Latin, Greek Courses Added To 1962-63 Curriculum

After 13 years of dormancy the Classics are to be revived in Allegheny's curriculum as of September, 1962. Comprising the program in its initial semesters will be Greek, Latin, Classical History, Roman History, and Classical Literature and Translation.

Instructing the new courses will be Dr. Samuel K. Edwards, Assistant Professor of Classics. Dr. Edwards' qualifications suggest that the courses will be extremely interesting and worthwhile: He received his A.B. degree at Emory University in 1941. From there he served in the U.S. Army for four years and then did graduate work at Columbia University from 1946-1948. While attending Balliol College of Oxford, from which he received a B.A. degree in 1953, Mr. Edwards met and married his wife.

From 1954-1961 he acted as Instructor and Assistant Professor of Classics at Williams College, spent a summer in the American Academy in Rome, and did a year of graduate study at Princeton. He is presently completing another year at Princeton and is expected to receive his Ph.D. in June, 1962.

Greek and Latin may be used as part of the G-3 requirement, and freshmen may take placement test in Latin as they now do for other languages. Since there will be no oral laboratory work with Greek and Latin, the courses will be only three credit hours for each semester. The other Classical courses may be applied to English or history majors, but there will be no major offered in the Classics at this time. Classical courses already exist in philosophy and partially in art. Dean Ross expressed hope that further Classical courses may be arranged in these areas later, but for the present Dr. Edwards will be teaching in areas where Allegheny does not have a Classical course.

On the term system, Latin and Greek will begin in the first and finish in the second semester. Second year Greek will be begun in the third semester, Greek history in the first semester, Classical Literature and Translation, including Greek drama, in the second semester, and Roman history in the third semester.

In Allegheny's early years Greek and Latin were the only languages on the curriculum, and interest in the Classics was strong until the '30's. Classical languages were retained untill 1949 when registration in these courses dropped to one student. Since then there has been a steady series of inquiries about reviving the Classics, with approximately ten yearly requests for Latin and a few for Greek. The diminishing interest in Classical languages can probably be attributed to graduate schools dropping Latin as an admittance requirement, theological seminaries dropping a Greek requirement, and the modern trend for a vocationally useful language. However, Dr. Ross commented on a general impression of an increasing interest in Classical languages on the college level, and on the surprising number of young professors in the field.

Arnold Air Society To Attend Conclave

The Don H. Blyth Squadron of the Arnold Air Society at Allegheny will attend the Mid-East Regional Conclave to be held at the Hilton Hotel in Pittsburgh, March 16-18. The Skyscraper Squadron of the University of Pittsburgh will be host at the conclave.

Baur Presides At Debate Congress

Doug Baur, president of Allegheny College's Philo-Franklin Debating Society, has been elected president of the Pennsylvania State University Interstate Debaters' Congress for 1963. Baur, and five others delegates from Allegheny attended this year's Congress at Penn State University on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday of last week.

The Congress, a mock-parlimentary body, was composed of debaters from various colleges and universities in Pennsylvania and neighboring states, including delegations from as far away as Rutgers, Rochester Institute of Technology, and the U.S. Naval Academy. In the three days of committee and assembly sessions, all of which were run according to strict parlimentary procedure the Congress considered, and finally passed, two "bills" on major issues of national significance, which were then sent on to the United States Congress for its consideration .This year's bills were concerned with the placing of labor unions under anti-trust legislation and federal procedures for guranteeing individual civil rights.

Also attending the Congress as delegates from Allegheny were Dave Fulton, Tom Freeman, Barbara Bunn, Emil Kloske, and Nancy McElroy, the winner of the Allegheny College Women's Extemporaneous Speaking Contest. Miss McElroy participated in the "Gavel Girl" Contest at the Congress Banquet, and spoke on the topic, "Resolved: that household labor should be free from husband interference." The Allegheny group, in addition to having one of their number elected as Congress President, succeeded in having passed by the assembly bills which were substantially in agreement with Allegheny's pre-convention position on the two issues in question.

