KALDRON

1963 ALLEGHENY COLLEGE

Dr. Lutz—
A promise, more—
a thank you, and I hope,
a reminder of my appreciation for your kindness and understanding of a sometimes quite fluctuant manner.
Carol Ann Fetcko, '64

The 1963 KALDRON is innovation . . . diverse in its creativity . . . modern in its description. Listen as it echoes the moods of the campus; look at the reflection of memories captured within its covers; read its history and share in its traditions . . . for this is the end of a year, but a new beginning.

The 1963 KALDRON is students . . . old and new . . . those who were before and those who are yet to come. It is their ignorance . . . their attempts to discover truth and to sift the important from the irrelevant. The acceptance of what they have learned and the recognition of what remains to be understood . . . wisdom.

The 1963 KALDRON is progress . . . and improvement. The record of a new year for Allegheny College . . . the trimester program . . . shortened terms . . . lengthened classes . . . time to question, experiment, and discover. It acclaims the blending of past, present, and future and captures them forever . . . in the 1963 KALDRON.

in a new three-term year

Mr. Mark Reader, a new instructor in Political Science.

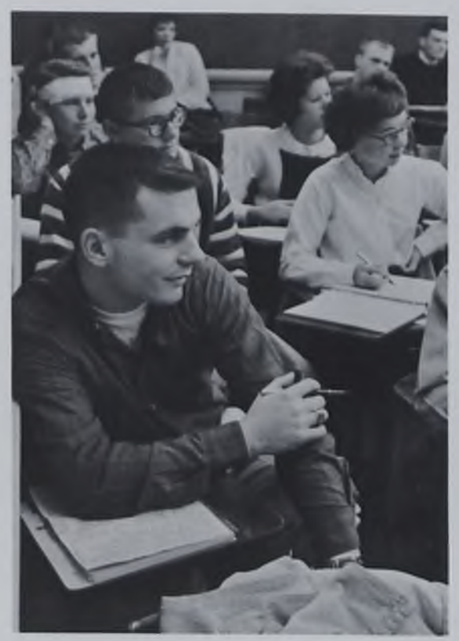
This is Allegheny, and the students encounter and assimilate its many aspects. They participate in classrooms . . . College Union activities . . . dormitory life . . . Chapel programs. They share study hours . . . reading . . . singing . . . talking . . . and dreams. They illustrate the student both as an individual and as part of an organization. The teachers, men and women who devote their endeavors to their behalf, watch them change through their four years at Allegheny, and are in turn, changed by them. The College also has its share of development . . . the beginning of the three term system and the addition of new students and faculty . . . the introduction of college reading for freshmen . . . a stronger emphasis on the Honor system . . . the accomplishments of a growing community. Within all is Allegheny's personality, enriched by its moods . . . moments of pleasure . . . depression . . . tension and anxiety. Joyous moments and times of excitement . . . each level of emotion adds to the life and meaning of the college experience. Yet within the history of Allegheny are traditions rich with age and observance . . . the rustic bridge . . . Moving-up Day . . . honor, progress, and the quest for knowledge. This is the totality of Allegheny . . . reflected and enhanced by its students, teachers, accomplishments, moods, and traditions.

New faces together . . . a freshman class with a unified spirit.

Student and teacher . . . friends . . . in many ways learn from each other.

How does a living body function? Students probe muscles and nerves to find the secret of life.

Attentiveness, interest, alertness, enjoyment—make a student.



Together in a classroom, students and teacher share an experience in concentrated learning.

students and teachers. . .

1963 has been a year of adjustment and innovation. The change to a trimester program demanded unselfish contributions of time and energy, and Allegheny witnessed many examples of such generosity on the part of its administration, faculty and students. It is particularly fitting in this tri-mester year, that the KALDRON dedication should rest equally among three individuals who have willingly devoted their efforts to this program.

Julian L. Ross, Dean of Instruction, has drawn upon his own undergraduate experience at Allegheny and his concern for the student and college community to advise us effectively on any problems or conflicts that have arisen.

Ruth W. Knights, Associate Dean of Students, has worked closely with each girl as advisor and friend, and in herself, embodies the traits each Allegheny woman strives to attain: warmth, sincerity, and graciousness.

John R. O. McKean, Dean of Students, has gained the respect of all by his mixture of firmness with a warm, understanding humor, and his unceasing tact and sincerity.

It is with deep gratitude and appreciation for their unselfish service on our behalf, that we dedicate the 1963 KALDRON to Dean Ross, Dean Knights, and Dean McKean . . . a dedication not to equal theirs, but to enhance it in the years to come.

accomplishments . . .

Much of the pride that the Allegheny student feels for his college is attributable to the many accomplishments achieved in the past few years. A vigorous program of construction and renovation has produced several new buildings: Murray Hall for fine arts and languages; South Hall, Freshman women's residence and an addition to Walker Hall for upperclass women. Of special interest has been the establishment of a radio station, which was authorized in March, 1962, and began FM broadcasting in the Winter of 1963.

Though not as visible as architectural progress, a new three term program was instituted in the 1962 Fall Term, which emphasized concentrated study and individual investigation. Allegheny was also represented on the "College Bowl" by select students. These achievements have placed Allegheny among the most progressive schools in the nation.

A college of many moods . . . life passes through its gates in a continuous stream of ever-changing emotion. Always, there is the noise and excitement of the college grill . . . the stimulation of classes, and the quiet serenity of the chapel . . . the ever present joys and sorrows that make our college community a unified body, ready to help us participate and share in the excitement of learning, experiencing, being. Traditions play an important part in the determination of our moods. We are excited by the welcoming cheer at Homecoming . . . the quietly shared experience of anticipated love as each girl becomes a co-ed on the Rustic bridge . . . solemn, yet proud moment as students "move up" in May . . . fill us with a deeper appreciation of what we have accomplished and what is yet to be achieved. College is not complete unless it offers changing moods, and unchanging traditions in its life . . . for then, there is always somewhere to find the gaiety, joy, stimulation, or peace which the student seeks.

but always-- people . . .

A community is only as strong as its members and the bonds of loyalty and cooperation that hold it together. At Allegheny, these elements incorporate students . . . teachers . . . and administration . . . individuals, and groups. They begin with people . . . in the quiet, intense concentration of the classroom . . . the hubbub of the CU . . . the peace of the chapel . . . the library, where only the sound of turning pages and scribbling pencils belies the absence of human presence.

The faces are constantly changing . . . hurrying to class . . . a meeting . . . an urgent appointment. Yet often, amid the rush and activity, the deadlines, the hundreds of pages to be read, and the intense absorption with personal matters . . . we forget the basic element of our society. Not the student . . . professor . . . or administrative member. It is the person . . . unnamed . . . undemanding of recognition . . . asking only that we stop and recall that he and others like him . . . like us . . . are the stuff of life . . . and the basis of Allegheny.

ORIENTATION WEEK

First sign of individuality—the freshman name tags.

The dink—which subordinates.

New people arrived on campus as the Orientation Week brought new faces to the campus . . . faces of a new class with new ideas. Before them was a hard year of adjustment not only to a different environment, but to a changing one as well. With spirits undampened, the Class of '66 united and brought their own reforms to the Allegheny Campus. The thirteenth plank of the rustic bridge was removed in an attempt to stamp out the "co-ed" tradition so injurious to the pride of freshmen men. A class picnic, financed by the freshmen, was held at Robertson Field.

However, established traditions were not neglected in the enthusiasm of innovation . . . the burning of name signs in front of South Hall, the parade of freshmen in "dinks" to the Homecoming game, the line forming on the field to greet the team, the spirited campaign for class officers, and finally, for the men, incorporation into the society of the Greeks. These are the memorable events which, though associated with the earliest part of one's college career, are perhaps the most cherished.

