RALEIGH, NORTH CAROLINA

Dec. 14 '32

Dear Miss or Mrs Tarbell
you two articles in December and January Cosmopolitan impressed me so very much. I am unable to express my appreciation, especially the article about the Cotton mill in Salem Mass.

after reading this article I went out among my friends (Who are railroad men and so am I) telling them in the best way I could about your article and the what wonderful work that had been done in this mill.

you should have heard what these people had to say about your article and the mill owners and employes as well.

First of all they very foolishly claimed that possibly you or Cosmopolitan was a big stockholder, that you were not sincere and neither were the mill owners and various other things that was not necessary. I am writing you all this to show you

just how bad we do need educating, how foolish and how fearful we are of anything that will change our thought or trend of living.

However there must be a great number that appreciated your article as well as the mill owners attitude toward their employes. Would to God that we had more people like you to lead us thru this industrial wilderness.

I sometimes think that the owner or capital are about as ignorant as the employe.

Please continue to enlighten the both of us with your food for thought articles.

Believe me I am

your very truly
