CLIMAX

The ever increasing dissatisfaction on the campus has become a spiritual megrim as the result of Saturday's football game. Possibly the defeat is but a symtom of disorders which have afflicted the College for some time. We should try to diagnose the condition in terms of primary causes.

Some years ago Allegheny had a football coach who by an uncanny knowledge of football and by dogged independence built up a championship team. It almost seems that ever since his resignation a faction on the athletic board has been rooting itself deeper and deeper into the control of college athletics. They have bungled consistently and have succeeded in bringing matters to a climax.

The players incite our sympathy and we admire them. Their personal qualities make them favorites on the campus. Several of them could have made positions on infinitely better teams. They come here as stars—alert, strong, vigorous—and are soon beaten down into mediocre players. Physically and morally thrashed by Pitt and Dartmouth, beaten still more in practice scrimmage, they limped on the field at Grove City like a troop of badly mistreated dray-horses. Exhausted before the first play, from the spectators they received only disheartening jeers, jeers which they did not merit. They have had constant friction with management, have submitted to the blustering suggestions of men who assumed the duties of assistant coaches. One might ask many embarrassing questions. Why were two of the best players kept on the bench at Grove City game until both the morale of the team and the score were hopeless? Etc., ad infinitum.

To all questions the oligarchy of the athletic board might answer that the team has been undermined by a sort of hobgoblin, some spirit of discontent. They speak truth. This undercurrent of dissatisfaction combines with the slipshod tactics of the athletic board to make a most disastrous poison. Still the board refuses to give up. They will rule or ruin. Some time ago the trustees recommended a complete reorganization of the athletic board. Throwing tact and propriety aside, the board neglected to take the hint. They even dare to recommend the reappointment of the graduate manager whose past record is commonly said to be a series of failures, blunders, and hostilities. Though no full meeting of the athletic board has been held this year, academic representatives say that the entire board will resign if their bountiful recommendation is not ratified. What will the trustees say about this?

It is indeed time for the trustees to conduct a thorough investigation of affairs in the college. A few persons protest that all is well below the surface, that the present unrest is unjustified. The faculty pretend that they are willing to listen. Yet, when one attempts to speak, the administration issues forth with a stiff finger on trembling lips. The publications board seeks to maintain the reputation for freedom of student press. Their attitude has been liberal, but in a modest fashion. Though I welcome all consequences, though I am willing to pay more dearly than I have already paid for the privilege of writing point-blank, I have been hushed on faculty matters. Orders have come, by indirect circuit, that in writing on faculty affairs I must only discuss principles. "Imagine a youth in a courtroom," wrote William James, "trying cases with his abstract notion of 'the' law . . . . or a professor setting up to lecture on the actual universe with his rationalistic notion of 'the Truth' with a big T, and what progress do you make?" Then, when I obediently limited my column to abstract topics, those with guilty souls cry, "He only wants something to holler about." I am therefore about to be specific at any cost. Since the publications board must tremble, I am willing to choose another medium. And perhaps the trustees will prove to be a more interested audience.

One cannot but feel that the athletic imbroglio is a minor issue, a single manifestation of more significant conditions. At this time I might politely suggest some possible parallels. Perhaps it would be wise to investigate the relative endowments of various departments; the work done by respective professors; their teaching ability and pedagogical sincerity. And perhaps we could even note the question of a student's right to expression of opinion. It is difficult but not impossible to enumerate the vigorous problems which may be born out of the athletic situation.

The Misses Marian and Marguerite Cook, '24, twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Cook, Meadville, are now with the Curtiss Flying Service of New York City. The twins are working the offices of this organization and at the same time learning to fly. They were to take their examination in ground work on October 30.

C. W. GILL, '07. ELECTED NEW MEADVILLE MAYOR

DEFEATS REPUBLICAN OPPONENT ON ISSUE OF LAW ENFORCEMENT

Last week witnessed an event which was very pleasing to Alleghenians; it was the election of Mr. Charles W. Gill to the office of Mayor of Meadville. In spite of the fact that Meadville is strongly Republican, and in spite of the election of many Republican candidates in the recent vote, Mr. Gill, running on the Democratic ticket, had 2,003 votes to 1,774 given his opponent, Mr. George B. Wright, Republican. The article in the Tribune-Republican for Wednesday, November 6, announcing the results of the election stated that it was a "choice between personalities rather than between parties." Both candidates waged an active campaign, and it is evident that party lines were broken in the mayoral contest. The main issue of the campaign was that of law enforcement, especially that of the prohibition and the anti-vice laws. Mr. Gill's platform was that of strict enforcement.

The story of the life of Mr. Gill will be found in the "Who's Who" column in this issue of The Campus.

"In Meadville, the choice of a Mayor for the next four years was of the greatest importance to the citizens. Here it was not on account of, but in spite of Mr. Gill's party label and political views that he was successful. As a citizen of high ideals and unimpeachable connections, he appealed to the voters as a candidate who would fill the office with ability and who could be counted on to enforce the laws and reflect credit on the office of Mayor. Whether or wrongly, the impression was prevalent that his opponent would not favor a strict enforcement of the prohibition and anti-vice laws, and that impression undoubtedly weakened his cause. Mr. Gill is well equipped to give a successful administration as Mayor of Meadville, and will deserve the co-operation of all good citizens in his work."

Allegheny Glee Club Practicing Steadily For Coming Concerts

Having completed six weeks of intensive training, the Allegheny College Glee Club is beginning to show great promise for a successful season. Meetings are held on every Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 7 to 8:30. In addition to these practice sessions, the basses meet every Tuesday from 12 to 12:45 and the tenors meet on Thursday at th same hour. Forty-six candidates reported for the last practice, including quite a few promising Freshmen. No definite quartet has yet been chosen.

"Hark," Jolly Shepherds," by Madigan has been selected as the prize song for the year. The various college glee clubs who are planning to enter the annual Intercollegiate Competitions will use this as their prize song. This contest will probably be held in Pittsburgh soon after the first of the year.