Upperclassmen returned

Along with the freshman invasion of the Allegheny campus comes that of the experienced upperclassmen. No longer harried and unfamiliar with the first few unorganized days of registration, the upperclassmen take the whole procedure in stride. They register and begin their classes with renewed confidence, resuming their places as the time-worn students. In addition to the new three term program, upperclass women participated in rush activities which culminated in the pledging of sororities. The revival of old acquaintances and the comparison of summer jobs and experiences, got life at Allegheny off to another year of excitement and study.

Tension is released at the end of Rush Week. In bubbling excitement, the new Greeks are presented to the campus.

After the harsh fright of the fire bell, sleepy mumblings and grumblings, the first monthly fire drill is in progress.

Allegheny Foreign Student Program

The Allegheny Foreign Student Program is a valuable asset to the college community. It allows the individual to broaden his perspectives and to gain a greater knowledge of his fellow men and human nature. It also exposes the searching mind to different cultures, and the varied points of view so vital to an atmosphere of learning.

This year, Allegheny has nine foreign students representing seven different countries. Ivy Mok, and Herschel Li, Hong Kong; Eike Gebhart and Wilfried Westphal, West Germany; Elisabeth Tostrup, Norway; Irene Chavalier, France; Kessie Dachi, Tanganyika; Demetrius Coucouvanis, Greece; and Samih Khuffash, Jordan. As part of their introduction to America, the foreign students attended concerts in Pittsburgh, and a play at Karamu in Cleveland. Panel discussions and informal gatherings, however, have been our introduction to the various countries they represent, resulting in a wider appreciation of the world we live in and share together.

International Understanding

An informal gathering . . . to understand and know each other . . . as the Allegheny students have learned throughout the year to know them, to understand them, and to become their friends.

Lecture Series

To acquaint students, faculty, and Meadville residents with a variety of subjects, the Lecture Series at Allegheny scheduled a full and interesting program this year. The series commenced with the Chester A. Darling lecture "Heredity and Behavior in Animals and Man," by John L. Fuller. Other scientific lectures featured Dr. Seymour J. Rosenberg, Professor of Clinical Psychiatry at Georgetown University, and Vivian Johnson, Professor of Physics at Purdue University. In addition to scientific subjects the Lecture Series provided a number of speakers on various topics. Gustav Weigel, S.J., presented an analysis of "The Ecumenical Dialogue." The area of politics featured former Assistant Secretary of State Andrew Berding on "Foreign Policy and the Public." The "World Rule of Law" by Arthur Larson was another thought-provoking discussion, and lectures given by Mr. Duane Wilder and the renowned Dr. Martin Luther King completed the year.

Dr. Henri Peyre, Sterling Professor of French at Yale, spoke on Pascal as a "universal man" as part of the Pascal tercentenary.

H. D. F. Kitto lectured on the obstacles to our understanding of the meaning of divine justice in Greek tragedy at the Phi Beta Kappa Lecture.

Dr. Masatoshi Matsushita, president of Tokyo's Rikkyo University urged all citizens of the free world to adapt themselves to the existence of the cold war as the normal world situation.

John B. McDonnell, William D. Madel, Doug Bauer, and Steve Hoyt, Oxford University—Allegheny College debaters.

John B. W. McDonnell, Oxford University law student, took the negative side of "Resolved: That the U. S. should not tolerate the continued existence of the Castro regime in Cuba."

Gustave Weigel, S.J. internationally renowned theologian, prolific author, and esteemed scholar presented an "ecumenical dialogue."

Dr. Seymour J. Rosenberg, professor of psychology at Georgetown University, explained "Why We Behave Like Human Beings—a Psychoanalyst's Point of View."

Artist's Series

The Artist's Series presents a number of musical programs every year featuring a variety of performers. This fall, Allegheny was privileged to enjoy a concert by the New York String Sextet. Frans Reynders, the world-famous mime, presented a change of pace by portraying mimicry, the art of acting without words. A Chamber Music Concert completed the term.

Leslie Parnas opened the winter season with a brilliant cello concert. The Tuttle, Glazer, and Nowak Trio followed, featuring viola, clarinet, and piano artistry, and the term concluded with another Chamber Music Concert.

Spring brought David Mulfinger, a gifted pianist, with a recital of famous works. Ernst Halfliger, a tenor, gave the only vocal concert of the year. A sprightly conclusion was offered by Robert Reisner with a Modern Jazz presentation.

The Artist's Series is a valuable cultural contribution to the activities at Allegheny, and provides students with an excellent means of broadening and enriching their musical appreciation.

The evil Domingo portrayed by Fred Koesling arrives in town in the Leslie Stevens' production, "Bullfight."

Playshop produces . . .

The versatility and ingenuity of the Drama Department, which performs as the Allegheny Playshop, again produced a season marked by many successful presentations. The number of shows produced this year was reduced to two per term because of the adoption of the three-term program. "Marriage-Go-Round," a comedy by Leslie Stevens, began the fall season. This highly enjoyable production starred Joan Thergeson and Charles Hampton. The second play, "Bullfight," also by Mr. Stevens, was a stirring and unusual spectacle set in Spain. In this colorful production, Fred Koesling and Arthur Skoy shared leading roles with Joan Thergeson, Marlene Brown, and Elton Bagley.

Another change in mood opened the winter season, with the production of "The Inspector General," a farce by Nikolaii Gogol. Chris Byers starred as the fraudulent inspector with an excellent supporting cast. The next play, "The Visit," by Frederik Durremat was the gripping story of a town driven to commit murder by its supposed benefactress, played by Joann Martin. Her former lover, the actual precipitator of the wrongdoing was played by Elton Bagley.

The variety of the shows produced and the fine acting and directing afforded Allegheny audiences several evenings of excellent entertainment.

Alden Scholars

Particularly applicable to the potential of the new three-term system were the words of Robert Frost recited by Dr. Herbert Ross Brown, Professor of English at Bowdoin College and speaker at Honors Day Convocation on November 7, 1962: "The woods are lovely, dark and deep, but you have promises to keep, and miles to go before you sleep." One hundred twenty-three Alden Scholars were honored, twenty of whom were presented with the book, Science Since Babylon, by de Solla Price. Also recognized at the Convocation were those seniors with A averages for three years, Powell Arms, Roberta Mills, William Parker, Ann Petry and Carol Travis, who were elected to Phi Beta Kappa. The Scholars were also honored at a banquet that evening.

Alums returned this fall to find the familiar structure of Brooks changed. The dedication of the new annex was one of the earliest events on the Homecoming Program.

Mr. Andrew Wells Robertson, '06, added a personal touch to the dedication which permanently established his name at Allegheny as the title of the athletic field.

Bill Dolde, secretary of Block A, presided over the official coronation.

Homecoming

1,500 alumni returned to Allegheny on Friday, October 13, for the annual Homecoming celebration. Activities started Friday night with a pep rally and barn party, and the presentation of the play Marriage-Go-Round. Saturday, following a mid-morning Faculty-Student-Alumni coffee hour, the Alumni luncheon was served in South Hall. Afternoon activities included the dedication of three college facilities: Winslow Health Center, Walker Hall Annex, and Andrew Wells Robertson Athletic Field. 3,000 cheering fans witnessed the Gators' defeat of Case Tech. During half-time entertainment, Penny Rose was crowned Homecoming Queen, and Alpha Chi Rho won the fraternity display contest with the theme, "Homecoming 2,000 A.D." Following the gridiron victory, alumni, students, and faculty converged on the College Union lawn for cider and doughnuts. The weekend activities concluded with a semi-formal All College Dance.

"The Lettermen" entertained Allegheny students at a concert presented on Thanksgiving Eve.

Holidays become one

Christmas and Thanksgiving vacations have been blended into one long restful holiday under the three-term program. Thanksgiving was celebrated with a chapel service, a banquet, a concert, a play and dances while the pre-Christmas Concert given by the Chapel Choir and Singers, helped to capture the festive spirit.

