Booth Scores Barriers To Intellectual Freedom

Religion, State Chief Obstacles To Use of Knowledge Says Speaker

Dr. Edwin P. Booth, class of 1919, last Friday warned that there are a great many barriers to man's pursuit to knowledge. These are barriers which we have carefully built ourselves.

"The only permanency we know is in the realm of human experience," stated Dr. Booth. "We often have experienced a result in confidence and, in turn, experience. It is not the joy of the previous generations, a task you tell them how, or how or when to do it," he continued. From 1914 to 1954, man has lived through the most tragic period in history, in his man's right to knowledge which makes him a man. It is his right to knowledge which makes it possible to control our million-year-old power forty years scarred by two world wars, a devastating economic depression, a police action and the threat of the possibility of death and mankind, embodied in atomic energy.

Generation Should Be Free

"Every generation should be sent away to college," warned Dr. Booth. The task of the college should be to lead the student from innocent ignorance through conscientious ignorance, to conscious knowledge which culminates in right action. The obligation of the educational institutions in this country is not to train men in order to be the United States, or to struggle against, while man's civilization is a pillar western culture. The diurnal goal in the quest for right should be the attainment of truth for its innate value alone.

"Our concepts of revealed religion of the state, are the two things which stand in our direct against what we are right," said Dr. Booth. "The Bible is not to be considered as a liturgical mandate for life. It is the primary of our forefathers and at the master of our sons'. When we have invaded the universities of college, they have invaded our citadels of freedom.

Only Hope For Man

"The only hope for the human is a man's right to knowledge and the results thereof. Knowledge is a tragic task master," said Dr. Booth. "It is the only hope for man's task master." It has become his curse, to literate and literate it is the rest of the world, in order for him to better fit in. They must not then will we move for- ward again. The human being and man society are organism. We must learn not honor each other and he together. It is not real that God is going to end the world as he pleased, and the increase he will come to end it.

Newswomen Announced Tuesday

In the early hours of Tuesday morning, thirteen fresh sons women were tapped as Cwens, the honor service society for sophomore women.

The new Cwens are Carol Anderson, Gertrud Bauer, Dawn Brand, Susan Cook, Meredith Drake, Constance Hernik, Lynn Hummel, Kay J of Margaret Metzold, Elaine Reber, Jean Tuoti, and Marjorie Walker.

Cwens are chosen by an election board, established by national regulation, and composed of members of the senior and junior classes, and the president and, reiterating Cwens. Leadership, personality, friendliness, endurance, and cooperation are the traits considered by the board, as well as the vote of the freshman women.

Among the many duties of the Cwens is the Ghost Walk, a little surprise for the class of Freshmen at football games, sponsoring a dance for the seniors, and entertaining them during the summer, and acting as guides and hostesses to the visitors on campus.

Miss Blair Hanson, was also tapped as an honorary Cwen. She will serve as faculty adviser replacing Miss Garvey who was adviser to the Cwens during this year.

The retiring Cwens are Lynn Blomfield, Gilberta Buckel, Sally Graner, Mary Martha Goodwin, Marjorie Jenkins, Faith Joy Ritter, and Hannah Ruter, Bertha Santos, Linda Shoop, Cora Walters, and Barbara Wright.

Browden Places Third In Inter-State Contest

Anne Browden, representing Penn- state's women's division of the 19th annual Inter-State Oratorical Contest, held at Northwestern University last Thursday and Friday. Her speech was an attack on McCarthyism, entitled "What Price Security?" It was the oration with which she had won both the Wakefield Oratorical Contest in early March, and the Pennsylvania Inter-Collegiate For- ensic Tournament held at Alle- gheny March 18-20.

First place in the Inter-State Con- test went to Marjorie Rudebos, of Augustana College, Illinois, who spoke on the necessity to gain an understanding of the problems and needs of foreign countries in order to improve the national relations, and who was awarded the second prize, winning second place was won by Marla Kipp Voorhees, of Kalamazoo Col- lege, Michigan, who was awarded some deficiencies of modern education.

Thirteen states were represented in both the men's and women's di- visions of the contest.

In addition to her first place in oration at the Pennsylvania Inter- collegiate Tournament, Miss Brow- den had also taken first place in women's extemporaneous speaking for the state.
No Complaints?