The Allegheny manager, Lloyd Thompson, is endeavoring to secure contracts for a few concert tours for the near future. Trips to Ohio, New York, and Northwestern Pennsylvania definite has been arranged up to this time. The glee club of last year proved to be quite an advertisement for the college and this year's organization should also be one to add glory to Allegheny's achievements.

College German Club Sponsoring Recital By Estelle Weekes

Miss Estelle Weekes, lyric soprano of New York City, will give a recital in Ford Memorial Chapel on Wednesday evening, November 20, at 8 P. M. This is the first time this season that the College will be favored by an evening musicale. Miss Weekes comes as the guest of the German Club of Allegheny College and the Meadville Garden Club.

Miss Weekes has earned an enviable reputation as a concert singer. She has studied in Germany for two years and has just returned to this country. Miss Weekes went abroad as a protege of Madame Schumann-Heink. She was most favorably received as a Konzert-Sangerin in Berlin. Allegheny College is indeed fortunate to be afforded an opportunity of hearing Miss Weekes.

Tickets will be placed on sale shortly and may be secured from members of either of the clubs sponsoring the recital. See a member of the Meadville Garden Club or the Allegheny German Club and obtain a ticket.

E. G. Flint, '26, and Mrs. Flint (Priscilla Gill, '28), have returned from their honeymoon trip abroad and are locating in Pittsburgh.

Coach Crum's Men Kept On Defensive For Three Periods; Score In Closing Minutes of Game

Never in the history of long rivalry has an Allegheny football team played so poorly against Grove City as did the Blue and Gold eleven last Saturday when it was smothered by Coach Charley Berry's fighting aggregation, 40-7. Coach Crum's men were completely outplayed, helpless as babes on the offensive and woefully weak on the defensive. The game was a massacre from start to finish; only in the final quarter did Allegheny register any gains whatsoever.

From the very first it was apparent that Allegheny was in for a fearful drubbing. The team appeared listless and dead on its feet. This, it seems, was due to the hard schedule and the still harder work of the past week, when Coach Crum's men were kept scrimmaging until dark for four consecutive nights. Only on Friday was the work lightened. Consequently, the boys entered the game with much of their usual fight and vigor gone. The team did its best under existing conditions—but such conditions should never have existed.

The team-play throughout the game was the worst witnessed this year. Numerous tackles were missed, Allegheny backs ran into stone walls, while Crimson ball-toters tore through the Allegheny line almost at will, and the customary closeness and fight of the "season's classic," as some are wont to term it, was missing. In this matter the players are not to be censured. They did not lay down on the job. They just weren't there with the goods, but the fault does not lie with them. Somewhere, something was wrong. Just what the trouble was is a matter of conjecture, but it seems as though the team was very poorly prepared and handled for such an important contest.

Not once did the Allegheny team show consistent strength. Almost at will they were swept before the onslaughts of Waleski, Kammer, Munson, Pusch, Baylor, and the rest of the Crimson cohort. Never, until the last minutes of the game, was the Blue and Gold allowed to play anything but a struggling, back-to-the-wall, desperate defensive game. Time after time the Allegheny primary defense was penetrated without difficulty, and the runner stopped by the secondary defense only after gains of from five to fifteen yards. Straight football was the fighting weapon of this devastating team, tackle and guard plays making successive gains throughout the game, wide holes in the line being almost invariably opened.

The first touchdown was rushed through without once giving Allegheny possession of the ball. For fourteen successive plays Grove City marched down the field—sixty-three yards of steady gain, with one twelve-yard pass. Depending in most part on the flashy Waleski, the Crimson raced down the field, piercing both sides of the Allegheny lines for four first downs, and running a final ten-yard end run for the touchdown. A successful kick made the score Grove City 7, Allegheny 0.

The Grove City kickoff was received by Storrie, who returned it to the thirty-five-yard line. Berger made no gain at left guard, and Smith was stopped at right end. Slaughter punted and Berger tackled the receiver without gain. Knapp substituted for Gibson, injured. After two unsuccessful plunges, the Crimson caught Allegheny napping with a punt which, in the absence of a receiver, rolled to the twenty-yard line. A line plunge brought nothing, and Smitty, without interference, was thrown for a five-yard loss on an end run. A punt carried to the fifty-yard line and was returned five yards. After two tackle plays by the Crimson, Scholl recovered a fumble on the Allegheny thirty-nine-yard line. With this "break" Allegheny was able to run and punt to the Grove City twelve-yard line, but from then on the Crimson kept the ball. Waleski was stopped twice, and Grove City punted, but Berger, receiving, was stopped in his tracks. Four Allegheny plays, the last an incomplete pass, failed to make first down, and Grove City took the ball. Another march down the field resulted, this time characterized by determined but futile fighting by the Blue and Gold warriors. At the five-yard line the Crimson found the Allegheny team a stone wall. Two plays lost ground, and on a third a fumble was recovered by Allegheny, who punted to a safe catch on the thirty-five ard line. After four tackle plays had advanced the ball seventeen yards, a wide hole was found at right tackle and the ball was carried through for the second touchdown. The kick for extra point was successful.

GROVE CITY SUPERIORITY REVEALED BY STATISTICS

COACH BERRY'S TEAM SUPERIOR TO BLUE AND GOLD IN ALL DEPARTMENTS

A glance at the statistics on the Grove City game shows that the Blue and Gold made their poorest showing of the year against their old rivals. The Crimson had thirty-two first downs to their credit before Allegheny had once made their yardage. Of the first downs that Allegheny did make, two came as the result of penalties. Brown, substitute end, who played but a short time, made more yardage than any other Blue and Gold player. Nick Varano, usually one of Allegheny's greatest ground-gainers, never got his hands on the ball. Allegheny was on the defensive almost five-sixths of the time.

Although Allegheny attempted twice as many passes as Grove City, the Grovers' record shows more ground gained through the air than did their opponents. The one bright spot in the statistics is the fact that for the third game in succession, Allegheny did not lose the ball on a fumble.

Grove City Gains

Rush—465.
Pass—45.
Total—510.