The snowy scenes and beauties of the winter season are echoed on Allegheny's campus. Winter at Allegheny . . . the first snowfall transforming the country into a white wonderland . . . red cheeks and redder noses . . . a fire burning brightly on the CU hearth . . . the bridge still, dark, and magical. This is winter at Allegheny . . . beautiful . . . unforgettable . . . and synonymous with the joy and beauty of the holiday season.

The smell of pine and the flicker of candles created the atmosphere for Robert Lynn, organist; the Chapel Choir, and the Allegheny Singers as they presented their Christmas Concert.

A.F.R.O.T.C. Court

As a highlight of the Air Force Ball, cadets of the R.O.T.C. program at Allegheny select a list of semi-finalists from which five girls are chosen as finalists and members of the court on beauty, charm and poise. This year, nineteen semi-finalists were selected, and the following girls were elected to the court: Dee Johnson, Kenna Quine, Susan Rice, Joan Thergesen, and Rebecca Way.

On November 24, 1962, the entire court participated in the grand march beneath an archway of swords. In alphabetical order, the girls proceeded to the front of the hall, and formed a semi-circle, awaiting the announcement of the queen. By vote of the R.O.T.C. cadets, Rebecca Way, Class of 1966, was crowned queen of the 1962 Air Force Ball. The Queen and her Court provided a beautiful finish to a most impressive evening.

A.F.R.O.T.C. Military Ball

Under a sky of glittering stars, the Air Force Ball proved once again to be an exciting event on the Allegheny social calendar. In formal attire, students, faculty, and guests danced to the music of Johnny Martin and his band. Helping to make the ball its usual success, members of the Angel Flight and Arnold Air Society worked vigorously to promote this year's theme of "Stairway to the Stars."

As the highlight of the dance, the members of the royal court were introduced and Rebecca Way was crowned queen of the 1962 Air Force R.O.T.C. Ball. Following the ceremony, the newly crowned queen, escorted by the squadron commander, Tom Lasco, led the dance which included the members of the court and the seniors present. The ball came to an end at 12:30 p.m. as one of the most memorable events of the year.

Snow Ball & Variety Show

The Snow Ball and the Variety Show were the outstanding social events of the winter. The Snow Ball, sponsored by the A.S.G. Activities Committee featured the progressive jazz band of Walt Harper and a snowflake and icicle theme which transformed Brooks Hall into a winter wonderland. The newly innovated Snow Ball proved to be such a success that it is likely to become an annual event.

This year's Variety Show featured the theme, "A Satire on Allegheny," which was developed through the use of an Orientation Week tour. Jim Meadowcroft as upperclassman Percy Pengloss, revealed all aspects of college life to impressionable Flora Freshman, portrayed by Mary Sue Mason. The folk singer, school spirit, Young Republicans, and A.W.S. were among the many victims of the satirical committee of writers composed of Jim Meadowcroft, Mary Sue Mason, Mike Markely, Nancy Jamison, and Fred Bauschard. Ron Tranquilla and Russ Freeland were in charge of scenery and lighting and Miss Shirley Townsend and Mr. Robert Cares served as faculty advisors.

May Court 1963

The May Court for the 1963 May Day celebration was selected from girls nominated by members of the four respective classes. Students voted from a list of finalists to elect the girls who would represent their class in beauty and charm.

Eileen Heller reigned as May Queen and Jean Boice served as Maid of Honor. Senior attendants to the Queen were Marianne Buus, Gaye Cushner, Sandra Heeter, and Gerry Romig. Joan Thergesen was elected Junior Charm Queen, and Eleonora Botti and Nancy Neuendorffer were the Sophomore and Freshman Charm Queens.

During May Weekend the Court made formal appearances at the Banquet, the May Dance, and the Phi Delta Theta Lawn Party. The highlight of the May Day Weekend, however, was the coronation. Wearing pastel gowns, each girl paraded across the rustic bridge, under flower-laden trellises, and down Bentley lawn, where they gathered for the Coronation ceremonies.

May Day 1962

The 1962 May Day Weekend was centered around the theme, "The Deep and the Beautiful," and the weekend festivities began Friday afternoon with a fashion show "Mermaids on Parade," featuring members of the May Court. A lecture by Senator Clark, the play, Becket, and a CU Open House, "Splendor in the Seaweed" were Friday evening attractions.

Saturday, the Cwens decorated Bentley lawn with trellises and flowers, and the Queen and her Court assembled for the coronation, following their procession across the Rustic Bridge. Other activities included "King Neptune's Feast," the May Day Banquet, and a dance incorporating the theme "Deep Purple." The weekend concluded with the annual Phi Delta Theta May Day Tea, and the Singers' Concert, "Voices of the Deep."

Commencement 1962

As Dr. Ketcham pronounced a final benediction for the class of 1962, the recessional was sounded and the four years' beginning had come to an end.

End of the beginning

Commencement Weekend 1962, the end of the beginning for the Senior Class of Allegheny College, began on Saturday, June 1, with the Senior Class Banquet held at Conneaut Lake. That evening Seniors, parents, and alumni attended the President's Dinner and then celebrated at the Graduation, Dance. Sunday included the traditional Baccalaureate sermon, delivered by Rev. Charles B. Ketcham, and choral and instrumental programs presented by the Allegheny Singers and Sinfonietta.

Rear Admiral John F. Davidson, Superintendent of the United States Naval Academy, spoke at the Commencement Exercises held on the rhododendron-bordered lawn of Bentley Hall . . . the end of an Allegheny career . . . the beginning of a future.

"Join and Serve" advocated Sarah Smith as she presented her valedictory address at Class Day, May 16, 1962.

Honorary degrees were conferred upon a select assembly of scholars by President Pelletier. Three so distinguished were Summer E. Nichols, D.B.A., '12 and Rear Admirals John F. Davidson and Robert B. Brown, '29.

The outward smile of thanks stems from an inner glow of final achievement.

ORGANIZATIONS

ALLEGHENY STUDENT GOVERNMENT

Allegheny Student Government has had a momentous year. They were granted their largest budget to date, sent a team to the College Bowl, began broadcasting on the radio station, and lengthened library hours. Quigley was opened for study and the Faculty Advisor Program investigated. Additional cultural events, such as concerts, were presented. The Constitution was revised, giving ASG a workable set of laws. Designated to be in charge of any and all student activities, ASG presented an excellent variety show to benefit the Fund Drive. Serving as a liaison between the students and the faculty, ASG also investigated the three term calendar and college housing.

Each year a student is chosen to participate in the ambassador program of the Experiment in International Living. Jim Meadowcroft visited India last summer as Allegheny's representative.

MISSING: Charlene Snow, Connie Dittmer, Nancy Neuendorffer, Pat Leszek.

Associated Women Students is responsible for the initiation, interpretation, and enforcement of the rules which govern and regulate the activities of the women at Allegheny. AWS is divided into two main governing bodies. The Senate is the legislative branch and is under the direction of the Executive President, who conducts weekly meetings and presides over the Executive Board. Senate is composed of elected members from the women's dormitories, who bring suggestions to the attention of the Senate, and also report AWS business to their dorm sections. Senior Court is the judicial body, and is under the direction of the Judicial President. The Court is composed of five elected Senior women, who handle all violations of AWS policies. Through this representative form of government, AWS successfully sets the hours of permission, manner of dress, quiet hours, and dorm behavior for the benefit of the entire student body.

Other AWS activities include sponsoring a series of student and faculty lectures on various topics of interest, and the supervision of special holiday banquets for all women students.

The class officers at Allegheny are responsible for the planning and coordination of all class activities, and form the nucleus of their respective executive councils which conduct official business and send representatives to the Allegheny Student Government.

