Dear Miss Tarbell:

I am sure Louis Adamic would like to talk to the Pen and Brush Club about inter-racial problems if he can, but I am not sure how he is fixed. I will try to find out and let you know. At the moment he is in San Francisco in the course of a lecture tour which will not bring him back to New York until pretty close to Christmas. My impression is that his contract takes him through some of the East after January first. Whether while this contract stands he is free to make other talks I do not know. But as I have already said I will try to find out just what he is free to do and let you know.

Sincerely yours,

Read Lewis.
