Westminster on her home grounds. Now if we are to have a successful team we must have more men. According to Coach Eisenburg many changes are to be made on the team, and now is the time to make a fight for a position. The great trouble is that the men on the regular eleven have not had to fight hard enough for their positions. We must have more snap and ginger. Not a man on the team is working fast enough. The work has been too listless, let us see if we can't get a little enthusiasm. True we were handicapped by loss of Frazier early in the game, and played with Yeaney and Williams in no condition to stay in the game, yet that did not need to take all the fight out of us, but enough of this. We feel sure that good will come out of our defeat and we are all now determined to prove that we still have the best team in the league. There is no reason why our team should not be a success. We are as heavy as Cornell and have a better coach. Our system of play is second to none. It now remains for us to get to work in earnest, it is not the time to be disheartened. In the name of the team, in the name of "Old Allegheny" we beg of the student body to give us their enthusiastic support. If you can't get in the game, give us the support of your presence on the field. Had you heard the songs and cheers of the Westminster student body, you would not wonder that they play winning ball. Are you to be outdone by them? No one feels defeat more keenly than the members of the team, and they are all determined to do their utmost to retrieve themselves. Are we to have your support, or must we fight it out alone?

From the standpoint of college politics, the last week has been a very interesting one. The struggle began with the Sophomore class. The Freshies, Juniors and Seniors then took it up in the above order. Each successive election seemed to grow more fierce, and as a fitting climax for a week so politically active, the athletic eleven came off on Saturday. We are glad to note that the number of members in the Athletic Association is larger than at any previous time. This no doubt is due largely to the present fight on between the Frats and non-Frats. We are glad to see manifest interest in the athletic elections, and hope that the spirit of rivalry between the several factions is a healthy one, and will tend only toward keeping the highest grade of officers on the athletic board. We are sorry to hear that underhand methods were supposed to have been used by both sides during the week's elections and feel that we, as college students, should be above any such methods. A clean, friendly rivalry will stimulate college spirit, but a factional fight so bitter as to call for questionable methods will surely tend to kill it. We as a student body cannot afford to be divided in spirit. At the best we haven't enough college spirit, and we must not sacrifice what we have to factional quarrels.

Lively Times

ON THE CAMPUS—ANNUAL CONTEST OF "FRAT" AND "NON-FRAT" STUDENTS FOR SUPREMACY.

The college campus has been the scene of some lively political struggles this week and when the final election is held on Saturday one of the fiercest factional fights in the history of the college politics will be finished. For years the two rival factions, the fraternity and non-fraternity men, have struggled for supremacy, each party gaining the control for a time only to be deposed by the opposite faction. Last year the "frat" men were defeated in every class but one and the "non-frats" were left sole possessors of the political field.

This year a determined stand has been taken by the "frats," and aided by their perfect unity they have been able to elect their nominees to a number of offices.

The sophomore class was the first to start the fight. It was a complete surprise to the non-fraternity element of the class and before they could rally their forces the "frats" had nominated their slate and aided by some doubtful work on the part of the chairman they rushed their ticket through and elected as president Roy Hazen.

Not to be outdone, the "non-frats" in the freshman and junior classes organized on Tuesday evening and when the classes were detained for election they were able to meet the "frat" men with united forces. The freshmen class was evenly divided and as a result a split ticket was selected, although the "non-frats' are considered victors since they elected as president Robt. Freeman, a non-fraternity man.

In the junior class, the strongest non-fraternity class in the college, the "frats" were completely snowed under. the former securing every office but one. A stuffed ballot for president however, has caused that office to be voted for again. Williams, of athletic fame, and Williamson are the candidates.

In the seniors the "frat" men outnumber the "non-frats" two to one. The "non-frats" attempted to get a postponement and failing in this they bolted the meeting.

Since the first of last June $15,974,872 has been given as gifts to the colleges of this country.

Eighty-five Cuban teachers, transported to and from Cuba at the expense of the Government, are studying English at Harvard University, where a special course of instruction is provided for them.

FOOTBALL AMONG THE COLLEGES.

