DR. THEODORE S. HENDERSON.

This Book is dedicated to

DOCTOR THEODORE S. HENDERSON who by his

Royal Personality and Earnest Message for Character

has given to this College

Higher Ideals

Foreword

We as the Kaldron board would take this opportunity to apologize for any mistakes such as sizes of prints, etc., that may appear in this volume, for

"There is nothing new under the sun" except the experience of putting out a year book. The rest of the book we hope will speak for itself, "but then that's neither here nor there." In order that there be some one responsible for the color of the binding and the arrangement of your material, etc., we as a board have undertaken matters of that kind. If this volume with its many deficiencies should help you to enjoy a bright spring hour in familiar haunts we are well repaid; but if in some distant future it shall recall to you the beginnings of enduring friendships and the happy days of your youth at Old Allegheny, we have finished our work.

Ex-Officio.

His Excellency Edwin S. Stuart,
Governor of the Commonwealth.

Hon. James T. Mitchell,
Chief Justice of the Supreme Court.

Hon. Hampton L. Carson,
Attorney General.

The College Graduate

"Strange it is that, although under training for years and years of his impressionable youth, he should reach the fulness of manhood and citizenship without discipline of body, without trained respect for law, without knowledge of his social obligations to his neighbor or of the greater history of man in the struggle of the masses for light and life and a fair share in the bounty of God's providence. In a majority of cases he has not even acquired what culture professes to give him — disciplined powers of thought."—C. W. Larned.

HERBERT NEWELL ABBOTT.

Herbert is quite unobserving and unobserved. He has unlimited possibilities, but so has Chesty.

KATHERINE MOORE ADAMS.*

Tall, dignified and scornful, though she doesn't mean it. Leading lady in two college cases last season. This season, has starred in three—Phi Delt's—Jones, Bright and Mackey being the leading men. Candidate for Φ B K.

IVA BERKEY.

A "Pan" girl for three years, but this year has given her time and affairs into the hands of her faithful freshman. And she still holds her chin as high as ever ! !

STANLEY X. BRIGHT.*

A model (see dictionary). He never misses in his lessons. Out for the key. "Strive to be like Stanley" is a good motto.

* Senior Six.

HARRY MORRIS BROWN.

This young man tends strictly to his business. With the aid of Hinds and Noble he has successfully completed his college course and is now ready to buck the cold world.

HENRIETTA JOSEPHINE CARROLL.

Brilliant in mind and complexion; "shows in her cheeks the roses of eighteen, practiced to lisp and hang the head aside." The only girl who can keep time with Eddie Crowe in talking French.

N'est-ce pas?

CLIFFORD JASON COGGON.

"I was born of poor but honest parents. Since coming to college I have attained to the following honors: Sergeant-at-Arms, Philo-Franklin, '05; Teller, Athletic Election, '06; Toaster at Fraternity Smoker, '07; Private, Co. B, 16th Regt., N. G. P." Space forbids that we print the social accomplishments which Mr. Coggon states.

AMY VALLIANT COURTENAY.

One of the many preachers' daughters with which this college is infested. Quite Lockwoodesque. Her words flow on like a meandering brooklet, sometimes in delightfully pensive channels, sometimes in deliciously nonsensical ones, but always with ferver and rythmical spontaneity. Hat's side kicker.

MARY RACHEL COUSINS.*

Rachel after laboring seven years has found favor in the sight of Pharaoh, also a haven for her brethren in this promised land. The unregenerate deeds of her "Unchristian" brother causes her many heart aches—but these are of Miner importance.

WALLACE HERMAN MINER.

A defender of the faith. His ecclesiastical intonation is at once the joy and despair of Alice. Displayed originality in the manner of wearing his cap and gown. His Rachael, however, abides by the good old custom.

ARCHIBALD WATSON DONALDSON.

"Doc." is engaged to a town girl. Typical fraternity man. Father and pilot of the Hanks Club for the past decade. Can remember Prexie before he was bald. Can tell good tobacco at a hundred yards but will make good anyhow.

J. WILBUR EVAUL.

Just like "Doc." A ladies' man. Has a laugh like a homesick mule. Familiarly called "Bill." Wears loud sox.

* Senior Six.

FERNANDO TEMPLE FISH.

"Unc." for short. Attained fame and notoriety in the college circus. Talks continually. Since Floss has thrown him down he has deserted the hall—for some fairer damsel.

ETHEL CLARINDA FOWLER.

"A very good piece of work, I assure you, and a merry." Always smiling; pleasant to all; bright in every sense of the word. Younger than Jennie, but far superior (?!).

JENNIE MILDRED FOWLER.

A quaint maiden of the Puritan type, with a gentle vein of humor. This year she has become the focus of the attentions of the college "photo phiend." Her father says it is "steady from now."

DAN ARTHUR GARTNER.

His brother keeps a furniture store and Dan stays there most of his time. Takes time enough off to attend classes. Immune to college cases. A Riff-Raff.

CHARLES WESLEY GILL.

No, this is not a cemetery. It is Charles Wesley Gill. The old Roman of the non-frats and authority on John Hay. A thorough gentleman and a scholar.

CLARENCE HARRY GRIGGS.

An associate member of Riff-Raff. Is somewhat delicately constituted and finds it strenuous to dispose of the quality and quantity of tobacco which the habits of Donaldson and Evaul require.

CHARLES A. HARTUNG.*

Was elected Senior President because it was certain the Frats couldn't absorb him. Had a hair-breadth escape from Freshmen, which he loves to relate. Is sergeant-at-arms in the Thoburn Club.

DOLPH AUGUSTUS HOCH.

Charter member of John's fraternity. Known by his Van Dyke beard and high marks under Dut.

* Senior Six.

REUBEN KENNETH HORN.

Loves outdoor sports, mail pouch and Olga. Earned the title of "Boney" by a four years' boning in his studies. Follows Stanley X. as with blind faith.

HAROLD H. HULL.

A plugger and one of Lemmie's wind sluggers. Used to have a case on Josephine Henrietta, but says her damned chattering with Crowe cured him. The first fellow from Greenville to get a sheepskin.

RALPH EDWARD IRWIN.

He knows all about etymology,
Hebrew-shebrew, zoo-zoology;
He knows more than does Mr. Edison,
Cures ills without any medicine;
Just because Folks said he was
A durned, learned, scientific man.

HATTIE OLIVIA JOHNSON.

Name: Miss *Yawn*son from Yamestown. Hair: Yellow. Weight: 190 in the shade. Wobbles like a duck. Speech: Sarcastic (ally)(?) like the rippling of many waves. Remarks: Rarely smiles except when hard pressed. "Where's Amy?"

OLIN CLARKE JONES.

"Oh, look who's here!" O. C. has earned the title of "Alleghe-roo" Jones by showing the Allegheny spirit which is lacking in other men. A man who does things in college and will keep it up when he gets out. Like Kelley will!

ELIJAH WILSON KELLEY.

His clerical bearing has given him the title of "Bishop." Has a charge, and yet he can say "darn" and raise sideburns. An orator and a thoroughly likable fellow.

RALPH B. KIGHTLINGER.

Dutch, fat and funny. Star player for Fat's basket ball team. Originator of the famous curtain play. Has a stand-in with Dutt because of his delicacy of taste in selection of tobacco. Floss don't mind it either.

FRANCIS LOUIS LA BOUNTY.*

Has only one fault—he takes Lockwood seriously. Lives with his books and his journalistic work. Has won the hearts of all Campus readers by editing a college paper instead of a fraternal organ. "The goods."

* Senior Six

MARY ELIZABETH LYNCH.

Hails from Ireland, so her face says. For pluck and perseverance she holds the Senior banner. She can make Hilborn smile, even after he's come from an Athletic Board meeting. From Corry. "Nuf ced."

WALTER JOHN McCLINTOCK.

Has studied so much (Political) economy that it's reacted on his anatomy. Had a stand-in with Doc. Smith which wasn't transferred to Wagstaff, so he's flunked some. Awful fond of the girls.

RALPH GARFIELD McKINNEY.

Bid by $\Theta \Delta \Psi$ and is proud he refused, but still undecided. Will study law to please his father; still longs for the farm.

WILLIAM ROBERT MAIN.

Has not committed himself as to his life-work. Has taken such electives as will fit him equally well to be a cat-carver or a foreign missionery. Is the sole contestant for the Heckel prize. Passes tickets at the Hall.

ANNA ELEANOR MARHOFER.

Another daughter of Erin. Shows her descent in her wit. Spouts French with Mlle. Henrietta Josephine et Monseur Crowe. Aspires to Latin, but more proficient in Bo-hunk.

GEORGE GRANVILLE MARTIN.

Holds some stock in Riff-Raff. Has raised as much of a ripple in college as "Hans" Mulfinger's hair. A deserving boy as near as we can find out.

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN MILLER.

The Drummer Boy of Allegheny and the Bill Nye of short pants. A case where the name belies the man—because Benny never ran a newspaper nor sailed a kite, but as The Girl From the Golden West says, "things will seem like hell when you're gone."

FRANK PURL MILLER.*

Hails from Conneaut Lake, about which the R. R. folders say "growing larger, better and more popular every year." Says he will marry money. As sure to win as the White Sox.

* Senior Six.

MORSE ELLIS DOANE.

Scarcely ever seen on the campus and heard less. Following in the footsteps of his name-sake—Samuel F. B. Morse. Said to be a beaner in Math.

FLORENCE HESTER PHILLIPS.

The Phillips sisters made their appearance in Allegheny three years ago. Florence was distinguished from her sister by her glasses and swan-like neck. Her first catch was "Unc." Fish; her latest, "Kite." At work on her thesis: "The Phillips Sisters in Ireland, or How to Giggle Without Sniggering."

ELIZABETH MAE ROBERTS.

Just think that all these years she has had a case in Bucknell and we didn't know it ! ! ! But we never did think she'd be a school marm.

SAM'L WORTHINGTON ROBINSON.

Had the nerve to question Bill's knowledge. In love. Generally wears a happy smile and a straw hat. Can preach beautifully; has a masterly way that carries conviction. Wanted the Campus to run a eulogy on J. Harris. As we said before, Sam has nerve.

JAMES MARSENA SEYBOLT.

A Riff-Raff. Has a surprising way of saying "H-h-h-he-hello" in your ear. Insists on keeping the conversation going, whether there is occasion or not. Shark at Math.

MARY ANN SLATER.

"Merely Mary Ann," but now it is a case of "So long, Mary." Always ready to smile, but never known to laugh. Uses M. Emma N's whisper when she recites. Pulls As. in quizzes.

LARUE FREE SMITH.

One of the men who did England in a side-door Pullman. Makes semi-weekly visits to Vallonia. A silent, though smiling member of the Athletic Board.

FRANK TENNEY STOCKTON.

Has done everything a man could do in a four years course. Familiarly known as "Odysseus." We presume there is a faithful Penelope somewhere—at O. W. U., tho' Verna doen't know it. Recites Greek with the intonation of an Elliott.

RAY VOSLER.

Wears a self-depreciating grin and a surtout raincoat. A decided hit in Elocution IV, his specialty being an impersonation of the dead Caesar. Is in love with the dearest girl in the world, one of ten down in Devonshire.

FLOYD PORTER WEBER.

