Dear Miss Tarbell:

You will remember that I made a contract with Chenery of Collier's by which he contracted to order an article from you on Lincoln's Use of Stories in the Civil War, and to pay us two thousand dollars ($2,000.) for it. As this contract was made two years ago, in '29, I took it up with him again. He writes me the enclosed letter.

You might let me have a line from you about this.

Yours sincerely,

Paul R. Reynolds

Mr. Paul R. Reynolds,

New York City.

My dear Mr. Reynolds:-

We are entirely willing to extend the contract for one story by Miss Ida M. Tarbell on Lincoln's use of stories in the Civil War on the assumption that Miss Tarbell has decided that she has enough material to warrant such an article. I inferred ffom the long delay that she had decided not to write the article.

Before definitely renewing the contract I should like to have an assurance from her concerning the availability of material.

Very truly yours,

(Sgd.) WILLIAM L. CHENERY
