The proposed ASG constitution won the approval of 97 per cent of the students voting in last Thursday's referendum and thus stands approved; the fete of the proposed universal honor system rests in doubt.

Of 83 per cent of the resident student body voting in the referendum, 58 per cent were in favor of the proposed honor system. According to Honor Committee Chairman Bruce Hampton, the Honor committee was officially notified of the results of the referendum prior to this year'sasmall business trip, but will return this week. A decision on the fate of the program will be made after his return.

The new ASG constitution goes into effect just before the ASG elections. According to Constitution Committee Chairman Hank Drucker, the new constitution committee is very gratified by the overwhelmingly vote of confidence students gave the new constitution.

Foster B. Doane, Prominent Trustee
Dies in Florida; Mourned by College

By Julie DeFranco

Allegheny's flag flew at half-mast Saturday and Sunday as Allegheny paid tribute to one of its most devoted friends and trustees, Foster B. Doane, '17, who died Feb. 14 in Florida at the age of 69.

One of Allegheny's most colorful alumni, Mr. Doane owned a ranch near Bondurant, Iowa, where he and his family made their home, a 400-acre ranch in Colorado, an island in the middle of Lake Lewisville, Texas, and a 3,500 acre ranch near Bandera, Texas, where he and his wife, Ethel, resided. Mr. Doane's road to success began at Pitt and in the depths of the depression he was a co-founder of the famous King Ranch in Texas.

Doane ranch are prize beef cattle, 1,500 head of sheep, 1,000 Angora goats, and 30 horses. He was a collector of relics of the Old West. Among the livestock on the Doane ranch are prize beef cattle, 200 head of Santa Gertrudis (a breed of Texas Longhorn and Indian Brahmas developed by the Doane's at the ranch in Bandera), and other livestock, including 1,500 head of sheep, 1,000 Angora goats, and 30 horses. Mr. Doane's road to success began at Pitt and in the depths of the depression he was a co-founder of the famous King Ranch in Texas.

Senior Class Party Tomorrow Night

Dane Wilder, Co-Chairman of the Governor's Committee of Two (War Activities Committee on Education), will speak in Ford Memorial Chapel at 8:15 p.m. to night on "State Support for Higher Education in Pennsylvania." Wilder received his B.A. from Princeton University in 1951 and his M.B.A. from New York University in 1953. His business enterprises include: Director and Chairman of the National Forge Co., Director of the High Pressure Equipment Co., and Director of the Youngstown National Bank. Mr. Wilder is a member of several civic organizations.

Another of the duties was to work for the Federal Reserve Board and for the financial effort on behalf of public elementary and secondary education, especially for improved teachers salaries.

The Visit '63

The Visit, opening on Thursday, Feb. 16, is the first American stage hit of one of the three significant new European dramatic triumphs of the year: "The Visit" by Peter Weiss, translated and produced by Engelbert von Wachter, a Swiss named Friedrich Dürrenmatt.

The drama, a piece for older audiences, will have the Lung and Fontanne and other stars. It is a remarkably witty, sharp-witted play, which will have the Lung and Fontanne roles of opposite sex tonight. The play is under the direction of Charles Hampton Jr. Performances are Thursday and Saturday nights, Feb. 2, 4, and 6.
Foster B. Doane

With the death last Thursday of Foster B. Doane, Allegheny College has lost one of its most devoted alumni and trustees. He is 69 years old. Mr. Doane made an impressive mark on the business world and, with his varied and far-flung interests, seems to have had the time and energy to give to his alma mater with vigor and opulence perhaps greater than most of us will attain.

Yet through all the successes in his career, Foster Doane never forgot his roots, and he was vitally interested in the welfare of Allegheny College. As long as Allegheny can hold the loyalty of alumni and friends of the caliber of Foster Doane, it shall continue to surge forward in the field of higher education.

DeFranco, Hyde Appointed to "Assistant Campus" Staff Positions

The first freshmen appointees to the Campus News and Copy Staffs were announced today by Editor Lew Fisher. Jim DeFranco has been named Assistant News Editor. She will work at the school newspaper in Masville, N.J., at the time it won a first place in Columbia. In addition, he was also correspond- ence editor for the school newspaper in New York City.

She participated in Girls' State and was a member of the Student Council, as well as a member of other organizations. Miss DeFranco has worked on the News Staff since September.

