Town Boys Won

FROM THE FOREIGNERS, SCORE 26 TO 13—THE CONTEST IN ALLEGHENY'S GYM FRIDAY EVENING WAS FAST AND FUNNY.

The long-heralded game of basket ball between the town and out-of-town members of the basket ball team was played on Friday of last week and resulted in a victory for the home boys, 26-13. For two weeks the men had been in practice for the game and every man went into the game determined to at least get satisfaction out of his opponent if nothing else. The victory was of secondary importance, the main object being to give the other man the worst of it.

The preliminary practice showed the out-of-towns on the floor first and with Joseph's suits of many colors for uniforms, from Lampe's white to Leffingwell's orange and black. The town boys wore the 'varsity uniforms with red carnations and had "Kid" Crawford for honorary member. The teams were announced the "Hall Girls" and the "Town Girls," and from the blow of the whistle the play was fast and funny, each man knowing the other's peculiarities. Taylor was first penalized for hugging Haas [illegible] the first goal on a fine one from [illegible], Mellon landing the next. [illegible]iams got a foul. Lampe hugged next, Taylor getting a foul goal. Then Taylor held and Williams scored a foul. Wolstoncroft getting the next foul goal, and Williams again scoring a foul. Haas got another long goal, and Leffingwell hugged too hard but Taylor failed at goal. Lampe scored the first field goal for the Hall Girls on a long throw, Williams getting the next. Wolstoncroft scored the next goal. The half closed with the score: Town Girls 14, Hall Girls 9.

Mellon fouled, but Wolstoncroft did not improve his chance to score. Williams fouled and Lampe dropped a foul goal on Haas's penalty, Jackson scoring the next field goal. Williams missed on Jackson's foul and Lampe on Taylor's. Haas scored a field goal. Taylor tripped, but Williams failed at the try. Wolstoncroft hugged Williams, but Lampe failed on goal try. Wolstoncroft scored, followed by Lampe and Mellon. Taylor again hugged, but Lampe failed.

This is the story of the game, and although it sounds more like a description of a "couple of spoons" hugging in a dark room, it was entirely different. The hugging was done in a different spirit. Leffingwell was playing Taylor and his football strength rendered him unsusceptible to the charms of Taylor, so Bones tried his rough house tactics on the other fellows. If any one came near him, the two generally went to the floor, much to the amusement of the spectators. Williams and Wolstoncroft fought it out between them, while Jackson and Lampe were generally found holding on after the play had passed.

The game was a victory for the subs, as the regulars merely played each other to a standstill. Three spectacular shots by Haas and one by Wolstoncroft and Lampe, together with the rough house work of all concerned were features of the game.

Souvenir pictures of the team were given to every one who attended and the records for four years were given on the back of the score cards. Mayo, of Erie, was the official.

Base Ball.

COACH BUCKLEY HARD AT WORK— MANY MEN OUT FOR POSITIONS—MUCH NEW MATERIAL SHOWING UP WELL.

The base ball season has arrived at last, it is hard to beloieve, but it's a fact. In less than three weeks the first game of the season will be played. From the outlook at the present time, the team having the better swimmers will win out.

On Thursday morning of last week Coach Buckley arrived direct from Florida. He had been reading the Pittsburg papers and came north expecting to find the very finest kind of spring weather and as he stepped from the train into about six inches of snow he was overheard to say, "I'll never believe a Pittsburg paper again." Mr. Buckley immediately traded his straw hat for a fur cap and borrowed an ulster. However, weather does not stop Coach Buckley, and he immediately took charge of the men in the gym and is putting forth every effort to develop the new men and get the old ones in the best possible shape. He is putting the pitchers and catchers through some rather fast work, being very careful however not to injure arms.

In the pitching department Haas seems to be showing up to best advantage. He has good control, plenty of speed, and his curves are very quick and deceptive. Taylor is having trouble with his shoulder which he injured slightly last fall in football at Geneva. Coach Buckley is giving him especial attention, and it is thought that Taylor's arm will be in the best of shape in two weeks. Strickler is somewhat of a phenomenon as he pitches equally well with either hand. The ability to deliver the ball with either hand should make him a hard problem for any batter. If he succeeds in getting control of the ball with both hands he will undobutedly prove a valuable man. Rickard is showing much more speed than last year and should give a good account of himself in the box this season. All of last year's out field are back for this year's team.

Endean seems to be getting his eye on the ball, and his arm was never in better shape.