Mild as a baked apple. Never differs with anyone. Always on hand to boost his class and has always had his shoulder to the wheel.

Senior History

"We are leaving the bay,
The ocean lies before us."

The class of '07 is leaving the bay. Allegheny has for four long happy years afforded the yellow and white a harbor from which it has made sundry inland journeys up the rivers that flow into the bay.

Our sails are set and before we go we pause to tell you what treasures and trophies we have added during this last year to our already great collection.

We were the first large Freshman class at Alleghe. Where is our crew now? Generosity was ever a virtue with us. We gave the best of last year's class to it and to us the class of '08 owes its best. We have on board a great cargo of our four years' spoils—so many that we can only enumerate those of '07.

First there's the debate—It will give the Juniors some embarassment to think of lost debates. Thus we pass lightly over it. We instituted the first annual dinner for Seniors, which, my dear Juniors, let me say, does not take the place of the annual banquet. Our annual banquet came later. It was we who, as Freshies, allowed the Juniors and Sophies, by posted permits, to hold their banquet of '04. It was we who, as Juniors, withheld the permission last year, saving that privilege as our very own for this year's pleasure. At the Washington Birthday Banquet we bore ourselves with befitting dignity, proving well that in spite of the seemingly childish antics of our frolicsome moods, we, as a class are capable of bearing ourselves with dignity and poise. But those Juniors! Shrouded and pale! (Poor ghosts!) In night caps and gowns appeared ghastly and forsaken to the horror of all assembled.

Our modesty prevents recounting further Senior honors and Junior disgraces. We hereby want to draw your attention to our crew, Captain Hartung, Pilot Stockton, First Mate Bright, Lieutenant Gill, Second Mate LaBounty and Middy Mackey. You can hear them now on deck, making ready for our departure. Let us bid you "farewell" before the signal sounds, for

"We are leaving the bay,
The ocean lies before us." —Historian

Junior History

A chronological record of the events which have happened during the career of the class of 1908 as set down by the class historian and here published for the first time.

When we entered Allegheny College, we were indeed a Verdant Bunch. We wended our way singly and in pairs to the Roaring Lion's Den and were there handed a work card and a slip—I hereby agree that I shall not join the Theta Nu Epsilon fraternity, etc. We had about as good a knowledge of Theta Nu Epsilon as a man a la porte.

The most momentous event of this first week was the visit to the shrine of the "Great I Am," where the famous lectures to Freshmen are still delivered. Suggestions too numerous to mention were made, crowding so fast on one another that each one completely ousted the preceding one.

Shall we ever forget the Fall reception! After washing our faces, we presented ourselves at the gym. and ran the gauntlet.

After this ordeal, some clasped our hand, saying, "I am Mr. So and So. Who are you?" After asking us the usual run of questions—by way of conversing, etc., we were taken in tow and introduced to each other.

One night about three weeks after our marticulation we were awakened by the shouts of '08, '08, this way '08. We tumbled from bed knowing instinctively that the Sophs were out—this only 2 a. m. We repaired to the field back of the gym.—a space that some day in the far, far future we hope to call the Athletic field. Here we discovered the enemy. After a sharp hand-to-hand fight in which Freshie was as often matched against Freshie as Soph, we found ourselves alone. Then Max Lick, our plucky president, called us together and told us what was expected. We followed our leader until we came to the hiding place of the Sophs. Although there were only about a dozen of them they were the pluckiest men in college. Souse—a bucket of paste was doused into the bunch of Freshies. "Come on, fellows," and the scrap was on. Result—several black eyes, Sophs routed, posters all down.

But the next day—shall I ever forget it! They bunched together going to chapel. The Sophs did likewise and tried to push us into the ravine. No chapel for us! We put on our green and white ribbons and with our lusty yell, "Strawberry shortcake, Blueberry pie, V-I-C-T-O-R-Y, Are we in it? Well just wait, We're the class of 1908," we prepared to defend them. No classes that morning. A Soph snatched our colors. A Freshie snatched the Soph and then "wheel to the middle and four hands 'round." The Sophs by 11:30 had entirely disappeared. The Freshies were out for blood, but we could not satisfy our desires. No one appeared to take up our challenges and we returned to our rooms to await the cane rush at 4:30.

Of course, '08 won. This game old hang-together, stick-together bunch never lost anything except a debate.

In order to get ahead, the upper classes and Sophs framed some rules to be observed by the Freshies. They were observed for a day or two, then—"Oh where, oh where are those green caps gone." Nothing doing until the Washington banquet. In the meantime we had become acquainted with that illustrious background of (Wm. H.).

First came dear old Dutt.—Math. at 9:10. Oh how our ears smart as we think of the delightful hours we spent in his room.

How we pitied those under "Billy Goat" Gurney and Lockwood with his stereotyped bombastic phrases. Then Bernstorff, Ross and the others that dealt in the ancient and modern hieroglyphics—aroused our ire and indignation for many things which seemed to us to show narrowness, or our admiration by some unexpected favor which they would grant. "Oh, for those happy days."

Our Sophomore year was simply a repetition of our Freshman year. We swept everything before us. Then came our Junior year, the best of all, when we could lay down the law, stand by and look wise. But our number was greatly depleted by the third year; yet we make up in quality what we lack in quantity. All the athletic teams have had members of the class of '08. The stars of '08 have since shone in all phases of college life.

Here's to our glorious class,
Loyal to green and white;
We shall ever strive for her honor
And uphold her with all our might.

Sophomore History

There exists, as one of Allegheny's choicest possessions, a massive chest, whose material is of never-decaying wood. It is covered with dust now for its great lid has not been raised for a whole year. But we are about to open this dignified chest, which, so stately and magnificent in its appearance, is only two years old. It is of the most delicate handiwork, and the perfection of its entire making permits it to stand as a symbol of the class whose history we now shall drop into it—the class of 1909.

This is the second time that a manuscript record of our class will have been put into the chest. I cannot tell you here all that there is in this history. I can but assure you that we have made record of the sorrows and mistakes and selfish aims of our class as well as of its joys and successes and causes for boasting. Other classes have ever given to Sophomores the reputation of being boastful. Let me disprove that. We are a selfish class. Selfish, you say? And when? Well, first at the cane-rush. Lined up against the great body of new students we took from them the first prize of the year which would have meant so much to them.

In the class room we have tried to hold ourselves in restraint, and tried to be humble when some of our number proved themselves wiser than the Profs., but we fear we have at times been impulsive in spite of ourselves, and this is indeed a grievous fault. Now I want to tell you a secret. We have recently completed a satisfactory Math. 1. trot, guaranteed to do away with dunkers. We were able to do this because of our mastery over the subject last year. Prof. Akers is anxious for Freshmen to secure copies of the book at once, but we prefer that none be sent out until our classification frees us from the customary accusation against Sophomores. The honor would be too great as yet.

We selfish? Yes indeed. Why there's that debate, our second victory of the kind. Another prize taken from the Freshmen and so easily too. Then comes the Senior-Sophomore banquet, a selfish pleasure from beginning to end. Such a sumptuous repast! Such toasts! And then the ride back to the Hall! And last of all, the climax of our enjoyments, Dr. William H. Crawford, President of Allegheny College, was on hand to assist the ladies out of the sleighs, and more than that, he even provided official escorts for the town girls. At the Hall door were the dignitaries of Hulings lined up to welcome the girls who had safely returned. Were the Freshmen out? Some of the girls tried a few "old-fashioned" stunts, but what did they amount to!

But I must be brief, and simply call attention to other proofs of our selfishness. We graced the Washington's Birthday Banquet with two toasts, a quite unheard of honor and surely we were vain. And then our Mr. Cravener (who no longer "eats 'em alive") stole that Wakefield prize. Mr. Sherwin—bless his bones—has aspired to the Y. M. C. A. presidency; and stars from our constellation gleam brightly in athletics, literary clubs and in fact everything worth while. Yes, we are truly selfish, and uncharitable. Fain would I continue and tell you more of what the memory chest will contain, but now the dust is brushed away from the top, the key is turned in the lock, and we raise the lid. Our manuscript is tied with blue and white ribbons, symbolizing the truth and loyalty of our class, and as we drop it in we think with glad hearts of its safe, eternal keeping in a chest whose hasp is devotion, whose hinges fidelity, whose sides fortitude and whose edges are bound with joys and sympathy. Thus do we add one more year to our history.

Freshman History

May 15, 1990.

To the Editor of The Kaldron:

Dir Sir:—During sum resurch wurk concerning the time that Allegheny Kolleg akwired the ground on which Kokran Hall now stands, I ran akross a document entitled, "History of the Freshmen, Class of 1910. Wondring how a class cud be so ilustrus that its historie went down in the annals of Allegheny Kolleg I glanced thru it. I sune diskovered the sekret of its preservation for it was such a fair statement of the trials and triumphs of an ideal Freshman class, I red it before the faculty and they unanimously requested me to send it to U for publication that it might serv as an inspiration for the coming Freshman class.

"September 19, 1906, found the faculty, the students of Allegheny College, in fact the whole city of Meadville in a great state of excitement over the fine appearance of the young people who registered into the Freshman class. The indomitable spirit which has prevailed throughout the career of the Freshmen class first made its appearance when they organized on September 22, electing their president on that day and the remaining class officers on the 24th. Great was the consternation among the upper classmen when they learned that the Freshmen had organized without waiting for the other classes to take the lead.

"On September the 29th, the Sophomores put up posters setting forth the merits of the Freshman class, but the Freshmen, not approving of the Rhetoric in which they were written, tore them down before the paste was dry and in turn on Oct. 2, after driving the bunch with the yellow streak (the sophomores) to their rooms, put up the famous "Woggle Bug" posters. The next morning at Chapel time the yellow (denoting the fighting qualities of the Sophs. the night before) "Woggle Bug" posters were still up. A rush ensued in front of the Chapel in which three times the Sophs. were pushed over the bank.

"The girls, too, possessed their share of this class spirit and on the eve of the cane rush, discovering that the Sophomore girls had swiped their door keys, they posted guards to keep their eyes on the Sophomores who, when they stole out in the wee small hours of the morning to lock the Freshman girls up in their rooms, were surprised by the Freshmen and completely put to rout.

"The Sophomores challenged the Freshmen to a cane rush and won it on Oct. 6. After supper of the same day, the Sophomore girls gathered at the foot of the stairs in Hulings and were making such a deafening racket over their victory that out of consideration for the Dean, the Freshman girls gave them a free shower bath which soon scattered them.

"Knowing that the Freshman class was not to be commanded, the Sophomores requested that the Freshmen wear green caps, which they magnanimously consented to do and they gladly appeared in them on December 11, deeming them a badge of honor and counting it a privilege to be a Freshman and having the honor of wearing them.

"The course of evenets flowed smoothly on until Feb. 15, when the Seniors and Sophomores held a banquet at Conneaut Lake. They will not soon forget the reception which the Freshmen and Juniors gave them on their return, in the confusion of which one of the Freshmen secured for souvenirs most of the Senior president's wool—in other words: Hartung's hair was cut by the Freshmen. Here again, the Freshman girls were "Johnny on the Spot," and locked the beds of the truant upper classmen in the gymnasium. This resulted in a six weeks' campus, which the Freshman girls bore with cheerful spirits and lightened with weekly spreads and a class meeting or two. The campus did not prevent the girls from turning out to the Sophomore-Freshman debate which took place on February 19 and in which the Sophomores were victorious.