Alleghenians Injured In Sit-In Action

Among four students injured during a sit-in in Nashville, Tennesse, February 24 were Alleghenians Rick Momeyer and Pete Schwartz. Participating in the passive resistance movement, Rick was hit by a thrown brick and Pete was kicked and beaten, according to a letter from June Fair, Allegheny's third representative at Fisk University. After a medical examination, they were released from a Nashville hospital.

According to a news release sent out from Fisk University the same day, the passive resistance demonstration took place at a drug store, and included about fifteen demonstrators. Though reporterly knives and ice picks were shown, none were used.

The Fisk Student Non-Violent Movement made an appeal for more demonstrators to support the "sit-ins".

AUC Discusses ARC, Backs Ambassador

Discussion of the proposed Allegheny Radio Station, a vote of confidence for the Allegheny Ambassador Program, and the approval of the recommendations by the Publications Board of new editors for The Campus and the Kaldron, highlighted last week's meeting of the Allegheny Undergraduate Council.

In a continuation of previous discussions of the Allegheny Radio Committee, Chairman Norman Greene answered questions posed by Council members. According to Norman, if the Council will approve funds of $6,000, the college will contribute an additional $2,000. This total is an initial cost for equipment. Stressing that one of the most important aspects of the radio station will be its ability to handle news, Norm stated that it might be possible for the station to become affiliated with C.B.S. Final decision has not been reached, however, for the group is also considering an affiliation with the Futual network.

In answer to a query, Greene said that there is a possibility of installing converters in each of the four main dormitories. By means of these converters, students would be able to pick up the FM radio station on their AM radios.

Further discussion will continue next week, at which time the issue is to be put to a vote. Again, all interested persons are invited to be present.

Nancy Fahnestock, the Allegheny Ambassador for last summer, answered some of the questions that have arisen about the program. AUC has already voted the funds for this summer's ambassador. Nancy explained the procedure by which an ambassador is chosen. Each of this year's eight applicants was interviewed by a committee of three faculty members and three students. Approved applications were then sent to Putney, Vt., headquarters of the Experiment in International Living. The committee is awaiting return of these applications; the final selection, subject to approval by ASG, will then be made by the committee.

Nancy stated that she feels she has been able to talk with a sizeable proportion of the college community. To date, she has given 15 talks to sorority, faculty, and other student groups. Stating that the possibilities for the program are limitless, she felt that the ultimate success of the program lies both with the Ambassador in arranging these talks and the colleges. Nancy said that the program is unique in offering a double opportunity. First, the Ambassador can spread knowledge of a school such as Allegheny; secondly such a program is of use in broadening the horizons of the entire college community by contact with a different part of the world.

After more discussion the program was given an overwhelming vote of confidence by the members of ASG.

DEADLINE

All notices, articles and contributions for The Campus must be submitted to The Campus office by midnight Tuesday for publication on the following Friday.

ASG, Class Nominees Announced, Elections Slated For March 19, 20

Elections of ASG and class officers will be held March 19 and 20 at South and Brooks Halls and in the CU. Polls will be open from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. on both of these days.

Freshmen will cast ballots in South Hall; the upperclass women will vote in Brooks Hall, and upperclass men will vote in the CU.

Seeking election as ASG President are Bruce Africa and Curt Fee. John Crill and Willie Cutler will run for Vice-president of Student Affairs. Seeking the position of Vice-president of National and International Affairs are Ben Andrews and Mike Staren. Powell Arms and Dave Graham are candidates for Vice-president of Educational Affairs. For the position of ASG Secretary are candidates Bonnie Burke, Gwen Thornton and Flo Williams.

Seeking senior class offices are: President, Bob Batting, Jim Drake, Joe Valentino and Tafy Weaver; Vice-president, Kathy Davis; Secretary, Nancy Jamison, Ginny Moyse, Barb Thompson; Treasurer, Gerry Bobeczko, Gus Grassi, Jim Noah, Andy Swanson and Fred Wright.

Richard Wilbur Speaks Friday

Richard Wilbur, contemporary poet, will speak at Ford Memorial Chapel on March 16. His plans include readings of his poetry with informal comments.