Capt. Turner is in fine form and promises to make a record for himself this year.

Leffingwell is getting down to work and it looks as if he would be in shape to make as sensational plays in base ball as he did last fall in foot ball.

Mook, our backstop of last year, is showing up well. He is developing his arm carefully, wishing to avoid the sore arm that bothered him last year.

Kelley, a new man in school this year, is also trying for the position behind the bat. He seems to be pretty fast and promises to make a strong fight for a position.

The biggest problem that confronts Coach Buckley is the developing of an infield. Two positions are to be filled, that of second and third base. Lewis, who covered the initial bag last year, is showing up well, and it will take a fast man to beat him out for that position.

McConnell, who played our short field last year, is showing improved form and is a likely candidate for the same position this season.

Of the new men Fletcher is giving the greatest promise. He has wonderful speed and has a magnificent arm and he comes to us with the reputation of a heavy hitter. He will make a strong bid for an infield position. Yard and Brice, of the Erie High School team, are out for infield positions, and are showing up well. Yard looks like a strong candidate for first base and Brice will make it interesting for those who expect to make an infield position. Ashley is also a candidate for first base, and ought to make a good man. Zimmerman, and Yeaney, formerly of Thiel College, are trying for infield positions. Both are quite fast and should they prove to be good stickers they will make strong bids for infield positions. Space does not permit the mention of many other men who are showing up well, but Coach Buckley wishes it distinctly understood that every man is to have a fair trial and that no one has his position cinched, and the only favoriteism shown will be to the men who are most faithful in practice. The man who makes the best all-round showing will be the man who will make a place on the team. Heavy hitters must be had, even at a sacrifice of fast fielding, so the man who is handiest with the stick will probably stand a better chance to make a place on the team than the man who is faster in the field, but weak at the bat.

It is to be hoped that the same number of men who are now at work will continue their work throughout the season and not quit because they do not have a trial in the first game, as has been the case in years past.

Coach Buckley says positively that no member of last year's team is at all certain to hold his position this year.

The team will meet some fast company this year and if we are to make a credible showing, every man must get down to hard work and continue it.

It is very important that each man under the charge of Coach Buckley shotuld do his very best to follow his every suggestion. Mr. Buckley comes to us with much experience in base ball and has proven to us by his work in '99 that he knows his business, and in order to get the best results the players will willingly follow to the best of their ability his advice and suggesitons. Harmony is the most essential thing to the success of a team, and it is to be hoped that all candidates for the team will prove themselves no less than men by doing all in their power to further the interest of the team. If it is to carry water, let the water be carried cheerfully.

The first game of the season will be played two weeks from Saturday, and it we intend to win that game it means hard work from this time until the day of the game.

It is unecessary to put off work until the team gets outside. Much can be done toward getting into shape by working in the gym. All the usual soreness caused by the opening work of the season can be avoided by careful work in the cage. It is especially important that all men trying for the position of pitcher or catcher should be out daily.

A word to the student body is not out of place here, for the success of the club depends largely upon the support the team receives from the student body. It is very essential that the students should show their interest in the team by coming out to practice, if not to take part, then to applaud every good play, and thus lend inspiration and encouragement. It is all well and good to attend the regular games, but that is not enough. If we are interested in the team, we will be out every day to watch its development, and by the way, the manager would be glad to have any one of those subscribing to the base ball fund, pay him this week if it is convenient. Doubtless it is easier for some to pay now than later in the spring. Finally, let us get together and make this year's team a success in every way. We have the material we have a coach to develop it and money subscribed to pay the running expenses, so let us do our part. Let us get enthusiastic about our base ball team. Capt. Turner needs to be jollied up a little occasionally, and it won't hurt En Dean to know who his base ball admirers are, so let us all pull together and make our team a success.

College Concert at the Academy.

A DELIGHTFUL FEAST OF MUSIC GIVEN FOR THE BENEFIT OF ALLEGHENY COLLEGE BY THE PENNSYLVANIA COLLEGE OF MUSIC, UNDER THE DIRECTION OF MR. WARLICH—BEAUTIFUL SOLOS AND A GRAND CHORUS OF SEVENTY VOICES.