Allegheny Gains

	Rush	Pass
Gamble	19	3
Brown	0	30
Berger	15	0
Slaughter	7	6

Allegheny	0	0	0	5	—5

Forward Passes—
Grove City—Tried 6, completed 4.
Allegheny—Tried 13, completed 6.
Penalties—
Grove City—Five for forty yards and point after touchdown.
Allegheny—Seven for forty yards and one point after touchdown.
Fumbles—
Grove City—Six, four recovered.
Allegheny—One, recovered.

HARD SCHEDULE FACED BY ALLEGHENY DEBATERS

OHIO WESLEYAN AND WESTERN RESERVE ARE ADDED TO SCHEDULE

Allegheny debaters are facing a stiff season this year because of the addition to the schedule of Ohio Wesleyan and Western Reserve, two unusually strong teams. Plenty of good material, however makes the prospects for this season look very bright. The special course in debating, English IV-A, which is being held for the first time this year, should make a decided improvement in the quality of the debaters' work.

Included in this year's schedule are Wooster, Oberlin, Dickinson, Westminster, Western Reserve, and Ohio Wesleyan. The first home debate of the year will be with Wooster College. One debate with Dickinson is to be held in Erie and the other at Dickinson. Western Reserve, Oberlin, and Westminster will be met at Cleveland, Oberlin, and New Wilmington respectively. The Ohio Wesleyan team is to debate at Allegheny and will then continue on its way to Colgate.

The women's debate squad is to oppose Wooster and Ohio Wesleyan. The first contest, that between Wooster and Allegheny, is sponsored by the High School and University Women's Club of Warren, Ohio, and will be held in the Warren G. Harding High School. The Ohio Wesleyan team will debate our team here and will then leave for the East where they will debate a number of the leading women's colleges.

The question that is to be debated with the Ohio schools is, "Resolved, that the policy of providing a liberal arts college education for all high graduates who seek it is unsound." Another question for a debate with the Pennsylvania colleges has not yet been selected.

SHRUBBERY IS PLANTED AROUND NEW BUILDINGS

APPEARNCE OF STRUCTURE IS IMPROVED BY TREES AND SHRUBBERY

Twenty years ago the first landscaping work was begun at Allegheny by Mr. Arter, who planted the rhododendrons in the ravine and in 1914 the first shrubbery was set out. Now, in order to hide the more unsightly parts of the new buildings and to soften their hard lines—in short—to make them more attractive, Doctor Darling has begun work. Already some shrubs have been set out, and more will be planted in the near future, according to Dr. Darling's plans, which have been approved by the college architect.

To break the lines of the railing in front of Arter Hall, trailing vines of Japanese honeysuckle and Virginia creeper will be put in. Also, to soften the upright lines of the pillars of Arter and Caflisch, vines will be trained to creep up them. Colonial lines of Arter Hall will be carried out by the evergreen shrubs on either side and at the corners. To give the effect of distance to the building, which is set very close to the street, two silver bell trees are to be set on either side. Each end is to be covered by Boston ivy. Behind the building, the banks are to be partially covered with trailing golden bell. The picture will be completed by a frame of shrubbery behind the building and an approach lined with low boxwood.

Plans have also been made to beautify Caflisch. At the corners at each side of the main entrance weigelas and syringas are to be set out, and there will be an edging of privet. The walk around the front entrance is to be edged with a new shrub, the box barberry, which is low, growing from eight to ten inches high. The front of each wing will be banked with spiraea. Between Alden and Caflisch, five dozen each of peonies and iris will be set. At Commencement these will be used particularly. Behind the building the driveway will be edged with privet. Around both Arter and Caflisch redbranched dogwood are to be planted. Altogether, 500 plants and shrubs will be set out, making a total of 2000 over all the campus. It is estimated that within four or five years these will have attained their full growth.

Musical Program in Chapel Wednesday Given by Glee Club

Last Wednesday another delightful musical program was given in Chapel. For the first time this year the Men's Glee Club had charge of the exercises, although the Glee Club as a whole took no part in the program because of the large number of members who were suffering from colds. An impromptu musical program was rendered by the College Trio, by James Springer, and by Milton Brown. The program was in charge of Paul Younger, who is the student leader of the Men's Glee Club.

The College Trio, composed of Donald Knapp, first tenor, Paul Blair, second tenor, and Paul Younger, bass, presented three popular numbers. James Springer sang two numbers and an encore. Bookie Brown concluded the program with several variations of the Pep Song and two popular songs.

The complete program was as follows:

Am I Blue? Dinah, Sleepy Valley.
College Trio.
Morning Is Calling.....Terry
Fauning .....Foerster
Jean (an encore).....Strauss
James Springer
Allegheny Pep Song; Oh, Baby, Look What You've Done To Me; True Blue Lou.

MISS BOWIE ATTENDS CONVENTION OF DEANS

Miss Bowie returned last Sunday afternoon from a trip to Harrisburg, where she attended the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Association of Deans of Women, which includes in its membership the deans of all the colleges, universities, and high schools in the state. The convention was held Thursday and Friday of last week in the Penn-Harris Hotel of Harrisburg, and had as its guest of honor Miss Thrysa Amos, of the University of Pittsburgh, the president of the national organization of the association.

The general topic of the program was "Mental Health," and speakers on the subject and other subjects related to the main topic were Dr. Frederick Allen, head of the Philadelphia Child Guidance Clinic, President Mervin G. Filler, of Dickinson College, Miss Eleanor Lord, former dean of Goucher College, Miss Charlotte Ray of Pennsylvania State College, and Miss Florence Kunkel of Edinboro State Teachers' College.

INTERESTING QUESTIONS SUGGESTED BY ALUMNUS

ACTUAL VALUE OF FOOTBALL AS ADVERTISING MEDIUM IS QUESTIONED

Once again an alumnus has displayed his interest in the athletics of the College by writing the following letter The questions suggested by the writer are of general interest and The Campus will welcome all replies to them.

