BLUE AND GOLD'S FINAL MEET BRINGS DEFEAT TO BONAVENTURE

Score of 83-39 Marks Glorious Finish to Allegheny's Track Season

Allegheny closed a successful track season last Saturday when the Varsity defeated St. Bonaventure's College at Allegheny, New York by an 83-39 score. It was the fourth victory of the year for the Blue and Gold team that has only suffered one defeat this spring.

The New Yorkers gave Allegheny a good fight for honors in the opening half of the meet but later the visitors piled up a larger quota of points than necessary to double the score of their opponents.

Allegheny was pressed hard in all of the short distance races by the Saints. In the one hundred yard dash, Dick Ellsworth won, but Murphy of the losers fought him all the way to the tape. Murphy got his revenge in the 220 however as Ellsworth was only able to finish third.

The quarter mile run went to Brady of St. Bonaventure. Wimmer was a close second. After the race was over the time was found to be 46 seconds, which is lower than the world's record. The track was then measured and the distance was discovered as being sixty yards short. This undoubtedly cut off Wimmer's chances of victory, as the Allegheny captain depends much on his final spurt to bring him success.

A feature number on the program was an 880 yard relay race. St. Bonaventure's relay team was the same as the one that took second place in the Pennsylvania Relays race for colleges of the Middle States.

Judd and Parnell were again the high lights in the weight throwing con-

COURBOIN TO RETURN FOR COMMENCEMENT RECITAL

FAMOUS ORGANIST COMES TO ALLEGHENY AGAIN THIS YEAR TO PLAY ON JUNE 19 AND 20

Seldom is the college fortunate enough to secure more than one appearance of any of the outstanding concert artists, but through the efforts of Dr. H. W. Church arrangements have been made whereby Mr. Charles M. Courboin, who was here the first of the year, will give the commencement organ recital on Tuesday, June 19, and will also play for the graduation exercises on the following day.

Mr. Courboin's concert in Ford Memorial Chapel on the thirtieth of last January was by far the best of anything of its kind that Meadville has ever heard. It brought out tones and qualities from the chapel organ that few had ever realized could be produced and which, without doubt, put into music all the ideas and expression which the master composers meant them to contain. The great success of the concert aroused a strong desire to hear the noted organist again, and plans were made to have him return at commencement time.

Mr. Courboin is a world famed organist, having toured through both Europe and America. In 1919, following seven years of marked success in the musical world, he was appointed guest soloist on the Wanamaker Grand Court Organ in Philadelphia, the largest instrument of its kind in the world.

MAY LITERARY MONTHLY IS SENTIMENTAL NUMBER

STORIES, POEMS, AN ESSAY, AND A PLAY GIVE VARIETY TO PUBLICATION

Subdued in a pale, gentle green cover, the May number of the Literary Monthly appeared last week bringing with it the tidings, "Spring is here." After the sensational issue of the previous month, the Lit has again returned to its usual gentility and meekness.

"In the Spring," a short poem by the editor, portrays what we would call the height of romance—a swain losing his pin on a moonlight night up the Cussy.

"This Way Out," a short story by Miss Helen Robinson, deals with the romance of a country girl who surprises her staid and dignified neighbors by eloping with an Italian.

The poem, entitled "Daguerrotypes" by Miss Helen Bowman is a quaint presentation which contains a whim-

NOTED SCHOLAR TO MAKE PHI BETA KAPPA ADDRESS

DR. FRANK AYDELOTTE, PRESIDENT OF SWARTHMORE COLLEGE SPEAKS HERE JUNE 18

President Frank Aydelotte of Swarthmore College, a noted scholar prominent in movements for the furtherance of education in this country, will deliver the Phi Beta Kappa address here on Monday June 18.

Since his graduation from Indiana University in 1900, president Aydelotte has achieved notable success as a scholar and educator. He received the degree of Master of Arts from Harvard University in 1903. From 1905 to 1907 he was the Rhodes scholar from Indiana at Oxford University, where he received the degree of Litt. B. in 1908. Since the Rhodes scholarships are awarded only to the students of marked superior standing, the honor of having received one is a signal tribute to Mr. Aydelotte's ability.