"These brilliant successes and few defeats were but stepping stones to the great triumph of the Freshmen at the Washington banquit. It would take pages to describe their victory and the great applause they received. Without doubt it was the greatest victory any class ever experienced. Never before ni the history of the school has any class been asked by the faculty to parade around the banquet hall to show their magnificent costumes. That honor belonged first to the class of 1910. The Sophomores were simply "non est" and in addition to their insignificance the Freshmen swiped their songs and sang them at the banquet.

"On their return from the Easter Vacation the girls of the Freshman class held an Emancipation Banquet in Hulings Hall, where fried chicken and ice cream abounded and where the Spirit of the Freshman class was clearly dominant. Their only regret was that the "Powers that be" prevented their brothers from being with them."

Thus ended the "History of the Freshman Class" as the unearthed document had it. A record of the years since then could only be told in volumes. Sufficient to say that our fair women and brave men learned not for school but for life and to-day they are all numbered among the Great.

Foot Ball Season

We offer no apology for Allegheny's foot ball season of 1906. Out of nine games played, seven resulted in defeat and two in victory. But contradictory as the statement may seem, the season was a success.

Few appreciate the athletic standard Allegheny maintains. The eligibility requirements are high and the rules are rigidly enforced in spirit as well as in letter. Scholastic requirements are severe and at the same time put into practice without mental reservation on the part of the Faculty. And while at times it has been discouraging to see big men pulled off the team because of these requirements, we cannot but appreciate the fact that it has been done that Old Allegheny might turn out men not only of bone and sinew, but character and perseverence; that this old institution should be represented in athletics not by hirelings, but by men who love their college and true sport.

The football squad numbered eighteen men, with the majority raw material. Taking these facts into consideration, the season assumes a new aspect. Coach Lewis, Amherst '06, was a representative college man. He established indisputably his qualities of generalship and efficiency. His sterling character won the admiration of the entire student body. Financially the season was a marked improvement over that of last year. The new seven dollar season ticket seems a solution of most of our problems. College spirit was enthusiastic. The squad worked hard and the wearers of the "A" are truly honor men.

Help make next fall's team a winner!

C. B. LEWIS, Coach Foot Ball

Basket Ball Season

Allegheny's basket ball season for 1907 has been a source of true and loyal pride. In every sense it has been successful. It is not necessary here to recount the victories—all of them honorably earned. Allegheny has always won at basket ball. Each year has brought forth its invincible five. Winning games has become a foregone conclusion.

The season just past, however, has been a notable one for several reasons. In the first place, Allegheny's athletic reputation is undoubtedly higher than ever before, as the result of the clean, manly, sportsmanlike work that our men have displayed. It is no exaggeration to say that the season of '07 was the most sportsmanlike season in our athletic history. The little things, petty quibbling and the like, that have sometimes crept in, were entirely absent on the local floor, and it is to be believed that it was the same away from home. Surely that splendid trip into Ohio is a thing to be emphasized in our college annals. When it is considered how royally our men were treated by our rivals, and how eloquent the college journals were in their praise.

Another notable feature was the fine spirit shown by the people who backed the five throughout the season. Allegheny spirit, in other words, has become stronger and saner as a result of the year's work. Allegheny is going to mean more to the present generation because of the past season. An honorable team elicited the unreserved confidence of the student body, and the combination has been altogether wholesome. The year's work has been a big stride in the right direction.

Basket Ball Schedule

Base Ball Season

Allegheny's base ball season has been a success, although we have not cut even on games won and lost.

Two things are to be considered in judging of this season's base ball. Of course, we must always think of the high standard of our athletics in every department. And though we are sorry to lose a game we are all proud that Allegheny is absolutely clean in her sports. The feeling that we are true sportsmen and that we are playing for the sake of true sport and our college more than rewards us in defeat. The other thing we must consider in judging the season's work is the loss of last year in not having a base ball team. That was a most serious handicap at the beginning of this season, because it left only two old men for this year's team.

Coach Brown has done remarkably well with his material. The season has been a decided success financially. Therefore let us give a good "Allege-ru" for a base ball team composed of true sportsmen, which has made money for the manager, won some of its games and helped to give to the college world an example of clean, manly athletics.

Track Team Season

The track season this year has not been very successful. Allegheny was not represented in the relay-race carnival at the University of Pennsylvania this spring simply because of the delapidated condition of finances. Manager Smith has experienced great difficulty and a considerable amount of "hard luck" with his schedule. Dual-meets were scheduled with Grove City College and the University of West Virginia respectively, but each institution cancelled on us at the last moment. The result of the meet with Hiram College is illustrative of what the track team is capable of doing. Great things are expected of Allegheny's track team this year in the Inter-Collegiate meet to be held at Conneaut Lake, June the 1st, which event is to be held annually hereafter.

The track team has been supported by the student body this year. During the last of April a "College Circus" was given in the Gym. for its benefit. The idea originated at Hulings Hall, and much credit is due to those who carried it out. Each member of the team desires to express his thanks to the young ladies who showed the "right stuff."

Taking a glance at the new men who are out for the team this year and knowing the quality of the old men, we can do no less than prophesy a championship team to represent the Gold and Blue on the track next year.

Editorial

Quoting the Campus:

THE BOARD.

Competition closed with the last issue. In fine spirit the Campus board, with barely one exception, have lain down. They have quit. Filled with loyal pride for the sheet whose welfare has been trusted in their hands they are probably doing Cole Brothers as far as a rift in the canvas will allow.

This is the same shameless selfishness that is all too evident in our college. It is the same on the athletic field, on the platform and on our publication boards. The moment a man ceases to serve his own interests—ceases to weave laurels for his own brow, he gives a yelp and howl and straightway sulks. Would it not be refreshing to see a man who worked for a thing because he believed in it apart from his own welfare; a man who worked for a thing because it was Allegheny's and Allegheny's alone? When that day comes the term Allegheny spirit will be more permissable.

Lest there should be some misunderstanding, we would like the board to feel that they are being jumped on; and, we desire to say that if there is a repetition of this slump on their part we shall take a little run before we jump. In short the committee having in charge the work of the board will see that the requirements of the constitution are fulfilled, even if it means the dismissal of members of the board.

COMPILED BY THE EDITOR-IN-CHIEF.

John R. Keister, alumni editor, is taking an unannounced vacation from his arduous duty on the Campus board.

R. Parker Andrews had told the other fellow to do the local column.

Herbert Knight Dennis is off duty at the Campus office for two successive issues.

Miss Josette Beebe, literary editor, is not represented in the copy at the linotype machine to-day.

Prep. Reporter MacDonald did not cover the splendid Sharon game.

W. C. Cravner reached the city at 10 a. m. from Jamestown and read proof for the remainder of the day.

The final summary of the board's work did not go to the judge until Monday afternoon.

THE COLLEGE CIRCUS

The Circus

She had just returned from the college circus and rushed in to tell Sis all about it. By the way Sis and Polly had such a case that they preferred a cozy corner in Hulings Hall to spending a dollar on the circus.

"Oh, you missed the best thing of the year."

"Well, I don't see why everybody is so crazy over that old tract team," Sis snapped out.

"Never mind; you can see Polly in the morning, so you needn't be so cross because he couldn't stay longer. Really, Sis, you should have been there. Who do you suppose was waiting for us at the door? Mrs. Benedict! But her veil couldn't hide those angelic smiles. O. C. Jones made a very genteel showman and for once Bishop Kelly looked like a real man. I shall never see him in the class room again without thinking that there has been a perfectly good showman spoiled. Sammy made such a clever trumpeter that Mary Nic hung around the fortune-tellers all evening and declared there never was room for her inside."

Sis interrupted: "Did anybody have a lovely romantic fortune?"

"Not very, but the Wizard of the East told Iva that their case would survive all of Dr. Crawford's persecutions and they would 'live happy ever after.'"

"Oh, Polly and I had the grandest time eating fudge. Did you see the lovely stars to-night?"

"Oh, forget it! We had red lemonade and peanuts."

"And fetti, I should say from the looks of your hair."

"Oh yes, fetti and band music are necessary evils, but not to be mentioned with the lemonade. They tested our fidelity to the track team by the quantity of red water we could drink. I drank three glasses and smiled like any martyr.

Do brush this stuff out of my hair. Thanks! That animal show was the best! Heavens! If you want to dream of perpetual motion look at the Fish's fin! Everybody petted the pretty white Lamb and admired the extensive rope-tail of the Cam(pb)el(l). Here's a feather I pulled out of the black Crow's wing."

"How vulgar you must have felt at a circus! The best people—"

Oh, go to! Its perfectly good form—the faculty themselves were there! You may bet Tom made the "hit" of the evening. He tried to frighten me with a fetti-bomb, but instead shocked Miss Fraser, who was just ahead of me, so that the hairpins fell out of her hair. A pretty scramble to pick them up!"

"It's no more than you could expect at a circus."

"Oh, wake up. Everybody was there, even the cases—except you and Polly. Polly's brother Ben was the jolliest clown!"

"Ben's not a bit like Polly." (This with a sigh.)

"Baker was a clown too. He came round with a horrid feather and a Satanic grin and tried to tickle Miss Fraser under the chin."

"Was there nothing really classical all evening?"

"Oh we had music by the quartet, as usual. There was boxing, tumbling, trained horses, a chariot race—in fact a continuous performance of as much sense and nonsense as we wanted. There was a brown bear that could dance and could growl a la Bill Elliott. The herd of awkward horses were very intelligent: could reckon anything from Math. I. to the number of cases in college—for Prexy's benefit. All the boxing amounted to was the noise of Ben Miller's horn for Mould and Buster kept him busy calling fouls."

"Where were the elephants?"

"There were two—Cole and Sherwin. Sherwin is especially good natured except when your hammer knocks that glossy black growth on his head. Beware of Sherwin's hair! After that chariot race, we will all be reading Ben Hur. It was magnificently realistic. The silent dignity of Ben as he rolled from the chariot was only surpassed by the speed of his horses, Buster and Baker. And I musn't forget the Chicitas. Dick Andrews as Mr. C— actually forgot to look sour; but all you could see of Mrs. Chicita was the red bow and those golden curls. Everybody is crazy over Miss Diffy. Just ask Professor Wagstaff. But she is a perfect coquette! They do say her little black fan is the latest fad. You must meet her—she's perfectly stunning; tall, slender and stately, with a walk like Edith's, a smile as jolly as Hat's and she flourishes her dainty hands as skillfully as Amy, herself."

"It was not much of a success financially, I suppose. Sis was determined to be indifferent.

"Success? You don't mean to say that a scheme at Allegheny College could help being a success financially? I've heard that money-makers naturally swarm to our college like honey bees to the hive. But there were spendthrits as well at the circus—on account of the popularity of the track team. In fact it was such a success that the managers each appropriated two dollars to spend on the coming circus down town in order to get ideas for improvements, such as the addition of ballet dancers. Anybody who says Allegheny has not her share of versatile genius, and to spare, let him see her circus at any of the big resorts this summer. He may have seen the Mardi Gras at Paris, Buffalo Bill at Youngstown and the Dog Show at Pittsburg, but he doesn't know what a show is until he has seen our college circus."