Editor of The Campus,
Meadville, Pa.
My Dear Sir:

I want to register my hearty approval of the point of view expressed in the editorial of the Oct. 23 issue of The Campus "Should We Play Pitt and Dartmouth?" Just why should Allegheny teams be called upon to play those from schools with student bodies so much larger? What is gained?

M. K. W. intimates that perhaps the college gains advertising from such games. This brings to the fore a question in which I have been interested for a number of years It is "of what actual objective value is the advertising obtained by football teams to a college?"

Partial ansers to this question might be obtained by learning the answers to these queries:

1. If all students enrolled in the college at the present time were asked if they would have matriculated in Allegheny if the college had no football team, what number would reply that they would have gone elsewhere?

2. If all individuals who have contributed funds to the support of the institution were asked whether they would have contributed if football teams did not exist, what would the replies be?

3. What is the comparison in amounts of money contributed and numbers of subscribers to the president's alumni fund and to the graduate athletic fund?

The determination of the answers to these questions would make a worthwhile project for your department of education.

The above questions should not be regarded as indicative of my opposition to football. Somewhere among my possessions I have several Block A's and pictures of teams which I coached in bygone days. I am interested, however, in knowing what the educationally justifiable place of intercollegiate and interscholastic athletics is in the colleges and high schools respectively.

Sincerely yours,
W. E. SHEFFER.

NEW LITERARY MAGAZINE WINS STUDENTS' FAVOR

TIMOTHY ALDEN'S "ALLEGHANY MAGAZINE" PROTOTYPE FOR THE "LIT"

On Monday, November 11, the first issue of the Literary Magazine for this year was distributed. This issue retroverts to the first publication of the kind ever founded at Allegheny. "The Alleghany Magazine," as it is called, is written in the style of the magazine which Timothy Alden founded in 1816. It contains several quotations from Alden's first issue which give a glimpse of the student life at Allegheny during the first few years of the existence of the college. There are also samples of the literary work of the present students of the college: a story, an essay, a play, and a poem, besides various humorous notes on events and personages at Allegheny.

Mrs. W. F. Woodring Was Speaker at the Meeting of A. A. U. W.

Mrs. W. F. Woodring was the speaker at the quarterly meting of the Association of American University Women on Saturday afternoon at Hulings Hall. Her subject was, "Remedial Measures in Education." Mrs. Woodring held the position of Remedial Director in the Laboratory School in the University of Chicago.

The talk included accounts of spesific cases of backward or troblesome children, giving the causes of the trouble and the treatment and benefits that resulted. The audience was deeply impressed with the practical value of this work, and the teachers present were keenly interested in giving the local schools all the benefits possible of Mrs. Woodring's training and experience.

On Thursday evening, November 14, at 7:30 P. M., the Association will have a study group at Thoburn chapel. At this meeting Doctor Anna Schafheitlin, member of Allegheny's faculty, will give a report of the World Unity Institute which she attended during the summer at Hyannis, Cape Cod.

Any college alumna in Meadville is invited to attend either the study group or the regular meeting of the Association.

WE WANT A CHANGE

We are disgusted with the football season this year. It has been a miserable failure from every angle. To date the Allegheny team has lost four games, tied two, and won none. We concede that Pitt and Dartmouth should beat us, but we can see no excuse for the record against our usual Class B opponents. We are still smarting from the 40-7 lacing that Grove City handed us last Saturday, and in spite of the score, we are not convinced that our rivals have material so much better than Allegheny. If these defeats were the exception, we could extend condolences and profer forgiveness. But instead of being the exception, they have become the common thing of late. We have lost to Grove City for five years running. We have defeated Thiel once in four years, tying them twice. We have won over Westminster once in three years, one game ending in a tie. We have humbled Geneva once in four years, tying them this season. Against our usual rivals we have won three games, tied four, and lost eight in the past four years—a miserable record!

There must be—and there is, we believe—some good reason for such a terrible record. It is not that Allegheny has not had material. Other schools have envied us some of our players. The record is not entirely the fault of the coaches, either, for they have been fairly successful at other schools. And there is no way that the failure can be blamed on the students in general. The fault that we find is with the graduate manager. He has failed to effect satisfactory arrangements with the players; consequently, they are dissatisfied. They have continually practiced infringements of the training rules—in most cases, minor ones to be sure. Smoking and keeping late hours are entirely too common. Such violations would not be committed if the boys were heart and soul in the game. But they are not—many of them are grumbling and dissatisfied. A majority of the players do not have confidence in the graduate manager's selection of material. It is frequently reported that he will not accept advice concerning the choice of athletes to come to this school. The practice of susidizing varsity men to different degrees has caused unrest and feeling on the squad. Meadville, too, has lost its confidence in the athletics of the College. Business men are avowing that they will discontinue their support. The alumni do not respond when solicited for funds for the athletic program. Why? Because they feel that the athletics are not being run to the best advantage. The students have taken a pathetically lethargic attitude—most of them view the situation as hopeless.

We must act—before decadence eats the heart out of Allegheny spirit. The deplorable state of affairs can best be remedied by a complete re-organization of the athletic department. Such a move was recommended by the Trustees. It has never been completely executed. For the good of Allegheny College, some very distinct changes must be made in the athletic management of the institution and a new graduate manager must be secured.

THE SCRUBBING BRUSH

Well, that was certainly a nice parade at Grove City last Saturday (see the write-up of the game), but I wish they had waited until Armistice Day. It would have been more patriotic. Our boys had plenty of fight, but they had nobody to fight with. Coach Berry and his Grove City Gang felt more like playing than fighting.

We see by the paper (Meadville Tribune-Republican) that the formal dance to be held in Hulings Hall will be exclusively for the girls who eat there. That excludes a lot of people.

Speaking of formal dances, I wonder if the old feud of last year over whether or not certain affairs will require tuxs and evening dress will be revived again. I ask you, girls, did you ever wear a stiff collar to a dance?

A long object which, when occupied, resembles a canoe; a lapse in which you can never tell whether it is night or day, since you can't see over the sides; a convenient resting place between eight o'clock classes; an arrangement which keeps your head and feet in the air and the rest of you on the floor; a place to store your blankets.