From 1908 to 1915 he was Associate Professor of English at Indiana University. From there he received an appointment to the Massachussetts Institute of Technology where he held the Chair of English until 1921, when he became President of Swarthmore, which is his present position.

In recognition of his success he was made American Secretary to the Rhodes Trustees in 1918. As this position brings him into contact with the best of American students, who

PROF. C. E. HAMMETT TO PUBLISH BOOK

TREATISE ON ATHLETICS CONTAINS ILLUSRATIONS TAKEN AT ALLEGHENY

"How to Become an Athlete" is the title of the book soon to be published by Professor Charles E. Hammett, head of the department of Physical Education. The book treats all of the usual college sports and contains in addition a very fine article on Baseball written by Carl L. Lundgren, varsity baseball coach at the University of Illinois.

Coach Hammett has been gathering the material for his book for the past ten years and has spent the greater part of the last two years in preparing the work for the publisher. The book contains all the "inside dope" on all sports as well as a great deal of expert knowledge which is only made possible by the Coach's long and varied experience. It is addressed primarily to high school athletes but contains a great deal of material of value to colliege men. A manuscript of the book was sent to many of the prominent coaches throughout the country to learn if there would be a market for such a work. They were unanimous in their hearty approval of the book

The book is being published by the D. C. Heath & Co., of New York, and will make its appearance early in July. It will contain about 350 pages with numerous illustrations. It is an interesting fact that most of the illustrations were taken on Allegheny's own field and are of prominent Allegheny athletes.

WELL KNOWN ALUMNUS TO SPEAK AT VESPERS

REVEREND SAMUEL L. MAXWELL TO DELIVER MESSAGE SUNDAY

With the Reverend Samuel L. Maxwell as preacher, the combined monthly Vesper Service and Annual Sermon before the Christian Associations will be given next Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in Ford Memorial Chapel

While he was in college, the Rev. Mr. Maxwell was prominent in religious and other activities. He was a varsity basketball player for four years, and in his junior year he was captain of he team. As a senior he was President of the Y. M. C. A.

After his graduation from Allegheny in 1910 he went to the theological school at Boston University and received the degree of S. T. B. in 1913, and soon after was ordained as a minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Since that time he has constantly been engaged in various phases of Christian service.

During the war in the years 1918-1919 he served as a chaplain in the United States Navy. Then in 1919 he came back to Allegheny and acted as director of the Y. M. C. A. and the religious activities of the S. A. T. C. for a term. In 1920 he took the pastorate of the First M. E. church of Fredonia, N. Y., which is his present charge.

Since 1912 he has had charge of the Epworth League conferences which are held at Allegheny during one week of each summer, and will again have charge of the one this coming season.

DR. C. A. DARLING RETURNS FROM SABBATIC LEAVE

BIOLOGY PROFESSOR AND FAMILY TRAVEL EXTENSIVELY DURING YEAR OF ABSENCE

After almost a year spent in travelling about the United States, Canada, Cenral America, and the West Indies, Dr. C. A. Darling, Professor of Biology and Geology, has returned to Meadville from his sabbatic leave. Accompanying Dr. Darling on his entire trip were Mrs. Darling and his son Richard. Sabbatic leave is granted to heads of departments once every seven years, for the purpose of travel and study, Dr. Darling being the first professor to be granted such leave since the outbreak of the Great War.

About one-half of Professor Darling's time was spent in study at the University of California and the other half was occupied by travel. During the summer months of last year the party toured in the West. Denver, Hot Springs, Salt Lake City, Pike's Peak, Royal Gorge, and Yellowstone Park were the objects of the first pilgrimages to the scenic spots of that section. From Yellowstone the Darlings went on up into the Canadian Rockies stopping at Banff, Lake Louise, and other beauty spots among those rugged mountains. At Banff the party was fortunate enough to see a field day staged by the Stony Indians. From Canada they went down through Washington and Oregon stopping along the way at such places at Mt.

SPEECHES, FLOATS AND PARADE CELEBRATE MOVING UP DAY

Students Forget Exam Worries to Participate in Annual Frolic

Observance of Moving-Up Day, the annual holiday which celebrates the cessation of recitations and the promotion of the classes, is held today with exercises in the Chapel and a student parade down town.

