MRS. AUGUSTA B. FOTHERGILL
1011 WEST GRACE STREET
RICHMOND, VIRGINIA

Sept. 30th 1937.

My dear Miss Tarbell:-

I just want to thank you for your time in granting me such a long conference two weeks ago and how much I enjoyed it.

The letter to Dr. William Dodd was written but have not as yet heard from him as he has been away and has just recently returned to his country home in upper Virginia according to his sister in law-my neighbor.

When passing through Philadelphia I happened to meet Mrs. Dudley A. Large, one of the hostesses of their celebration of the signing of the Constitution, who has one of the original of the invitations to the last Lincoln ball to which an aunt was invited. She has had some of these copies made so will be glad to send you one if you will let her know that you would like to have it. It seems to me it would be nice for your gift to your alma mata.

The address as she gave it to me is: Mrs. Dudley A. Large, 352 Church Lane, Germantown, Penna.

I do so hope that some arrangements can be made to publish this work which has taken so much time and effort to collect and compile as I feel so sure that the world wants and will read. It provokes me to see how materialistic publishers can be and was dis appointed at their attitude in this respect.

It will be a pleasure if we can meet again w ith regard to this matter.

Cordially yours,

Augusta B. Fothergill.
