New York City.

Dear Madam:

We have not heard anything from you lately in regard to the Ford book and are wondering when you expect to supply us with the manuscript, as we would like to issue the book before the holiday season is upon us. The book trade has taken rather kindly to the book, and we think it will have a fair sale and perhaps a good sale if published in the not distant future.

The enclosed will no doubt interest you, and you will observe that "System" intends to publish a series of articles beginning with the December number which may or may not be of a similar character as your book. We thought it best, however, to let you know what "System" is doing, altho you may be fully acquainted with their plans.

Very truly yours,

FUNK & WAGNALLS COMPANY,