When this country was in its young manhood, there emerged in our society an institution known as the country store. A center for supplies of all sorts, its chief competition came from a group of door-to-door salesmen known as "drammers." A drummer dealt in words as well as in merchandise, and according to historians, his motto went something like, "Why tell lies, when the truth comes just as misleading."

We agreed to print some of Drummer’s columns partly out of curiosity, partly because we realize that change is an essential part of any newspaper and having a column represented a change. Meanwhile, it went on that one, lone letter-writer could swallow the column without getting upset enough about it to object by way of writing us. With the exception of one letter, the writers of which agreed that it best not be published, since we had "gushed," we have published, in its entirety, every letter we have received this year. Certainly the student body cannot feel that they would be ignored by the editors had they not enough to take issue with the various points which Drummer made.

The Campus is the object of much criticism, both justified and unjustified, but likewise, it sometimes cannot think much of a student body that doesn’t feel enough devotion to the honor of their school to come to its defense when it is unjustifiably attacked.

Barbara Voges' article expresses their importance of student participation in campus events. It's contagious, once you get into activities, you keep interested. If it's a habit that I haven't said much about, I try to inculcate it.

May 15 Deadline For Student Aid Applications

All students wishing to apply for aid for 1954-55 should fill out new application forms in the Student Personnel Office. These forms should be completed, signed by parents, and returned to the office by May 15, 1954. This means all financial assistance, dining hall bills and other campus employment.

Boy, Spring is really here—just ask Ellen White and Mike McGee, Annie Axan and Chuck Reiser, Historic Allegheny Society, Mr. Patrick, Carol Damit and Vera Cross, Marigold and Ronnie Mann, and Dorothy Jone, from Mill Hill, all of whom got engaged over spring.

Runners-up in the Balfour parade are Ann Clark and Brad Shelp, Brothers; Dick Burns, Betsy Stephens and Charles Cornwall, Virginia, Virginia, and Carolyn Tuttle and Jim Homeland, who didn’t completely lose their minds.

And while on the subject of vacations, you sure can tell who took the vacation at Miami Beach. It’s a pity your palaces—don’t worry, it’ll all come in off the wall! For a tip of allegheny, drop in next week and better tans, check next item.

... Why, at the Terrapin Toddle, "The Unholy Terror (a tartle for ‘travellouge’) in Mont gomery Blackwash. We’ll meet you at the six-foot-end—submerged!

We suppose you’ve all been down to the beach this week to see the AXP on the lawn — in case you didn’t notice, the Alumni Gardens!

Hot dog! And they had plenty of them. Therefore, a good back up of the Shelter last Friday night. Dancing and refreshments set the house rounded out the evening.

All that extra traffic around campus past few days. A result of the Kappa, Theta, Alpha Chi, Theta Chi, Sigma Chi, Phi Kappa, and parents Wefells. Well, we had to get that spring cleaning done somehow.

Better polish up your pits, put on your white stocks, and look col legial. This is one of the best week and the reason for that is ‘cause there’ll be a lot of prospecti ve students out and they want to see the real Allegheny College. There’ll also be a big all college dance in Brooks on Saturday night in the main ballroom.

Funny thing, the Meadville airport has been swamped with re quest cards, plane tickets, stamps, etc. Could be due to the opening of Brooks sundae season?

65 Students Take Part in High School Debate

Jamestown, N.Y.—debaters placed first in the tenth annual High School Debate Tournament, sponsored by the Jamestown-Wyoming Chamber of Commerce, which was held here last week. Second and third place teams came from Meadville and Butler high schools. The Meadville high school was the winner of last year’s tournament.

Sixty-five students and 10 teachers from 10 area high schools participated in the tournament, which was directed by speech teachers Howard H. Martin and Herbert J. Hess were co-chairmen of the tournament.

The Jamestown news received a trophy for the high school of one medal for each member of the squad. Meadville received silver medals, Detroit received gold medals.

Five rounds of debate were held on the topic, "Resolved: That the President of the United States be made an ex pont at some conven tions of nations, and that such an ex pont should be elected by direct vote of the people." Activities during the tournament were held at the Founders’ Day Convocation, a banquet at the Alice Hotel, and at the Play shop Friday evening.

The tournament was conducted in educational style. Judges were all college counselors, faculty, coaches from the participating schools, and members of the student body. Chairman-timekeepers were Allegheny students.