At the Chapel service speakers from each of the three lower classes petition the classes respectively one year older for their seats in Chapel. The petitioners are: for the Juniors, Mr. T. A. Siedle; for the Sophomores, Mr. R. H. Demmler, and for the Freshmen, Mr. A. H. Bartlett. Mr. John H. Bozic of the Senior class answers the request of the Juniors; Mr. M. V. Wright, Junior, replies to the Sophomores, and C. L. Sutton gives the Sophomores' answer to the Freshmen.

As soon as possible after the program in the Chapel is completed the classes assemble immediately in front of the Chapel, on North Main street in parade formation. Fifteen or twenty minutes are allowed the Freshmen and Sophomores to get into costume and form in marching order.

The Seniors lead the parade in automobiles. The other three classes follow on foot. Each Fraternity is represented by a float or some similar exhibition. The Freshman Class also has a float and several other spectacles in addition to their costumes.

The parade starts from the Chapel and proceeds down North Main St. to Chestnut St., down Chestnut St. to Water St., down Water St., to Arch St., to Park Ave., and up Park Ave. to the College.

BIOLOGISTS EXPLORE PYMATUNING SWAMP

ALLEGHENY NATURE LOVERS MAKE ANNUAL TRIP TO MARSHLAND

Mid-morning of Decoration Day witnessed an eager group of nine, with cameras, specimen cases, and lunch baskets boarding the Linesville car for the annual biological trip to Pymatuning Swamp. This large tract of marshland is a most prolific source of specimens of plants and flowers, and is also a favorite haunt of the less common birds. For this reason it has been customary for the students of biology and members of the faculty to make it a mecca of a field trip and picnic trip each spring.

Dr. K. F. Bascom and Professor D. E. Thomas of the department took charge of Wednesday's trip, and were accompanied by the Misses Goodnough, Kitchen, and Rogers, Dr. O. P. Rainier where Professor Darling made brief studies of the mountain rock formations and the flora and fauna of the country. From the north-west they journeyed to California where they spent most of the next five or six months. In this state they visited Yosemite, the Mariposa big tree grove, Los Angeles, San Francisco, some of the old Spanish missions, Mt. Lowell and other places of general interest as well as places where Dr. Darling could have opportunity to gather information which directly concerned his work in connection with the Department of Biology and Geology. The major part of the time in California, however, was spent by the family at Berkley where Dr. Darling engaged in library and laboratory work at the University of California. While study-

DR. J. R. SCHULTZ PLANS EXTENSIVE TRIP ABROAD

HEAD OF ENGLISH LITERATURE DEPARTMENT LEAVES ON SABBATIC VACATION THIS SUMMER

Dr. J. R. Schultz, head of the department of English Literature, will depart within a few days on his sabbatic leave extendng over a period of one year. He expects to spend the greater portion of the time in travel and research, both in Europe and in this country. Mrs. Schultz will accompany her husband during most of his travels in this country but will not go abroad with him.

After leaving Allegheny, Dr. Schultz will take a month's complete rest in and around his old home in Missouri, after which he will sail for Europe. The greater part of the time abroad will be spent in England although several trips on the continent are planned. He expects to visit many of the places of literary and historic interest and will do considerable research work. While in London, Dr. Schultz will take advantage of the many opportunities for study offered by the famous British Museum Library which is the greatest library in the world.

Returning to this country, he will travel about the New England section visiting places of literary interest and doing research work in Yale and Harvard as well as in New York City. The latter part of the winter will be spent in the south with probable headquarters in New Orleans.

FRESHMAN CLASS ROSTER IS PRACTICALLY FILLED

MORE THAN 150 FRESHMEN ARE ALREADY ENROLLED FOR FALL SEMESTER

Enrollment of the incoming freshman class is quickly nearing completion and at present includes more than 150 persons. There are forty girls coming who will room in Hulings Hall, while fifteen or more will live in the town. Although the hundredth boy was just signed up the other day, there will probably be 125 on the list by September. There will be nearly 190 in the class when the enrollment is completed. This will be ten more than started in the class of 1926.

