December 4, 1937

Dear Mr. Tisdale:

I have just returned to business and find your letter of November 30th awaiting and also find that Mrs. Wolfe had explained that I was out of town.

Now as to the possibility of future articles for Mr. Wallace in the vein of "The Sewing Room of Fifty Years Ago."

I have already written Mr. Wallace that I would try the one on "Amusements." He, himself, suggested that I do that. As to other articles we better have a talk I think that I may know more clearly just what is in Mr. Wallace's mind. Also, pass on to him through you if he wishes topics on which I think I might write in this vein.

If this is satisfactory you can call me up in the morning - Algonquin 4-6674 - and we will make an arrangement for a talk.

Very sincerely

Mr. F. S. Tisdale