FACULTY

JONATHAN HAMNETT.

Almanac says 91. It looks almost as though Johnny were leading a double life. He's about the same as last year—only one year older—seemingly two or three younger. Insists on courting Miss Fraser and Miss Spalding. Can do great things with a spade.

WILLAM T. DUTTON.

"Dut" is still a good fellow. Likes the girls and having none in his classes spends his spare time loafing about the campus with the fair coeds. Smokes Duke's Mixture and is largely responsible for the Mail Pouch "Doc" Donaldson uses.

WILLIAM A. ELLIOTT.

Wears a beard and a stand-up collar. Thoroughly worshipped by those who know him, but eternally knocked by those who look no deeper than the rough exterior that shows itself through the "business window." Goes to Y. M. C. A. meetings.

CLARENCE F. ROSS.

No bigger than he was last year. That is as to his body, otherwise we wonder if he could be any bigger. One of the few men we know who treats everybody exactly alike. Has a few leaky ideas on athletics, and as the plumber pays no attention to time. Teaches more than Latin in his classes. Will spend his summer setting up pins in Hulings bowling alley.

FRANK C. LOCKWOOD.

"And the villian still pursued her." The fountain pen of the Quill Club. Will spend his summer vacation "spieling" for the Nickleodion out at the Springs.

ROBERT S. BREED.

As delightful an old lady as one often meets. And yet he is on the athletic board. "Doc" did want the board to hold its regular meetings in the museum but Hartung was afraid some naughty student would lock the door from the outside. Always worrying the birds. Has some ideas of his own.

GEORGE A MULFINGER.

His is a sad story. Reared in the neighborhood of Chicago, he was fed on cheese, wieners and pigs' feet, incidentally saur kraut, pretzels and beer, and he decided to teach German. Here in old Allegheny he has made himself famous by founding the German Club and taking great interest in all student affairs. "We have read seventeen chapters of ——."

H. EDWARD WELLS.

"We beg leave to announce the engagement of ——" Well, Eddy, old boy, we hope your married life will be happy and that Mrs. W— will make you resign from the athletic board. A retiring member of the Bachelors' Boarding Club.

MARGARET E. N. FRASER.

She possesses a truly English sense of propriety. With her appearance Laufferanian customs of midnight spreads for men and Sunday night strolls, were ended. The coupon system of securing girls in the Hall was initiated with her. Yet "With malice toward none; with charity for all; with firmness in the right," she steadfastly follows out Teddy's ideas about a square deal.

CAMDEN M. COBERN.

"Nervy Nat" of the New Testament. "At the close of this service we will ————." Never did believe in the old cloths man—so when he entered Allgheny last fall he unpacked from among the moth balls his dear old clothes of '76 and now he wears them. Happy as a "hand-out artist."

CHARLES J. LING.

"Dad" is a good fellow and a talker without terminal facilities. A good mixer. Unlike some of the other Profs. he knows how to keep his work up and still have a little time for the boys. A good traveling companion for Dut. Here's to more like Ling. "We have read thirty-four chapters—."

HENRY McGILBERT WAGSTAFF.

Also member of the Bachelor's Boarding Club. Leader of the faculty choir. Very much adored by the girls, who think his nature is one of unlimited sentiment. Wagstaff seems to be pining away—we suppose there must be some happy little lassie down in "mah own state" who longs for his return.

LEMUEL R. BROWN.

Always some place on the campus, seemingly out for track. But though wearing neither track suit nor mole-skin, his hands are calloused and he has helped to hang several banners on the trophy walls of old Alleghe. Is losing his old job.

OSCAR P. AKERS.

Has a nice wife. The only trouble with "Hank" is that he knows too much Math. to have anything to do with poor innocent Freshmen. Means well but somehow he can't get on the wagon. The C. Es. all think "Hank" is "the goods."

GUY M. SNAVELY.

A conclusive argument in favor of married life. Should be a shining and high example to some of our old Profs. Has all the girls sore because he's married.

J. HARRIS WERNER.

The Stephen of the cause at Allegheny. Would if he could, but it looks a whole lot as if he cawhn't. But 'ere's 'opin good luck to 'im.

ALICE HUNTINGTON SPALDING.

Still with us. And we are glad. Her influence over Miss Fraser is delightful and pleasing. Elocution I. is longing for the good old days of Miss Spalding. She is adored by Hartung which is really the only thing we know against her.

"The monotony of routine is not conducive to high ideals."—Senator Brown.

O. C. J. was called Allegheroo,
Of cases he had quite a few;
First Soulful Sal he held in state,
Then he worshipped Katherine-the-Great;
Miss White o'er his heart soon held full sway,
Till Louise came to Chase them all away.

"I'll send Flossie a present," said Perree,
"On the 14th of Februaree," and—but no; it is best
To leave out the rest,
For that present came C. O. D.

There once was a man Enterline,
Who at college thot he would shine,
But when he got there
His head inside was bare—
Alas for this man Enterline.

THE-ALLEGHENY-COLLEGE-CLASSICAL-CLUB

Classical Club Room--Club Meeting

The meeting was called to order at 7 o'clock by Secy. Salty Xbra Bright. Rev. What Tell Mackey was elected chairman. The principal paper of the evening was then taken up by Mr. Overdrawn Cranium Jones, on the subject of "Roman Sports." Mr. Jones cleverly showed what good times the Roman sports had and depicted them in some of their characteristic practices. Mr. Jones also showed the relation of the Y. M. C. A. to the times of Caesar and drew skillful deductions concerning the duties of the president of this body in that age. Among his duties was that of cheer leader in the gladiatorial fights and leader of the singing in the Vestal Virgin choir. Another duty which he very seldom fulfilled was to strew the path of Caesar with "flowery" tributes, thus symbolizing that the people believed their lord's sole would be cleaned. Mr. Jones showed how these customs had come down to us as a heritage and asked the support of the student body in keeping up this high standard of the office. Returning to his original subject Mr. Jones then showed how present day sports were sad degenerates of the good old "bloods" and cited as examples, Young Prex Crawford, Cousins, "Bish" Kelley and Millward. Only a few of the old type are alive. Noted Examples of these are J. Hasbeen Werner, J. Hamnett and Darling McFeaters. Mr. Jones in his usual happy manner then called for three rousing cheers for these relics of the past and they were given amidst great enthusiasm. Bill Elliott was so tickled that he jumped up and embraced the armless statue in the corner, thinking that his old sporting days were come back again.

Mr. Alphabetical X. Y. Z. Etc. Miller then read a paper on Roman Race Tracks. This paper was very good, but it seemed somewhat familiar to all who have read the encyclopedia. After the reading of the paper, Prof. Ross told of some of his experiences in Rome. The professor dwelt interestingly on the good days he spent at horse races, drinking champagne and betting snug sums. The Professor ended his charming discourse by declaring that he could pick out the best horse every time and this ability has been of great assistance to him in his class work. Amid great applause the meeting adjourned till the second following Tuesday, when a paper was to be read by Mr. Robinson on "Roman Breakfast Foods."

RIFF RAFF

Last fall there was born at Allegheny a new society. This society, now famous over the whole length and breadth of the campus, was the Riff-Raff.

After years of waiting, during which time they deposited in the coffers of the college money to pay for the support of the Thoburn Club, to establish the chair of English Bible, and to send several missionaries to heathen nations, the engineering students of the college arose and asserted themselves.

The first meeting was held at the Delt House, which "Blick" Cappeau kindly lent for the occasion. "Doc." Donaldson furnished the Mail Pouch and each member brought along his package of Bull Durham and pipe. The first important business was the adoption of these popular brands as the official brands of the society, although "Dut." made a strong plea for Duke's Mixture. With this important and momentous question out of the way, the charter members began to smoke up and soon settled into this discussion of a constitution and by-laws.

Everything went smoothly until the question came up of a name for the infant society. Of course, the only logical name was that endearing appellation used by Dr. Crawford in his confidential chapel talk at the beginning of the year.

But the term Riff-Raff did not appeal to "Dut." and "Dad" Ling in spite of its appropriteness, its picturesqueness and its touch of local color. They wanted something more dignified which they could use in faculty meetings. So, in order to appease these lliustrious members, the body adopted as its official cognomen, The Society of Applied Science. It was distinctly understood, however, that this name was to be used only on state occasions, in the Campus write-ups and in the minutes.

The motto of the society, with which everyone is familiar, was the natural outgrowth of the purpose of organization. Terse, plain and to the point as it is, it has only one objection and that is that it represents not merely the sentiment of the Riff-Raff, but also of many other students in college. However, as no other college organization had accepted it officially, it was accepted with enthusiasm.

The new organization started off with a flourish and has grown stronger ever since. With a membership of forty, it has been able to subscribe for all the leading engineering publications and to place them at the disposal of the members in its own reading room. The meetings have been held biweekly with splendid attendance and have been productive of much good.

But the greatest benefit will come in the future when the purpose of the society becomes fully realized. This will be when the seven hundred dollars annually paid in by members of the Riff-Raff is turned over to the Department of Engineering for its own use. It will be hard on the preachers, we know, and it may never happen until Prex becomes a bishop, but we all hope that he will be a bishop some day.

FOUND AT LAST—What is believed to be Darwin's missing link has been found at Meadville, Pa. It is said to bear marked resemblance to a man and seems to propel itself almost entirely on its hind legs. It is frequently heard to emit from its huge, protruding chest a sullen, gutteral, Y'u kaw-awnt deu-eu it, Y'u kaw-awnt deu-eu it.

Snavely (after the circus)—"Miss Fraser asked me what it meant when Miss B. Handed Chesty a lemon."

Wagstaff—"I hope you didn't tell her—then she can't hand me one."

Prex in Chapel Dec. 14.—I have been advised by a member of the Y. M. C. A. board that many of the students do not understand that the opening hour of these meetings is a quarter of seven. There will be a 15 minute praise service and then Dr. Henderson will speak. Allow me to say that to-night Dr. Wells will sing. The meeting will open at seven. Dr. Wells will sing and then Dr. Henderson will speak!!! the meeting will commence at a quarter of seven, Dr. Wells will speak and then Dr. Henderson will——the meeting will open at a quarter of seven———Dr. Wells will sing—and at seven o'clock Dr. Henderson will speak.

The Shame of the Colleges

(With apologies to Wallace Irwin.)

Shades of Timothy Alden! Can it be possible in this, the day of graft exposure, such as the state capitol, Standard Oil, Bar-Tenders' Union and Independent Order of Kitchen Mechanics, can it be possible, we say, that Allegheny College has so far escaped the disgrace of official investigating committees. To her shame be it said that thus far she has carefully covered up all traces of her guilt by means of the unholy and perverted methods of such an organization as the Thoburn Club. But the time for exposure has come, and to me as official wielder of the muck-rake is given the task of setting forth Allegheny College in her true light. Cogitate! The educational institution, surname Allegio Allegheniensis, is at present the home of the most colossal monopoly ever heard of, cornering as it is the entire visible supply of (think of it!) Methodist preachers. You say I cannot prove this. Let us see.