The concert given in the Academy of Music on Thursday evening for the benefit of the endowment fund of Allegheny college was a splendid success in the high character of the program rendered, and was appreciated and applauded by a large audience. The concert was given by the Pennsylvania College of Music, under the direction of Mr. Reinhold Ivanovitch Warlich, director of that institution, with a carefully trained chorus of about 70 voices and the solo parts sung by Miss Hoffman, of Elmira, N. Y., and Miss Moyer, Miss Dutton and Miss Harper and Mr. Manville, vocalists, and Miss McCurdy, Miss Sherred, Miss Graham and Miss Edsall, pianists, and Mr. Lord, 'cello, Mr. Warlich assisting in both vocal and instrumental numbers. Two concert grand pianos were used.

With the opening of the grand chorus from "Athalie"—"Heaven and the Earth Display," the excellent results of the careful training given that feature of the program were at

We feel that greater interest should be taken in base ball this season than ever before in the history of our college. Athletics in Allegheny are becoming established on a solid basis. The student body demands that the college be represented on the athletic field by a team worthy to represent it, which means that no professionalism be allowed. This we believe to be the proper attitude toward college athletics, and this we believe insures success for the future. We have as coach this year a man who needs no write up, as he has proven his ability to coach a college team. The manager has arranged a splendid schedule, and a large number of candidates are at work getting in shape to make a strong bid for position on the team. The only thing to dampen the ardor of base ball enthusiasts is the deplorable condition of the weather, and we have promises of something better in this line in the near future. Now as soon as the team gets to work in Athletic park, let the student body turn out and watch the progress of the team. There is no greater stimulus to real hard work on the part of the candidates, than a crowded grand stand at daily practice; and there is no better way for the student body to show its interest in the team than to attend practice. Watch the bulletin board for announcement of outdoor practice, and prepare to attend. If the student body wish to see the team defeat W. & J. or O. W. U. it is necessary that a goodly number of students see the daily work of the team.

The first week of school is over, the regular routine of work has been taken up and everything is going smoothly. We are sorry to have the Campus a day late, but we were moved, to have it so.

The candidates for the base ball team are hard at work in the gym. The Seniors have been compelled to hand in the subject of their orations, and are now racking their brains for something to fit their subject, an Allegheny concert has been given by the Pennsylvania College of Music, Coach Buckley has arrived, the Frats are getting ready for the Pan-Hellenic banquet, but the hall girls haven't had a chance to wear their new hats.

We are more than glad to see things running so smoothly and hope that every member of the student body will turn in and do their part to make the base ball team the smoothest running organization in college this term.

Mr. Chase, the newly-elected president of the association, is working aggressively, the committees and heads of departments are being appointed. Each department is being thoroughly organized and their policies for the year formulated.

The first meeting of the new cabinet was held in Association Hall Saturday at 2 p. m. The president outlined the plan for the year and the aim of the association.

The regular association meeting was held Saturday evening at 6:30 in Y. M. C. A. Hall. It was led by Mr. Chase and was helpful to all. One thought brought out was that we must not aim simply at the good, but at the best.

After the service a short business meeting was held; reports were made by the outgoing president, Mr. Shallenberger, and by the treasurer.

The president then announced the following appointments.

The Glee Club

MAKES A FLYING TRIP TO SHARON AND SINGS TO A VERY LARGE AND APPRECIATIVE AUDIENCE.

Thursday afternoon the members of the Glee Club left the rush of registration and the opening of the term work and gave a concert to the Sharon people the same evening. Oberlin's successful club was to sing in the same city a few days later, and the boys felt that it was up to them to do their best. Craig came up from Pittsburg where he was attending the natinal convention of Phi Kappa Psi, to assist in the concert, and the club felt that the concert would be no discredit to Allegheny. That the club was equal to the occasion was attested to by the fact that every number of the program was most enthusiastically received. The Sharon papers give very flattering notices of the concert, giving especial mention of the work of Miss Spaulding and Mr. Smith.

Manager Scott has since received a letter from the persons who had charge of the concert in Sharon, in which the club is spoken of in a very appreciative way, and a request that the club arrange a return date for the near future. It is possible that some persons do not realize that the Glee Club represents the college to a class of people that no other college organizaion comes in conact with, and it makes little difference to them as to the success or failure of the club. If such persons would follow closely the work of the Glee Clubs of the country they would surely think otherwise. The boys of the club are to be recommended for their untiring work in getting in shape for the concerts in the face of what amounts practically to opposition, when encouragement only is needed. It is to be hoped that their good work will go on regardless of existing conditions.

Oratory.