Wilbur, born in 1923, was graduated from Dartmouth in 1942 and from Harvard with an M.A. in 1947. After World War II, he returned to the serious writing of poetry. Since that time, his writing has brought him a number of honors such as the Harriet Munroe and Oscar Blumenthal prizes of Poetry Magazine, the Edna St. Vincent Millay Award, the National Book Award for poetry, and a Pulitzer Prize.

In '52 he won a Guggenheim Fellowship; in '54 a $3,000 Prix de Rome Fellowship; in '60, a Ford Foundation Fellowship.

He is beginning to appear regularly in anthologies of modern poetry, and in a recent poll reported in the Saturday Review, he was one of two poets listed of major importance.

Townsend, Fetcko Approved By AUC For CAMPUS, KALDRON Editorships

Editorships of two Allegheny publications were approved by AUC following the recommendations of Publications Board at their meeting Tuesday night.

William S. Townsend, a junior, was officially named Editor-in-Chief of The Campus. Lewis F. Fisher, also a junior, was named Associate Editor. Both students will assume their new positions next week, and serve until the end of the second term of next year.

Carol Ann Fetcko, a sophomore, was approved as the next Editor-in-Chief of The Kaldon.

Both Campus appointees have extensive journalism backgrounds. Bill Townsend, an economics major who plans to enter professional journalism has worked on his hometown paper and on the Meadville Tribune. As Managing Editor of The Campus during the past month he has helped in the reorganization of the staff. He was previously Business Manager of The Kaldron. A member of Theta Chi fraternity and a freshman dorm counselor, he is also vice-president of the Allegheny Chapter of Pi Delta Epsilon, the national college journalism fraternity.

Lew Fisher, an English major who also plans a career in journalism, has worked on his hometown paper and on the University of Rochester paper, and has been working on The Campus during his years at Allegheny. He received the award from the Penn-Ohio College Press Association award for the Best News Story in 1960.

During the past semester he has been Editorial Assistant and Assistant Editor on The Campus, and was editor of the two special issues published in that time. He is president of Pi Delta Epsilon here.

The new position of Associate Editor will contain some duties formerly belonging to the editor-in-chief, and according to present Editor John C. Urbaitis, offers many possibilities for creative journalism and contributions to Campus policies, coverage, and general quality.

Carol Fetcko, incoming Kaldron Editor-in-Chief, has been Layout Editor for The Kaldon during the past year, having previously been on the general staff. She was editor of her award-winning high school yearbook.

An English major, Carol is also a member of Alpha Chi Omega and Angel Flight.

ARC Deserves Budget Approval

As discussion of the proposed Allegheny Radio Station continues in the Allegheny Undergraduate Council, The Campus has become increasingly impressed with the high degree of study and the efficient organization which the Radio Committee seems to have developed. This careful study and attention to detail indicates that the Committee has taken a mature and realistic approach to a difficult issue which, when resolved, can be a great advantage to Allegheny College.

The ability of the Radio Committee to form a successful station and the advantages of a station at Allegheny are being recognized more and more as endorsements by campus organizations continue to come in. The variety of organizations endorsing the station (from fraternities to ASG committees) suggests a wide base of support.

Approval of the ARC's request for appropriations from AUC is crucial for the success of the movement; failure to approve the appropriation may very well end any further attempts for a radio station at Allegheny for years to come. Their request does not seem to be an unreasonable one, and is an appropriate way for AUC to spend some of the surplus building up in the ASG treasury over the past years.

On the basis of the impressive organization of the Allegheny Radio Committee, and the great advantages which Allegheny would receive from this station, The Campus strongly urges that full approval of the requested appropriation for the radio station be given by AUC.

A.S.G. Traffic Committee

A.S.G. Traffic Committee Office will be open evenings Thursday, 7 to 7:30 p.m. The Appeals Board will also meet at this time.

If you don't have a copy of the Committee Rules and Regulations, stop in during office hours and pick them up.

