"Sing Out, Sweet Land" Set For Friday Opening

Last minute painting of sets and sewing of costumes is being completed as the Playshop plans to open its first full-length musical comedy, "Sing Out, Sweet Land", on Friday, May 13.

"Sing Out, Sweet Land", written by Walter Kerr, embodies the folk music of America from its Puritan beginnings to the present day. It includes songs such as "When I Was Single," "Oh, Susannah," "Frankie and Johnnie," "Polly Wolly Doodle," "Captain Jinks," "Casey Jones," "Big Rock Candy Mount," "Bicycle Built for Two" and "Yes, Sir, That's My Baby."

Old Masters Exhibit Shown in Library

If art-loving Alleghenians wish to see an exhibit valued at over $1,000, they need journey no farther than Reis Library where a collection of Old Masters is on display.

The collection belongs to Professor John Hopinski of the Academy of Fine Arts in Crakow, Poland. It was loaned to the library by Dr. Alphonse S. Wolanin of Alliance College.

A miniature locket, painted by Fra Angelico, portrays two saints, Saint Anthony of Padua and Saint Catherine of Siena. The former depicts St. Anthony, preaching the Gospel, with a miniature statue of the infant Christ standing on his book; while the latter painting portrays St. Catherine, in a Dominican robe, showing the stigmata she received. Inside the locket are bone or stone relics of thirty-two saints, which greatly enhance the value of the locket.

Included with the miniature is a character sketch of the paintings and the high points in the creator's life.

Another painting in the collection is "Suzanne at the Bath" by Peter Rubens. This painting, although one of Rubens' lesser works, shows that it was painted by a master. It is an excellent depiction of bulk, poise, balance and weight. And it brings out the Ruben "pinks" which that artist made popular.

The descriptive manuscript with the painting gives the critics' view of the picture, and brings out the way in which the artist's love of life is reflected in his paintings.

Lucas Van Leyden's work in the exhibit depicts a scene from nature. Critics feel that the painting is the more valuable because it is not of his usual scope; and, also, that the trees, rocks and glades appear to be ill-combined. In the foreground of the picture is a miniature saint.

Commencement Exercises Will Be Held Mon., June 13

By Sanky Mehlman

Highlighting the 34th Commencement Program at Allegheny College will be the Commencement exercises held on campus, Monday, June 13th. Guest speaker for the occasion is representative Chase Going Woodhouse of the 81st Congress. Mrs. Woodhouse, representative of the Second Congressional District, Connecticut, is also serving as executive director of the Women's Division of the Democratic National Committee.

Congresswoman Woodhouse, who has held the position of Associate Professor of Economics at Smith College, from 1920-25, is a member of the House Committee on Banking and Currency, and has served in the past on the War Manpower Commission and as consultant for the National Register of Scientific and Specialized Personnel.

Commencement exercises will be followed by a buffet luncheon in Brooks for the graduates and their guests.

According to Philip Benjamin, chairman of the general committee in charge of arrangements, commencement week-end, June 11th-13th will be focused on the "great outdoors". Most events will be held on Bentley's front lawn, and in the Alumni Gardens.

Graduates will enjoy their last formal band concert to be held on the Brooks Balcony at 4:30 p.m., June 11th. Preceding this the Gator baseball nine will oppose Western Reserve on the new diamond at the Park Avenue athletic area.

At 9:00 that evening a Playshop cast of fifty will present Walter Kerr's musical, "Sing Out, Sweet Land", for seniors and friends. The play will be given for undergraduates and Meadville patrons the week of April 13th-21st.

Seniors can close the busy day to the strains of Neil Charles' music at the annual Commencement Dance to be held in Brooks Hall. Hope Ayrault is dance chairman, ably assisted by George Ross. Decorations will be supplied by the Alumni Association.

The central character in the production is Barnaby Goodchild, who "can't die till he's sung out." Barnaby is portrayed by Lee Adey. The villain is played by Bob Landon and the man-chasing heroine by Edith Carberry.

Because of the large number of characters, the other cast members are all playing several different parts. The entire cast includes Margaret Clement, Ruth Cohen, Joe Dickey, Jane Frankel, Rita Ginn, Marvin Goldstein, Jane Hassell, Sue Johnson, Betty Heil, Ralph Marion, Joan McCafferty, Selma Mehlman, Miles Mutchler, Norma Petritz, Anne Roberts, Gordon Robinson, Betty Roher, Dorothy Schade, Nancy Shaw, Barbara Stacy, Muriel Stein, Clair Strawcutter, Mary Elizabeth Thoma, Ned Vidal, John Waite, Bob Wilde, Jack Wine, Jane Winship, Phil Wiseman and Joan Zulch.

A special dance group with Hope Ayrault, Dayle Bartholomew, Dorothy Fiedler, Floria Keyes, Carol Krier, Louise Schimitz and Sally Schwab.