My grandpa, Carl Columnist I, wrote me a letter the other day, which, by the way, was the first time I had heard from him since I reached out of my cradle and socked him in the eye for playing with my rattle. You may get called severely for it." Why should I wise-crack about the food there? I don't have to eat it.

GROVE CITY GAME

first tally it appeared as if the Crimson's strength lay wholly in its backfield, but the second advance proved that the success was in no less a measure due to the line. Not once did the line slow up the speedy backfield—the gap was always there in time to allow the runner his full speed, and the result was gains resulting in first downs one after another. Allegheny was evidently doomed to defeat—not because of any acute weakness of itself, but as a result of the remarkable, balanced strength of the Crimson.

The last touchdown of the half was made in short order and represented the acme of efficiency in a football organization. Allegheny received the kickoff, could do nothing, and punted. The ball was returned to the forty-five-yard line, a plunge made nothing, a pass made three yards; then Waleski, with perfect, remarkable interference, raced to the ten-yard line. While he rested, two plunges made five yards, then he took the ball again and went through for the touchdown. Again the kick was successful. Score, Grove City 21-Allegheny 0. The fourth kickoff and one scrimmage completed the first half.

The second half was played almost entirely in Allegheny territory. Berger received the kickoff, and made a nice return to the thirty-yard line, but there Grove City stopped all advances and Allegheny punted. Grove City returned the punt to the Allegheny 45-yard marker, and three off-tackle plays advanced it to the thirty. Two more plays added ten more yards. A fumble lost thirteen yards, but a pass brought the ball once more to the twenty-yard line. A pass was blocked, but an offsides penalty gained five yards for the Crimson. Waleski contributed five more, bringing the ball to within ten yards of the goal, but on the next play Grove City was penalized fifteen yards, putting the play on the twenty-five-yard line. Here Allegheny held and received the ball, but again could not gain and punted. The punt carried to the Allegheny forty-five-yard line, and the receiver was stopped in his tracks. Grove City once more marched down the field, and was this time held when fourteen yards from the goal. For the third time Allegheny punted to its own forty-five-yard line. This time the Blue and Gold, weakened by its desperate efforts, could not stop the Crimson drive, and eight plays sufficed to take the ball over. The kick for extra point was wild. The score stood Grove City 27, Allegheny 0.

Early in the period Grove City scored a fifth touchdown, being aided by Allegheny's frequent off-sides. During the drive for the last Grove City touchdown, Allegheny did not receive possession of the ball once. After the first scrimmage play most of the first team was taken out and replaced by substitutes. Thirteen plays took the ball over for the sixth time. The kick was blocked, making the score Grove City 40, Allegheny 0.

But the next touchdown was a different story. The score was Allegheny's. Furthermore, this time Grove City did not lay hands on the ball. The kickoff went over the goal, putting the ball in play on the twenty-yard line. A penalty lost fifteen yards, but interference on a pass gave Allegheny the ball on the forty-eight-yard line. Three yards were gained off right tackle, but a Grove City offside made the gain five yards, and the down did not count. A successful pass advanced the ball to the Grove City thirty-yard line, and made a first down. Two yards were gained on a double pass. Twelve yards were lost, seemingly, by a pass blocked at its origin, but the loss was nullified by the fact that a spectator was standing by the linesman and a penalty was awarded. On the next play a pass was intercepted, but another Grove City offside gave Allegheny another five yards and another first down. The referee was playing a fine game. A pass to Gamble put the ball to the eight-yard line. Another pass to Gamble lost four yards. A third pass to Gamble gained eight yards. Both sides were offside on the next play, and on the last play Berger dashed into a pile composed of most of the players of both teams and took the ball over. Allegheny received the extra point on another offside. Score, Grove City 40, Allegheny 7.

Grove City returned the kickoff to its forty-yard line. The Crimson made no gain on the first play, made seven yards through right guard, fumbled on the next play, and recovered for a gain of three yards, making first down. Seven yards were added by a plunge through right tackle, and about two and a half more on a lateral pass towards right end. They were held for no gain, and the game ended. Final score, Grove City 40, Allegheny 7.

One cannot help but admire the perfection with which the Grove City team played. Backfield and line cooperated with remarkable precision. When the interference took men out, they remained out of the play until the runner had passed them. Waleski, with all his speed, had only to follow his interference to make large gains consistently. In spite of the fact that Grove City is our time-honored rival, it must be admitted that she had the far better team. Allegheny was by no means disgraced in this overwhelming defeat. The Blue and Gold played hard, and fought hard, but the odds were too much against them.

Cross Country Team Will Meet Geneva in Final Race of Year

A tryout to determine the men who will represent the College in the cross country run with Geneva next Saturday was held on Friday afternoon, November 8. In spite of a cold wind, Paul Dreibelbis negotiated the course in 23 minutes, 25 seconds. The other runners crossed the line in order named: Minnis, McAdam, Rocky, Beiler, Hollingsworth, and Avery.

The probable starters in the Geneva meet will be Captain Dreibelbis, Minnis, Rocky, McAdam, and Beiler. The race will be the last one of the abbreviated season for Allegheny. Other schools in the district have experienced difficulty in securing cross country teams, and as a result have given up the sport. Consequently, Allegheny's schedule called for only three meets this year.

Geneva will be represented by a fair team this year, one which does not measure up to the standard of other seasons. Last Saturday the Covenantor runners found Carnegie Tech too much for them, losing to the Plaid by a score of 15 to 40. Last year Allegheny and Geneva staged a thrilling race, with the Tri-State championship at stake, and the Blue and Gold emerged victorious. Neither team has a championship at stake this year, so the meet will not have the same color as in the past.

Meetings of College Epworth League Will Involve Competition

Allegheny College Epworth League will inaugurate a new system of conducting meetings in the near future. It will start a system of inter-fraternity and inter-sorority competition, each organization in turn leading the discussion.