Bob Ross, Rich Pevear and Mike Baish will perform a series of British and American folksongs and ballads in the main lounge of the CU at 8:30 tonight, and not the 2nd as previously stated in last weeks Campus.

Kappa Delta Epsilon and the Education Department urge all freshmen, sophomores, and juniors, who are planning to meet certification requirements for teaching in the elementary or secondary schools upon graduation from Allegheny, to attend a meeting on Tuesday, March 13, at 7:45 p.m. in Henderson auditorium, Quigley Hall. Revisions in the teacher-education program will be explained.

Graduate Record Examination scores can be picked up at the Counseling Center.

Thomas A. Edison, "Wizard of Menlo Park", was issued 1,097 patents—the largest number ever issued to one inventor.

Rafael Mendez, world famous trumpeter, will be the featured guest artist with the Clarion State College Concert Band on Monday, March 26, in the Clarion High School Auditorium.

Quigley will be closed to students at 10:30 P.M. from now until April 9. After this date the building will again remain open for a longer period. This earlier closing is a result of difficulties in cleaning the building at this season of the year. Students using the building for studying are reminded:

1. To use only the upstairs rooms for studying;
2. To straighten the chairs before leaving;
3. To refrain from talking in the study rooms (the stairwells should be used for any discussions);(, ,
4. Not to use the blackboards;
5. Not to throw cigarettes on the floor.

Your consideration is appreciated.

Wolf Compiles Reis Catalouge

Mr. Edwin Wolf,II the Librarian of the Library Company of Philadelphia is making a compresensive study of the rare materials in the Treasure Room of Reis Library. Mr. Wolf's first exploration of Reis' old treasures was last July, when he came as a Guggenheim Fellow, gathering titles for a catalogue of Benjamin Franklin's personal Library.

Student Defends Sit-In Action

March 6, 1962

Dear Editor:

A letter in your March 2, 1962, issue of the Campus expressed the view of two gentlemen concerning the action of Allegheny exchange students at Fisk University, Richard Momeyer and Peter Schwartz. The opinion stated therein is, I am sure, made in sincere expression of their intrest and feelings. Their right to this opinion is unquestionable.

By the same token, the right of these students to take purposful, direct action to aid the correction of a situation which they may feel to be wrong should be given similar consideration.

Change in any convention of society is not easily achieved. This is conceded by the writers of the March 2 letter. However, they continue in saying that there is "unfortunately... small but active group of 'extremists' [quotations theirs] who insist upon immediate and abrupt change. When they are thwartedin this idea, they use means which often result in actual violence."

Two comments seem warranted. First, "extreme" is a relative word—it reflects the speakers' position more than position in regard to an absolute scale. Secondly, the concept held by the writers of the March 2 letter differs basicly from the concept of the student non-violent movement, as I have been acquainted with it, throughout the United States. The student non-violent movement is based not on abrupt change (this being considered both impractical and undesirable) but on non-violent action to bring awareness and pressure on a static situation of social injustice.

Rare have been the reforms of social injustice that have not had at the basis sincere and dedicated workers. Mr. Momeyer and Mr. Schwartz are, I believe, so committed. It would appear to be their belief that the best way in the current situation is to proceed in participating in non-violent demonstrations.

If any question is to be raised concerning these students' actions, it is not on the basis of their right to participate. Such question may perhaps be raised in regard to their status as representatives of Allegheny College at Fisk University. It should be understood by Allegheny and Fisk students alike that they, like thousands of other non-violent movement participants throughout the nation,act on a personal basis and not as a representative of any college. Such distinctions, unfortunately, are not always made clearly in the minds of the public.

If these students are to reconsider their degree of participation, it is not because of their convictions, but because of people's failure to understand that, though shared by many, these convictions are convictions and actions for which Mr. Momeyer, Mr. Schwartz and their colleagues, and not either of the schools, must assume responsibility.