Each class sponsors a dance, banquet and various fund-raising programs. In addition, it is the responsibility of the Sophomore class officers to prepare the Orientation Week activities and the annual class book for the incoming Freshmen.

As a final project, all class officers hold membership in the Class Council. This group meets monthly to discuss common problems and hear various speakers explain college plans and policies. This year, the Council was privileged to hear Dean Ross, Mr. Ruhlman, Dr. Ketcham, and Mr. Zack.

COLLEGE UNION

The College Union, directed by the C. U. Board, is composed of officers and representatives from each fraternity, sorority, and independent group. The College Union provides facilities for ping-pong, pool, bicycle-riding, music listening, studying, relaxing, and organization meetings. Recent renovations have greatly improved the building, adding facilities for an enlarged bookstore and grill. A highly successful smorgasbord was a new feature this year, and through the efforts of the C. U. Board, the College Union is playing a valuable role in Allegheny's campus activities.

The Grill provides many moments of relaxation and good food to the students on campus.

Mr. Robert Cares, Director of the College Union, carefully advises the C.U. Board and directs all activities of the CU.

Bill Burkhart, Stan Czech, and Russ Freeland direct the student activities of the C.U. and coordinate them with events on campus.

The C.U. provides recreational facilities such as pool, ping-pong, and music for the Allegheny student.

Aiding the freshmen men and women in diversified duties are the Cwens, Junior Advisors, and Student Counselors. Cwens are selected for the following year from those freshmen girls with averages above 80. Those qualifying are voted upon by the girls in their own class, then by the faculty and administration, and finally by the Cwens and J.A.'s. Besides providing friendly letters, serenades, and holiday remembrances for the freshmen girls, the Cwens serve the school in various social activities.

Junior Advisors are chosen in a similar manner, a pre-requisite being a 78 average. They aid the freshmen girls, mainly in academic matters. Both Cwens and J.A.'s correspond with the freshmen girls during the summer preceding their entrance to college.

Student Counselors, selected to live in the dorms as advisors, apply for their positions. Both juniors and seniors are eligible. All applicants are interviewed by the Deans of Students, Resident Advisors, and the present counselors.

The duties of all these people are both many and invaluable. The freshmen attain more than material benefits from them; they gain trusted friends.

COUNSELORS—ROW 1: John Crill, Bob Cincala, John Bugbee, Jim Meadowcroft, Dick Fowler, Doug Baur, Stoner Tracy, George Commons, Herb Howe, Sandy Levy.

ALLEGHENY SINGERS

The Allegheny College Singers, under the direction of Morten J. Luvaas, a noted arranger and composer of music, have achieved a national reputation as one of the finest "a cappella" mixed choirs. This recognition has been earned through hard work, practice, and the fact that each student endeavors to attain perfection in the performances given by this outstanding group.

At the beginning of each fall term, Dr. Luvaas conducts a series of auditions for interested and talented students. All men are eligible to try out. However, only upperclass women may audition. From this group are chosen those students who show the most ability in accurate pitch, tonal memory, sight reading, and rapid memorization. Then practice beings, and the Singers hold rehearsals four hours a week plus extra practices as concert time draws near.

The first performance of Singers occurs at Christmas when, in conjunction with the Chapel Choir, they share the Christmas Concert presentation. Early in the spring, Singers tour various cities in the area, and a spring concert is presented on campus later in the season. Commencement is the last official appearance of the Singers during the school term. Then comes a well-earned summer vacation for the hard-working members of the Allegheny Singers.

CHAPEL CHOIR

The Allegheny Chapel Choir, under the direction of W. S. Wright North, consists of interested girls, selected through try-outs each fall. The choir sings each Sunday in Chapel, as well as participates in the Christmas Concert and presents another concert in the spring. The girls also perform at Bethesda Children's Home and The Methodist Old People's Home. This year, the choir performed in Harrisburg for the Pennsylvania Music Educators Association, and will take a Spring Tour to New York City and the Eastern states.

SINFONIETTA

The Allegheny Sinfonietta, under the direction of Dr. Herbert Neurath, annually contributes a fine display of varied instrumental talent to the campus activities and atmosphere. The Sinfonietta is composed of students from Allegheny College and Meadville High School, and interested members from the community who wish to continue their instrumental participation in the atmosphere of an active orchestra. Aside from giving students the opportunity to further their appreciation and knowledge of music. Sinfonietta offers an enjoyable outlet for musical talents, and a chance to join with similarly interested individuals in a cooperative effort to present a series of fine orchestral offerings during the year.

Sinfonietta, although not a large organization, is a productive one and ably provides enjoyment for the entire campus. The annual Christmas and Spring concerts are always a pleasure to hear and are a credit to the hard work, diligence, and talented efforts of its members and director.

THOBURN CLUB

Under president Bob Goellner, the Thoburn Club, open to pre-theological students, has been a very active organization this year. Through meetings, the members are able to discuss problems and questions relating to their Christian vocations. The group has luncheons featuring well-known speakers, and holds monthly meetings in the home of their advisor, Dr. Devor. At these meetings, members of related fields speak to the Thoburn Club, discussing different aspects of the ministry. This year's speakers have included an industrial chaplain and a minister from an inter-city parish. The Thoburn Club has also heard speakers on religious education, the Youngstown inter-racial group, the ecumenical movement, and the Council of Russia.

NEWMAN CLUB

The Newman Club, under president Fred Cantwell, is an organization for Roman Catholic students. Meetings are held every other week featuring discussions and educational speakers who present subjects of interest to the Catholic college student. The year's activities included participation in the Cerebral Palsy Drive. Father William A. Cici, of St. Brigit's Church, served as Chaplain for the club.

YOUNG REPUBLICANS

Allegheny's Young Republican Club, formally organized this year, offers a means of political expression and participation to students through campaign and election day activities and a continuing program of discussions, films, speakers, and research projects.

The largest College Young Republican group in affiliation with the state organization, Allegheny's club is also among the most active.

On the Executive Board are: Willie Cutler, president; Sandy Spence, vice president; Connie McCleery, secretary; Ed Thornblade, treasurer; Diane Shafer, publicity; Bill Spring, program; and Art Rubinoff, membership.

RELIGIOUS ACTIVITIES COMMITTEE

The Religious Activities Committee's main goal this past year was to "promote religious awareness" on the Allegheny campus. Under the advisorship of seven faculty members, the committee met and discussed pertinent religious issues.

One of the highlights of the group's functions was its participation in the Seventh Annual Student Assembly of the YMCA-YWCA which was held at the University of Illinois. Marilyn Moore, Jean Adamson, and Carolyn Moury were selected to represent a cross-section of the group at the conference.

SOCRATES CLUB

An innovation on the Allegheny campus during this past year was the institution of the Socrates Club. Under the advisorship of Dr. Henry Pommer and Mr. Neal Ferris, the Socrates Club discussed topics pertinent to its goals of "inspired thought" and "philosophical thinking."

The student-controlled discussions delved into the realms of religion, philosophy, and literature. Included among the subjects of their informal meetings were the poetry of Ferlenghetti, Dylan Thomas and his works, "Scientology," and "Liberal Religions."

KALDRON

The KALDRON first appeared in 1889, as a publication sponsored by the Junior Class. According to the history, "heretofore, annuals at Allegheny have proven to be anything but successful." These Juniors regarded their undertaking as a challenge and chose the name KALDRON, because they felt the yearbook should be a melting pot of college life.

Over the years, many of the elements found in the 1889 KALDRON have disappeared, such as the Sunday Afternoon Promenading Club, the Flirtation Club, and the Gossip Club. The listing of the Board of Trustees and the roll of professors, however, remain as reminders of the first Allegheny annual.

The KALDRON has altered its appearance radically in its 75 years, yet its basic purpose still remains: to capture the memories and spirit of Allegheny for those who have left, and those yet to come.