Topics for the entire school year have been selected by Dr. George Lackland, pastor of the Stone Church, and Gordon J. Cornwall, president of the League. Next Sunday the topic for discussion will be, "Should Conscientious Christians Be Exempt from War?" For December the topics will be, "What Can One Believe About God, the Bible, Imortality?" During January the discussions will be based entirely upon relationships between the sexes.

For February Doctor Lackland has chosen three topics on the "Relationships of Christ's Teachings," and for the four meetings in March, the League will discuss "The Christian in: Law, Medicine, Teaching, the Ministry."

Meetings are held every Sunday evening at 6:30 in Thoburn Chapel, second floor. All those who wish to take part in any of the League activities or discussions are cordially invited to attend. Social teas are held before each meeting at 5:00 P. M.

Dr. Alexander H. Kemp, '15, after a furlough in this country, is back at his work in Africa. His address is Caixo Medical College in 1928.

Christmas and Everyday Greetings

Society

Old Dame Society put on her finery over the weekend with three sorority parties and a fraternity hop. Next week should find her in her finest; then the just-before-Thanksgiving exams descend upon the school. Clubs are showing signs of life with Pi Delta Epsilon and Alpha Chi Sigma initiating new members soon. Yes, everything sems to be all right in the social world, except that a few clubs are not yet in the habit of reporting their meetings to the Society Girl with the phone number of 970-R. All announcements of meeting time and reports of meetings are to be in her hands by Sunday afternoon. Don't forget, club secretaries, for the students look at this weekly calendar to see what is on the program for the week. Don't fail them or they will fail you at the meetings.

The meetings this week are:

November 15—The Thoburn Club in French Seminar room of the Library.

November 15—German Club, home of Ruth Sundback, Chestnut Srteet, at 7:30 P. M.

November 16—Philo-Franklin Forum.

Alumni Notes

Frank H. Bacon and Helen Millhoff Bacon, both of the Class of '21, have been living in Tulsa, Oklahoma, but will come north about the tenth of November to locate at 407 East Broadway, Mt. Pleasant, Michigan.

The Reverend W. F. Hovis, Jr., D. D., '05, has been transferred from the pastorate of the Wesley M. E. Church in Oklahoma City to that of the Kenwood M. E. Church in Milwaukee.

J. H. Bozic, '23, and Mrs. Bozic (Gertrude Curry, '21), are now living in Pittsburgh, 1310 Wisconsin Avenue, Dormont. Mr. Bozic is an attorney with the Westinghouse Electric Company of East Pittsburgh.

Gertrude Thomas, '20, is society editor on the Meadville Tribune staff, having begun her work about the middle of September.

Edith Briggs, '24, who teaches in the Latrobe High School, and three friends drove up for the Pitt game at Erie Saturday. She was the guest of Mrs. Helen Robinson Wagner, '24, Meadville, Saturday night and Sunday.

Helen King, '26, who taught two years at East Brady and one year at North East, is now with the May Company Store in Cleveland, Ohio, where she is getting practical experience in the various departments of the store preparatory to entering the field of education and personnel work in stores.

Lucile Lippitt, '15, well-known through her work as general secretary of the Meadville Y. W. C. A., recently suffered serious injuries near Mesa, Arizona, when the machine in which she was riding collided with another on a steep mountain road. She was treated at first in a hospital at Mesa, but is now with friends in Phoenix, Arizona. Miss Lippitt has been located in Los Angeles for some time in connection with her Y. W. C. A. work.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Nodine, 566 North Street, Meadville, on Sunday, October 27, a son. Mrs. Nodine was Mildred Lucile Hazen, of the Class of 1917.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Judd, '25, are living at 36 Linnaean Street, Apt. 7, Cambridge, Massachusetts. Mrs. Judd (Virginia Debolt) is doing department store work as contingent saleslady, while Mr. Judd is studying in the Harvard School of Business Administration.

COLLEGE TRIO SINGS AT THE PARK THEATRE

Allegheny College was represented on the legitimate stage during the first part of last week by four of the students who sang in conjunction with the Meadville beauty pageant held at the Park Theater.

James Springer, tenor, entertained by singing "Oh, Sweet Mystery of Life" and "Deep in My Heart."

The College trio, composed of Donald Knapp, Paul Younger, and Paul Blair, sang throughout the program, offering "Carolina Moon," "Ain't She Sweet," "Dinah," "Sweethearts on Parade," and "Sleepy Valley."

CONTEST TO BE HELD BY DELTA SIGMA RHO

Delta Sigma Rho anounces that its inter-fraternity extemporaneous speaking contest will be held during the week of November 17. The two subjects which have been chosen for the contest are "College Life" and "The Lobby." Each man will select one of these two subjects and will be allowed twenty minutes before the contest to prepare his speech. All men in the College who are not members of Delta Sigma Rho are eligible for competition. This contest is sponsored each year by Delta Sigma Rho, the national honorary oratorical fraternity, and a great deal of interest is being shown by those interested in this work.

Who's Who . . . .

One has but to walk into Gill's Bookstore in Meadville, Pa., to find a man of many interests, a man who worked in iron-ore mines at twelve, who is a graduate of Allegheny College, who was last week elected Meadville's mayor for the next four years. Charles Wesley Gill has had a varied career, and in all its different phases he has been successful. Now that his success has been climaxed by his election to a position of such honor and responsibility as that of mayor, Alleghenians think more highly than ever of this alumnus of the class of 1907. He is, indeed, as the Kaldron proclaimed when he was graduated, "a thorough gentleman and a scholar." More than that, he is a worker.

Throughout his life Mr. Gill has had to work hard for everything. At the age of twelve he toiled in the iron-ore mines, getting what education he could in a few months of school in the winter. At sixteen he clerked in a store; a year later he owned one. Rather a good start for a seventeen-year old. But Charles Gill was not satisfied with this. He wanted more schooling, and so he entered California Normal. Graduated from there, he began to teach. Several years later, still unsatisfied, he matriculated at Allegheny. Here at college Charles Gill's capacity for work and his breadth of interest were shown still more. Because he was almost entirely self-supporting, he must have had little opportunity to participate in extra-curricular activities, but he found time to be basketball manager, president of the Oratorical Association, member of the Quill Club and several other organizations.

