Dear Miss Tarbell:

Next year is the two hundredth anniversary of the birth of Washington. I spoke to Chenery and asked what he thought about an article from you about Washington, and he said he was interested in the idea; that if you had any idea for an article on Washington, he would like to hear about it and perhaps talk with you about it. Have you any ideas for an article about Washington? Would you let me hear from you?

I had a letter from Mrs. McCormick, and she said you were staying down in Arizona, and I presume in that case that this letter will be forwarded.

Yours sincerely,

Paul R. Reynolds