LITERARY MAGAZINE

The Literary Magazine is one of the most interesting publications on Allegheny's Campus. Edited by Rich Pevear and Josh Israelson, its staff is composed of students interested in creative writing and improving their style and ability. Members also contribute art work and illustrations to the finished product.

The staff meets informally to discuss and criticize their stories and poems, and the most promising works are retained for consideration and possible publication. The Literary Magazine, when distributed in January and May, contains the best of all submitted talent and is a credit to the efforts of its creators.

WARC

1963 has been a year of major accomplishments for Allegheny College. Among the most ambitious has been the initiation of a campus radio station. This year, we joined the ranks of the nation's foremost educational institutions by initiating, completing, and subsequently broadcasting from the Allegheny Radio Station, WARC. The plans for the station were begun two and one half years ago, and were realized on February 3, 1963, when WARC presented its first program. This broadcast was carried throughout the Meadville area within a radius of eight miles of Cochran Hall, the broadcasting center. Since then, WARC has transmitted forty-two hours of programming a week, Monday through Friday from 7 p.m. to 1 a.m., and Saturday and Sunday from 2 p.m. to 8 p.m.

WARC is affiliated with the American Broadcasting Company's News Department and broadcasts national news and special events covered by the network. The radio station is also a member of the Metropolitan Opera Network, a distinction awarded to only nine other colleges in the nation. WARC was also additionally honored by the National Student Association as National Program and Exchange Center. The station has global exchange rights and receives programs from all areas of the world, including London, Moscow, and Paris. This ambitious undertaking has required the efforts of over one hundred volunteers, organized into nineteen departments. Faculty assistance has also been rendered by Mr. Cares, Dr. State, Dr. R. Hutcheson, Mr. Hampton, Miss Chleboski, Mrs. Freeman, and Mr. Walton, who have served as advisors to the various committees.

COMMUNICATIONS BOARD

All campuses need some group to coordinate the instruments through which the students and faculty may express their opinions and creative talents. The Communications Board serves such a purpose on Allegheny's campus. This board is composed of a chairman, editors and business managers of the Campus, Kaldron, and Literary Magazine, the Director of the Radio Station, and six additional members selected by the Board and approved by A.S.G. In addition to its usual responsibilities of coordinating the policies and goals of the aforementioned organizations, helping them to communicate efficiently and effectively throughout the college community, formulating the budgets of each organization, selecting the editors of the publications and the director of the Radio Station, and acting as a liaison between the student body and the publications, the Communications Board has undertaken other major duties this year.

Important among these were working with the A.S.G. Constitutional Revision Committee to establish the rights of the Board under the new Constitution, planning a training workshop for Campus staff members, and writing by-laws for the operating procedure of the Publications Board itself.

PANHELLENIC COUNCIL

Panhellenic Council is a nationwide organization dedicated to the promotion of understanding, friendship, and cooperation among sorority women. The Council at Allegheny consists of elected representatives from each sorority. Their main duties lie in the areas of coordinating sorority efforts in civic activities such as the annual Can Drive, and in the organization and supervision of all sorority rush functions.

INTER-FRATERNITY COUNCIL

The Inter-fraternity Council is composed of the presidents and elected representatives from each fraternity. It is responsible for the supervision of all fraternity activities. Nationwide in scope, the IFC directs and coordinates the efforts of the various fraternities while encouraging friendship and understanding among them. This year IFC instituted a highly successful rush program designed to coincide with the new three term program.

KAPPA DELTA EPSILON

Kappa Delta Epsilon is a national education honorary recognizing through membership outstanding students preparing to enter the teaching profession. Speakers from the education field highlight many of their meetings. KDE also sponsors films open to the student body. This year they attended the national convention in Washington, D.C. The organization offers a $125 scholarship to an outstanding education major each year.

PI DELTA EPSILON

Pi Delta Epsilon is a national honorary journalism fraternity composed of junior and senior men and women. Students who have done outstanding work on one of Allegheny's publications, and have served one year in a major position or two years in a minor position on a publication staff are eligible for membership.

PI GAMMA MU

Among the national honorary societies present on the Allegheny Campus is Pi Gamma Mu, an honorary social science organization. Requirements for membership in Pi Gamma Mu include high scholastic attainment, outstanding character traits, and extra-curricular participation.

Pi Gamma Mu sponsors a series of interesting and educational lectures each year, featuring well-known personalities. These programs include slide lectures and discussion panels on various topics.

ARNOLD AIR SOCIETY

The Arnold Air Society is an honorary organization within Allegheny's R.O.T.C. program. Composed of the advanced cadets, the organization's principle purpose is to give its members a broader view of military life. This is accomplished through discussions with leading Air Force officers, presenting movies and lectures concerning the nation's defense, and by flights to various bases around the nation over the week-ends and on holidays. Along with the Angel Flight, the Arnold Air Society co-sponsors the annual Military Ball.

ANGEL FLIGHT

An auxiliary to the Arnold Air Society is the Angel Flight. This organization is composed of upperclass women interested in learning more about military life, and promoting further interest in the Air Force. Outfitted in blue, the Angels attend the weekly R.O.T.C. drills. Their duties consist of acting as hostesses for all R.O.T.C. functions, conducting tours for pre-freshmen, and being co-sponsors of the Military Ball.

Pledges to the Angel Flight are selected in the late spring and early fall, the requirements for admission being a desire for membership, and high academic and personal standards.

PHILO-FRANKLIN

The Philo-Franklin Debating Society provides a stimulating outlet for those students seeking formal expression of their ideas and opinions through debating. The organization, headed by Doug Baur, participates in formal debates with neighboring colleges, providing an interesting addition to campus activities.

The membership in Philo-Franklin consists of approximately twelve active participants, several of whom will become members of Delta Sigma Rho, the National Honorary Forensic Fraternity, this year. In the fall, the society sponsored a debate with the Debaters from Oxford University. The program was a unique and interesting one and an example of the fine quality of debating sought by the group.

CHEMII

An organization of upperclass students, Chemii attempts to promote interest in the study of chemistry and develop incentive to pursue additional original work in the field. Advised by Dr. Herbert Rhinesmith, the organization holds monthly meetings at which the group discusses topics of current interest, entertains guest speakers, or views slides and movies.

The members invite interested chemistry I students doing honor work to attend meetings and participate in discussions. At one session, the members of Chemii presented a program where individuals who had done summer chemical work informed the group of their experiences. Through these efforts, Chemii affords an excellent opportunity to integrate the academic and social aspects of campus life.

BETHESDA TEACHERS

Each Sunday morning of the Academic year students from the college go out to Bethesda Home for Children to teach Sunday School. The classes range from kindergarten through high school seniors. The teachers are not specifically either education, sociology, or religion majors but they try to share experiences with the children, providing them not only with religious training but friendship as well. The teachers have been working under the capable leadership of Ardith Sommerfeld for four years. Teaching at Bethesda does not require a great deal of time but the personal reward of the children's appreciation is warmly satisfying.

LE CÈRCLE FRANÇAIS

Le Cèrcle Français, composed of all students interested in the language and culture of France, offers its members opportunities to speak informally with one another in group discussions and to further their language proficiency. Under the supervision of Miss Blair Hanson, the club meets the first Tuesday of each month. During these meetings, the activities of the club are planned, which include the weekly lunch tables at South Dining Hall, various guest speakers, and the annual French banquet held in the spring. Le Cèrcle Français also participates in the International Christmas Carol Sing sponsored by the Language Department.

OUTING CLUB

The Outing Club, open to all students of the college, has become increasingly popular on Allegheny's campus during the past year. Numerous outings to Bousson, as well as an exciting spelunking excursion to Bear Cave occupied the weekends of the many Allegheny students who enjoy activity and the out-of-door life. During the winter months fun-filled ski and skating trips occurred almost every weekend, as well as a special three day trip to Ellicotville, N. Y. The Outing Club program offers all interested college students opportunities of relaxation and enjoyment throughout the campus year.