IT IS NECESSARY THAT GREATER INTEREST BE TAKEN IN THE COMING CONTESTS.

In the rush of affairs and the overshadowing interest taken in athletics, the importance of the oratorical association is lost sight of.

Although the great educators of the day acknowledge that athletics take a very important place in the work of college life, they do not lose sight of the importance of literary effort and never give athletics a more important place than the classics. In our college we have fallen into a bad condition of affairs. The interest taken in our debates and oratorical contests is not what it should be. We have a large number of men who expect to choose a life vocation which will demand the ability not only to think clearly upon any subject and to clothe thought in effective language, but to be able to give expression to thought from the platform. And is it not essential that here in college where we are fitting ourselves for our life work that we take advantage of every opportunity which will help fit us for our life work. If this be reasonable, why do not more of us enter these contests. A large number of our young men expect to be public speakers and too many of them will go out to their work sadly lacking the ability to effectively address an audience. The several contests of the spring term furnish a splendid opportunity to develop in the art of public speaking, and further, the prizes offered are by no means insignificant. It would be eminently fitting that the winner of the inter-collegiate oratorical contest should be from Allegheny this year. It would be no means be the smallest honor that has come to our college this year. That we have the talent is without question, but it is sadly in want of development. It behooves us as an up-to-date college to bestir ourselves and take greater interest in the oratorical line. Enthusiasm in athletic lines is all right and indeed highly commendable, but to show enthusiasm in a single line of college work alone betokens nothing more than mediocrity. If we are to be up-to-date, broad-minded men and women, we should desire a symmetrical development of mind as well as body. The plea for renewed interest in oratory is not in the interest of the college so much as it is in the interest of the students themselves. No greater or more exalted field of work lies open to young men and women of the day than that of public speaking, and the college student should be the first to recognize this fact. If this be true, the college student should be anxious and eager for opportunities to develop his talent in this line. Rather than having to plead with young men and women to enter this line of work, the number of contestants should be too large. Can we not look at this matter in the broadest way and do our part to arouse enthusiasm over the coming contests?

once apparent. The parts were full and well distributed, the volume was complete, and the melody was beautiful—not only in this opening number, but i nthose which followed. Miss Moyer had a short solo in the opening chorus, which was beautifully done. Her voice showed the beautiful timbre and covering so rare in a soprano—not only in this, but in the Benedictus, from the "St. Cecilia Mass."

Miss Dutton displayed a very beautiful and promising contralto voice in her solo in the opening chorus and contributed much to the pleasure of that number. The solo trio by the Misses Moyer, Dutton and Harper was excellent.

Miss Edsall, piano; Mr. Warlich, violin, and Mr. Lord, 'cello, had two trio numbers and won enthusiastic applause. Mr. Warlich, who has not been heard in public here before on the violin, proved an artist on that king of musical instruments and entirely in place with Miss Edsall and Mr. Lord.

Of Mr. Warlich's singing but little need be said. His voice, a baritone, is very pure and clear, finely cultivated and he sings with scarcely a perceptible effort. His reception amounted to an ovation.

The Wagner number by Mr. Manville was a treat for which the audience manifested full appreciation. Mr. Manville has an unusually sweet and pure tenor voice, and has won marked distinction as a vocal teacher. His German enunciation was superior and his singing was especially artistic and pleasing.

Miss Hoffman's reception was one of the most cordial of the evening. Her voice is a pure soprano of good volume and very sweet and clear. She made a flattering impression in her solo from the "St. Cecelia Mass" number (which, by the way, was one of the finest of the program), and in the Weber solo she won an ovation. Miss Hoffman is a pupil of Mr. Warlich.

A pleasing feature of the program was Miss McCurdy's piano number, Miss Sherred playing the orchestra part. It was artistic and won enthusiastic applause.

Miss Graham, who played the chorus accompaniments, had a piano number, in which she acquitted herself with full credit. Miss Graham plays with fine expression, either in accompaniments or solo work, and last night, as always, she was given a very cordial reception. Miss Edsall also showed fine execution at the piano and her accompaniments were highly artistic.

In a word, the entire program was a pleasure, and as such was appreciated by the audience, while the fact that it was given for the benefit of Allegheny college is greatly appreciated by the college. In fact as much was said by President Crawford after the concert, when he remarked to a Tribune-Republican representative that all in connection with the college held in high appreciation the earnest work of the College of Music in behalf of the endowment fund, and that one of the results of the effort was so dignified and artistic a program.