Such a state of affairs as exists at present cannot go on. Suffering humanity cannot be denied. Think of all the Methodist conferences from the Atlantic to the Pacific uniting in one long, loud wail: "Are there no preachers to be had?" And back from the wilds of Crawford County shall be wafted on the sighing zephyrs: "Woe, Woe! Allegheny College has a corner on the market." When I think of this I immediately become so angry that I am about to crush a real Malaga grape. When lo! the thought strikes me that things were not always thus.

Before the days of the genus Riff-Raff (for definition see Savonarola by W. H. C.) the Methodist preacher, genus Allegheniensis, was an honest hard-working cuss, with no other ambition than to get three square meals on Sunday (chicken preferred) and a fifty cent collection at the evening service. Thus he lived his simple pastoral (root-pastor) existence and was content. With the coming of the Riff-Raff all was changed. Cherished ideals and traditions were crushed to earth in the mad scramble for filthy lucre. Thus it was that the horrible scheme of exacting a $15.00 fee from the Riff-Raff was concocted, and the hitherto pasteurized (root-pastor) specimen of the genus preacher became a gentleman waxing fat on flourishing on the ill-gotten spoils of the Riff-Raff. Then it was that the first seeds of the great monopoly were sown in an organization known as the Lily Club, whose stirring motto was "We toil not, neither do we spin." Oh, the shame of it!

Disguised as a trustee, I managed to attend a meeting of this organization. Their opening hymn ran as follows:

"We're the Lilly Club of Allegheny College,
Fol de rol, de rol, rol, rol,
The Riff-Raff furnish all our knowledge,
Fol de rol, de rol, rol, rol,
*When we come here to sing and preach,
The Riff-Raff gives support to each.

This hymn was sung with fervid, fetching feeling and expressions of fiendish glee were evident on all the sanctified, serene countenances. Sick at heart, I hurried away from this assembly. But my horrible exposure must go on.

Across the campus on the second floor of a long, three-story, red brick structure I met an old gentleman in the midst of a roomful of youths. The old gentleman was puffing fiercely at an old corncob pipe, emitting all the while dense clouds of smoke. A bag of Duke's Mixture was carefully stowed away in his left hip pocket. "Sir," I asked, "what means this roomful of pinched and hard-worked youths bending over elevated tables and working as if their lives depended on it?" "This," he replied, "is the Riff-Raff department of the college, which is now laboring to get sufficient 'dater' for devising a scheme whereby the preachers may use sermonettes from Hinds & Noble, guaranteed strickly fresh and not too orthodox to offend the most fastidious. But, alas, they insist on using such topics as, 'Can Good Board be Obtained for $.97 per week' and 'Why cannot the Riff-Raff pay us a salary while attending school?'" He turned away, grasping the ear of a luckless youth firmly between the thumb and forefinger. As I stood there I heard a low murmur of voices which soon resolved itself into these words, "To H—l with the Preachers." Sadly I wended my way hence.

But the preachers were not content with such a meagre monopoly as the Lily Club.

On a bright moonlight night, when it was raining horribly and all nature seemed atune, the stupendous, scintillating scheme of the Thoburn Club was hatched. Here the doom of the Riff-Raff was sealed and the corner on gentlemen Methodist preachers was completed, withdrawing from the market all superannuated local and embryone preachers. The preacher trust is a reality. It stands forth in all its brazen effrontery saying to the lean, lanky presiding elder and the haughty official board and trustees: "Go to! Unless the yearly stipend of filthy lucre be increased 100 per cent there shall no preacher go forth unto thee to counsel thee and eat thy chicken dinner." And hereupon all presiding elders, official boards, etc., trembled, for they were afraid lest the full measure of the gospel be not disseminated unto them, and lo! all salaries were increased.

I blush with shame as I relate these facts, yet the spirit of the big stick and the muck-rake is abroad in the land and will not down. Should any further proof of the existence of this mighty corporation be desired, by calling at my office (of which I have none) when I am not at home, I will cheerfully furnish any additional facts as well as a subscribed and sworn statement of how a member of the Thoburn Club may go through Allegheny College, all expenses paid (by the Riff-Raff) for $49.63 (white tie and dress suit included, as well as a charge in Blooming Valley paying $.48 per Sunday and board). Down with the Gentleman Preacher Trust.

List to me again, as I unfold another horrible tale. Not content with the oppression of the Riff-Raff, the nefarious Thoburn Club, edged on by such leaders as Phi Delt Cole and Chas. Hartung, octopus-like, extend a slimy, sinewy tentacle into the field of athletics. Our hitherto unbiased Prex was made to feel their baneful influence, and straightway he issued a decree that there henceforth should be no athletic contests on Wednesday, neither should there be any social function on the evening of the said day. You ask why Wednesday was selected of all the several days of the week? Let me whisper. The Gentleman Preacher Trust, more politely the Thoburn Club, had compelled one weak, lonely Prex to bow the knee to their decree setting apart Wednesday afternoon and evening when all the amative young men and ladies of the college might get together for an evening stroll, using attendance at Y. M. C. A. merely as an excuse for getting out. Then again, should any young man be unfortunate enough to catch cold playing tennis on Wednesday afternoon, peradventure he could not attend the evening service.

These few facts are sufficient in themselves to prove my statements. The trust exists in our beloved college. "At the present time I am so outraged that I cannot trust myself to speak on the matter. The whole thing is reprehensible." Therefore, I appeal to you, youths and maidens of this our beloved Alma Mater, that we may rise up in our might and smite this monster three successive blows upon the bare wrist, and with your rough-shod pedal extremities propel it hastily from our portals. Finis.

The Six Best Sellers

The Art of Browning: By Frank C. Lockwood, of Allegheny College. This is a stereotyped dessertation on improved methods by which to bore an English class. Recommended by Prex and some of the nervous inmates of Hulings as a sure cure for insomnia. Mr. Lockwood has been greatly aided by Lemuel R. Brown, author of "English as She Should be Taught." Illustrations by Alice and Dr. J. Hasbeen. Price 38c, or free with six tags taken from Duke's Mixture. Special Offer to Riff Raff.

Savonarola: By Dr. W. H. Crawford, Butcher. In this book Dr. Crawford is at his best as a butcher of the King's English. Written at the special request of Nervy Nat and the Thoburn Club. Bound in old gold and blue and teems with the spirit of Old Al-le-ghe—the accent on the first syllable. Price $1.36, the 36 to be divided between Doc. Smith and Gill.

The Beauty of Time: By Jonathan Hamnett, the daddy of the bunch. Johnnie is a close student of Frank C's style, so you know what to expect. The book contains interviews with Doc Ling and Prof. Wagstaff on how to keep on the good side of the bunch. Prof. Ross also shows how to get an extra recitation out of a class during a month by keeping them three or four minutes each day. This is a good seller, but makes poor reading. Price 49c. Half price to young men having the ministry in view.

Memoirs of Miss Spaulding and Bill Millward: Autobiographies of the two oldest landmarks of the school, barring only Johnnie Hamnett. Recalls the time when Bill carried bats for Johnnie's championship team. Also a treatise on the degeneration of the modern college man's heart. Strong arguments in favor of bachelor tax. A very popular book at popular prices. 19c a copy.

Werner's Gasology or The Development of Normal Chests and Abnormal Kopfs: By J. Harris Werner, ex-convict and damphool. A romantic novel taken from a chapter of the author's own life. Special information to knockers. Tells how to work athletic elections and gives explicit instruction on how to buffalo the Athletic committee. Many famous poses by the author. The first edition was taken by the author for his friends. Second edition still at the press.

Kaldron: The sixth best seller. See Campus May 28.

College Primer

Lesson I.

run'-ning li'-brar-y La-Boun'-ty

I see a candle. Is the candle burning? Yes, it is burning quite brightly. See the wax running down its side! To whom does this candle belong? It belongs to the college library. It was placed there by a good boy named La Bounty. Is not that a hard name for little children to say?

Lesson II.

scis'-sors naught'-y Charles

What a pretty pair of scissors! Are they sharp? We cannot tell. Can they cut? Oh, yes, they can cut, but they will not hurt you if you do not touch them. What are they for? To cut the hair of naughty boys. Little Charles A. ran off without telling, and his playmates cut off all his nice hair. Naughty Charles! to run away without telling.

Lesson III.

of'-fice talk'-ing ma-chine' un-der-stand'

Here is a large key. Where did you find it? I did not find it, but I know whose it is. It belongs to a man who has a little office. Is there anything in this office? Yes! there is a kind man and a talking machine, but you cannot understand what it says. What makes the machine talk? I do not know, but the kind man will tell me. Let us ask him.

Lesson IV.

bak'-er Os'-car him-self' clev'-er hand'-some

Who is this I see? Is it the baker who makes our bread? No, no; this is Oscar Brown with his white hat. He made it all by himself. Was it not quite clever of Oscar to make it all alone and does he not look handsome with it on his head?

Lesson V.

po-lice'-man Hul'-ings pa-pas' ang'-ry

The policeman is coming! I can see him come! What has he in his hand? Oh! that is a big club with which he hits bad people. For whom is he coming, then? Do not fear. He will not hurt good children. He is coming to take home bad girls from Hulings who stay out late at night. This will make their papas angry.

Lesson VI.

read'-ing Doc'-tor Mul'-fing-er some'-times pray'-er

Let us look at this big man. What is the big man doing? He is reading to a great many children. Do you know his name? Yes, it is Doctor Mul-fing-er. Sometimes, when the children are good, he makes a long prayer for them. This does not please them. But he loves the children and they love him. Dear old Doctor Mul-fing-er!

UP TO HIS OLD TRICK

Miss Edson (in new rainy-day skirt)—"Professor, do you think a short skirt makes a girl look shorter?"

Dut.—"Yes, but they always make me look longer."

Dicky A— had a wonderful bass
His was really a marvelous cass,
So deep was the sound
That it came from the ground—
Not a single note came from his fass.

Senior Class Prophecy

The future is an all-absorbing topic. Everyone is anxious to know what is to take place in the next few years. And this is especially true of a crowd of people like ours. Gathered around a board as we are to-night, we would all like to know what is to become of us and what we are to do when we get out into the wide, wide world.

Now, most people when delving into the future consult some mysterious personage like a fairy or a witch or a gnome, or resort to some such foreteller of the future as cards, the tea cups or palm reading. Now, much as I would like to hold your hands, at least some of your hands, and trace out the future paths from the windings of those delicate lines, time will not permit, nor is it necessary. I merely consulted a few of my friends on the faculty, because I thought them quite competent, after knowing us for three years and a half, to devine what we are going to do in the future. The first man I struck was Dr. Lockwood and I said to him, "Frank, what do you think of the future of the class of 1907, the illustrious Seniors now in college?" He looked at me in amazement, as if the question were entirely uncalled for and said, "Why, Kite, you know what I think. I am certain that each one is destined to be great." The answer, of course, was entirely expected and I got the same one from every other person whom I inquired. So you know your future as well as I can tell it to you. You are all going to be great.

But, as we all know, greatness is secured in three different ways; some men are born great, some achieve greatness, while others have greatness thrust upon them. Now, it is just so with this great Senior class.

There's Abbott and Brown, and Jones and McClintock, and Miner and Seybolt, and Vosler and Miss Carroll, and Miss Johnson and Miss Slater, and Miss Roberts. All these were born great. Before they ever thought of coming to the classic halls of Old Allegheny they were destined to be great. Sprung from long lines of prominent ancestors, their future was a foregone conclusion. Before Olin ever heard of a Y. M. C. A. his father and his grandfather were bringing the sheep into the fold.