The entire production is under the direction of Mr. John W. Hulbert, head of the drama department. Clair Strawcutter is the student assistant. Mrs. Marietta Richards from Cleveland has come to Allegheny to serve as musical director. Professional dancer, Mr. Frank Benham, did the choreography for the entire company. Mr. William McMillen is acting coach.

The set is stylized with changes in the ten major scenes being made only by turning pages in a giant book in the background. Designing the set was the task of Mrs. Graham Gloster Bird. Technical work for the production was supervised by Mr. John Collison and Mrs. Louise Strawcutter. Cosmo Catalano is in charge of the lighting effects.

Dance Will Complete May Day Activities

"Strolling in the Park" is the theme of the May Day dance to be held in Brooks Hall, Saturday, May 21, from 9 to 12:30 p.m. Marg Beck, general chairman of the dance, has announced that Al Bowman's orchestra will play for the event, and that one o'clock permissions will be granted.

The outstanding highlight of the day will be the May Day procession on the lawn of the campus. In case of rain it will be held in Ford Memorial Chapel. Janet Winkler will be crowned May Queen with Barbara D. Cubbon as her maid-of-honor.

The queen's court will include Hazel Lou McIntosh, Zelma Pitt, Carol Snell, and Mimi Taylor. The undergraduate charm queens are: Ginny Bender, junior; Virgy Lou Oehmler, sophomore; and Dolores Cunningham, freshman.

Virginia Bowman is head of the procession committee with Judy Smith, Miss Hope Ayrault. Mr. George Ross handling programs and publicity. Cassie Heskamp has charge of invitations and chaperones; Lois Behrend, refreshments; Connie Flint, banquet decorations; and Sanky Mehlman, dance decorations.

Friday will be led by the Reverend James Noah Getteny, a promising alumnus now Pastor of the Garden City, N. Y., Community Church. The ceremony will be held at the

Frosh Speaking Finals Tonight

The annual Freshman Speaking Contest will be held tonight at 8:15 in Ford Memorial Chapel. Eight freshmen orators will compete for cash prizes of $15, $10, and $5. Judges for the event will be Dr. Ross, Dr. Allan Sdwards, Raymond McCall, Jean Isherwood, and Tom Fort. Jeff Hopper is chairman of the contest committee. The speakers and their topics are as follows:

Robert Blomquist—"A Scientific Reason For God."

Dolores Cunningham—"Race Riots Aren't Necessary."

Jack Goellner—"The Educated Man."

Paxton Hart—"Eros Versus Agape."

Jean McCrea—"Man's Destiny Is Good."

Selma Mehlman—"Not So Funny."

Ned Vidal—"The Constitution—A Barrier Against Tyranny."

ACA Picnic To Be Held Sunday, May 15

The Allegheny Christian Association will hold its picnic at the Arboretum, one of Meadville's public parks, on Sunday, May 15th. Cars will leave Brooks about 4 p.m.

Recreation is under the direction of Nancy Shaw. Supper, which will cost less than 35c, will be served at 5:30. Dave Powell, new secretary of the Thoburn Club, is in charge of the worship service, which will be high-lighted by the speaker, Charles Hall.

Mr. Hall, a twenty-five year old minister of the Colored Methodist Church, is a student of psychiatric research at the University of Illinois School of Medicine. He received his B. A. from Adrian, and then his M. A. degree in clinical psychology at Harvard. After the war, he spent a summer in Europe, traveling and studying; Mr. Hall then resumed his clinical psychology work at Harvard. At present he is working for his Ph. D. Mr. Hall is the author of a sociological novel, White Boy, which will soon be published.

Membership cards will be presented at a short business meeting preceding the worship service.

Students, Faculty Talk On Education May 19

"Education for What? is the subject for the third student-faculty discussion sponsored by Philo-Franklin. It is to be held on May 19 at 8:15 p.m. in the chapel.

The faculty members on the panel are Dr. Lee D. McClean and Dr. John Cavelti. Reba Garvey and Jack Goellner are the students participating. Mr. Hubert Cordier will act as moderator.

Bulletin Board

CHAPEL SERMON THEME

"If Your Light Is Darkness" is the theme of Mr. Ralph Dunlop's sermon for the Sunday morning chapel service at 11 a.m. in Ford Memorial Chapel. Men from the Theta Chi fraternity will act as ushers.

FRENCH CLUB

French Club will meet Tuesday, May 17, at 8 p.m. at the home of Dr. Armen Kalfayan, 405 Allegheny Street.

NOTE BOOKS

The Allegheny Red Cross unit will collect old notebooks the last week of school. The notebooks will be distributed to students in Europe.

NEW MOVIE

Coming attraction, Playshop, May 25 at 8:30 p.m.—Edith Carberry in "As You Desire Me" a new movie by Harry Banta.

OUTING CLUB

Outing Club will hold a meeting tonight at 8 p.m. in Arter 16. Initiation of the Heelers group will be held at the Bousson outing Saturday.