KDE Celebrates 29th Birthday

By Margie Buhs

Kappa Delta Epsilon, professional education sorority, will soon be celebrating its twenty-ninth birthday. This national sorority was organized on March 25, 1933 with the aid of Professor Frederick Henke of Allegheny College. As a professional organization, Kappa Delta Epsilon has set out to be an active group in which outstanding students preparing to enter the teaching profession undertake projects of service to the campus and community. Regular meetings are held to acquaint members with the history and ethics of the teaching profession, to develop in them a sense of professional responsibility, and to keep them in touch with the current problems of education.

Allegheny's Alpha Chapter is striving to reach these goals; programs have been planned to widen the educational scope of its members. Dr. William S. Sincock, chairman of the educational department, has spoken to the group concerning the role of women in education. Other program highlights have been an interesting view into the fascinating world of books given by Miss Ruth Fooze, and an entertaining and informative mock interview conducted by Mr. William C. Frye, superintendent of the Meadville area schools. Education in other countries has also been illuminated by the observations of Nancy Fahnestock, Allegheny Ambassador to Poland, and Jacpuie Stanley, who has recently visited Argentina.

From November 10, to November 12, the Allegheny chapter was hostess to the regional convention of Kappa Delta Epsilon. Miss Adelaide DeMason, curriculum director of the Meadville area schools, addressed the group at its Saturday banquet. Later, informal discussion groups resulted in a helpful exchange of information.

Miss Reba Garvey, advisor of the Allegheny chapter, has expressed the desire that Kappa Delta Epsilon expand its program in the future, it is hoped that this expansion would bring helpful information to all those who are interested in education. The first program planned to reach all such interested persons will be held on Tuesday, March 13, at 7:45 p.m. in Henderson auditorium to explain the revised teacher-education program.

At a tea held last Sunday, Miss Garvey expressed her desire that the new members of Kappa Delta Epsilon help in expanding its purposes. The following girls, chosen on the basis of grade average and completed education courses, have been extended bids from Alpha chapter: juniors, Linda Jewitt, Carof Miller, Mary Baird, Kathy Brown, and Gloria Gill, and sophomores, Carol Chase, Ruth Hoerner, Lana Hough, Mary Ann Janik, Gretchen Sigler, Sue Steele, Judy Traskos, Joan Daniels, Ann Harvey, Mary Sue Mason, and Joan Walling.

In the animal kingdom, messages are transmitted between animals through dance and rhythm, especially at the mating season for birds and beasts.

In the past week, The Campus has received letters from two Greek letter organizations, Alpha Gamma Delta and Alpha Chi Omega, supporting the proposed Allegheny Radio Station, and urging the approval of the Allegheny Radio Committee by ASG.

Mexican Students To Visit Allegheny

Three student leaders from the Faculty of Political and Social Sciences of the National University of Mexico will visit Allegheny College on March 12 and 13. They are traveling in the United States as guests of the State Department and will be accompanied by a State Department Escort-Interpreter.

These students wish to familiarize themselves with the American political structure, the United Nations, and the Organization of American States. They hope to meet United States student leaders to gain an understanding of student government in this country and to visit museums and other educational and cultural institutions.

The proposed itinerary for the trip includes Chicago, Pittsburgh, Meadville, Washington, D.C., and Chapel Hill.

Members of the group include: Francisco Del Prado Betencourt, 34, third year student in political science and public adminstration; Roberto Ducoing Espinosa, 23, second year student in political science and Eduardo Reinhart Thomas Dominguez, 22, third year student in political science and public administration.

The three will arrive from Pittsburgh by bus on the morning of March 12, and will remain on the Allegheny campus until the evening of the following day. Dr. Richard L. Brown is the coordinator with Pitt for the cultural exchange.

While at Allegheny, the students will be hosted by members of the Political Science faculty, and by Mike Staren and Sandy DeMarino, ASG Sub-Chairmen for National and International Affairs. The students are scheduled to sit in on Political Science classes, meet with the department faculty, hold informal meetings on campus, meet briefly with the language faculty and hold a seminar with ASG leaders.

Campus Clashes

by Kent Sanders

As the intermural basketball, handball, and bowling seasons draw toward the completion of their schedules, there is considerable interest being shown concerning the teams as they enter the spring sports.

