Kitty Hawk N.C.

My dear Mrs. Tarbell:

I know you will be surprised to receive a letter from ~~you~~, so I will first explain that a friend gave us your address and requested us to write to you. Also explain that my husband is a local minister here and we are now living 45 miles from a town or railroad. As my husband's salary is such a small one and the need is so great, my two daughters and I are going to try to help out by selling Southern products to folks who live where they do not grow. We do not raise all these articles but sell the most of them for our neighbors. Will you please look over the little card enclosed and send us an order? We will do our best to please you, and appreciate so much any help you may render us in this way. If you would be kind enough to send the addresses of a few of your friends whom you think might be interested in our little business adventure, we will thank you very much and we will not mention your name just as we promised not to mention the name of the friend who gave us yours. If you would like to have the nice pine cones and you don't care to send the money for them, my daughters and I will be so glad to send them to you in exchange for any used clothing you may send us, for I am used to "making over". We trust you may be interested, as this is the only means we have of advertising what we are trying to do. With all good wishes and anxiously awaiting your reply.

Sincerely yours.

Mrs. W. W. Midgette
