My dear Miss Tarbell:

My mother and I have read your article in September Forum regarding Henry George and Edward Bellamy and want you to know with what deep understanding and charity we feel you have put it together. Mr. Bellamy's many friends everywhere will be grateful to you as we are for your fine and appreciative estimate of his contribution to the thought of the day.

We are glad indeed that it was our privilege to introduce "Equality" to you as you appear to have found it so much worth your consideration.

From all parts of the world word is continually being sent us that his "truth is marching on."

If you have finished with clipping etc. which I sent you last January, we shall appreciate their return for our files.

Mr. Morgan now hopes to have the biography for which happily we came upon much fresh and delightfully personal material in the form of note-books and journals of my fathers, ready early in the year. Mother joins me in kind regards and in the hope that we may have the pleasure of seeing you again some day.

Sincerely yours,

Maurice Bellamy Earndale.