ORCHESIS

Orchesis is a modern dance organization, open to all Allegheny students interested in learning the fundamentals of modern dance or continuing advanced work in the field. Under the supervision of Miss Joye Thompson, club members are given opportunities to develop self-expression and coordination, both individually and in groups. During the year, the members take field trips to various colleges to observe special modern dance performances. After many long and strenuous hours of preparation, Orchesis presented its annual spring show for the entire student body, which included a series of dances on subjects ranging from industrialism to a hillbilly hoedown!

SOCIAL GROUPS

Alpha Chi Omega

Alpha Chi Omega was founded at Depauw University on October 15, 1885. In 1891, Delta Chapter was established at Allegheny College.

The Alpha Chis began the year with an overnight pledge trip to Conneaut Lake. Following this came participation in the annual charity Can Drive and the Pledge Dance at the SAE house. A Faculty speech and discussion, and the traditional Grill Party enlivened the winter term. The Alpha Chis sponsored a Korean orphan for their altruistic project and gave an annual party for the children of Bethesda. The Spring Formal was a fitting conclusion to a busy and productive Alpha Chi year.

Alpha Gamma Delta

In 1904, Alpha Gamma Delta was founded at Syracuse University, and in 1912 Kappa Chapter joined the Greek organizations on Allegheny's Campus.

The Alpha Gams' altruistic program consisted of serving Sunday supper at Cribbs Home for the Aged, and selling Sunday breakfasts in Brooks with profits going to the cerebral palsied and physically handicapped.

Fall activities consisted of a Swedish Smorgasbord to welcome the new pledges, a pledge overnight, the pledge dance at the SAE House, and Parents' Weekend. Winter brought Jim Meadowcroft to the AGD rooms to discuss India, and a "Not-So-Square Dance" was held with the Delts at the C.U. The year ended with the traditional spring dinner-dance and senior banquet.

Alpha Xi Delta

Alpha Xi Delta was nationally founded on April 17, 1893, at Lombard College in Galesburg, Illinois. Gamma Rho Chapter was established on Allegheny's campus in 1926. This year, the Alpha Xi's began their activities with a pledge project involving volunteer work at City Hospital. The Pledge Dance, a "Peppermint Twist," co-sponsored with Kappa Kappa Gamma and Phi Kappa Psi, and a special picnic for the Faculty completed the fall calendar. Winter brought an Alpha Xi-Chi Rho "Watusi New Year" dance at the C.U., and the annual winter party featuring a "Square Dance" theme. In the spring, Alpha Xi held a Parent's Weekend and a Treasure Hunt for Faculty children. The Alpha Xi's participate in altruistic projects, such as sponsoring a Chinese orphan under the Foster Parents' Plan and contributing their services to North Warren Hospital.

Kappa Alpha Theta

Kappa Alpha Theta was founded at DePauw University in 1870. Allegheny's Mu Chapter initiated this year's new pledges into sorority activities with a pledge weekend at Van Buren Point, N. Y. Fathers' Weekend, a pledge party for the actives, and a pledge formal at the Phi Delt House were other Fall events.

Winter found the Thetas holding a "Shipwreck Party" at the Phi Psi House. Their cultural program featured Dr. Ketcham and a big-little sister study program stressing academic achievement. In the Spring, Mothers' Weekend, a party for the orphans at the Odd Fellows Home, and a party in Erie were held. During the year, Mu Chapter supported a Korean orphan under the Foster Children Plan, and the pledges undertook the project of redecorating the rooms.

Kappa Kappa Gamma

The seventy-fifth year of Gamma Rho Chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma commenced with the Pledge Weekend at Conneaut, Ohio. After the annual pledge formal at the Phi Delt House, the new pledges worked on the American Red Cross Bloodmobile and at local Red Cross headquarters.

Fathers' Weekend at the Chi Rho House was followed by a Thanksgiving Day football game in which the Kappas emerged victorious over the Phi Gams. Talks given by Dr. Devor and Jim Meadowcroft were enjoyed by the Kappas, as well as the informal party at the Phi Psi House, New Year's Party, Mothers' Weekend, Spring Party, and Senior Picnic. For an altruistic project, the chapter gave a party for the orphans of the Children's Aid Society.

Alpha Chi Rho

The members of Alpha Chi Rho began the social season by holding barbecues for the freshman women. Later in the fall, the Chi Rhos held a faculty tea and a dance for the visiting Cwens. With the theme "Allegheny Goes Wet and Downs Another Case," the fraternity took first place in the homecoming display contest. A hayride and dance at Bousson, followed by the annual fall pirate party, ended the year.

After taking twenty-one pledges in January the fraternity held its pledge formal, "Crow Bar Party," its spring formal, and concluded with Parents' Weekend. The members also co-sponsored a dance called "Watusi New Year" with Alpha Xi Delta sorority.

Beginning the social year of Delta Tau Delta was the tea for freshman women. The annual fall party featured the theme of "Monster Mash" featuring a "fun-house" entrance and a number of blood-chilling sights. Several rush week-ends, including bonfires and dances, resulted in the pledging of twenty-two new members. During February, 1963, the Delts celebrated the centennial of their fraternity on campus in conjunction with the pledge formal. Parents' week-end was sponsored in the spring, adding to the social splendor of the year. In addition to winter and spring formal dances, and a spring party, the Delts also participated in various sporting events in competition with other fraternities.

Phi Gamma Delta

Pi Chapter of Phi Gamma Delta was founded at Allegheny on June 5, 1860 and has been an active participant in campus social activities and community events. This year the Phi Gams began their calendar with the Poverty Ball, a football Thanksgiving game with the Kappas, a Winter dance at the David Mead, a pledge dance and a Spring formal, and their annual Fiji Island Party. On the altruistic side, the Phi Gams sponsored a basketball game with the famed "Texas Cowgirls" to raise money for the Fund Drive. They also held an Easter Party featuring "Peter Rabbit" for the children at the Odd Fellows Home, and helped collect for the United Fund Drive.

Phi Kappa Psi

Phi Kappa Psi was founded as a national fraternity in 1852, and in 1907, Beta chapter was established on Allegheny's Campus.

This year, the Phi Psi's began their activities with a tea for Freshman women. Later in the fall, the Harvest Dance highlighted the Homecoming Weekend events. After the excitement of Fathers' Weekend in November, the Phi Psi's held a tea for the Allegheny Singers to celebrate the Christmas Concert.

Winter activities continued with the highly successful "Peppermint Twist" co-sponsored with Kappa Kappa Gamma and Alpha Xi Delta, and music provided by the Phi Psi band. The pledge formal and the Spring Party provided a fitting conclusion to an eventful year.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon was founded March 9, 1856 at the University of Alabama. In 1887, the Allegheny chapter was organized. Among the various activities of the Omega chapter this year were a Beaux Arts Ball, the traditional freshmen teas, a Viking Party, and Fathers' Weekend. During the fall the Fraternity held a picnic at Bousson for the Bethesda children. As a service project the brothers also served as volunteers during Meadville's Civil Defense Drill. The annual Pledge Formal was held February 16. During the year such activities as the Hobo Party were given by the Little Sisters of Minerva, as affiliate social group composed mainly of the brothers' pin-mates.

Theta Chi

The Beta Chi chapter of the Theta Chi fraternity was founded at Norwich University in Norwich, Vermont on April 10, 1856. Over a period of more than 100 years, Theta Chi has grown rapidly as has the chapter here at Allegheny. This year, the Theta Chis began their fall season with a Honeymoon Hotel fall party located in Hawaii, a homecoming dance later in the fall, and the annual "Hangover Hop" at the beginning of second term. Pledging was an important part of the Theta Chis' activities, and the members and their dates celebrated the new pledges with the pledge formal on February 16. Their Spring formal and "Bunny Hop" finished the year's activities.