Then look at Bright and Coggon and Gill, and Donaldson and LaBounty and Main, and Mackey and Fish and Robinson, and Miss Adams and Miss Berkey and Miss Phillips. Born in environments over which they had no control, they have risen to the high position they now occupy. Bright couldn't help it because he was born in England and Doc. Donaldson is rapidly assuming a civilized expression. Why Stanley can even see a joke once in a while and Doc. has cut out smoking; and when he quits Mail Pouch and snuff he will have left all traces of the soft coal mines behind him. La Bounty has suceeded in rising from the poorest of Lockwood's quillies to the position of a yellow editor of a yellow journal. And Mackey from his humble birth is now "one of the intellectual aristocracy" of the college. Sam Robinson was a sickly child, but is now a star athlete and a prominent member of the Fat Men's team. Miss Adams keeps getting larger all the time and Charlie Gill will soon own all the paying investments in Allegheny College.

To take the rest, then, Evaul and Griggs and Boney Horn and "Bish." Kelley and Hartung and Irwin and Benny Miller and Push and Miss Courtenay and Miss Cousins and the Fowler girls and Miss Marhofer. They have had greatness thrust upon them. Why Charlie Hartung there from the merest dark horse in the race for presidential honors, had the class leadership literally thrown at him and he was elected unanimously. He couldn't help it and Evaul and Griggs were thrust into the Riff-Raff by Dr. Crawford. Such honor as this comes not by hard work. It is an act of Providence. Push Miller had that face thrust upon him and Miss Cousins was appointed by a divine hand to lead the Hall girls into the Y. W. C. A.

It is impossible for me to touch upon the greatness of each of us, but it is apparent to all that future greatness is assured. Nothing can stop us as, led by such a great executive head, we march out into an expectant world. Our future is too great to be guessed at. Of course all the girls are going to be married. Who would think of such beautiful creatures pining their lives away alone, while such a fierce looking crowd of men is constantly around. Next year is leap year, too, girls, and that's a great opportunity.

Words cannot describe the greatness which I see just ahead of us, so you will have to wait until we have all experienced it, and then when we come back, years hence, to our anniversaries and we bring our wives and children back with us and recount our successes together, we will all agree that the class of "Kemo, Kimo, Rip Tip Clay" was an illustrious class and its prophet spoke the truth.

About Meadville

(Copied from Student's Manual.)

It possesses:

Seventeen saloons: Seven on North Main street and ten on Park avenue within easy reach of the college campus. It is rumored that the college authorities, after Prexie's failure in pork packing, have decided to re-open the old stand across from the Delt House, as a speak-easy. Students' rates will be given from 10:30 p. m. to 3:30 a. m.

Allegheny College: This institution has turned out many brilliant men, as for example, Bill Sturtevant and others. To those not seeking this noble finale to the P. B. degree a quiet word is spoken on the side at the end of the year. ΦBK to preachers.

Meadville Theological School: A home for worn-out and over-worked students. Dr. Werner's classes in pirouettes never fail to restore the lost vitality. No book store.

Meadville Commercial College: Allegheny's strong rival in crap-shooting.

A public school system: Second only to Prexie's infantile class in Ethics. All students are required to think standing.

Daily papers: The "Police Gazette," and the "College Dictator," edited by Bill, and six weaklies, including the "Campus," "The Tarbell" and "The Malignant Masterpiece." H. K. D.

Two railroad systems: The McFeater's Belt Line and the Ten Mile Bottom Central.

Fifteen hospitals: Exceptionally good work done on cases connected with Senior-Soph banquets and Saturday night jollifications or with Phi Delt parties.

Two hotels: Towels and hot water furnished on application. Both with license. Pretty waitresses.

A handsome Opera House: Ten, twent and thirt shows a specialty. Such classical productions as the "Social Whirl" greatly increase the general culture of the entire student body. Hulings Hall girls may attend only particular attractions.

Two national banks: One by W. S. Smith, college treasurer, and one supported by Father Luce. Stock gambling a specialty. A special agent is kept in Wall Street constantly, the man last year being the well known poker shark, Bill Thomas. Also one trust company. Only ten day permits granted.

A fair ground and race track: In historic old Vallonia. Many students make their way through college by scientific betting on a single day's sport. Special rooms for cock fights and ten-round scraps. For further information apply to Secy.

Correspondence

Meadville, Pa., Feb. 23, 1907.

Mephistopheles,

Hades.

Honored and Majestic Sir:—

Your humble servant arrived in this village at midnight of the 1st inst. As you must well know, there is a college here, and thinking that there might be many choice souls whom I could devour, I made my way to it on the evening of the 22nd. I found there much bustle and an atmosphere of intensest expectation. As minds were too busy for me to tamper with then, I took my stand above the gymnasium and witnessed there that night many and strange sights. A goodly company of young men and women first appeared. They were arrayed in black robes and looked as though learning had crushed their skulls—so flat were the tops of their heads. They were led by a professed enemy of our kingdom, a demigod with shocking hair and a big mouth, stretched, it seemed to me by denunciation of happiness. His case may not be so hopeless as it looks. We may get him yet. Then came a group of angels, as I thought, for they were arrayed in flowing robes of white. By later inquiries I find that they have the most promising material of all for our business. Their robes were the clever invention of a young man, E. C., on our books, and were designed expressly as a mockery of the true colors of the group. Please have a complimentary crown made for the inventor.

A company then came in whose appearance caused a temporary stoppage of my heart's action. They looked like the old witch-hunters of New England. Would that those good old days were here again! I feared lest the icy chilliness of their breath should freeze my being, but stood my ground, only to find that they were harmless. There was a lank rascal in their number, with a mouth that looked good to me. You shall hear more of him, perhaps, hereafter. He, too, I hear, is an enemy of ours.

The last group was one full of kindred spirits. One or two of them gave me some pointers on how real devils should look. The leader of this group was about as evil looking a specimen as any that I have seen elsewhere, and yet he was a beauty as compared with some.

So busy had I been examining the richer goods that I had failed up to this point to notice a varigated bunch of whom the less said the better. They evidently looked upon themselves as leaders in excellent living, yet I was pleased to notice that our trade mark was not altogether absent. Some of them had it deeply engraved .

The events that followed were lively to the extreme. The leading bunch, to my great pleasure—you know that imps are naturally jealous—got it right and left from all the others. There were speeches made there that were of an order calculated to draw the tears from a Sunday school class. Well, so the time went on until the gathering dispersed. I can say with great pleasure that my trip here will probably be very productive of good results.

Your obedient servant,

BEELZEBUB.

A STUDY IN EXPRESSION

A STUDY IN CHECKS

Glee Club Trips

(Letters from a Freshman to his mother.)

Union City, March —, 1907.

Dear Mother—I am in my room and while I am waiting for Morrison to come in (he went home after the concert with a girl) I will tell you what a good time I am having. I thought that we would never get here, because some of the fellows almost missed the train. Bill Thomas' girl (not Mabel, but his new one) came down to the depot with him and he almost forgot to get on the train, and he had to run to catch it. He can run pretty fast, too. We had lots of fun on the train. As soon as we were out of the city some of the fellows went into the smoking car and smoked cigarettes. I heard them say though that they were Y. M. C. A. ones and that they smoked them for their voices. (Jerusalem Camel and Bony Horn smoked tobacco.) Did you ever play pit? It is lots of fun and I learned to play it on the train. We made so much noise that the conductor got awful mad and was going to make us get off, so we quit. There was a real nice girl on the train and she kept looking at Mr. Leggins and he went and sat with her. The boys all laughed, but he didn't care, only he got pretty red. He goes with a nice girl, too, at Allegheny. Wouldn't she be mad if she knew it?

When we got here we were farmed around to the church members. I heard some of the fellows say that they didn't like their places because there were no girls there. Mr. Coggon went to a hotel (it wasn't a temperance one either). He is the manager and carries a little satchel on his shoulder for the money he gets. I looked into it, but there wasn't anything there. He is quite pretty, but some of the boys are awful mad at him. He promised to give them a big trip at Christmas, but he didn't. I guess it was because he was in love and didn't have time. His girl's name is Louise, I guess, and he goes walking with her a whole lot.

There were lots of folks at the concert and the whole church was full. The Mandolin Club played the first piece and I guess somebody's mandolin was out of tune, for it sounded sort of funny. Anyway Doc. Clark swore when he came off the stage and looked awful mad. He said, "You fellows play like a Zobo band."

When the club went out to sing I was pretty scared and I felt sort of out of place in that swallow-tailed coat. But I stood in the back row, so I didn't care so much. The leader shook his head and then we began to sing. We sang an awful funny piece, where we all laughed. A little man on the end put his hand on his stomach and laughed all by himself. The people thought he was a little Jap, but he isn't. His name is Archie Andrews. When we were singing a sad love song somebody hollered in at the window, "Give 'em some water." The people all laughed, but we didn't care.

After the concert was over we went to a dance. I didn't dance, though, so you need not worry. The manager danced most all the time with a big fat girl. I guess he liked her pretty well. I heard him say that he had violated one of the rules when he took the boys to the dance. I guess Dr. Crawford (he is the president) does not believe in dancing. Anyway I never saw him dance. I think that if he would teach dancing instead of Ethics the boys would dance better when they are on a Glee Club trip. We stayed pretty late and had a dandy time.

I am glad that I got in the Glee Club, for I like it very much. When I tried for the club, a man with long gray hair (I think he puts stuff on it) made me sing do, re, me, fa, so. My voice cracked once, but he said I could sing pretty well. It is three o'clock now and Morrison has just come in. He said that the girl was a peach. I think he stayed pretty late. I guess she liked him too. His girl's name at school is Bess.

I am getting sleepy, so I must close for now. Write soon to your loving son,

HENRY.

Franklin, Pa., March —, 1907.

Dear Mother—I feel pretty tired to-night, but I have had lots of fun to-day. This traveling around singing is bully and beats studying all hollow. There was a woman on the train who had a baby that cried awful loud and she asked Ray Gehr to hold it. I could see that he was awful embarassed, but he took it and the fellows all laughed. He stuck his little fist into his mouth and went to sleep and didn't make another sound. I guess Mr. Gehr likes babies.

The church girls are entertaining us and they are quite nice. I heard one of the boys say that they had a fight about the men they wanted. They picked us out from the picture and the trouble began when they all wanted the same ones. They pulled each other's hair and pinched each other just terrible. I guess the most trouble was over a fellow by the name of Fullerton. He has very nice cheeks.

I heard Mr. Harper swearing about the place he was in. He said that water must be pretty scarce, for they didn't give him any to wash his face in. He said he asked for some and the woman took him out on the back porch and gave him a tin basin of water and a cake of Sapolio. Then she took off her apron and gave it to him to wipe his face on. He was pretty mad, I tell you, but he isn't to blame, though, because if he was handsome like Percy Parsons some of the nice girls would have had him. Doc. Clark got mad again to-night. Billy Cole (he is a big fat boy) saw a pretty girl on the front seat and he forgot what he was doing and began to play "Love Me and the World is Mine." Doc. kicked at him, but knocked over a music rack. It busted up the whole blamed thing. Mr. Cole got mighty red.