From the time when he was graduated from Allegheny until 1917, Mr. Gill worked as an official of the Chautauqua Institution at Chautauqua, N. Y. Then, the spirit of the scholar still strong in him, and he took some special graduate work in the University of Chicago. It was also during this period that he married Nelle Wilson, '06. A little more than ten years ago Mr. Gill became an assistant professor of English at Ohio University. When America entered the War he enlisted as a private in the army, but instead of being sent abroad, he was kept at the university in connection with the student training corps.

Nineteen hundred and twenty-one found Charles Gill back in Meadville, again connected with Allegheny College, but this time as its fiscal agent rather than one of its students. Still progressive, he made many new friends for Allegheny. That the college has been able to erect the new Caflisch Hall is largely due to Mr. Gill's activities.

Four years ago Mr. Gill purchased the book store in which we now find him. That, as a citizen of Meadville, he is as energetic as he has ever been is evidenced by the fact that he is a member of the Meadville Chamber of Commerce, the University Club, and the American Legion. Bookselling and real estate have been his chief interests for some years. Now, however, Mr. Gill is about to enter another field, not that of student, nor of bookseller, but one in which he will have to use what he has learned in all his former positions, for he is to be mayor. Although a Democrat in a Republican community, his qualifications were so satisfactory that the majority preferred him in spite of his party label. It has been said of Mr. Gill, "As a citizen of high ideals and unimpeachable connections, he appealed to voters as a candidate who would fill the office with ability and who could be counted on to enforce the laws and reflect credit on the office of mayor . . . . Mr. Gill is well equipped to give a successful administration."

Allegheny may well be proud of one of her sons who, in bringing success and honor to himself, has glorified his alma mater.

ORATORS BUSY GETTING READY FOR WAKEFIELD

Three contestants in the Wakefield Oratorical Contest have turned in their manuscripts to the committee. The following are the subjects which have been chosen: "Modernistic Education," Charles Shaw; "The Sea's Strength," James Hamilton; "Outposts," Charles White. The other contestants who are working on their orations are Donald Knapp, Frederick Haberman, Robert Rutherford, and George Moultrie. Any upperclassman who wishes to compete may make arrangements with Mr. Hurst Anderson. All manuscripts must be in the hands of the committee on debate and oratory not later than Wednesday, November 27. On December 5th the six contestants who are retained will enter the finals. An award of thirty-five dollars goes to the winner of the first prize and fifteen dollars to the winner of the second prize.

ORGAN RECITAL GIVEN BY DR. CHURCH MONDAY

At the regular chapel services Monday, November 11, Armistice Day was observed by a short period of silence, during which the students remained standing as a tribute to those who sacrificed their lives in the late Great War. Doctor Beiler gave a short prayer in which he expressed the wish that war might be abolished.

Immediately afterward, a short organ recital was given by Doctor Church. His first selection was an arrangement of a minuet by Mozart. He then played three movements, Allegro Moderato, Adagio, and the Marche Pontificale from the Sonata Pontificale, by Lemmens. He concluded this short and enjoyable recital with a rendition of a part of the well known Wedding March, by Oliver King.

A REAL CIRCULATING LIBRARY AT SHARTLE'S STORE

Responding to the demand for good, clean books and a well conducted Circulating Library we have installed the same. The new book you heard discussed last night or saw reviewed this morning is here in our Library awaiting your selection—if new and popular. You can obtain the book you want. The service is prompt and pleasing, the books are clean and inviting. Members find that they read more and better books because we receive 30 new books each month.

WAYNESBURG BRINGING STRONG TEAM TO OPPOSE CRUM'S MEN

Yellow Jackets Boast of Victories Over Grove City and Geneva To Date This Season

When the Blue and Gold stacks up against Waynesburg next Saturday afternoon on Montgomery Field, the local team will again be the underdog, as it has been in so many of its games this year. The Yellow Jackets are the proud possessors of a 12-7 win over Grove City, annihilators of Allegheny, and this fact alone indicates which way the battle is likely to turn this week.

Allegheny's stock takes a slight rise, however, since Waynesburg was held to a 7-0 score by Geneva when these two teams battled on Armistice day. The Covenanters were greatly handicapped by injuries to six of their men and consequently they were unable to send their full strength against the Yellow Jackets. Allegheny's 13-13 tie with Geneva would indicate that the Blue and Gold has some chance of winning on Saturday—but the chance is very slight, unless the team displays a complete reversal of the form shown last Saturday.

Those who saw the Grove City-Waynesburg game report that the Crimson did not play up to its usual standard. The Yellow Jackets, however, completely outplayed Charley Berry's men; consequently, they deserved their victory. It was by no means a fluke, the single Grove City score coming as the result of a fumble.

The Waynesburg team has been an "in-and"outer" all season. On one Saturday the team will play an excellent game; the next week it will be defeated by a team that is supposed to win over. If the Yellow Jackets have an "in" day this week, they will make plenty of trouble for Coach Crum's men and it would not be at all surprising if they were to walk off with a victory. If, however, the Waynesburg team experiences one of its bad days, Allegheny will stand a fairly good chance of winning.

The outcome of the game does not depend entirely on the way the opponents play. Allegheny will have to show 100 per cent better form this week than they did against Grove City if they are to lick any team in the district. It is to be hoped that the Blue and Gold outfit will pull itself together this week and try to atone for the showing of last Saturday.

The squad, aside from having gone somewhat stale due to the intensive training and hard schedule, appears to be in fairly good physical condition. Bob Garbark, injured fullback, is about ready to play again. He has his ankle in a liquid cast, making it almost impossible to bend or twist the ailing member. He may not be used much more this year, however, being given a chance to rest up for the basketball season.

The Waynesburg team will be handicapped in its battle on Saturday by the fact that it has already played one game this week, having opposed Geneva at Beaver Falls on Monday, Armistice Day. Two games in one week is a very difficult assignment for any team. The Yellow Jackets have met with varying success against their opponents in the Tri-State district this year. They hold wins over Grove City and Geneva, but were defeated by Thiel, 6-0. Westminster also holds a victory over them.