AMERICANS REMEMBERED BY CECIL RHODES IN WILL—TWO SCHOLARSHIPS AT OXFORD FOR EACH STATE AND TERRITORY IN THE UNION.

The will of Cecil Rhodes provides for the establishment of colonial scholarships, as previously announced, and two American scholarships to each of the present states and territories of the United States.

The will of Mr. Rhodes also provides for five scholarships for students of German birth, at Oxford, to be nominated by Emperor William, and, commenting on the bequest, Mr. Rhodes, in a codicil, telegraphed from South Africa, said:

"For a good understanding between England, Germany and the United States will secure the peace of the world, and educational relations form the strongest tie."

All the Rhodes scholarships, American, Colonial and German, are at Oxford.

Mr. Rhodes' will is a remarkable and voluminous document of more than 3,500 words. Even this is not the entire will, as the executors only gave the portions which they consider to be of public interest. It was executed in 1899. There is a codicil attached on the day of the deceased's last departure from England and another cabled from Cape Town, leaves £4,000 yearly to keep up the spot in the Matoppo hills where his remains are to be buried. The will further directs that a railroad extension be made into the Matoppo hills, so that visitors may go there at the week-end to inspect the "majesty and glory of their surroundings."

Mr. Rhodes explicitly says he is to be buried in an aperture, cut in the solid rock, surmounted by a brass tablet, bearing the words:

"Here Lie the Remains of Cecil John Rhodes."

No one else is to be buried there who has not deserved well of his country.

Mr. Rhodes bequeths all his landed property near Buluwayo and Salisbury, both in Matabeland, to trustees, whom he directs to cultivate the land for the instruction of the people of Rhodesia. His celebrated country place at Groot Schuur, not far from Cape Town, Mr. Rhodes leaves as a residence for the "prime minister of the federal government of South Africa, with £1,000 yearly for its maintenance."

Mr. Rhodes divided the £100,000 bequest to Oriel college into several funds, indicating concisely how he wished them to be applied and adds this characteristic sentence:

"And finally, as college authorities live secluded from the world and so are like children as to commercial matters, I would advise them to consult my trustees regarding the investment of these various funds so far as they would receive great help and aid from such advice."

Regarding the American scholarship, Mr. Rhodes says:

"Whereas, I desire to encourage and foster an appreciation of the advantages which I implicitly believe will result from a union of the English speaking peoples throughout the world, and to encourage in the students from the United States who will benefit by these scholarships an attachment to the country from which they have sprung; but without hope of drawing them or their sympathies from the land of their adoption or birth."

The will provides that the executors may, at their discretion, delay establishing any territorial scholarship until such time as they may think fit, but it provides also that the territorial scholarships once established shall not lapse under the admission of the territory to statehood.

Another provision is that no student shall be qualified or disqualified for election to a scholarship on account of race or religious opinion.

Mr. Rhodes desires that the students should not patronize any particular college, but distribute themselves throughout the university. The trustees are allowed to suspend or remove any scholar, at their discretion.

Mr. Rhodes expresses the hope that the trustees will arrange an annual dinner and reunion of all students and scholarship graduates who are able to attend and invite thereto as guests, "persons who have shown sympathy with the views expressed by me in my will."

There is little doubt that many St. Petersburg students will share the fate of their Muscovite comrades—exile to Siberia or imprisonment.

It is known that at least four students of St. Petersburg have already been sentenced to Siberia for three years and that another has been sent to Central Asia for the same period.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

If we but had the weather man!

The Senior orations will not be flowery this spring.

New arrival of Manhattan Shirts at Mendel Bros., Water street.

Miss Larkin, '01, and Miss Breen, '99, were visitors at Hulings Hall this week.

Athletic park looks more like a duck pond than a base ball park at present.

The work this year of the Y. M. C. A., under the new president is to be progressive.

The oratorical contests are beginning to receive attention. Better enter and win some of the prizes.

The Sigs moved on Monday from the Diamond to the house formerly occupied by Prof. Dutton on Park avenue.

Question: What Senior was so undignified as to laugh aloud when Dr. Crawford was making an announcement?

The arrival of Coach Buckley has put new life into the base ball men. His presence will do much toward a winning team.

The Kaldron is progressing rapidly. Now is the time to subscribe for it. If you put it off much longer your order may not be filled.