Several of the applicants are receiving high school or state scholarships because of their high standing in their respective schools. Nearly all those who are now enrolled come from Western Pennsylvania, New York, or Ohio. Registration for freshmen begins on September 25 and for upper classmen one day later.

THE COLLEGE WELCOMES AN ALUMNUS PREACHER

The Reverend Samuel L. Maxwell is known as such to those who have heard of him only. But to the present Senior class, and all others who have been associated with him during his days at Allegheny as student and later as Y. M. C. A. secretary, he is known as just Sam. We are pleased to welcome this popular alumnus as preacher for the service on next Sunday afternoon.

THE TRACK TEAM DESERVES CREDIT

We have a track squad of which we may be duly proud. Although a track and field meet may not be as spectacular as a football or basketball game, it requires the same dogged training and perseverance from its men. Our fellows have spent many an afternoon upon Montgomery Field in preparation for the contests in which they have been victorious in all but one instance. Some have been awarded letters in recognition of their efforts, while others still have them to look forward to. In any case, each man of the entire squad deserves appreciation from every one of us.

WHY NOT KEEP OUR FEET ON THE GROUND?

College folk are usually fairly tolerant, but they cannot tolerate conceit. Nothing antagonizes them quite as much as does a swell-headed student. This is homely language, but preciosity is out of place.

It is dangerously easy to contract a case of this contemptible disease—campus fever, as it is called in some colleges; some little recognition on the Hill often does the trick. And the most disgusting thing about it is that there is no office in college worth the loss of humility and simplicity. These virtues can serve throughout life, while the glory and prestige of college activities are fleeting. That the world soon forgets is a most fortunate truth.

Swell-headedness is altogether unnecessary, anyhow. Centuries ago a Persian poet told his people that "if a man be expert in any art, he need not tell it; his skill will show it." What few talents we have will do their own publicity work.

DR. DARLING IS BACK

ing at Berkley, Professor Darling completed several problems in bacteriological and botanical research, among them an investigation into the reliability of the government inspection of tomatoes, the results of which have created considerable interest among canning interests. Reports of Dr. Darling's work along this line are contained in a bulletin of the New York Agricultural Station and in two recent numbers of the Canning Age, a magazine devoted to the canning and packing interests.

Dr. Darling also worked out several other problems in biological research and his reports have been accepted by recognized organizations devoted to the study of botanical and bacteriological research work.

After the semester at the University the family spent a little more time sojourning in California and then boarded a steamer for Panama. On the way the boat stopped several times at Mexican and American ports so that the passengers were given an opportunity to get a hasty glance at life in these tropical American countries. From Panama the Darlings crossed the Caribbean to Jamaica where they spent several days, then went on to Santiago, Cuba, travelled the length of that island to Havana, and thence embarked for Miami, Florida. After a few weeks in various Florida resorts the family started North stopping at a number of cities along the Atlantic seaboard. Arriving in New York, they spent several days in that city and thence journeyed up to Boston and spent some time travelling about the New England towns and the White Mountains. From there they came down by way of Lake Champlain and Lake George to Albany, across New York state and finally back to Meadville where they arrived last Friday afternoon. Dr. Darling will resume his duties as head of the Biology Department in summer school. His work in the college this year during his absence has been handled by Dr. Kellogg F. Bascom.

LITERARY MONTHLY

sical thought. It is so forcefully true that it makes us somewhat uncomfortable.

Another poem by the same author, "If I Should Die," betrays the thoughts of a pessimistic sweetheart who believes that "the faithless men" soon forget.

"Sic Transit Gloria Mundi" is a one-act play by Miss Helen Bowman and is cleverly written. The play is rather long, and the interest could be more easily sustained by more definite allusions in the case of the characters. Miss Bowman introduced subtle humor and even a trace of sarcasm in her play.

"Finding Our Own Level," a brief description by Miss Helen Murray who was graduated in the class of 1911, vividly portrays a trip in Mexico; how she and her companion were forced to make the journey in a cattle car, although they had purchased first class tickets.

In a sarcastic editorial the editor complains of the abuse to which the "Lit" has been subjected, criticizing the attitude of the student body in general, and in particular, a theme written by "the freshman of the Caustic Pen."

