Mr. W. R. Kelly,
Woolworth Building,
New York City.

My dear Mr. Kelly:

I have your letter of August 29. I appreciate your confidence in thinking that I could do the "100 Great Americans." I certainly should like to try my hand at it. The only difficulty is that I am so tied up with things that I am under contract to do, all pretty long and serious tasks, too. I want to think about this, and if you will give me a little time to consider it, I will write you later.

Very sincerely yours,