Charles "Al" Carpenter, Allentown, Pa. junior, has been named editor of the Campus for next year, Faculty advisor Frank Hammet of the English Department has announced. Carpenter, who is the present sports editor, succeeds James Hall of Meadville.

Other top jobs revealed by Mr. Hammet go to: Selma Mehlman, Brooklyn, N. Y., freshman, who will be news editor; Joe Friedman, Pittsburgh, Pa. sophomore who will be feature editor; and Arnie Lewis, New Castle, Pa. freshman who will succeed Carpenter as sports editor.

Terrapin Pageant Opens in Pool

A newer, bigger, more original swim-time awaits all those who will attend the opening of the annual Terrapin pageant "Manhattan Moods," tonight at 8:30 p.m. in Montgomery Pool. New stunts never tried before by the "turtles" will highlight the performance.

According to Bette Massa, president of Terrapin, the usual waltz time music has practically been eliminated in favor of popular songs of the day, and some routines will use double time strokes, while in others, the movements will depict the mood.

Bette wrote three routines, the opening number, "Grand Central Station," the Central Park sequence, and the finale, "Times Square." Other Major Terrapins, Pudge Swanson, Bunny Griffith and Jeanne Bochel wrote the "China Town," "Night Club" and "Baseball," and "Ballet" routines respectively.

The lighting in general is under the control of Robert Paige of the maintenance department, but the actual spotlighting during the performance will be done by Bobby Morse and Doris Cirty.

A special mural, being painted by Virgie Lou Ohmler and Nova June Pierce, will provide an impressionistic background for the "Manhattan Moods."

Sandberg Appoints AUC Committee

Committees for next year were appointed by the president, Joe Sandberg last Sunday at the first meeting of the 1949-1950 Allegheny Undergraduate Council.

Members of the budget committee are Tom Fort, Larry Tompkins, Joe Friedman, and Jim Sheridan.

The assembly committee is composed of Frank Fitch, Todd Taylor, Sandy Drescher, and Jon Sandberg. Marge Beck, Bob Allexsaht, Eleanor Miller, and Art Whitney are the student representatives on the student affairs committee.

IRC Holds Banquet In Cochran Tonight

The spring banquet of the International Relations Club will be held at Cochran dining hall tonight at 6 p.m. with Mr. Harvey Herring, director of admissions, as the guest speaker. His topic will be "United World Federalism."

Next year's officers will be installed at this meeting. Jim Sheridan has been elected president, with Charles Cochener as vice president and Jacques Goutor as treasurer. Deenie Rassas is the new recording secretary and Harriet Walters corresponding secretary.

Discussion Group Meets Wednesday

An informal discussion group, "Tertulia Espanola," will be held Wednesday, May 11, from four to five o'clock, for Spanish students and will be directed by Miss Hummer. Weather permitting, the group will meet out of doors on the lawn in front of Arter; otherwise, it will meet in the Treasure Room of the Library.

Members of the Spanish 6 class, under the direction of Mrs. Moessner, gave a comedy entitled "Los Pantalones," on May 3 in Arter 14. Cast of the play included: Dorothy Schmidt, Anna Mae Giesler, Marths Hayward, Jane Winship, Eileen Graham, and Barbara Trigger.

The new editor, who with his staff will take over the last two issues of the publication this semester, will announce the rest of the staff positions next week. Still to be filled are associate editorships in both the news and feature departments, as well as positions of copy editors and makeup personnel.

In the business end of the Campus, Larry Merriman will take over next year as business manager, stepping up from his present position as circulation head. Dick Andres is the retiring business manager.

Carpenter is a member of Delta Tau Delta fraternity and is majoring in English, with emphasis on journalism. A two-year member of the Campus concerned with sports writing in general, Carp has demonstrated his ability in the field of editorial and feature writing on many occasions. Several of the new editor's works have appeared in the Literary Magazine in the past year.

Miss Mehlman, although just a freshman, has shown exceptional talent in the handling of major campus news stories, as well as routine assignments. Extremely active in campus affairs, especially Playshop and Speech events, Miss Mehlman served as freshman representative on the Student Life Committee the past year. She also has been chosen as Publicity Chairman for N. S. A. and is currently working as chairman of decorations for the May Day Dance. She held a similar post for the Freshman Dance.

Joe Friedman, an independent, is a member of I. R. C. and has done varied work for the Playshop. Interested in music and journalism, Joe is majoring in history with an eye towards teaching on the college level. This year Joe, along with (Continued on page 4)

Last Chamber Music Recital on May 15

The last concert of chamber music for the season will be presented in Ford chapel at 3:30 p.m. on Sunday, May 15.

The following program has been arranged:

"String quartet in C Major, known as the "Dissonance Quartet," by Mozart.

Four Scotch songs, "Faithful Johnie," "Sunset," "The Lovely Lass of Inverness," and "Bonnie Laddie, Highland Laddie" by Beethoven. These are all folk songs for voice to be accompanied by violin, piano, and cello.

"String quartet in A Minor," by Brahms.