"Art for Art's Sake," by Miss Alicia Tobin, is an appropriate title for this short story in which the hero's name is—of course—Art. The girl declares she will not marry Art even if she has to turn pancakes in a restaurant. She turns pancakes.

"Oblivion" is merely a sentimental ditty and seems to have been used to fill out the page.

A trilogy, "Eyes of the World," paints in brilliant, yet substantial colors the meaning and expression of brown, blue, and gray eyes.

"Feet of Clay," a short story by Miss Jean Kitchen, overflows with humorous turns and presents a realistic picture of child life.

Three short poems by the editor entitled "Inspiration," "My Love Is Like a Ghost Tonight," and "Gurgle of a Gold Digger" complete the May issue of the Literary Monthly.

SUMMER SCHOOL PLANS ARE NEAR COMPLETION

REGISTRATION FOR THE SIX WEEKS' COURSE BEGINS JUNE 25

Enrollment in the summer school session at Allegheny is increasing daily, and now numbers more than forty persons. Those who are taking the courses are composed of teachers who desire their state teachng certificates; college students who wish to get caught up in their studies, or to get ahead, and high school students who want credits for graduation or entrance to college. The summer school term is open to both men and women.

Hulings Hall will be open for the use of the women who are attending, while the men will have to room and board in town. The term is to be six weeks in length, opening on June 25, and closing on August. 4. All the college buildings with the exception of Ruter will be used in the teaching of the nineteen courses that are being offered. There will be ten instructors in the summer school, seven of whom are heads of their respective departments.

A further evidence of his ability is his position as a trustee of the Carnegie Foundation For the Advancement of Teaching. He is also a member of the Modern Language Association of America, the American History Association, and the Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education. He belongs to the Harvard Clubs of New York and Boston and the Cosmos Club of Washington.

He has published several notable books. In 1913 he wrote "Elizabethan Rogues and Vagabonds" and "College English." "The Oxford Stamp" was produced in 1917. ALUMNI VOTES FOR TRUSTEES ARE COMING IN

The votes for the candidates for alumni trustees are coming in every day. Up to date 350 ballots have been received. Last year the largest vote in the history of alumni voting for trustees was polled. It is hoped to exceed all former voting records this year and all alumni who have not yet voted are earnestly requested to do so at once. Even if you intend to come for commencement and to vote then, will you not vote and pay your dues now in order to lessen the clerical work and make sure that your ballot is in the hands of the secretary. If your ballot has been mislaid or failed to reach you, write at once for another and vote for alumni trustees.

Secretary.

GARRETT
Established in 1855
One of the really great theological seminaries of the country.
WALTER DILL SCOTT, President Northwestern University
"With intimate acquaintance of most of the seminaries of the United States, extending from the time when I was president of the Federal Council, I wish to offer my testimony that no church in American Protestantism has, taking it by and large, any higher grade of seminaries than has Methodism. In development of curricula, modern scholarship, and general progressiveness, I think they are in the very van of theological education and in the matter of supervised field work they have made a distinct place for themselves. Of the Methodist group Garrett stands in the forefront."

CLUB ACTIVITIES

THOBURN CLUB

Election of officers was the feature of the meeting of the Thoburn Club held last Thursday evening in the Classical Club room of the Library. Mr. Harry Hummer was elected president of the organization for next year, and Messrs. R. W. Leeper, R. O. Barber and L. E. Shaeffer were chosen to fill the offices of vice-president, secretary and treasurer respectively.

Following the elections, Dr. C. F. Littell spoke to the members of the club on "The Relation of the Social Sciences to the Minister." He outlined the various types of ministers,, many of whom are regarded as being highly successful, but emphasized the fact that the really useful man in the pulpit is the one who appreciates the economic and social conditions of the time and who is not afraid to come out and say what he thinks. Professor Littell also brought out the growing distrust on the part of the upper classes toward the church. They seem to feel more and more that it is an instrument of capital to be used against them.

Y. W. C. A.

Mrs. I. R. Beiler and Mrs. O. P. Akers were the speakers at a special meeting of the Y. W. C. A. last Thursday evening in the association rooms. The general subject of foreign and home missions was discussed giving emphasis to the vast amount of work yet to be accomplished and the need for earnest and efficient workers. At the request of the leaders, each member presented a list of her own talents which might be useful in work of this type.