Independents

To improve the organization of the Independent Students the Independent Council was revised this year to provide wider representation and to serve as an integral part of the social organizations on campus. The council helps to keep the students informed of campus cultural and social events. As in previous years, the Independents have provided seminars for the benefit of all students.

A seminar conducted by Mr. Reader for the Freshmen Reading Program. As a service to freshmen, the Independents held three seminars first term, each with a faculty member discussing one of the books the students were required to read. This was the only formal opportunity for the freshmen to discuss the books with a professor. The seminars were all well attended with 100 to 150 freshmen at each.

Disappointment on the gridiron

The Allegheny Gators ended their 1962 season with a record of two wins against five losses. The team was a victim of close defeats and in their losses were only beaten by a total of 20 points. Possibly the most heartbreaking defeats came at the hands of Rochester and Bethany who scored with little time left in the game.

The high point of the season was the 12-6 win over Allegheny's arch rival, Thiel. In this game the Gators avenged the loss of last year that ruined a perfect record.

The outlook for next year will depend on how the positions of the graduating seniors can be filled. Seniors, Joe Valentino, Stoner Tracy, Bill Seedyke, Ernie Gaiser, Gus Grassi, Phil Crichton, and Sam Hester will be leaving a bevy of slots to be filled. The Gators can look to a better season if they can fill these gaps efficiently.

Stoner Tracy and Joe Valentino, co-captains and four-year lettermen, prepare for the tossing of the coin.

Go, Gators, Go!

Allegheny cheerleaders, responsible for sparking the fans and encouraging the teams, led the student body throughout the football and basketball seasons. Their job is to lead the crowd in cheers, so that the teams will know they are backing their endeavors on the field or court.

Led by captain, Bonnie Smith, the Gator supporters braved freezing temperatures and sometimes listless crowds to support the team.

Senior cheerleaders leaving are: Eileen Heller and Delmar Fischer.

Height problem plagues hoopsters

The Allegheny basketball team suffered a frustrating season, ending in a tie for sixth place in the P.A.C. The record for the squad was 4 wins against 13 losses. Hank Kachelriess was high scorer for the Gators and turned in a 27 point average for the last three games played. Kachelriess finished his last year of basketball at Allegheny as one of the top 5 scorers in the P.A.C. Jim Marquis, John Willet, Larry Katz, and Dave Spencer showed improvement over last season. Freshmen, Jim Sample and Howie Sterling also turned in good performances in some of the games.

Lack of height became evident with the loss of 6'5" John Ode. Sample, Willet, and Kachelriess were used to fill the deficit. Besides having a basically small team, the Gators have a young team. The outlook for next year is difficult to predict. If new freshmen are acquired and the more experienced squad members continue to improve, Allegheny may be a serious contender in the P.A.C.

Soccer squad finishes poor season

The soccer team posted a disappointing record of no wins, 6 losses, and 1 tie. Inexperience was one of the factors that led to a bad season for the Gator booters. The squad gave up a total of 23 points to their opponents while scoring 10.

Freshmen, John Dickson and Jim McIntire, played well for the Gators as did Junior, Bob Barndollar. The squad posted two men on the P.A.C. team. They were Grant Preble and Jeff Baldwin.

The outlook for next year should be brighter. The team will be at full strength and can improve their record through the experience of the past season.

Intermural Sports

A well developed intermural program at Allegheny College has made the competition for the All-Sports Trophy gain in intensity. Under Mr. Robert Garbark's able direction the program has made possible a diversified form of recreation and has created opportunities for students to participate in non-varsity athletics. Seven fraternities and the Independents vie for a total number of points that decide the Intermural Championship. A good cross section of sport events are offered so that every one gets an equal opportunity to participate in a sport in which he is most adept.

During the past year the competition for the trophy has grown. A more serious interest in the Intermural Program and more balanced teams have made the intermural race more keenly supported.

Cross Country squad continues to improve

The cross country team showed a big improvement this year having taken third place in the P.A.C. and having compiled an overall record of seven wins against two defeats.

Bill Benz turned in his usual good season and was strongly followed by Jim Bean and Bob Willson. Also running well were freshmen, Harvey Elkin and Al Friedle. Showing much improvement was Tom Bierly, a Junior. The cross country team should be strong again next year with the loss of only one man. Coach Bob Cares is to be congratulated for a good performance from this young sport at Allegheny.

Not enough bull's eyes

With one three-team rifle match left to end the season, the Allegheny rifle team, under the advisorship of Captain Alexander Gozur, had compiled a record of 4 wins against 8 losses. Top shooters for the team in 1963 were Jim Balent, 3rd year letterman, and freshman, John Spangler. Backing them were Dave Wolf, Bob Sikes, and John Redder. According to Sgt. Richard Griffith, the new practice facilities made it possible for the team to improve between match training and should create more interest in this sport in the future. The team can hope for a better year with the return of most of its lettermen forming essentially the same team as the one for the past year.

Swimmers 9 - 3 for season 3rd in P.A.C.

With a good record of 9 wins and 3 losses the Allegheny swimming team posted another fine season. The Gator mermen ended the season with a third place in the President's Athletic Conference championships. Under the direction of Coach Bill Hanson, the squad beat strong teams such as Hiram and Case while losing to a powerful Slippery Rock by one point and to Wayne State by two points.

Backed by veteran seniors, Ray Lewis and Eric Reimann, the experienced, well-balanced tankmen left Thiel, Western Reserve, Carnegie Tech, W&J, Fenn, Bethany, and Westminster in their wake. With the loss of only two seniors and the return of Pete Holt, Dave Ludwick, Jim Beatman, Skip Shaffer, Bob Sook, Bob Wilson, Rick Harris, and Craig Toedman, freshman P.A.C. breaststroke champion, the prospects of a strong team and a possible P.A.C. championship contender appear to be possible.

P.A.C. 4th place

The 1963 Gator mat squad turned in a record of 5 wins as opposed to 5 losses, placing fourth in the P.A.C. wrestling tournament. Sparking the Gators were four-time P.A.C. champion, John Bernhard and freshman, Denny Andrews, 137 pound P.A.C. title holder. Bernhard won the 157 pound championship his freshman year, the 147 pound title as a sophomore, and the 157 pound division in both his junior and senior years. This makes him P.A.C. title holder for four consecutive years, a feat worthy of much praise.

Freshman Andrews shows great promise as a 137-pound grappler nailing his performance in the championships. Disappointment came to the team when Eben Jones and John Antonnen were put out of action by injuries. This, combined with the weakness in the heavier weights, forced Coach Chuckran to switch grapplers in new positions and to experiment with fairly inexperienced wrestlers. The Gator team is young and through the knowledge gained this year can expect better results in the next year.

Track team stumbles

The 1962 Gator track team compiled a 4-5 record and finished fifth in the P.A.C. standings. The team was led by Jim Edwards who ran the 100 and 220 yard dashes and Bill Benz who ran the half mile, mile, and two mile events. Other lettermen were: Tom Corcoran and Dave Reiley, hurdles; Jim Meadowcroft, discus; Dave Kuhnert, pole vault; George Tullach, high jump; Len Cerrato, javelin; Ben Greer, 440 yard dash, and Bob Edwards, distant runs.

Allegheny cindermen have been improving the team since the Gators joined the P.A.C. in 1958. Coach Hanson hopes for a better season next year if the freshmen can correct the weaknesses in the field events and if a more serious interest in track is taken.

Jim Edwards shows his versatility as a pole vaulter besides running sprint events.