There was a very swell lady sang to-night. I heard Bony Horn call her Alice. I guess her real name is Alice ———— McDowell. She has pretty taffy hair and wore a dress cut off at the top. I saw her take something out of a little bottle before she went on, but I guess it was for her throat, for she sang fine. When she came off she stepped into a cuspidor and it scared her so she squealed. I think she is very nice.

I guess that we will stay here until to-morrow for dinner. Anyway, Mr. Coggon said for us to stay for dinner if we could, for then he wouldn't have to take us to the hotel. In the afternoon we are going to Oil City and I will write from there. Good night.

From your loving son,

HENRY.

Oil City, Pa., March —, 1907.

Dear Mother—This has been the best ever. On the car the boys got into Mr. Shaffner's suit case and took out his pajamas and dressed him up in them. Then they made him walk up and down the aisle. He was embarassed and I felt real sorry for him. (His pajamas are blue.)

This town is where Archie and Sammie live and it is all hills. Booze made everyone laugh when he sang his "Mona," and said that you had to climb up ladders to get up the hills.

The concert was in the high school auditorium and every seat was taken. When all the encores were used up a big man with red hair was sent out to bow. He bowed lower than he can sing, and that is awful low.

We are going home to-morrow, for the manager hasn't any more dates. I heard the boys say that he didn't have any Easter trip planned either. They are pretty mad at him and I guess that he is a rather slow manager. His girl has left him, so it can't be her now. Anyway, next year will be fine. A big, fat man called Louie is to be the manager and everybody calls him a hustler. I hope I can make it next year.

From your loving son,

HENRY.

Poetry

Stidger remarked though with a frown:
'Tis love that makes my marks go down;
Though the amount of my cash is no affair of men;
'Tis love that makes my purse so thin,
But I'm fondly thinking all the while,
'Tis love that makes my Iva smile.

There once was a girl, Lucy Wright,
Who thought of Stockton, a sight.
But a Goldschmidt stepped in—
A fellow with tin,
And put poor Frank Tenny to flight.
So Stockton took (Verna) Smith,
And left Lucy the Gold (smith).

Miss Parsons admired Billy Mould,
At least so often we've been told
But she went out with Boyd
Who was tres sang froid,
Tho' he was not at all over-bold.

There once was a Prof. from N. C.,
Who swore he ne'er married would be,
But seeing Dean Frazer
He almost went crazier
To take the dear girl on his knee.

Thus wrote Mackey:

The summer day is calm,
What rhymes that word? he said,
Ah! the word is balm,
He smiled and scratched his head.

The kine came o'er the lea;
Oh, what will ever rhyme,
Ah, I know, 'tis flea,
He tried another time.

The Fats

Manager-Coach ..... "Cot" Nelson
Captain ..... Lou Sherwin
Right Forward....."Kite" Kightlinger
Left Forward..... Lou Sherwin
Centre ....."Beany" Miller
Right Guard....."Billy" Cole
Utility Man....."Push" Miller

A group of men, in it for the pure sport of the game, who can do other things beside play basket ball. The Fats became so popular during the past season that it was necessary to have an overflow meeting in the shape of a fourth game. What would have been a very successful season became even more successful than the usually sanguine manager, Coach Nelson, could have hoped.

The Record: Fats, 4; Reds, 14. Fats, 23; Janitors, 27.
Fats, 14; Runts, 23. Fats, 21; Sheenees, 14.

But then the score does not show it all. In addition to what appears above the Fats twisted one knee, broke one nose and about a dozen friendships.

The Fats have already organized for next year, having elected the following as leaders:

Graduate-Manager..... "Beany" Miller
Graduate-Coach..... "Push" Miller
Manager-Coach....."Cot" Nelson

The work of Manager-Coach Nelson during the past year was so satisfactory that it was thought no better reward could be found than his election for another year.

Fumes

"Hello, is this Miss Fraser?"
"Yes."
"May I come up this evening?"
"Why certainly."
"Alright, goodbye."
"Wait a minute—who is it?"
(Too late, Chesty had hung up the receiver.)

Mlle. Carrol's Complexion Blush—25 cents a box at Ballinger and Siggins.

"Phi Delt" Cole (when he hears of Miss Rodkey being campus)—"Well, by damn, if that isn't enough to make a preacher swear."

Maxwell (as they board a crowded car.)—"Do you think we can squeeze in here?"
Miss Nichols—"Hadn't we better wait 'til we get near the chapel?"

"Babe" (speaking of Hulings Hall mock wedding).—"I don't think it would be much fun to kiss the bride."
"Bess" R.—"It isn't much fun to kiss the groom."

Mac Campbell (after finishing Immensee). —"I hate a book like that; it always gives me a wishy washy feeling around my heart."

Katherine A. (as she and Mackey looked over some Christmas trees at the market).—"Here's a nice one; I like it."
Salesman—"How does your husband like it?"

1st Kat—"Who is that girl over there; her face looks familiar?"
2nd Kat—"S-sh! She'll hear you—why you helped initiate her last night."—One of Many.

Snavely (after the circus—"Miss Fraser asked me what it meant when Miss B. handed Chesty a lemon."
Wagstaff—"I hope you didn't tell her—then she can't hand me one."

Speaking of phonographs, Miss Bash has them faded to a finish.

Dr. Fraser to Class—"I shall ask you to excuse me presently in a few minutes—I must go at once."

Mrs. Fugate has evidently sold her millinery shop—as Edith still continues to spring her last year's creations.

Perry—"Where've you been, out at 'leven o'clock?"
Beany (sleepily)—"No, I wasn't out lovin' 'em up.'

"Jane"—So Bake has taken up with another girl of Darling MacFeater's.—He-haw He-haw! And her name was Maud.

The Phi Delts seem to have a monopoly on the first row in the gallery for the "Ten, Twent and Thirt shows at the Academy.

After the G. W. banquet. Dick Baker—"Miss Dungan fairly shown to-night; why, it seemed like a divine ray from heaven fell upon her."

Phil Sheridan Planette (at meeting of Athletic Asscciation).—"Come on, boys, we're going home.
Czar Gill (wiggling his little fiinger)—"No, we're going to stay here."

Prexie—"Now, Mr. Nelson, you must either opologize for what you said to Mr. Werner at the W. U. P. game or go before the discipline board."
Cot—"Well, if it has come to that, I 'spose he needn't go where I told him."

Miss Miller—"I do hope they don't put anything about me in the Kaldron."
Miss Adams (who has never figured in that publication) —"Why, my dear child, you're not considered popular unless you are in it two or three times."

CARD.

Miss Laura Edith Bethune begs to announce that The Celestial Studio of Vocal Culture will be opened in the near future. Miss Bethune has studied under Madame Nordica and is in every way the great singer's equal. Miss Bethune considers herself too far advanced to ally herself to the Pennsylvania College of Music. French songs are her specialty.

"Do you know the difference between a wise man and a clown? A wise man uses the right end of a quill to write with and a clown uses the right end of a quill to tickle with."

French History Class—Snavely— "Miss Sansom—neanmoins—?'

Miss Sansom (after a pause)—"I don't know who he was."

Bible I. Class: Miss ————, (complaining of the condition of the atmosphere)—"It is very close in here."

Dr. Cobern—"I know it, but I don't know how to make it any looser."

Greer—"I looked over some of Prexie's Ethics exams, and could only answer six questions in the last three years."

Query—"How long would it take Greer to answer an exam. of nine questions?"

There was a young Phi Delt named Jones,
Who'd a laugh like the rattle of bones;
When he went to see Kate
He stayed very late,
Said farewell in quite heart rendering tones.

Misses Fraser and Spalding, after registering at the Hotel ———— in Buffalo were shown to their room. In a few minutes they came back and said, "Mr. Night Clerk there is no lock on and there is a hole in the door of the room you assigned us."

Mr. N. C.—"Alright, I'll be up in a few minutes and look into it."

Phi Psi hat pins, three for a quarter—see Miss Grauel.

Has even the Phillips Sisters faded as a giggler—Juanita Danford.

Sulphur smoke is a good disinfectant. (Surely no relative to Prep. Smock.)

Peters (translating)—"The carriage turned into a little triangular square."

Dr. Cobern (handing street car conductor a nickel)—"How much?"

Miss Johnson—"Say, Floss, what is your favorite sport?"
Miss Phillips—"I used to like (to) Fish, but now I like (to fly a) Kite."

Dr. Cobern—"Many of the people who lived a hundred years ago would, in spite of the charitable institutions of that time, have been dead long ago."

At the Hanks Club—"Oh, Doc., I found an oyster in my soup!"
Doc.—"Well, I can't help it."

Miss Van Storch (the night after)—"Did you only initiate four girls last night?"
Miss Hatch (one of the four)—"Oh yes! We always work for quality, not quantity."

Phil. class. Dr. Cobern to Miss Slater, who is talking to a neighbor—"Miss Slater, can you tell us something about this subject?"
"No, sir."
"Oh, surely, Miss Slater, from the way you discuss other matters here you can speak to this."

Homer D.—"Oh, Juanita, 'oo is my itty, witty ducky."

Juanita D.—"Oh, Homer, 'oo is my tootsey, wootsey ducky."

Duck—"Ducks nothing; you're a couple of geese."

C. C. Lindsley—"Works while you sleep."

"Ought still to be up in the branches cracking cocoanuts." Burt and Lamb.

Although never ridden by Balaam, yet one of the same specie.—Benedict.

"Don't borrow trouble."
"I don't—I marry mine," said Robinson.

Non-Frat.—"How did you get your nose skinned—been rootin'?"
Frat.—"No, I joined the Phi Psis last night."

A glitter of teeth, a wide expanse of mouth and a deep gasp is heard,
An expanded chest and a happy smile, Dr. Cobern's produced a word.

Coach Lewis—"Burt, why don't you fall on the ball when I tell you to?"
Burt (angrily)—"Vat iss de use uf falling on de pall ven nopody iss around?"

Bishop (at Methodist Convention at Franklin)—"Dr. Crawford was to give an address this morning; is he in the audience?"—(No response.)
Leader—"Let us all rise and sing 'Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow.'"

A new disease which has been introduced into the college curriculum is known as "Hilbornia." It is a very dangerous disease, as the victim never fully recovers. Miss Lynch was afflicted early last fall with said malady and has not yet regained her former self. (To all who read.) This disease is contracted by long walks in the moon light followed by insomnia.

Penman, anxious for athletic glory)—"Say, Chesty, how about that La Crosse team?"
"Chesty" Werner—The prospects are very bright. I've already sent for six copies of Spaulding's manual How to Play La Crosse. Classes will begin just as soon as we can receive and distribute the manuals. I think that with the aid of these most valuable books, I shall be able to turn out an invincible team.

The sophomores have been disappointed. During the summer we received a glowing letter from Prex, telling us the class of 1910 would far outclass in number and quality any preceding Freshman class. But, O Lord, how we question his veracity. In numbers, they are few, in quality they are, well, PUTRID; greener than the usual breed of Freshmen. They conceived the idea that they could ram into things at the start and try to show us how things are to be run. Witness their class election and then recall Papa Crawford's paternal advice to his nurslings.

WISE COUNSEL.

Attend Prex's daily noon-hour lectures. They are a panacea for all Freshmen ills—abnormal kopfs, etc. Don't ask for BEESWAH at the boarding club.