Mary G. Hyde has been ap- pointed Assistant Copy Editor. As high school in Arlington, Va., she was a member of the copy staff of the newspaper which contained the highest All-American Award given in the nation for news writing by the Columbia

'Campus' Report

20 YEARS AGO — and not too different! Fund Drive activities included personal solicitations, a companion brunch in the cafeteria between men and women, a Variety Show performance, a dinner dance, and the opportunity to purchase the opera H.M.S. Pinafore, and the All-College Carnival. (All-College Carnival is still going strong!) 25 YEARS AGO: Allegheny Out- ing Club held their annual Student Snow Carnival in the city of district colleges. 50 YEARS AGO: Washington's Birthday has really become the holiday of the entire year for Allegheny students, with the Washing- ton Birthday Dinner becoming an annual tradition.
Memories Of Horseback Riding At Allegheny

by Linda Selfried and Lewis Fisher

For twenty-four years at Allegheny, when a touch of spring came as it did this week, members of the Boots and Saddles Club would begin polishing their gear and planning activities in anticipation of the Spring horseback riding season.

From 1936 to 1960 Allegheny students enjoyed the college's horseback riding facilities, which few colleges of Allegheny's size have. New stables to replace the old barn and two riding courses were constructed in the athletic area when Robertson Field was acquired in 1949. On the first floor of the stables were stalls, a grain room, tack room, rest rooms and a large lounge for storage space on the second floor.

In addition, riding trails wound through the woods in the vicinity of the athletic field. Today, the stables are boarded up and are used by the maintenance department for storage. The paddock is used for occasional picnics.

The riding program was dropped in 1960, despite much student sentiment to continue the program. According to Miss Margaret Kirk, of the Physical Education Department, there were

Students Visit New York City To Participate in Press Conference

Four members of The Campus staff departed noon today for New York City to attend the 5th annual Student Editors’ Conference on International Affairs, sponsored by The Coca-Cola Company, the National Student Association and the Reader’s Digest Foundation.

Attending from Allegheny are Editor-in-Chief Lew Fisher, Feature Editor John Volvo, Assistant Copy Editor Mary Hyde and John Quattruccio, news and feature writer. They will return Sunday, March 3, after the conference.

The conference will be held at the Overseas Press Club, emphasizes understanding current topics in international affairs in addition to enabling between 200 and 300 study students to view at the time the reservation is made.

Music Dept. Sponsors Concert

The second of a series of three chamber music concerts, sponsored by the Music Department, has been set for Thursday at Ford Chapel at 8:15.

Participants will include Dr. and Mrs. Hubert Florence; Dr. and Mrs. Robert Lynn. Also appearing will be Miss Dorothy Jeanne Smith, Assistant Librarian, and Miss Kylee Wynn, a sophomore.

Guest artist will be the Rev. Neil Ferris, pastor of the Unitarian Church of Pittsburgh, who formerly was associated with the Austin Symphony Orchestra. The Ferrises will return Wednesday, March 3, after the Rev. Mr. Ferris in a public concert.

The following program will be offered:

Quartet in D major, for piano, violin, viola and cello, W. A. Mozart

* Juniors: Connecticut General has been notified of a new program for men who might like to spend the summer in one of their large sales offices learning something about insurance business. There is no selling involved. Information about this program is available in the Placement Office.

Pre-law students will meet to-tomorrow afternoon at 4 in Quigley 123 to discuss the pre-law program with the law school representatives of the Crawford County Bar Association. Bar association members will assist individual students with their programs, and will arrange meet-ings with students at the Crawford County Court House.

Pre-law students are asked to contact Mr. Alton Kidd if they are unable to attend the meeting.
Grapplers Defeat Case
After Losing to Prexies

Last week Allegheny's wrestling team added a notch on each side of their record. On Wednesday they were defeated by a rugged W & J team 29-7, but on Saturday they came back with a strong 29-5 win over Case.

Being no match for the case, theleon could only register one pin and the first match when Bob Parker looked like the Gators might roll, but the bottom fell out when W & J won seven matches in a row. Chuck Whittner and Lynn Harty were victims of pins during the onslaught. Going into the final match the Gators were down 27-5. Gil Grady wrestling at heavyweight fought a good match with Marty Reynolds and Bob Lerch with John Berhard winning by forfeit. The Gators were down 35-5. In 1962 the Gators registered 7 matches in a row.

The final match is with Wayne State in Detroit on Feb. 23. The Titans have never given the Gators much trouble, as shown by last year's 39-5 shutout. Wayne State has yet to win their record as a team, and their only strength is at 130 lbs. In 1962 the Gators registered 7 pins and one decision as they waltzed by the hapless Tartars.

Sorority Elections
Alpha Chi Omega and Alpha Xi Delta sororities have elected the following new officers:

Alpha Chi: Carol Petko, president; Judy Corcoran, first vice-president; Mary Sue Mason, second vice-president; Sue Hendricks, recording secretary; Joa Walling, treasurer; Mary Ann Jank, membership; Mary Jo Bell, Panhellenic chairwoman.

Alpha Xi Delta: Betty Mitchell, president; Annette Norgren, first vice-president; Judy Traxler, second vice-president; Sara Ahlert, recording secretary; Kris Moore, treasurer; Anita Hirsch, membership; Dawn Waters, Panhellenic; and Sheila Stanley, social chairman.