The papers participating were Erie Academy, Bradford, Franklin, Lawrence Park, North East, Oil City, and Erie Avenue Garard.

Dear Sir:

When this is a June observer of the Committee of 1904, we are behind the name of ‘Drummer,’ so globanly condemns four aspects of our college’s life. To publish innocuous material under the cryptic bylines of “E.E.,” “C.F.E.,” or “M.E.L.,” is not harmful, but harmless. However, when the Committee publishes the reprehensible utterings of an individual and per mits this person to cloak himself as a member of the student body, then error seems to have been committed.

What basis does "Drummer" have for concluding that "Thirty years from now Allegheny will probably come to the level of Mont dart and, in fact, be pressed in the vote of Dartmouth men to rid their campus of tremen dous with discriminatory classes?" Perhaps my slide rule slipped but figures don’t agree with me. And did ‘Drummer’ ever stop long enough to compare the relative ease with which a school such as Dartmouth emerges as a leader in a movement as compared with Allegheny? Nevertheless, I am sure that with an individual such as ‘Drummer’, there would be no doubt left out for possibilities for “liberal movements” Allegheny may still have chance to rise as a leader in this field of endeavor.

It would hardly seem necessary to call to the attention of this learned journalist that by vote of the student body a College Union fee of $6 is collected—not "ex torted." If "Drummer’s" apparent level of intellectual development is at all an indication of his mental small mind which set itself to think ing up the posters designed to lure the students out of school, then, besides, what’s so terrible about injecting a little harmless humor into the usually serious student posters which plaster Allegheny’s walls? That, perhaps Dr. Edwards and Tom Gladden don’t "... desire some thing to attract the attention of Encyclopedia and George Burns"—after all they were a few jokes in their speeches.

We really should doff our hats to these "Drummer" posters which braved the chills of Brooks drive way to watch the "kids" having a good time. But it just goes to show you the worldly conscious of the students—whether posters which plaster Allegheny’s walls "... for the students," the Father, or perhaps Dr. Edwards and Tom Gladden don’t "... desire something to attract the attention of Encyclopedia and George Burns"—after all they were a few jokes in their speeches.

New Prospective Frosh Weekend Scheduled; To Feature Talks, Tours, Play, Dance

Allegheny will play host to some two hundred high school seniors this weekend in the third annual high school weekend, conducted by and under the direction of the Student Admissions Committee. The purpose of the weekend is to give the prospective freshmen a chance to see Allegheny in action and to become better acquainted with college life.

The high school students will arrive from eight thirty to noon on a Brook's lobby. At this time the visitors will be provided with room assignments, some tags and general information about the weekend. Jack Burns, chairman of the Student Admissions Committee, has requested that all students who have free hours in the morning come to Brooks at this time to help as guides for the guests, and to provide information about buildings and classrooms. After lunch in Brooks, the men will have a discussion in the Pine Room on R.O.T.C.

Following this, the students will have an opportunity to speak with the faculty members of the various departments. Later the group will attend the track meet at College Field, with Geneve and Mount Sinai, and the baseball game with Pitts. In the late afternoon the prospective freshmen will have an opportunity to see the Allegheny players in a repeat performance of Thornton Wilder's 'Skidmore of Your Teeth'. Following supper in Brooks, the group will hear the Allegheny Singers' fall home concert of the Choir's annual spring tour.

At all college dances at Brook's will wind up the day's activities for the prospective Alleghenians. In order to better acquaint the visitors with Allegheny students, the dance will be a stag affair and all students are encouraged to attend. Bob Meyer and Elmer Bailey are co-chairmen of the affair. Other committee chairman are: Dave Meister, publicity, Cookie Carlin and Jim Berson, entertainment; Ann McFee and John Bair, decorations; Marilyn Brant, refreshments. Informal dates is the order of the evening.

Following breakfast in Brook's Sunday morning, the students will attend a College Worship Service at Ford Chapel. Dr. Pictet, will deliver the address. At 1 p.m., the students will attend a banquet, in Brooks Hall. The speaker will be Dr. Paul Carus.

'Turtlelogue' Conducts Pool Spectators On An Aquatic Round-The-World Tour

The annual Terrapin show, "Turtlelogue," is being presented today through Saturday in Montgomery starting at 8:30. The opening performance was last night, and a special show was held Tuesday night for children from Bethesda.