There has not been as many surprises for years in the foot ball world as there was on Saturday. Perhaps the greatest surprise of the year is the fine showing of the Buffalo University eleven and the Syracuse eleven against the eastern colleges. Bucknell made a remarkable showing against Cornell and Westminster defeated Allegheny.

ed it by an offside play. A delayed pass was tried, but the ball was given to Westminster again for a "forward pass." There was now but a few minutes to play and before Westminster could gain more than 15 yards time was called.

Second Half.

After the kick-off the ball was started from the 35-yard line in Westminster's possession. On the first line up the ball was sent around end and after two or three attempts at tackling the runner was finally brought down, however not until he had gained 30 yards. After several short line bucks the ball was given to McKay who tried the opposite end. He cleased the line and with the exception of Williams he had a clear field. A perfect tackle, however, brought him down after gaining 20 yards, but Williams was badly injured and was forced to take time. Mook now secured a fumble and with the ball within 7 yards of the goal line a noble attemp was made to avert a touchdown. On two tackle bucks but two yards were gained. Instead of punting, another line plunge was attempted, resulting in no gain. This piece of bungling gave the visitors the ball and two line bucks sent the ball over for a touch down after 9 minutes of play. The score was now 11-0 and remained so until the end of the game. The remainder of the game the ball was carried back and forth over the middle 50 yards of the field with the advantage in favor of the home team. Several protests were made on illegal formation, and off-side play resulting in penalties for both teams. The only improvement in this half was on the end plays of Allegheny. When Allegheny had the ball, little ground was gained and then mostly on tackle bucks. On an attempted punt the line failed to hold and the best Mook could do was to send the ball 15 yards. When the half closed the ball was in West minster's possession, 35 yards from Allegheny's goal.

A Strong Plea.

COACH EISENBERG'S SPEECH TO FOOTBALL MEN AT ATHLETIC PARK.

Monday evening after practice, Coach Eisenberg called all the foot ball men around him and made a strong plea for college spirit and foot ball enthusiasm.

He said as follows: Boys, from what I have been able to see since I have been among you I am forced to this conclusion, and that is that there isn't the proper amount of college spirit among you as a student body. You have a college you may well be proud of and to think that Westminster can turn out a foot ball team that is in the same class as ours is hardly explainable. But in one thing I can readily see they are far ahead of you as a college, they have college spirit and take a pride in the record of their college teams. On Saturday they were out on the side lines in mass and sang and cheered their foot ball team to victory, they expected to be defeated, nevertheless they were with their team, they were right there to encourage them with songs and cheers. Now that is the kind of enthusiasm that turns out winning teams. If you are going to stay from the foot ball team just because you think you will not make the varsity, how can you expect to have a winning team. I have seen colleges where the interest was so great in the athletic team that it made no difference what social function was on, the men always reported for practice at the appointed hour. They never allowed a date with a lady friend to interfere with practice. Do you not, as a student body, love your college enough to see her forge to the front in every line? Do you not have enough college spirit to fight for her honor? I have seen strong men shed tears when they were defeated on the athletic field. I have seen enthusiastic students send a team away with a cheer, and meet them likewise whether they were victorious or not. Here you have a student body numbering over three hundred persons, and we have but fifteen or sixteen men out each night, sometimes we have a dozen or fifteen spectators. Now I am not used to such conditions. Why can't we have the encouragement of the presence of fifty or one hundred students every night, not to laugh at poor plays and awkward attempts, but to cheer every brave attempt, and make each man on the squad feel that he has the eyes of the entire student body on him. To do good work one must have a strong incentive. I know it is hard to come out and get pounded up simply to develop some one else, but when we come out feeling that it is a pleasure and a duty, and that the success of our teams depends to a certain extent upon each individual in school, then we will have a foot ball squad that will be what it ought to be. Now I plead with you to use your influence in bringing men out. First of all, you boys who belong to fraternities ought to have enough influence to bring out at least a dozen men each. I have never felt more down-hearted in my life than I have since I find that there is good foot ball material in school and we haven't the number of men to develop it. We must have thirty men at least, and I pray you do all you can to get that number out. Now it seems to me that it is time for us to get awake and turn out in force, and make out foot ball team what we can if we wish. It is a shame that Allegheny College should be defeated yearly by Westminster. Can't we bestir ourselves and come out in force. If you are afraid to get in the game, come out and cheer the men who aren't afraid.