Participants in the program are Howard Hatton, baritone; Sarah Hutchison, pianist and Herbert Neurath, violinist, all members of the Allegheny music department. Viola player for the concert is Mr. Frederick Reinkraut of Pittsburg, who was a friend of Mr. Neurath in Vienna. Completing the list of participants are violinist Ardath Chandler and cellist Lilly Neurath.

There is no admission charge for this concert. Both students and townspeople are invited to attend.

Patterson, Smith In Two Piano Duo

Craig Patterson, '49, and Richard Smith, '50, will present a program of two-piano music Monday evening, May 16 at 8 o'clock in the Chapel.

The program will consist of:

Rejoice Beloved Christians—Bach, Scronti.

Allegro quasi clarion—Mozart, Maier.

Andante and Variations—Schuman

On a Merry Folk Tune—Elkus

Romance from Suite #2 for Two-Pianos—Rachmaninoff

Swing Rhapsody—Elmore

Season's Resume . . .

When a baseball pitcher is having a little trouble finding the corners of the plate, and when he does groove one the batter hits it a mile, good support in the field can make up for a lot of his weaknesses and keep him away from the shower-room.

To borrow this illustration from the sporting world and apply it to the workings of the Campus staff the past year, seems natural to the editor, since it was as a sportswriter that he first got his start with the college newspaper three years ago. And now that a relief pitcher is due to come in and take over for next year, the simile seems ever so much more appropriate.

The Campus staff has been a tight ball club the past year, efficient, compact and likable, but with not quite enough reserves and not too many pitchers. Of course the starting team, just three lettrmen remain from which to build next year's squad. However, there are a number of likely prospects coming up through the ranks, many of whom will take over top administrative jobs the coming season.

Now that this year's campaign of 24 "games" is over, the pitcher wants to acknowledge the fine support, both in the field and at the plate, that the veteran team has given him—support that has made a great many of the games victories for the home team. Of course, the team lost a few contests, but that is to be expected when the club plays once a week. But for the most part, the pitcher—and maybe the fans agree—believes the year's work was successful, especially the experiments in extra-inning contests.

So then, to Mary Lou Richey, whose experience and contact with the "fans" as well as weekly scheduling and organization, was so necessary to the smooth functioning of the team; to Betty Heil, whose nose for news and writing skill, coupled with her interest, lightened the pitchers load; to Al Carpenter, whose ideas and assistance in the technical as well as literary department qualify him for the head pitcher's job next year; to Joe Friedman and Sanky Mehlman, rookies whose sharp minds and creative skill indicate better years ahead for the team; to the good corps of writers, reporters and legmen who loyally followed the course of the season's events with pad and pencil, the Campus editor would like to say, "Thanks for all the runs, the many hits, and the few errors."

To the Allegheny public, whose interest in the paper and the Campus team we have sought, the editor gives thanks for its cooperation and a hope for greater expression through the voice of the Campus on all affairs vital to the Allegheny Community.

Then finally to the groundskeepers—Gene, who will see this when he sets the type; Willie, who will set the head; Sam, who will do the make-up; and Howard, who will check the proof—a special thanks for the spirit of cooperation and helpfulness that has made many a difficult issue easy, and many a late paper come out on time.

A New Method?

The guest speaker mounts the podium. He begins, "Friends . . . friends?????" Well, what's the trouble, sonny. Why don't you go on? This is our Assembly program, you know. Oh, you have a gripe, have you? O.K., spill it—This is an editorial page, they tell me.

Is that so? You were led to expect an audience of 100 out of courtesy, and only 27 showed up. That's life, fella! You should see this place on bad days. You've got a name. You've got drawing power. Be happy.

Oh, you'll never come back here again. That's O.K. with us. We can use these extra half-hours for a game of tiddely-winks. Haven't you heard it's the fad around here not to go to chapel on Wednesday mornings?

Yeh, I know what you're going to say. We've heard it before—we've heard it so often it doesn't register. We came to college to get an education and these assemblies help broaden us. So what??? Nobody goes, I tell you. Why should I?? I might enjoy them, you say. What a laugh! And stop giving me an argument. I don't see any connection between large audiences and better programs.

Who says I have no school spirit? Baloney!!! I've got the cheers wired, I yell like hell, at games and I date a guy on the football team. Now whatdoes that make me?

So my case interests you. . . you think I'm speaking for the entire student body. Well, do YOU have any suggestions. . .

Variety Highlights Down's Recital

By Ray McCall

Under the sponsorship of the Allegheny Christian Association Marion Jackson Downs, soprano, gave a recital in Ford Memorial Chapel on Thursday evening, May 5, before a small but enthusiastic audience.

A musician with great talent and an engaging personality, Mrs. Downs maintained the flowing melodic line of her opening number, Handel's "Thanks Be to Thee", with ease and perfect breath control. Haydn's delightful "She Never Told Her Love", which followed, was sung gracefully. But Mrs. Downs' abilities were not fully revealed until the third number, the "Aria di Polissena" from Handel's "Radamisto". The soaring opening phrase was breathtaking in its effect, and Mrs. Downs sang with real dramatic fervor throughout the aria. Her treatment of this aria was a rare example of genuine con brio singing.

