My dear Miss Tarbell:-

Have made some inquiries regarding sentiment expressed by recent American Legion resolution respecting beer. I find that the home-brewers are indifferent as to what action taken - they being able to brew a high-powered - 10 to 15 per cent - beer at about half the cost charged by breweries in the old days. I am informed that the Kitchen breweries can turn out about fifty pints of pretty fair beer at a cost of less than one dollar.

If you have not already done so, you may be able to get a new slant on the workings of the prohibition amendment from a newly-published volume - "Ol' Run River" by Col. Ira L. Reeves, former Prohibition Administrator for the 4th New Jersey district. Col. Reeves, whom I know very well and whom I believe to be incorruptible, now lives at # 6802 Merrill Avenue, Chicago - the book having been published by the Thos. Rockwell Co., of that city.

Am having oil history typed now - at least sufficient to give you some idea of the scope of the work. Mrs. Flenner joins me in kindest personal regards and best wishes -

(John W Flenner)

Very sincerely yours,
John W. Flenner.