The announcer for the show, Mr. Walton, calls out the stops on this travelogue, which features American Indians in the opening number. Other points of interest are England, where Fran Price and Terrapin President D. Clark have "Tea For Two," and Hawaii, with an aquatic hula. Reindeer invade Montgomery pool for the Scandinavian tour, and then there is a valse in Old Vienna. Again turns the Terrapin members to Buddhism and features a solo by Dina Brezendiick.

As the travelogue approaches South Africa several males — Perrera, Pinto, Hearn, and Sayer get into the act. Other stops include Paris, South America, and Russia. The grand finale, America, features the formation of the traditional Terrapin "T" with lighted candles, and also symbolizes the airplane used for the tour.

Tickets for the show can be bought in Brooks at lunch and dinner time for 25 cents.

Gators Lose Opener

Play Pitt on Saturday

Allegheny's 1954 Baseball team lost a heartbreaking game against Wooster last Saturday 1-0. An error in the ninth inning set up the losing run.

The Gators have yet to win against Wooster. Bill Bishop, a 3-4 game winner last year, pitched a good ball game before about 100 spectators, but so did his opponent. The team suffered its second defeat of the season on Monday at the hands of Slippery Rock 4-2. This win gave Wooster an 11-6 margin over Allegheny throughout the years.

The team, coached by Bob Garbarik, is in good condition despite its poor start, hopes to improve over last year's record of 3 wins and 8 losses. Freshmen John Dolson and Pete Klomp are vital additions to the club with Dolson pitching and Klomp playing first. Klomp is the only southpaw on the squad.

Allegheny will travel to Geneva today to try and score their first win. This Saturday Allegheny faces Pitt here. Clear skies and warm weather are forecast for the events at College Field, according to our personal weatherman. —W.M.

Track Team Loses

To Westminster In First Meet of Year

Allegheny's 1954 Track team suffered their worst defeat in 51 years last Saturday by losing to Westminster 101-30. Poor conditions and lack of field-events men proved costly to the Gators. "We're just not in shape" seemed to be the general expression of the team. Coach Bill Hanson temporarily ordered night workout sessions for the squad. This win for Westminster has increased their margin of wins to 7-2 and 1 tie.

The Gators, having just come back from spring recess, started practicing again last Tuesday. The lay off proved costly. Bob Buck won the only first place for Allegheny. His jump of 5 ft. 8 in. won the high jump event. Last year's track lettermen Chuck Waits, Art Steffe and John Shaw ran hard but weren't able to amass many points.

Allegheny's freshman tracksters Roger Donohoe, Gordon Shay and Don Kimmelman are good prospects for the future. Donohoe took a second in hurdles and the 100-yd. dash. Shay and Kimmelman placed third in the 440-yd. and 220-yd. runs respectively.

Coach Hanson hopes to improve the team by Wednesday, when Slippery Rock will be Allegheny's opponent.

A triangle meet here will follow hard on the heels of Wednesday's action, and will feature Mt. Union and Geneva teams.

If Pierre Loti's novels, for instance, ask on added color because Dr. Kalfayan, himself, had dreamed enough Brittany and North Africa, and had sat on Loti's hills overlooking the Bosphorus. When he talked about a tactile France and P hautbert, he almost became those men, so well did he know their minds and his writings. And when he pre- sented Voltaire's attacks on politi- cal and religious authoritarianism, he seemed such as if old Francois Juste, resurrected, had just en- tered Arret 11 with a chuckle. All Dr. Kalfayan could do without looking to the gallery or indulging in sensationalism.

Fundamentally he was a realist, and there was enough in him of the quaint, the romanticist and the estheticist that he understood and held authors from all schools of literature. It should not astonish so that his versatility in literary arts equaled his versatility in lean relationships, since life and literature go hand in hand. One Hyde the student of tomorrow shall not hear him discourse on the poetry of Pusser's prose, the lyrical beauty of Andre Gide's soul, or the music in the lines of Balzac. Poet, poet; philosopher; artist, painter; friend; man of boundless diversity, liberality and generosity; lover of books, music and ideas, he was a person we greatly admired. As unexpected visit he paid to Ar- ret Hall last January, in the midst of his illness, showed the measure of our affection for him. We were disturbed by his reappearance and found of his sonorous voice in his corridor. The question flew his lips to, "Did you see him?" "He was here today!"

No no again will anyone like him. Kalfayan to Allegheny. He shall miss him very much.