At the risk of bestowing too many superlatives, one must conclude that Mrs. Downs' German lieder were some of the finest bits of vocalizing this campus has ever heard. Brahms' "Liebestreu" and "Botschaft" and Richard Strauss' "Traum Durch Die Dämmerung" and "Zueignung" comprised the group, and all of them were exquisitely done. Strauss' "Traum Durch Die Dämmerung" was particularly noteworthy; the romantic mood of the song was beautifully conveyed.

The "Air de Lia" from Debussy's "L'Enfant Prodigue" was well sung, but it lacked the finesse displayed by Mrs. Downs in the previous numbers. Luther Larsen, whose intelligent accompaniments added to the enjoyment of the evening, did an exceptionally fine job of playing for this difficult aria.

Mrs. Downs' fourth group of songs consisted of John Sacco's "Revelation", Celius Daughtery's amusing "Declaration of Independence", and William Roy's "This Little Rose" and "Spring".

Four spirituals concluded the program: "Just A Closer Walk With Thee", "Roll Jerd'n Roll", "Po Pilgrim", and "My Good Lord Done Been Here". "Po Pilgrim" was sung without accompaniment, and its haunting, chant-like effect is probably still ringing in many ears.

In response to the audience's prolonged applause Mrs. Downs sang three encores: "Go On Brother", "Amen", in which the audience participated, and a lullaby, "Sweet Little Jesus", which was also sung without accompaniment—and sung beautifully, too.

Sphinx Thinks -

By Joe Friedman

"Once upon a time, many years ago when our grandfathers were little children, there was a doctor, and his name was Doolittle. He lived in a little town called Puddleby-on-the-Marsh." If those words aren't familiar to you, it's almost safe to say that you can't read. That is the opening paragraph of The Story of Dr. Doolittle, the book that began a series and which has

Social Whirl

The week end opened on Friday night the Fijis annual Island party. Just too much affair! Sarongs, hay and particular the floor show were contributing factors.

The same night we journeyed to the Delta Tau Delta house and arrived in time to be present for the crowning of their queen, Ann Pyle. It was the Delta Tau Delta Spring Formal and the house was decorated in gay apple blossoms. The guests were royally entertained including the newly elected Queen.

Saturday night was even more strenuous for the social goer. Our first appearance was at the Kappa Kappa Gamma formal, dinner dance, held at the Edinboro Country Club. While a very enjoyable dinner was being served the girls presented their guests with a few songs and a miniature beer mug as a favor. After the customary Kappa toast, the lights were dimmed and the couples danced by candle light, to the musical strings of the Melo Tones. The dance was highly enjoyable and a hugh success.

Traveling only eight miles down the road we came to Riverside Hotel, where Kappa Alpha Theta and Alpha Chi Omega chose to hold their joint spring formal. Jim Edward and his band provided excellent music for the gala affair. At one time during the evening the girls from both sororities combined into one group to sing to their male escorts. Refreshments consisted of punch and cookies served at intermission. Everyone agreed it was a wonderful dance.

Sunday at one o'clock the Alpha Chi Rhos entertained their parents with a dinner. It was Parent's Day but favoritism was showing toward the mothers in commemoration of Mother's Day.

Also on Sunday Sigma Alpha Epsilon acted as host to representatives from other Sig Chapters on their province. Allegheny was chosen as the place for province Carnival meeting.

In the evening the Phi Deltas again opened their house for dancing and bridge playing. These open houses have proved highly successful in supplying entertainment after a Sunday movie.

Trying something new, the Phi Psis went to Greenville to have their Spring Formal. It was held Saturday night in the gym of the Riverside Recreation Club. At intermission refreshments were served, and dates received little white Angora kittens.

O.K., now you're talking. That's what we're gunning for—fewer chapels. . . better programs. We'll go if they are at all worthwhile. Now cut it out—we won't expect the Ziegfeld Follies.

Make them compulsory. It's O.K. with us—just give us a fair number of cuts. We'll give it a try. I'm game anyway. By the way. . . thanks, for the tip. So long.

enthralled millions of people the world over. Because Dr. Doolittle will always remain one of the bright spots in my childhood, I decided, not so long ago, to find out something about his creator, Hugh Lofting. Perhaps you will be interested.

Hugh Lofting was born at Maidenhed, Berkshire, England, in 1886. He was educated by the Jesuits in England, and came to the United States as a young man to continue his studies at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He traveled in West Africa, Cuba and other countries while he practiced civil engineering. He was an officer in the Irish Guards during World War I, and was wounded at Flanders. He was a tall, spare man, and his skin was ruddy. As he grew older, his hair turned gleaming white.