Delinquents Released
Delinquents grades (60-69) and falling ones (below 60) reported at mid-term are being sent to parents of the following students: all freshmen; all students on academic probation; and students who are on academic warning because their cumulative averages are close to the minimum.

Thirteen Students
Fifteen students from the junior class and two seniors have experienced Prexies, Allegheny one draw. The pin came in the first match when Bill Poguzi was pinned by Ben Myers with 6:30 gone.

Duties of Class Officers Explained
Class officers exist. While this is a well-known statement, their actual duties and functions are generally less known to the majority of students. So that students may elect class officers with a better understanding of the duties they perform, this group of 12 class officers (all class officers) has listed the following functions of class officers:

1. As representatives of their own classes they must be willing to take new ideas and suggestions to the Council and A.S.G.
2. Class officers should be a balanced representation of each class (four males and two females). The pattern has generally been for a male president and treasurer and female vice-president and secretary. The president and vice-president generally function as class officers.
3. The president and vice-president of each class are non-voting members of A.S.G.
4. It is the responsibility of the officers to plan such class activities as banquets, programs, dances, parties, meetings, and any other class business that may arise during the year.
5. The treasurer handles the class finances, including fund-raising as well as spending.
6. Class officers are also responsible for the actions of class council to the student body through "Campus" articles.
7. Senior class officers have the added duties of planning Senior Week and the choice of a class gift.
8. Class council: all class officers meet new ideas and suggestions to the Student Affairs vice-president of Educational Affairs (all class officers) as well as spending.

Fire in Baldwin
A defective washing machine motor in Baldwin Hall was responsible for a fire which brought two fire engines, the Meadville Rescue Squad to the college dormitory at 6:40 p.m. Friday. It was the third fire in Baldwin this year.

The fire was caused as lint which surrounded the defective motor caught fire and filled the room with smoke. Firemen were forced to go through the first floor rear door and con- tinue the fire to the second floor of the gym and did an excellent job of damage control. Investigation is now completed, according to Fire Chief Fred A. Carmen.
As a postmortem to the intramural basketball tournament which was once again captured by Phi Gamma Delta, a few comments should be made on a problem which seems to hamper their sports activities.

The responsibility for the proper officiating of every team contest rests in the hands of such officials. In football, basketball or softball, is held by each participating team. At specified intervals a fraternity or independent group is supposed to supply competent referees who can appropriately officiate a particular sporting event. Unfortunately, this is not always the result and the blame cannot be placed on the individual who in most cases has been pushed into the job.

Negligence or general lack of concern in the choosing of officials has led to unnecessary arguments and hot tempers which have marred several contests during the year. The out- standing statement could be the incompetence of one or both of the referees who seem to know little about the sport which has marred several contests during the year. The out-officials has led to unnecessary arguments and hot tempers more responsibility in choosing their representative officials.

Aqumen Cop Three; Undeated In PAC

The Allegheny College swimmers continued their winning habit by downing Washington and Jefferson by the score of 37-29 on Wednesday, Feb. 13 and by beating Case on the following Saturday in a close match, 46-39. In their most recent meet, on Tuesday afternoon, the Gator Aquamen overwhelmed Westminster, 64-21, to extend their record to an impressive nine wins against only two setbacks, remaining undefeated in PAC competition.

Led by freshmen Bob Sook, who sprained to victory in the 60- and 100-yard free-style events, the Gators had a fairly easy time in their triumph over W&J. Wins also were registered by Craig Toedtmann in the 50 and 100-yard free-style, Jim Brittain in the 200-yard butterfly, Rick Harris in the 100-yard freestyle, and Skip Shaffer in the 200-yard breaststroke.

In a thrilling match with Case the two teams tied 39-39 going into the last event. The Allegheny 400-yard free-style relay team of Bob Wilson, Jim Brittain, Bob Sook and Dave Ludwick rose to the occasion and set a new pool record in the contest to provide the margin of victory.

The Gators found the going a little easier in their 14-point contest with the Phi Gamers. The Phi Gamers found the winning streak with a convincing and hard fought 48-30 victory over the independents on Tuesday night. Combining an effective zone defense with accurate shooting, the

Phi Gamers, back on the win-

ting track, thrust the Chi Rho offense into the second and third quarters to gain a 30-40 win. The consistent play of Joe Valentine, who racked up 17 points, and the red-hot shooting of Hank McCarley in the second half were more than the Chi Rho could handle. The Phi Psi, while starting out the season slowly, have been in high gear recently. They continued their winning ways with a 64-40 thrashing of the Sigs. Eleven Phi Psis hit 11 points, Jim Sample and Larnial in the second half and pulled away, Kachelriess scored 22 points and averaging 23.6 points per game which is good enough for a second place among the Conference scoring leaders. Katz attempted "chippy." Allegheny lost 69-52.