In basketball, the Phi Gams have already claimed the title with a 7-0 record. With the last two makeup games scheduled to be played next week and neither affecting the standings of the top teams, second place will go to the Sigs while the Phi Psi's will settle for third place.

There were two games played on the hardwood floor last week in which the Independents won one and lost the other.

The Ox-men from Theta Chi provided the competition for the Indies in the first contest with the decision going to the latter, 41-34. Brian Hathaway and Nick Kneen lead the way for the victors by pumping in 13 points apiece. Mike Markley threw in 10 points for the losers.

The Delts captured their one and only victory for the season as they beat the Indies, 37-34, in the only other game for the week. Dave Burkett and Ray Denson lead the Delts in scoring with 12 markers apiece while Hathaway tallied the same amount in the losing cause.

HANDBALL

As the handball elimination tournament reaches the quarter-finals, it looks to be a battle between the Phi Gams and Phi Psis with an outside chance going to Theta Chi.

According to the schedule, the quarter-finals will go as follows: Tim Gill, Phi Psi, will face either Tom Wakeman, Theta Chi, or Roger Smith, Phi Gam; Brian Hathaway, Indie, goes against Andy Shapiro, Phi Psi; Larry Gould, Phi Gam, competes with Bill Dolde, Phi Psi; and Mike Williams Phi Gam, battles John Clarke, Theta Chi.

BOWLING

With the bowling season moving into its last two weeks of action, it would appear to be a two-way battle between the Phi Psis and the Delts.

At the time of this writing, the Psis have a five point lead over the Delts with two matches left to be played by both teams. There is also a close contest between the Chi Rhos and the Theta Chis for third place.

In last week's matches, the Sigs downed the Phi Delts by the score of 3-1 with the high game going to Mike Staren who bowled a 208 for the winners. In another contest, the Chi Rhos downed the Theta Chis, 4-0, as Ron Holl bowled the high game, 202, for the victors.

The Phi Psis continued their winning ways with a 4-0 victory over the Phi Gams. Glenn Beckert rolled the day's best game with a 211. In the other two contests of the week, the Indies forfeited their matches with Theta Chi and the Delts.

Chorea is a word derived from the Greek choreia, meaning dance, and medically there is reference to St. Vitus' dance, a convulsive nervous involuntary and irregular jerking movement.

Wayne State Upset Mermen

By Jim Baxter

The Allegheny Mermen, finishing below first for the first time in four years, were second to a far superior Wayne squad, but they did manage to break two existing PAC records Saturday.

Skip Shaffer broke the standing record for the 200-yard breastroke with a time of 2:35.5, and the unbeaten medley relay team broke both the Case pool record and the PAC record in the 400-yard medley relay with a time of 4:10.4. The medley relay team is composed of Ritz Howard, Skip Shaffer, Jim Beatman and Dave Ludwick.

There were several other records broken in the tournament. In the 200-yard freestyle Dergis of Wayne State topped both the Case pool record and the existing PAC record with a time of 2:19.5. A new 50-yard freestyle record was set in the preliminary race by Whitelaw of Case with a time of 0:24.4 which was .2 of a second better than his final winning time. Wendler of Wayne State set a new PAC and pool record for the 200-yard butterfly race with a time of 2:21.5 in the elimanation event, but he lost to Carlile in the finals. Records were also broken in the 100-yard freestyle by Ewald of Wayne with a time of :54.3, the 200-yard backstroke by Pace of Bethany with a time of 2:15.3 and the 440-yard freestyle by Dergis of Wayne clocking 5:08.4.

Allegheny took several team and individual honors as well as the records they set to pile up 61 points in the competition. In the 200-yard butterfly and the 200-yard individual medley, Carlile took the firsts, while Beatman took a fourth in the butterfly. Earl Speirs finished second in the 440-yard freestyle, and the 400-yard freestyle relay team composed of Ludwick, Howard, Beatman and Carlile was also second. And in the 200-yard breastroke Howard took a fourth place, while Bob Benes finished fifth in the diving events.