The Story of Dr. Doolittle was first published in 1920. It had grown from a series of illustrated letters Lofting wrote his children from the front during the war. Then came The Voyages of Dr. Doolittle in 1922. It won the famous Newberry Medal for the best book of the year in children's fiction. Soon millions were reading of the fat little doctor who "was very fond of animals and kept many kinds of pets." There were Dab-Dab the duck; Gub-Gub the pig; the dog Jip; the wise old parrot Polynesia, who spoke perfect English; and Too-Too, the wise old owl to make everyone smile. They have become immortal. Who doesn't remember the pushmepully, the trip to the moon, the canary opera, and hundreds of other magical people and scenes? Lofting's masterful illustrations, which he drew himself, added to the genius of his book.

Lofting was left a widower twice. He and his third wife settled in California during the 1930's, and he lived there peacefully, writing an occasional book, until Sept. 26, 1947, when he passed away at the age of sixty-one. Helen Dean Fisher, Writing in The Saturday Review of Literature, had this to say of his passing:

"Perhaps the greatest tribute to the passing of Hugh Lofting has been paid by the children. Their letters of condolence, from all over the world, speak poignantly of their sense of loss. In his forward to the tenth edition of The Story of Dr. Doolittle, Hugh Walpole says—"Doolittle seems to extend his hand from the page and grasp that of the reader, and I can see him going down the centuries, a kind of Pied Piper with thousands of children at his heels."

If you have not already guessed it, let me say now that the Doolittle books are just as wonderful and entertaining for adult imaginations as they are for children's. Don't think that growing up means casting them aside. The Story of Dr. Doolittle and The Voyages of Dr. Doolittle are available in Reis Library, up in the Craig Room on the Annette Miller Swartley memorial shelves.

HOW TO STAY IN COLLEGE

(These valuable suggestions are taken from an article by Robert Tyson, Department of Psychology and Philosophy, Hunter College, New York.)

(1) Look alert. Take notes eagerly. If you look at your watch, don't stare at it unbelievably and shake it.

(2) Nod frequently and murmur, "How true!" To you, this seems exaggerated. To the professor, its quite objective.

(3) Bring the professor newspaper clippings dealing with his subject. This demonstrates a fiery interest and gives him timely items to mention to the class. If you can't find clippings dealing with his subject, bring in any clippings at random. He thinks everything deals with his subject.

(4) Sit in front, near him. (Applies only if you intend to stay awake). If you're going to all the trouble of making a good impression, you might as well let him know who you are, especially in a large class.

(5) Laugh at his jokes. You can tell. If he looks up from his notes and smiles expectantly, he has told a joke.

(6) Ask for outside reading. You don't have to read it. Just ask.

(7) If you must sleep, arrange to be called at the end of the hour. It creates an unfavorable impression if the rest of the class has left and you sit there alone, dozing.

(8) Ask any questions you think he can answer. Conversely, avoid announcing that you have found the answer to a question he couldn't answer.

Phi Psis Nose Out Phi Delt 4-3 To Threaten Softball League Leadership

The Phi Psi intramural softball team nosed out the Phi Delt, 4-3, behind the effective hurling of Don Lundell, to threaten the Phi Gams, present league leaders. They won the game in the last half of the seventh with two out when, with the score knotted at 3-3, Dana Harland singled in Don Johnson to end the contest.

The Phi Psis jumped to a 3-1 lead by the fifth inning, featured by Bob Thomas' sensational steal of home. However, the pesky Terrace Streeters tied it up in their half of the seventh.

Don Johnson led off with a single for the Green. After "Vitamin" Elliot had whiffed one batter, Johnson stole second. Elliot struck out another man, and needed only to get Dana Harland out. The count went to three balls and two strikes, and Harland fouled off two 3-2 pitches. On the following throw he connected for a solid base hit to left center field, and Johnson tallied the winning run.

Indes Outslug Delt
The Independents outslugged a hapless Delt nine last Thursday, 23-16, in a wild fray marked by innumerable walks, errors, and long hits. The Indes jumped to a 6-0 lead in the first inning, but the Delt came right back to tie it up. However, the contest was "no contest" after that brief period of tension.

Errors proved the downfall of that same Independent squad later in the week, as they bowed to the unbeaten Phi Gams by a 15-9 score. The Fijis sprayed ten runs in the first two frames, while holding their opponents to three, but non-fraternity power produced six runs and a 10-9 count two stanzas later. After that, numerous misplays by Independent fielders, along with Jim Hall's excellent relief pitching, widened the margin to 15-9.

winless Delt by a 15-3 score, led by Don Lundell's six-hit hurling and Bob Thomas' three-run home run. Paul Storing's homer to right field with a man on base proved only a consolation for the D. T. D.'s who folded completely after their minute temporary lead.

Monday night, the Phi Psis swung for the fences against Reed Hurst's pitching for the Theta Chis, and managed to connect for only six tallies. Lundell, pitching again, held the cellar-dwellers to four runs and four hits, annexing his third victory of the week by a 6-4 score. Charlie June led the losers attack with a double, and Thomas slammed a three-bagger for the victors.