COLLEGE SONGS.

Some one asked us the other day if we never sang any more at the college. We were compelled to answer in the negative. It occurs to us that it is a deplorable state of affairs. While prosperity seems to be beaming upon us with her brightest smiles and the campus resounds with the music of the hammer and the chisel, we are going our way in a half-hearted, listless way, as if we had nothing in this whole universe to rejoice over. If there ever was a time in the history of the college when we had some thing to be glad over and something to sing about, it is now. what in this world will become of us? Are we in the first stages of an evolution which shall evolve a deaf and dumb asylum? If not, why don't we revive our college sings?

It occurs to us that since we have been connected with the college, college spirit has never been at so low an ebb. Are we afraid of the new students? That would be an unheard of state of affairs. Is it because we have no leading spirit? Then let us choose one and try to appreciate his every effort.

When have we heard the sweet strain of "Ra! Ra! Ra! for Allegheny" or "Rosa Lee" or "The Tarpaulin Jacket," or any other of the college songs, which should be so thoroughly instilled into the mind of every college student that time will fail to erase their memory.

What one thing in after years will tend more to recall a thousand pleasant recollections than the strains of the college songs which we learn here in school? Are we to ignore this phase of our college life? Can we afford to do it? Why not have a revival of college sings? We wish you might all have had the pleasure of hearing the students of Westminster sing at the game on Saturday. Some member of our team said before the game, "Who couldn't play foot ball with such encouragement back of him," and we feel that it is the sentiment of the entire team.

Does the student body not care to revive the college songs? It lies with us. Are we to leave the halls of "Old Allegheny" without that blessed connecting link to the life that should mean so much to every one of us? What it is that so easily carries us back to the days of our early childhood and recalls all the kindnes of a mother's love? Is it the prosaic work of everyday life or is it the strains of a long-forgotten lullaby heard in the night?

And what shall awaken a thousand memories of our college days? Will it be the application of algebraic principles, or will it be the strains of an old college song learned in the halls of our Alma Mater? So let us have a revival of the college sing and a revival which will last while our college exists.

Basket Ball.

MEETING OF DELEGATES OF THE WESTERN PENNSYLVANIA INTER-COLLEGIATE LEAGUE.

On Saturday a meeting of the Western Pennsylvania Inter-collegiate League was held in New Wilmington. The meeting was called to order by the president, Prof. Morgan Barnes, of Westminster College. The secretary, Mr. Leech, of Geneva College, was unable to be there, so Prof. Smith, of Allegheny, was made temporary secretary. Westminster was represented by Prof. Barnes and Messrs. Williams and Moore; Allegheny by Dr. Smith and Messrs. Kelley and Smith.

The meeting was called at the request of Geneva and the object was to arrange for the coming basket ball season. Geneva wanted the league to adopt the rule that all games should be played in a cage. They claimed that all games in the East were played under such conditions and that they thought it would be admirable for the league to adopt a rule requiring the use of a cage.

The Westminster and Allegheny delegates all thought that it would be unadvisable to adopt such a measure. However, they made the ruling that all games should be played under Spalding's Rules for 1901-1902. The only change from last year is that the basket shall be eighteen inches from the wall and that the backing for the baskets shall be of wire netting instead of wood.

The matter of admitting Grove City to the league was discussed, but as no formal petition for admittance was made, no action was taken. The sentiment of the delegates seemed to be that if Grove City would purify her athletics, she would be admitted to the league. Her last spring's base ball team demonstrated the fact that as yet no step has been taken to suppress professionalism.

A committee was appointed to select regular officials for all league games.

The following pennants were awarded: The 1901 basket ball pennant to Allegheny and the 1901 foot ball pennant to Westminster.

The meeting adjourned sine die.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

On Hulings stony steps I stand,
I long to press her little hand
Cased in its dainty glove—but I,
I raise my hat and say good-bye.

Above those stony steps there shines
A light whose dazzling brightness blinds
Me when I linger there—so I,
I curse those lights and say good-bye.

And now for Geneva.

Soon time for the class rush.

The same old story from Westminster.

Everyone must come out to the game on Saturday.

We are getting tired defeating teams at home. That's easy.