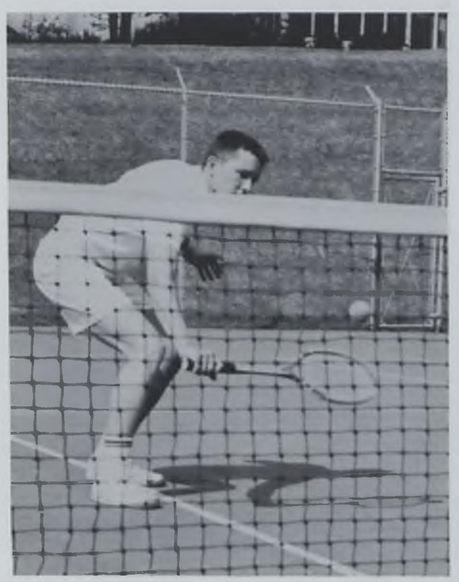
Tennis team posts 9 - 0 record



Having been hampered by a knee injury during the season Tim Gill hopes to bolster the Gator's record next year.

Coach H. P. Way's tennis team compiled a 9-0 record and finished third in the P.A.C. tournament. The Netmen won 16 straight meets which was three shy of a school record for consecutive victories.

Behind seniors Dick Maglisceau and Roger Smith, the Gators were able to post their undefeated mark in the regular season. However, in the P.A.C. tournament the team had to settle for third place.

The outlook is bright for next year, with Coach Way's having Mike Lipitz, Tim Gill, Jack Kroiger, and Dave Spencer returning in the lineup.

Gator bats claim third P.A.C. trophy

The 1962 Gator baseball team capped the P.A.C. title for the third straight year and set a new consecutive win mark. The Gator squad won 18 consecutive games setting a school record. Duncan Parkinson set another record when he hit safely in 19 straight games.

The team's only two losses of the season came at the hands of Wayne and Pitt. Previously, Jim Marquis had stopped Pitt at Forbes Field. All-star outfielder Harry Blackwood led the team in hitting with a .426 average. Jim Marquis led in pitching with a 6-0 record including a no hitter.

Five players made the all P.A.C. team. They were: Harry Blackwood, Dick Blackwood, Duncan Parkinson, Jim Marquis, and Stoner Tracy. With seven lettermen returning the Gators are again a contender for P.A.C. honors.

Golf team finishes second in P.A.C.

The 1962 Gator golf team finished the tour with a 6-1-1 record and a second place finish in the P.A.C. Tournament. The Gator linksmen were tied by Case giving them only one mar on their record in P.A.C. competition. The golf team's hope for a successful season next year will depend on the ability of new coming members.

The Block "A" club is an athletic organization composed of varsity athletes who have lettered in a varsity sport. This organization is open to all lettermen and every letterman is automatically a member. The Block "A" Club sponsors the crowning of the Homecoming Queen each year as a part of its function. Also, the annual Block "A" banquet is held in the spring. Trophies to any individual P.A.C. champion, senior athletic awards or any other athletic presentation is usually made during this affair.

Block "A" and W.A.A.

The Women's Athletic Association is an organization designed to provide sports participation for the co-eds. The W.A.A. sponsors several intermural sport programs for the women. These include bowling, volleyball, basketball, and softball. In addition, W.A.A. holds a "Playday" annually for colleges in the area. In the spring the annual May Day festivities are directed by the W.A.A.

SENIORS

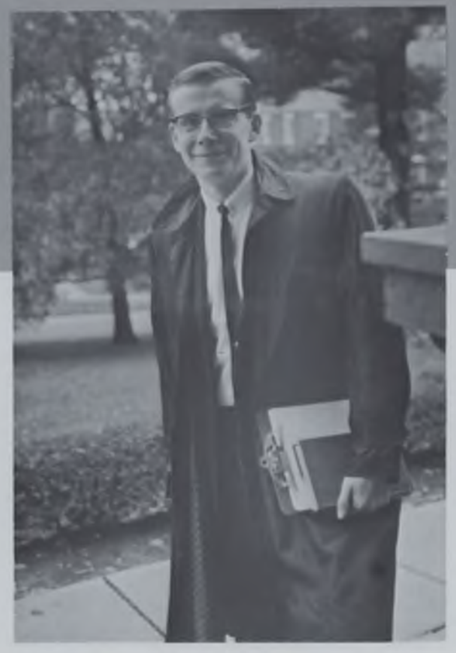
Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities

Election to the publication Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities is an honor allotted to a select number of seniors. The choice is based on fulfillment of four qualities—excellence and sincerity in scholarship, leadership and participation in academic and extracurricular activities, citizenship and service to school, and promise of future usefulness to business and society. Those chosen this year are ROW 1: Mary Baird, Marianne Buus, Gloria Gill, Kathy Davis. ROW 2: Penny Rose, Sue Rhinesmith, Stoner Tracy, Bruce Africa, Janet Miller, Curt Fee, Bill Townsend, Gaye Cushner, Sara Anson, Sam Hester. MISSING: John Bugbee and Powell Arms.

Phi Beta Kappa

Equipped with a modest self-assurance and her outstanding ability as a physicist, Carol Travis plans a career of research.

With a love of mathematical philosophy, Powell Arms aspires to teach boys to think and thus become men.



Bill Parker's project for the future is advancement through discovery by research in physics.

Ann Petry approaches the world unselfishly, seeking to share her genius with young minds not so fortunately endowed.

With Bobbie Mills' ambition, success should be no problem. Someday she hopes to heal.

Throughout four years . . . searching, discovering, comprehending . . .

We put the zipper on a diet and changed its personality completely. It used to be chunky metal. Now it's simply two slim coils of nylon . . . called the Talon Zephyr* zipper. Slenderized, tenderized, humanized with no sharp teeth to pinch, bite, catch, snag. Look for Talon Zephyr in the latest fashions. But look close . . . it's only a mere shadow of what a zipper was before!

Now—The time you've been waiting for becomes a time to look back on... and build on.

Suddenly, those long-seeming school years are over. What was a daily way of life has become a memory.

This is as it should be. These memories have a purpose. They are the foundation for a future.

You will have more to say about this future of yours than you ever did about the years just past. You—not a teacher or a parent—will be making the decisions. Though teachers and parents can help you, still you're the responsible party.

Being the boss of your own future is a big job. No question about it. And because of this, it is also an exciting and satisfying experience.

American Viscose Corporation, as a member of this community, welcomes you in your new status as a graduate. We offer you all possible encouragement, and wish you success and satisfaction.

The 1963 KALDRON opens with a picture of a sunset symbolizing the close of a day, a year, and perhaps, a college career. The pages that follow are meant as a tribute to the people who are Allegheny and the future of this college in education. These pages are different from those in any previous KALDRON. They reflect the change of the college in a new and exciting year—a year filled with memories for all who were a part of Allegheny. The KALDRON itself also reflects change—its format, its layout, its new additions in pages, content, and color. Often times it is difficult to accept change, but with this volume of the KALDRON, I hope that you will find it rewarding just as I have found my year as its Editor.

One of the more difficult tasks of producing a yearbook is saying thanks to all those who have helped make it possible through their many hours of endeavor. They have only a short time in which they can recognize the pleased expression on the faces of those who receive it. The only true reward they have is their pride in self-achievement.

The 1963 KALDRON Staff and I, personally, thank . . . the Faculty and Administration—especially Mr. Robert Sherman, Director of Development and Ass't. to the President, and Mr. H. P. Way, our advisor, for their kind and thoughtful help . . . Jeff Kane, Stanton-Rand Studios, and Mr. Robert Purdy, Associated Photographers of Pittsburgh, for their excellent photography . . . the CAMPUS Staff for their assistance in time of need . . . Mr. Don Messinger of Wm. J. Keller Inc., for his advice and care in the production of the book . . . and the 1962 KEY Staff of Bowling Green State University whose book we felt was what a yearbook should be like.

The KALDRON now closes with a picture of Bentley Hall in the early morning rain—symbolizing the dawn of a new day, a coming year, and a future.

Carol Ann Fetcko