Chi Rhos Drop Two
The Chi Rhos scored only four runs in two contests, losing to the Sigs 14-2, and the Phi Delt, 15-2. The Phi Delt game was marked by Rog Hare's home run and the two-hit pitching of Elliott. The Chi Rhos held a 2-1 lead until the last of the third, when the Phi Delt exploded for three counters.

Racketeers Resume Victorious Habit By Beating G. C., Tech

H. P. Way's tennis team, losers to Western Reserve last Tuesday, once more resumed their winning habit last week by downing Grove City, 5-4, and trouncing Carnegie Tech, 8-1. The racketeers now have a five-and-one record this season.

Battling Grove City, the Gator netmen swept their first five singles matches, with Paul Miller, Captain Larry Tompkins, Frank Stienle, Randy Limber, and Pete Gordon notching victories. Then Buckham of the Grovers defeated Dave Meyers, 6-2 and 8-6. The three Allegheny doubles teams, composed mostly of less experienced players, lost their matches to make the final score 5-4.

Last Tuesday, Western Reserve bumped off the netmen, 6-3, by taking five out of the six singles matches. Only Dave Meyers was able to emerge victorious, and he barely squeaked through with a 1-6, 6-4, 9-7 decision. Paul Miller and Larry Tompkins, playing as a doubles team, managed to defeat Reserve's number one and number two men, Al Mahrer and Bob Bittikofer, by two scores of 6-3. Paul Davidoff and Hal Fleischfresser won Allegheny's other match in the final doubles contest.

Sweeping through the singles matches with almost no opposition, Allegheny walloped Carnegie Tech at Pittsburgh Saturday, 8-1. The Waymen lost only one match, a doubles match with Randy Limber and Virginia Minor bowing to Al Moon and Ed Shoemaker, 6-0, 6-1.

Golfers Slaughter Edinboro, 18-0, for Second Victory

The Allegheny College golf team, coached by Bill Daddio, slaughtered Edinboro State Teachers College for the second time Monday, this time by the shutout score of 18-0. Last week they triumphed, 13½ to 4½.

Ernie Andres was low man with a 78 score in the meet played at Oakland Golf Course. In the first contest, he posted an 82, which was also low score.

Hobie Chivers, Paul Leahy, Willard Flint, Dave Blakely, Andres and Bill Neuschwander all defeated their opponents by 3-0 counts. In the first meet, Neuschwander did not play, but his replacement, Chuck Krueger rang up an identical 3-0 score.

Section Two Downs Section Five by 28-25 For Intersectional Title

by Arny Lewis

In the final and deciding floor contest of the 1948-49 Freshman Basketball League,—John Lovetts' rugged Section Two aggregation nipped their closest rivals, Sec. Five, in a hard fought engagement, 28 to 25. Trailing by one point at half time, the winners turned on the pressure, especially in the defensive department, to gain the class championship.

The victors were ceded as dark horses when the campaign opened, but they knocked off one after another of their rivals in nonchalant fashion and ended the seven game season without a defeat. Relying on the saying that, "a good defense is the best offense," their contests were characterized by low scores, although they were able to pick up the buckets at the necessary times.

Forward Ben Williamson and center Tex Vignovitch tallied ten and six respectively in the championship final. The bankboards were ably handled by their two guards, Roger Seiler and Skip McIndoe. (Continued on page 4)

Andy Nixon, surprise choice of Bob Garbark as a relief hurler Saturday, heaves a fast ball. Nixon pitched to only seven men in his two-inning stint.

Rochester Nine Outscores Garbarkmen By 13-7 Count

A hard-hitting Rochester University nine, first capitalizing on Allegheny misplays and wildness, and then clouting solidly, outscored the spirited Allegheny College team Saturday on the new Park Avenue extension diamond by the score of 13-7.

Unable to solve Carl Herrmann's deceptive left-handed hurling in the first two frames, Rochester tallied one run in the third, five in the fourth, three in the sixth, one in the seventh, and three in the eighth to amass their thirteen counters.

Meanwhile, Gator batsmen combined six hits, three errors, two hit batters, and ten bases on balls for seven runs. Joe Paul drove in four of the runs with two timely singles and a walk with the bases loaded. Allegheny Takes 2-1 Lead

After the New Yorkers had scored a run on Bruton's triple and Jim Montgomery's bad throw, Allegheny jumped into the lead with a two-run third. Dixie Howell, who slammed two home runs at Clarion, led off with a clean single to center field. Herrmann sacrificed perfectly, and Dick McEwen drew his second of four walks. Rochester's hurler, Dieter, weakened as he hit Joe Poole on the knee. With the sacks crammed, Jim Montgomery looked at four consecutive balls, which tied the score. Feisley popped out, but Joe Paul drew a walk to make the score 2-1, Allegheny.

