Miss Ida M. Tarbell,
Bethel, Conn.

Dear Miss Tarbell:

Yes indeed, Mrs. Siddell and I are planning on coming out next Friday. We will take that three something train to Stepney, and I will have Mac with me on the end of a long rubber band. I think that a chain would be too rigid.

Enclosed are the only references that I find in the New York World and Times on Bristow's Cotton Speech.

The enclosed article in this morning's World in which Bristow soaks Aldrich again, is interesting. Is it not?

When the Massachusetts Commission report comes in, I will send it. Also the report of the Senate Committee on wages.

I received 91 prize letters yesterday (Friday). 775 to date

Very sincerely yours,

J. M. S.