Blair Hanson

Professor Armen Kalfayan gave the campus something it cannot command or quickly replace. It is doing no injustice to the rest of a university that among us he perhaps not closely approached the ideal goal. He was wise without being unworldly; he had the gift of iron rich marks yet does not cut so as satire; he was immensely im- pressive of beauty. Above all is his faith in individuality made him a respecter of persons, which is inculcated to the art of humanae culturae. We cannot and should not forget him.

Netmen Win 9-0 Over Edinboro

Allegheny defeated Edinboro 9-0 in the season's initial tennis match, last Saturday. The Gator's first man, Joe Dickson, played Edin- boroh's best man, Joe Issacve and won handsily 6-1, 6-4. Issacve had beaten Dickson two years running, until this encounter. Lowell Blum, a promising freshman who was captain of the New York City champ- ions last year, defeated Orzag, 6-0, 6-2. Don Sayer had the most trouble of any Gator, winning the first set 6-0, but being extended to 7-5 the second set. Bill Bloom, Harvey Helfrey, and Ross Boyle all won their matches in straight games.

In doubles Helfrey and Dickson combined to defeat Orzag and Iss- cavet, 6-2, 6-4. Bloom and Blum won 6-1, 6-0 and John Way and Ruth Ann Peterson won in straight games. Dick Dow, John Johnston and Chuck Rice, who did not play in the first match all have looked good in practice and may start in future matches.

Coach H. P. Way stated that the team looked very good and that another fine season was probably in store. He feels that W & J and Case will offer the toughest competition. Case is one of three away matches for the gators. Yesterday, after this article went to press, Alle- gheny played a fair Grove City team, which should not have given this fine Gator aggregation too much trouble.

IT'S ALL A MATTER OF TASTE

When you come right down to it, you smoke for one simple reason—enjoy- ment. And smoking enjoyment is all a matter of taste. Yes, taste is what counts in a cigarette. And Luckies taste better.

Two facts explain why Luckies taste better. First, LS/MFT.T.—Luckie Smoke means fine tobacco...light, mild, good-tasting tobacco. Second, Luckies are ac- tually made better to taste better...always round, firm, fully packed to draw freely and smoke evenly.

So, for the enjoyment you get from better taste, and only from better taste, Be Happy—Go Lucky. Get a pack or a carton of better-tasting Luckies today.

"College Capsers" Nets $65 For Band Uniforms

Practically everyone at Allegheny has some talent, as proven by the large number of students who took part in the "College Capsers" last Thursday and Saturday evenings. Proceeds of the variety show went to the band uniform fund.

Appearing in short sleeves to emphasize the need for funds—according to M.C. Mr. Marlin—would have worn even less if it had been respectable—the band played several numbers at the beginning and ending of the program.

Other traditional college groups, such as the Singers, IFC Collegians, Simianita, and Chapel Choir, were also included in the program.

Probably the most hilarious part of the show came with Ralph Darling's moving vocal rendition of the tragedy of Ann Blyden, entitled "With Her Head Tucked Underneath Her Arm." In his encore he pictured, with appropriate contortions, the difficulties of dancing Arthur Murray style.

Allegheny's answer to Sophie Tucker, Cookie Carlino, sang "Razz-ma-tazz" and "Makin' Whoopee." She was joined later by Fred Santelien singing "Dearie."

Next on the program were Ann Bishor, Carolyn Whyman, and Janet Rudin with their own version of a hopped-up hull entitled "Hawaiian Cats."

With Nancy Boyre narrating, a group of girls from the junior class then presented an old time "mutter-drammer, in one bloody act" Virtue triumphed, of course, and Peggy Rowbottom as the farmer's daughter was remitted with the hero at the death of the villain.

Rounding out the evening were the songs of Sylvia Liberni, the soft shoe dance of "Busies" Becky Ann and Kay Cudini, and the Glen Miller numbers of the Blue Knights.

General chairman of the "College Capsers" was Graham Dunlop; Jerry Cotton handled finance. The two performances netted $65.

Design By Ann Willis
On "Motive" Magazine

A design by Ann Willis, senior art major, will be the cover of the May issue of Motive magazine. The cover, which follows Motive's May theme, is a blow-up of a Durer engraving of the figure of Christ, superimposed on a city scene. Miss Willis started work on the cover in early March, and is now designing a cover for the Singers' record album.