Greenlee to Kearney, in the Sigs' new home: "Kearney, I want to talk to you; will you wait till I go outside and turn around?"

Base ball enthusiasts are predicting that En Dean will play a star game this season as his voice is in better condition this year than ever before.

J. H. Wolstoncroft, who spent his vacation with his college friends, returned on Monday to Chamberlain institute where he will resume his duties as teacher of science.

Coach Buckley, as he got off the train on Thursday wearing a straw hat and light suit: "Oh those Pittsburg papers. Say! we can't play ball out of doors this kind of weather."

Skin Taylor has in all probability made his last appearance in an Allegheny uniform. We are sorry to see Taylor go this year, as his place on the basket ball team will be hard to fill.

The editorial from the Allegheny Lit., containing advice to a Senior, read by Prof. Monroe, was written by a Prep. The Preps, if allowed, would take charge of the college and run it satisfactorily to themselves.

Leon Vincent will again be heard at the college this winter. He is undoubtedly the most popular lecturer that has been at Allegheny in recent years. The college is to be congratulated in being able to secure him for another course of lectures.

New arrival of Manhattan Shirts at Mendel Bros., Water street.

E. F. Craig and R. F. Wilson attended the semi-centennial convention of the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity at Pittsburg the past week.

Up to date, Manager Freeman has been unable to get a reply from Geneva in regard to the annual football games. We are in ignorance as to whether they have shut up shop or are unwilling to meet us this year.

The new library and chapel buildings are slowly nearing completion. The chapel has been completely plastered and the scaffolding is being removed. The floor will next be laid. It is to be hoped that the new organ will be built in time for commencement.

Frazier appears to be sad and silent these days. He says that the springtime of his life is nearly over, a few more weeks and he will retire to a quiet little farm in New York, where he may sit in the cool shade of the orchard and dream over the days in which he was a foot ball hero.

The Y. M. C. A. will attempt to do large things during the next year. Mr. Chase as president is planning to do much work. He has been careful in selecting his cabinet, to select men who are progressive, and who will enter into the work with a spirit which will bring success. Mr. Chase feels that the policy of the Y. M. C. A. in the past five years has not been what a college Y. M. C. A. should be. In the future it will be the aim of the Y. M. C. A. to be more attractive to non-Christian students. Mr. Chase and his cabinet will strive to make the Y. M. C. A. the common interest of the student body. He hopes to make the organization the one thing in common among the various college organizations. It will be the aim of the Y. M. C. A. to develop features which will be of interest to all classes of students. It is to be the aim of the social department to develop that phase of the Y. M. C. A. work in a way which will make the social functions of the Y. M. C. A. something more than the usual unattractive formal reception. It will be the aim of the music department to interest the musical talent of the college and thus make the music of the organization one of its most attractive features. There is plenty of musical talent in college to furnish a very attractive musical program each Saturday evening, and something of this kind will be attempted. Thus in the various departments great effort will be made to interest the best talent in college, to largely increase the membership and make the Y. M. C. A. an active force in every line of college work.

BIENNIAL NATIONAL CONVENTION OF THE GRAND ARCH COUNCIL IN SESSION AT THE HOTEL HENRY LAST WEEK.

Pittsburg had one of the big events of the college fraternity world last week, the Grand Arch council or biennial convention of the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity meeting there April 2, 3 and 4, at the Hotel Henry. The fraternity has many alumni members in this section and a number were present during the sessions of the convention, which were entertained by the Pittsburg Alumni association, of which Judge S. A. McClurg is president and many prominent Pittsburgers members. In addition to 200 delegates from leading colleges of the country from ocean to ocean, a large number of alumni members were expected among them being Senator J. B. Foraker, of Ohio; Jas. Whitcomb Riley, the Hoosier poet; Bob Burdette, ex-Governor Lowndes, of Maryland; Dr. W. H. Crawford, president of Allegheny college; Congressman Arthur L. Bates, and many other congressmen.

The fraternity was founded 50 years ago at old Jefferson college in Canonsburg, Pa., and on the opening day of the convention a special train took delegates and visitors to Canonsburg, where elaborate exercises were held.

Dr. W. H. Crawford, president of Allegheny college, was a member at Northwestern university. Ex-Governor Lloyd Lowndes, of Maryland, is a graduate of Allegheny, and consequently an alumni member of the local chapter.

A number of the active members of the chapter helped entertain the visiting delegates while at Pittsburg, and were absent from college until the end of the week.