Stidger, the dashing football hero (?) won the hearts of the H. H. contingent and pulled off a large majority. But you should have taken time and considered and then you wouldn't have been a TEMPORARY president. Give your board deposit to the commissary, not to the commissionary. Don't shoot craps or attend tart dances—this is a Methodist institution. Don't wear your celluloid collars in the cane rush. Comb out all parasites for Doc. Breed. He needs them. Don't present playing cards at Hulings. For further advice consult

THE SOPHOMORES.

Once Buster kissed Miss Prudie,
One bright day not long ago—
He would show the little lady
How to call a fellow slow.

"Defeats not victories make us,"
Said she, with best intents;
Said he, 'Defeats not victories make us
Feel like thirty cents."

The Seniors are doing all they can to advance their members toward matrimonial starts. At least so it would seem from the number of social gatherings. Poor girls.

Critchlow (reading)—"There is no doubt but that the early death of Burns was due to his hard work and penury."
"Penury, what's that mean, Mac?"
"Oh, writing so much with a pen."

SENSE

"We seldom rub up against a real good man without polishing our ideals."

"I am now an old man and have had many troubles; but most of them never came."

"Do you know the difference between a wise man and a clown? A wise man uses the right end of a quill to write with and a clown uses the right end of a quill to tickle with."

THE FAILURE OF LIFE

consists in fixing our attention on individuals, which leads to PESSIMISM.

THE SUCCESS OF LIFE

consists in fixing our attention on our ideals, which leads to OPTIMISM.

NONSENSE

Room-mate (to First)—"Going home to-morrow?"
First—"What do you 'spose I'm taking a bath for?"

Enterline—"I seen a horse down street to-day with a cage over his mouth and when I passed him he reached for my shoulder; I wonder if he was trying to bite me?"

Planett—"No, he was just reaching for hayseeds."

Lockwood (as Oscar Brown lounges in late—"I think, Mr. Brown, it would be better for one who comes in late to walk briskly."

Oscar—"All right; I'll make up for it going out."

"Here," said the Kaldron editor; "are a number of directions from outsiders as to the best way to run the Kaldron; see that they are carried out." The board looked amazed. The directions, however, were carried out (in a waste basket).

RIDDLES

Why is a Senior's hat like the city diamond?
Because it covers a block.

When was there a kidnapping at Snavelley's?
When Guy Everett slept.

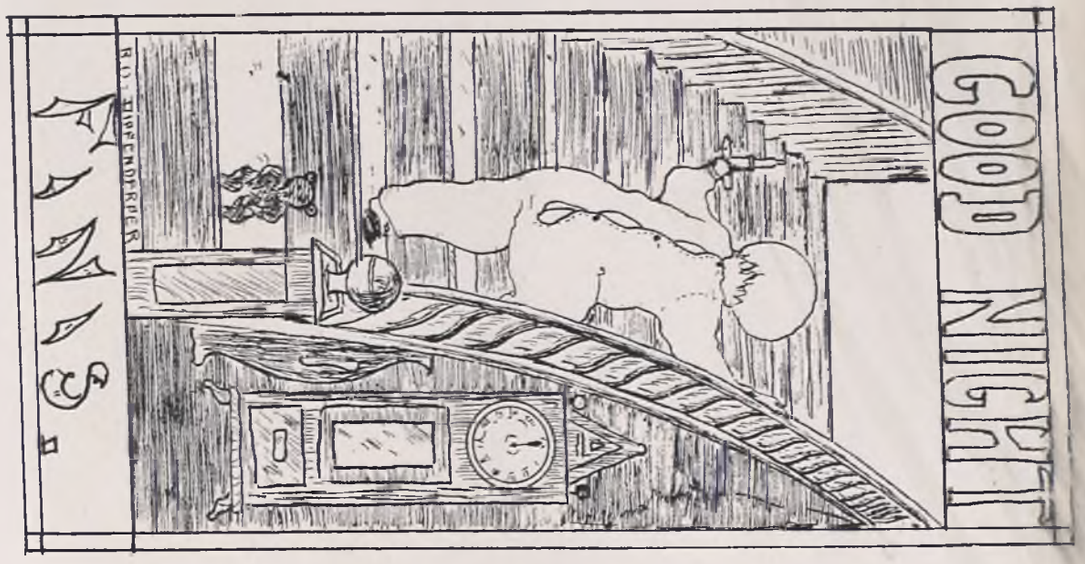
CAN THIS ACCOUNT FOR OUR FOOT BALL SCORES?

WE ARE SORRY—

BUT WE HAD TO DO IT!



CAN A KALDRON BE PUBLISHED WITHOUT MONEY?

Possibly one edition, but we do not think the next one would meet with success.

CAN A KALDRON BE PUBLISHED WITHOUT ADVERTISING?

Yes. How? By each of you paying $3.00 per copy in advance. You paid $1.50 for this book. The advertiser paid the other $1.50. Besides he will generally give you the most liberal discounts. But even if the prices are the same, he deserves your patronage.

THE 1907 KALDRON'S DEBTS ARE ALL PAID,

EXCEPT THIS DEBT TO THE ADVERTISERS.

We ask you all to help pay this debt. Consult the index to advertisers in the back of book. Familiarize yourself with the names. Just say,

"I Saw Your Ad in the Kaldron."

The Winchester Model 1905 Self-Loading Rifle is not cumbersome, complicated and unsightly like most other self-loading firearms, but a simple, handsome, well-balanced gun. The Winchester self-loading system permits rapid shooting with great accuracy and on account of the novelty and ease of its operation adds much to the pleasure of rifle shooting either at target or game. For certain kinds of hunting where the quarry is generally shot on the run, the Winchester Self-Loading Rifle is particularly well adapted. The .32 and .35 caliber cartridges that the Model 1905 handles are of the modern smokeless powder type and give excellent penetration and great shocking effect on animal tissue. Winchester guns and Winchester ammunition are made for one another.

Importance of a Business Education

THE BUSINESS MEN of to-day are among the most successful and influential men of the country, not only in commerce, but in politics and s ciety. Their advice is sought in every matter pertaining to the welfare of the country.

EDUCATION is the chief defense of nations. This is practically true of commercial education, as the most powerful nations of the earth are those that have a large commerce and trade. Commerce is the principal factor that develops nations and is the handmaid of civilization and culture.

THE LARGEST financial returns come from business activity. That is why so many brainy men go into business. The man at the "top of the ladder" needs a multitude to carry out his plans; the multitude want to climb the ladder, and it is the "survival of the fittest." Nothing helps like education, and no kind of education is more valuable than Business Training.

THAT IS WHY business schools are a necessity. Business men endorse them, employ their graduates, and send their own sons and daughters to business schools. You need a business education—there is n› doubt of it—it means the turning point in your life, and it will put you in touch with the commercial progress of the age.

FOR YOUR BUSINESS COURSE attend a school that has a reputation for thorough work—a school that places its graduates in good positions—a school that gives all a "square deal" and "a school that gets results." A catalogue and full particulars may be had from such a school if you communicate with the

Where Shall I Buy My Piano?

If You have Decided to Purchase a Piano—Now or Later—It is Well to Bear in Mind these facts:

1. You must have confidence in the firm that you deal with. The average man or woman is not versed in the relative merits of the various makes of instruments, and relies, in a large measure, on the representations of the dealer. That dealer should merit your confidence. The House of Bates during its 27 years of business has attained a record for honesty, square dealing, liberality, low price and easy terms that cannot possibly be duplicated by any house now existing in Meadville. By means of the celebrated we have builded a foundation of prestige about the name "Bates" that stands for all that is laudable in the conduct of a piano business.

BATES PLAN

2. Our line of instruments, including the STEINWAY, BRIGGS, MASON & HAMLIN, POOLE, VOSE, REGENT, LAFFARGUE, and many others, including the reliable Hardman and Herrinpton Autotone (player-piano), is positively not to be duplicated anywhere west of New York.

3. Every instrument on our floor is marked in plain figures. These figures--in every instance—represent just the amount that it will take to purchase that instrument. We do not begin by asking $500 and then drop to $350. It saves time to mark the rock bottom price where you can see it at the beginning. In addition, it assures you a square deal.

Come in and look at our line. Let us explain the BATES PLAN to you. Compare our prices, our instruments, our terms with any piano store in this or any other city. That's all we ask.

We need a Rider Agent in every town and can offer an opportunity to make money to suitable young men who apply at once.

$8.50 PUNCTURE-PROOF TIRES ONLY $4.80 PER PAIR

Regular Price $8.50 per pair. To Introduce We Will Sell You a Sample Pair for Only $4.80

NAILS, TACKS OR GLASS WON'T LET OUT THE AIR

(CASH WITH ORDER $4.55)

NO MORE TROUBLE FROM PUNCTURES.

Result of 15 years experience in tire making. No danger from THORNS, CACTUS, PINS, NAILS, TACKS or GLASS. Serious punctures, like intentional knife cuts, can be vulcanized like any other tire.

Two Hundred Thousand pairs now in actual use. Over Seventy-five Thousand pairs sold last year.

Notice the thick rubber tread "A" and puncture strips "B" and "D," also rim strip "H" to prevent rim cutting. This tire will outlast any other make—SOFT, ELASTIC and EASY RIDING.

DESCRIPTION: Made in all sizes. It is lively and easy riding, very durable and lined inside with a special quality of rubber, which never becomes porous and which closes up small punctures without allowing the air to escape. We have hundreds of letters from satisfied customers stating that their tires have only been pumped up once or twice in a whole season. They weigh no more than an ordinary tire, the puncture resisting qualities being given by several layers of thin, specially prepared fabric on the tread. That "Holding Back" sensation commonly felt when riding on asphalt or soft roads is overcome by the patent "Basket Weave" tread which prevents all air from being squeezed out between the tire and the road thus overcoming all suction. The regular price of these tires is $8.50 per pair, but for advertising purposes we are making a special factory price to the rider of only $4.80 per pair. All orders shipped same day letter is received. We ship C.O.D. on approval. You do not pay a cent until you have examined and found them strictly as represented.

We will allow a cash discount of 5 per cent (thereby making the price $4.55 per pair) if you send FULL CASH WITH ORDER and enclose this advertisement. We will also send one nickel plated brass hand pump and two Sampson metal puncture closers on full paid orders (these metal puncture closers to be used in case of intentional knife cuts or heavy gashes). Tires to be returned at OUR expense if for any reason they are not satisfactory on examination.

We are perfectly reliable and money sent to us is as safe as in a bank. Ask your Postmaster, Banker, Express or Freight Agent or the Editor of this paper about us. If you order a pair of these tires, you will find that they will ride easier, run faster, wear better, last longer and look finer than any tire you have ever used or seen at any price. We know that you will be so well pleased that when you want a bicycle you will give us your order. We want you to send us a small trial order at once, hence this remarkable tire offer.

COASTER-BRAKES, built-up-wheels, saddles, pedals, parts and repairs, and everything in the bicycle line are sold by us at half the usual prices charged by dealers and repair men. Write for our big SUNDRY catalogue.

DO NOT WAIT but write us a postal today. DO NOT THINK OF BUYING a bicycle or a pair of tires from anyone until you know the new and wonderful offers we are making. It only costs a postal to learn everything. Write it NOW.