To finish first Wayne State, tremendously improved over last year, totaled 97 points, 36 more than second place Allegheny acquired. Case Tech finished third, 17 points behind Allegheny and 53 points behind Wayne. Then came Washington and Jefferson, the disappointment of the tournament, with 39 points, Bethany with 27 points, and Western Reserve with 17 points, 80 behind Wayne John Carroll and Thiel did not have teams entered in the tournament.

Before the competition began, the experts predicted a three team race with Wayne, Allegheny, and Washington and Jefferson all given a chance to win. Both Wayne and W. and J. had beaten the Gator swimmers during the regular season. However, Wayne outclassed everyone picking up five first places finishishers and eight seconds with several third and fourths to send their total team points to 97, while W. and J. disappointed everyone finishing fourth, 58 points behind Wayne.

After the meet was over it was announced that three Allegheny swimmers, Bruce Carlile, Skip Shaffer and Bob Benes are planning to compete in the NCAA finals.

Cagers Down Thiel

Larry Katz and Hank Kachelriess had another fine week as they teamed up for 56 points to help Allegheny down Thiel, 73-71. Later in the week, with Kachelriess playing only ten minutes because of a sore foot, Allegheny lost to powerful Edinboro State College, 102-80. Katz threw in 32 points.

In the Thiel game at the David Mead Field House, the fans (most of them from Thiel) were thrilled by a close, well-played game. Allegheny led early in the first half but in the second half the lead exchanged hands several times.

With one minute remaining and the score tied, 71-71, Larry Katz stole the ball and passed to Dunc Parkinson who scored on a layup. The Gators again stole the ball and held it until final buzzer sounded.

Bill Merkovsky was high scorer for Thiel with 24 points.

On Saturday at Edinboro the Gators were out-classed as Larry Sims netted 10 out of 11 attempts from the floor to collect 21 points for the Red Raiders. Other high scorers for Edinboro were Wendell Rojik with 19 points and Barker with 17.

Larry Katz played a fine game for Allegheny scoring 32 points with 14 for 18 from the charity stripe.

The Gators play their last game of the season at Detroit against Wayne State on Wednesday.

CAUSE

There will be a meeting of CAUSE this Sunday, March 11, at 2 p.m. in the North Lounge of the C.U.

Matmen Tie For Third

Allegheny's wrestling team managed a third place tie with defending champion Western Reserve in the PAC tournament held in Cleveland this past weekend.

John Bernhard at 157 pounds was Allegheny's only individual champion as Washington and Jefferson won the team title with a total of 58 points. The win marks the third consecutive championship for John.

W&J had two individual champions while Thiel also had two individual champions and a second place team total of 52 points. Following them were Allegheny and Western Reserve with 41 points. Case Tech and Wayne State trailed with 34 and 0 points respectively.

Allegheny also had Eben Jones and John Antonnen reach the finals along with the victorious Bernhard. However, Antonnen lost to four-time champion, Pat McCormick, of W&J and Jones was decisioned by Alberza of Western Reserve.

Champions repeating from last year were the previously mentioned McCormick at 130 pounds and Bernhard at 157, along with Norton Gordon of Western Reserve at 177 and heavyweight Joe Mischick of Thiel.

The biggest upsets of the tournament occurred in the 123 and 167 pound weight classes. In the 123 pound class Jim Hart of Allegheny lost a close 3-2 decision to Mike Coco of Thiel, the eventual champion. The biggest upset in the 167 pound class came about when John Stevens of Thiel, undefeated during the regular season, lost in an overtime decision to eventual champion Frank Mica of W&J. Hart and Stevens went on to become consolation winners.

Coach Chuckran has been quoted as saying that "it had been a good tournament with no one team domination the scoring, and with a couple breaks, the Gators may have won the title." He also stated that he was quite pleased with the team's showing.

Hope now reigns for next year's tournament which will be held here at Allegheny. Losing only one Senior from this year's team, the Gators will be in an excellent position to wrest the title away from W&J.
