My dear Miss Tarbell,

The publishers of Hartrampf's Vocabularies have written me that they are very anxious to have a written statement from you as to the value and usefulness of the book to you. They wish to include this in a new circular that will have wide distribution. You will recall that we spoke of this in our last talk, and you very kindly consented to write such a statement for publication when you had become familiar with the book. If you are now in a position to do so, we shall highly appreciate your writing a few words in your own splendid way, and sending it to me at your first opportunity.

I should also be very grateful if you would let me know of any of your friends whom you think would be interested in the book. Mrs. Fisher is going to speak to some of the Club members, but if you know of any others I shall deeply appreciate the privilege of calling on them and acquainting them with the volume.

The publishers sent me a page from the Rotogravure Section of the Atlanta Journal wherein appeared your photograph and mention of the reception by the Pen and Brush Club on the occasion of your twentieth anniversary as President. I quote from their letter:

> "The Pen and Brush Club is indeed fortunate to have as its leader one so devoted in her duties and so untiring in her service as Miss Tarbell. We would like to extend our hearty congratulations to her upon her splendid record, of which she should be justly proud."

I enclose the clipping herewith, and also wish to congratulate you on this anniversary most heartily.

Very sincerely,

John H. Revenaugh
