

November 16th 1919

My dear Miss Tarbell.

It is most kind of the Pen and Brush Club to honour me with so pleasant an invitation, but I fear my dates, as I at present know them, do not include the first Sunday in any month. I leave the end of this week, and although I return in January, it will be in the middle of the month for a talk I am giving at Columbia on the 14th. Should I find my visit even likely to include the desired date, will you permit me to call you, for

I should very much like to come?

Very sincerely yours.

Amy Lowell.