Wild Pitch Disastrous to Gators
With two out and two men on in the next inning, Rochester took advantage of a peculiar break, which finally resulted in five runs. Hogan, Red Raider shortstop, swung desperately at an 0-2 pitch, and missed by a foot. However, the pitch hit the dirt in front of catcher Howell, and bounced back to the screen, enabling Hogan to reach first. The pitch hurt Herrmann's arm, and he lost his effectiveness. He walked Dick Garnish, and Bruton singled sharply, scoring the second and third runs of the inning. Herrmann unleashed another wild heave, scoring Garnish and moving Bruton to third. After Becker walked, Bruton stole home for Rochester's sixth tally of the contest.

Doug "Diz" Benson toed the mound in the fifth frame, and he yielded three runs in two innings on five hits and a walk. Two excellent fielding plays by Charlie Rimer, Gator third sacker, minimized the scoring.

Garbarkmen Score Twice
With the count 9-2 against them, the Garbark-coached squad began to click. "Kinky" Betz led off the last of the sixth with a hard grounder to second. The infielder threw wide, and Betz was on. Charlie Rimer lashed a liner directly into the glove of the centerfielder. Then 'Ol Dix Howell bounced the ball high over third base for a double and McEwen walked for the fourth straight time. Dieter succumbed to the pressure and threw a costly wild pitch, Betz scoring on the throw. When the catcher, retrieving the ball, threw wild to home plate in an attempt to nail Betz, Howell scored. The University boys made only one more misplay that stanza, a wild throw by Hogan.

Ketcham Blasted
Ralph Ketcham, usually a near-perfect control pitcher, lost several pitches in his short appearance on the mound. Rochester scored one run in the seventh off Ketcham on two walks and Becker's base sock. The following frame, Alexander, 'Chester rightfielder, hit Red's first pitch for a home run, the ball chasing Betz back to the fence in dead center field. Ocorr fooled the world by laying down a bunt and beating it out, and then big Carl Wren, Rochester's best pitcher who had relieved Dieter, duplicated Alexander's feat with a home run in almost the same spot. Again Betz chased the ball to within 650 feet of home plate. FitzGerald In For Riddle

Garbark, obviously trying to overshadow Rochester's brilliant strategy (home runs), sent a big new pitcher in for Ketcham. The teletypes rattled as they discovered who it was. FitzGerald for Elmer Riddle—Andy Nixon for Red Ketcham! ("Heh, heh—this'll baffle 'em") Garby thought as Nixon toed the rubber. And, by darn, it did stop 'em cold.

Nixon quickly retired the side, allowing a lofty fly to right field, a grounder to Chuck Rimer, and a third called strike to whiz by Bruton, who had three-for-five before the change. In the ninth, he walked a man and sent him to second on a wild pitch. After a grounder to Montgomery which was handled perfectly, Andy fanned the last two men. Nice strategy, Garby. Hell—nice chuckin', Andrew Francly Nixon.

Gators Begin To Hit
After collecting only two safe hits in the first six frames, both by Dixie Howell, the Gators began to hit. Fred Feisley and Joe Paul singled consecutively for a run in the seventh. A base on balls, Montgomery's infield hit, a hit batter, and Joe Paul's ringing two-run single to center field ended Allegheny's scoring for the day. Dieter had given up only two bingles in six stanzas compared to Wren's four in three innings, but Dieter walked eight, hit one batter, and fanned only three, while Wren walked only two, hit one, and struck out six.

Track Team Bows To Carnegie Tech

The Allegheny College track team showed superiority in the field events, where they garnered four out of six firsts, but they failed on the cinder paths, resulting in a 79 2-3 to 51 1-3 victory for Carnegie Tech Saturday at Pittsburgh. The Tartans took first place in all running events except the four-fifths mile relay, which a combination of Fred Fielding, Dick Welsh, Bunk Simons, and Zach Taylor won in 2:49.0. The Techmen scored 60 points to the Gators' 17 in that important division.

Virg Sayre kept up his winning record in the javelin throw as he beat out teammates Rog Christopherson and George Main, and Ray Herbst took his second straight victory in the broad jump with a leap of 20 feet, 11½ inches. Lornie Bernier placed third in that event for Allegheny.

Jack Potter and Christopherson tied for first in the high jump, with Jim Sullivan taking third to register a clean sweep for the Blue and Gold. George Main won the discus throw and took a third in the shotput behind Sayre together a lion's share of the 35 points that the Wermermen scored in the field events.

The Gators face Westminster and Edinboro today in a triangular meet on the Park Avenue Stadium field. Saturday, a strong Grove City squad will appear here.

A banquet for the old and new members of A.U.C. will be held tonight at six o'clock at New Gray's Restaurant.

SECTION TWO DEFEATS

Section Five gave the winners a run for their money, but the warmth of the weather naturally cut down the brand of ball. Scoring eight each for the runner-ups were Carl Jensen and Bill Lowe, while rebound man Monk Myers chipped in with six.
The Sports Staff of the Campus extends their congratulations to the players, manager and followers of the champs for the fine sportsmanship and skill that they exhibited.