Freeman will probably "turn the other cheek" in the class rush.

Delta Kappa Epsilon initiated Belle Titus, of Bradford, on Saturday evening.

E. E. Soult, '99, and P. B. Masters, '01, visited at Phi Delta Theta House last week.

Phi Gamma Delta on Saturday evening initiated Walter S. Giele and Clyde H. Slease.

There is an intimation that the foot ball team came home at 5:30 a. m. to avoid the people at the station.

Hazen, who will lead the Sophomore class, will no doubt have the rush in front of the Hall. He is such a ladies' man.

The only consolation for the foot ball team is that they should have been beaten worse according to the game they played.

A complete line of men's up-to-date furnishings and suitings can be found at Mendel Bros., on Water street, two doors south of Chestnut.

Miss Clara Miner, of Union City, Miss Sara Eighmy, of Springboro, Miss Belle Chase and Miss Zella Horne, of Greenville, are visitors at Hulings Hall.

K. K. G. on Saturday initiated Miss Oromeil Cole, of Duboise; Miss Eleanor Hall, of Franklin; Miss Lee Snook, of Paulding, Ohio, Miss Ethel Gerdon, Meadville; Miss Grace McClure, Meadville.

Fred D. Heckle, our last year's foot ball coach, is in Butte, Montana, working for a large mining company. Mr. Heckle has given up athletics and is following his profession, that of a chemist and assayer.

Kappa Alpha Theta initiated the following persons on Saturday evening: Miss Burnham, Union City; Miss Hires, Salem, N. J.; Miss Johnston, Meadville; Miss Limber, Meadville, and pledged Miss Jones, Franklin; Miss Gailey, Pittsburg, Miss Anderson, Meadville.

How about raising the flag on the new smoke stack.

Can't we get up a little enthusiasm over Saturday's game?

The foot ball team missed their train at Sharpsville and were forced to wait until train 8 to come home.

If the foot ball team couldn't stop the Westminster players how could they expect to stop a train.

Prof. Reese told his class of an ostrich egg in a town window. Don't rubber in the saloon windows, Prof.

J. Chauncey Byers, formerly of Allegheny witnessed the game on Saturday. Byers played quarter 4 years ago.

A complete line of men's up-to-date furnishings and suitings can be found at Mendel Bros., on Water street, two doors south of Chestnut.

Phi Kappa Psi initiated Raymond Crawford and pledged Mr. Beal on Saturday, Sept. 28th and initiated Robert Wilson Saturday, Oct. 5th.

The Hall girls and some of the Hall boys are complaining of the new lights on the Hall steps. It is a mean advantage to take of the callers at Hulings.

What is the college coming to? The Freshmen are being lectured on "How to Study" while the Seniors are contesting for a $20 prize which shall be given to the one showing the most common sense.

When Prof. Reese said, "Everyone knows what a bar is," a look of intelligence spread itself over the faces of all the class. But when he added "I mean a sand bar," the class looked mystified. I wonder why?

Prof. Elliott: "You must choose a advisor."

Student: "Are you full yet?"

Prof: "Yes, That is,—why I mean to say—why my list is full.

And then the Professor blushed audibly.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA GIVES A DINNER IN HONOR OF SUSANNA PORTER.

On Saturday evening Alpha Chi Omega gave a dinner at the Ponce de Leon Cafe in honor of Miss Susanna Porter, who is to marry Will F. Nutt, of Cincinnati, on Wednesday Oct. 9, at 3 p. m.

The dining room was tastefully decorated with carnations and smilax in the colors of the sorority. An elaborate menu was served and thoroughly enjoyed by the thirty Alpha Chis present.

After dinner Mrs. Robert Bruce Gamble and Miss Bertha Sackett responded to toasts, expressing the sentiments of the sorority, in stating their high appreciation of their departing sister, and the loss they felt in her permanent departure.

Miss Porter responded in a few well-chosen words, saying that her interest in the sorority should be unfaltering and that she should ever remember her association with Alpha Chi Omega as one of the most pleasant and helpful experiences of her life.

The remainder of the evening was spent in a most enjoyable way and all left feeling that the bonds of friendship in Alpha Chi Omega were more tender and more strong than ever before.