BIOLOGY DEPARTMENT ADOPTS NEW MASCOT

BABY WOODCHUCK, UNDER GUARDIANSHIP OF DR. K. F. BASCOM IS PET AT ALDEN

Acquisition of what promises to become an active and vigorous college addition was made about three weeks ago by the Biology Department when Paul Bird presented it with a baby woodchuck about the size of a two-months-old kitten.

Being a native of North Dakota, where there are no woodchucks, Dr. K. F. Bascom at first was at a loss to know what to feed the cunning youngster, but the theory that woodchucks would chuck wood was early abandoned. Milk, administered with an eye dropper, was the next experiment, and proved to be a happy thought. Bread was then added to the diet as well as grass and dandelions.

The little captive immediately became the mascot of the staff in Alden Hall, and when carried out to take the air would follow "Doc" about the lawn like a diminutive puppy. As soon as the news of his advent was spread he was the center of an admiring crowd, all of whom wanted to fondle the little wejack. Afraid that repeated demonstrations of this kind would affect the health or excite the vanity of his pet, Dr. Bascom was obliged to confine him more closely to his pen. At first a small glass jar was sufficient to held him, but regular nourishment seized eagerly from the eyedropper soon enabled him to outgrow this humble habitat and he was put into a wire box. But even at that the lid has to be kept tightly in place, and his lion-like demonsrations at meal time always call forth a sound scolding from his keeper.

PROF. R. H. SKELTON TO GO TO YALE FORESTRY CAMP

WILL SERVE AS CAMP SUPERVISOR AND INSTRUCTOR DURING SUMMER

Prof. Ray H. Skelton will spend eight weeks at the Yale Forestry School Camp at Milford, Pa. This is one of the two summer camps which are maintained by Yale University.

Prof. Skelton, who is a graduate of Yale, will act in the capacity of camp supervisor and will give some instruction. He will leave shortly after college closes here.

The camp at Milford, Pa., is one of the finest camps maintained by a college or university in the country and is necessary because the East Lynne Camp of Sheffield Scientific School does not afford sufficient variety of trees for the work of the Forestry School. The camp site is on the estate of Gov. Pinchot, who is himself a Yale graduate, professor and special lecturer.

Prof. Skelton will return this fall when college opens in September to resume his duties here.

WOMEN'S SENATE

Members of the Women's Student Senate for 1923-24 were installed Saturday morning in Alden Hall during the Chapel session. Preceding the ceremony of installation, Miss Alice Spalding gave an appropriate talk on co-operative work with the Student Government Board. Miss Katherine Simmons, in the capacity of president for the past year, presided over the meeting and the following persons took the oath of office: President, Mary Wickham; Vice President, Mary Dorworth; Secretary-Treasurer, Virginia Berry; First Senior Town Member, Dorothy Irwin; Second Senior Town Member, Blanche Joyce; First Junior Member, Eleanor Taylor; Second Junior Member, Virginia Debolt; Junior Town Member, Elizabeth Bates; and Sophomore Member, Janette Waring.

Miss Mary Wickham, as newly installed president, spoke of the duties of the student body and the desirability of working together for the good of the whole.

RACQUETERS WIN, LOSE AND DRAW IN MATCHES

COURT MEN OVERWHELM THIEL, TIE WITH WEST VIRGINIA, AND LOSE TO PITT

A vicory, a defeat, and a tie were the results of the tennis matches that the Allegheny netmen participated in last week. W. Virginia was tied Monday at 3-3, Pit was victorious Thursday, 6-0, and Thiel was defeated Saturday, 5-1. All of the matches were played away.

Although West Virginia won the match played here this handicap was overcome sufficiently to enable the Meadville team to secure a tie. The members of the team feel that the squad played the best tennis of the year at Morgantown.

A complete reversal of form was evident in the match with Pitt. The Blue and Gold men failed to win a set. The members of the team were tired and worn out by a week of fitful traveling and McQuiston was still suffering from the effects of the sunstroke received during the match with West Virginia. But the sting of this defeat was tempered by the fact that Pitt had previously lost to the Morgantown racqueters, 4-2.