If Allegheny is to win a single game this season, the victory will have to come very soon. The season is already rated as a failure, but wins in the last two games would do a lot to improve an extremely poor record.

R. F. Rowley, Alumnus Of Allegheny, Wins Honors As a Golfer

In the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette of November 5, Dick Rowley was given recognition for his feats as golf champion of the Wildwood Country Club. Rowley was graduated from Allegheny in 1921 and earned many honors during his four years at the college. He was active in college affairs and was a member of Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Alpha Epsilon. He was formerly Secretary-Treasurer of the Allegheny College Club of Pittsburgh. The article concerning Rowley is reprinted below.

"R. F. Rowley had to show the old fighting spirit to make his way through the field to annex the Wildwood Country Club's gonfalon this year. His four man-to-man combats were anything but easy and in each instance he had to stage an uphill battle to emerge victorious, usually coming from behind on the back nine to finish out front. In mowing down the field he had to dispose of F. H. Hunter, last year's titleholder, whom he met in the second round and won by the scant margin of one up, while in the 36-hole final he came through with flying colors over W. J. Jacquette, a brilliant competitive player, who succumbed, 2 and 1. In his first match R. F. eliminated George Wittmer III, 3 and 2 and in the semi-final defeated William Frauenheim, by the same count. Rowley has been playing Wildwood since its opening two years ago, and prior to that he confined his niblick-whaling to the Washington County Country Club. Aside from his golfing R. F. is quite proficient at hand-ball, which he plays frequently during the cold months, and in his younger days he was somewhat of a semi-pro baseball player. He is a graduate of Allegheny College and the University of Pittsburgh, where he studied law. His home is at 160 Forty first street and his offices at 302 Frick building. At Allegheny R. F. was a cheer leader three years, and also managed the track team."

PITTSBURGH ALUMNI TO HOLD DANCE FOR TEAM

Final plans are being drafted for the annual party in honor of the Allegheny football team to be given by the Allegheny College Club of Pittsburgh on November 23. The dance will be held in the ballroom of the Pittsburgh Athletic Association. The program will start at 8:30 o'clock.

Allegheny students who journey to Latrobe for the game with St. Vincent's are expected to arrive in Pittsburg in plenty of time to attend the dance. The team will be guests of the club, all others being assessed $1.25 for the evening's entertainment.

Bridge will be arranged for those who do not care to dance.

Former pickpockets and safe-crackers will lecture to students at the University of Chicago's school of police administration. All this in an effort to understand crime and criminals.

This and That

HUMILIATION

We haven't found sufficient courage as yet to hold our heads very high after that massacre last Saturday. If it were not for the fact that we were repeatedly reminded of it we would have had a great deal of difficulty believing that Allegheny was actually playing Grove City, worthy opponent in so many terrific battles. Grove City was the same worthy opponent last Saturday as she has been for years—it was Allegheny that was different. The Pittsburgh Press put it rather correctly when it said: "The traditional rivalry which has always made the game a fight from whistle to whistle was lacking in this contest. Allegheny was on the defensive for the entire period of the game, except for the finish in the final quarter, when they scored. They showed nothing on the offensive. The usual fight with which a Grover team is held in check at these events was lacking." No wonder we feel humiliated. But we do not blame the boys. We feel that they did their best under existing conditions. We place our censure on those higher up, who we believe are responsible for creating such an attitude among the players as has been existing this year.

LUCKY FROSH

Because of the victory last Saturday, Grove City students are staging a tremendous celebration. Monday was a holiday for them, and parades and the like featured their rejoicing after the game. But the freshmen were the lucky ones. They had been promised that if the team beat Allegheny, all freshmen customs would be removed for the rest of the year. Today, the frosh are enjoying their new freedom.

A RUMOR

Dame Rumor has it that Coach Berry of the Grovers directed his quarterbacks from the bench, signaling them on each play. Somehow we can't swallow that too easily, and if it were true, Coach Berry didn't have to work very hard. The Crimson only used about four different plays the entire afternoon: an off-tackle play, a line buck, a reverse play ending in a lateral pass, and a forward pass. All of these plays seemed to be meeting with equal success, so why should a coach bother to signal which play to use next? Maybe he did call for the forward from placekick formation. Maybe.

THE GROVE CITY ATTITUDE

We sincerely appreciate the attitude of the Crimson towards us. The work of their band between the halves was a fine piece of sportsmanship. The music masters marched across the field to the Allegheny stands, neatly formed a large "A," and then played the Pep Song in commendable fashion. It seemed as though the Grovers did not get the usual amount of kick out of beating us this year. Perhaps the one-sidedness of the score detracted somewhat from the victory. The Crimson may have been just a little ashamed for having trimmed us so decidedly. They respected our feelings.

Heard in the stands—"We want a moral victory!"

Bowlers Limber Up As Time For League Opening Draws Near

Allegheny's bowling season formally opened on Monday, November 11. Real interest in bowling, however, will have to be withheld until the second semester, at which time the two bowling leagues will be started. This will give those interested in bowling quite a while in which to get their eyes tested and their arms in shape for the opening matches. No excuses for low scores will be acepted by the officials or the backers of the team on which the low score is committed.

There will be two leagues again this year; the eight fraternities, members of the faculty, and the non-fraternity group will furnish the teams which constitute the two leagues. A meeting of the representative groups will be held soon to determine the division of the leagues and to arrange a schedule for the season.

As yet no surveys have been made as to the comparative strength of any of the teams, but one is safe in saying that there will be plenty of competition from all sides, and the winner will have no easy time in capturing the cup.

STUDENTS ATTENTION

For self-supporting students desiring fascinating, remunerative work either temporary or permanent, may I suggest that many students of both sexes have earned scholarships and cash sufficient to defray all college expenses, representing national magazine publishers. If interested, write or wire for details—M. A. Steele, National Organizer, 5 Columbus Circle, New York, N. Y.