The meeting with Thiel was uneventful. Pratt and Coale played well and McQuiston came back strong after the first set and won a good match. The record to date is 7 defeats, 4 victories and one tie.

The summaries are—Pitt: Singles, Garroway (P) defeated Cochran (A) 6-2, 6-3. Silverman (P) defeated Clarke (A) 6-3, 6-4. Pieffer (P) defeated McQuiston (A) 6-2, 6-0. Copper (P) defeated Pratt (A) 6-3, 6-2. Doubles—Silverton and Linton (P) defeated Pratt and Cochran 6-2, 6-1. Groomes and Psall (P) defeated Clarke and Coale (A) 6-2, 6-1.

West Virginia—Singles, Cochran (A) defeated Steele (W) 6-3, 6-4. Jones (W) defeated Clarke (A) 4-6, 6-3, 6-3. McQuiston (A) defeated Riley (W) 5-7, 6-4, 6-4. Turner (W) defeated Pratt (A) 6-8, 6-7, 6-3. Doubles—Steele and Jones (W) defeated Cochran and McQuiston (A) 6-2, 6-1. Clarke and Coale (A) defeated Turner and Riley (W) 6-3, 6-1.

Thiel: Singles, Cochran (A) defeated Zundel (T) 7-5, 6-3. McQuiston (A) defeated Forsythe (T) 3-6, 6-0, 6-3. Coale (A) defeated Jackson (T) 2-6, 6-3, 8-6. Pratt (A) defeated Miller (T) 6-3, 6-3. Doubles—Forsythe and Zundel (T) defeated Coale and Cochran (A) 6-1, 6-1. McQuiston and Pratt (A) defeated Miller and Crowe (T) 6-4, 7-5.

EXPLORE SWAMP

Akers, and Messrs. Fielding, Mook, Powell, and Winters. Mr. Leeper and Mr. Leyda followed on a later car.

Arriving at Linesville, the picnickers struck out afoot for the swamp, where they were met by Mr. Cartwright and Mr. Roach, who had been in camp there since the preceding Saturday.

Shouldering their cases, the adventurers launched a reconnoitering trip, with eyes alert and cameras cocked. Their diligence was rewarded with glimpses of strange denizens of the marsh lands and with the discovery of several interesting plants and flowers that were new to the greater number of the group. Among the characteristic plants of the region were the pitcher plant, one of the few insectivorous varieties, which traps small insects in its pitcher-shaped leaves and digests them; large and small yellow lady slippers, and some pink ones. Besides these Dr. Thomas recorded a list of over sixty swamp flowers which they saw, and several of the party made the acquaintance of poison sumach.

The real discovery of the trip, however, was made by Mr. Cartwright and Mr. Roach, who found and photographed a couple nests of the ruffled grouse.

SPORT NOTES

Allegheny's Inter-Fraternity Baseball League has afforded a great deal of pleasure, recreation and exercise this season, and also quite a number of incidents and contests that smack of the spice of really good baseball. The pitching duel between Byham and Hanlon in the Phi Gam-Sig game ranks as one of these features, a second was turned in last Friday, when the Delts pulled a real triple play. Second and third bases were occupied when Smith, of the Non-fraternity team, lined to Scourfield. After making a pretty catch the Delt short-stop leaped to second before the runner, whirled, and pegged to Risher at third for the third out.

Penn State, for the fourth consecutive year, carried off the first honors in the University of Pittsburgh Annual Intercollegiate Meet. The squad from Mt. Nittany were closely pursued by the Panther team, barely nosing them out by five and one-half points. Helffrich of State established a track record in the half mile when he stepped off the distance in 1 min., 57 2-5 seconds. Four men reached the six foot mark in the high jump, but Verne Heckle of State was good for one more inch and so took first place leaving Robusch, Johnson and Warner, the latter a State entry also, tied for second honors.

The Cadets triumphed over their Middy rivals 67 1-3 to 58 2-3 in the seasonal Army-Navy meet. Calhoun, Army, clipped 20 seconds off the meet record when he travelled the two mile event in 9 min. 36 1-5 sec.

Shades of ye Revolutionary traditions and landmarks! General 'Mad' Anthony Wayne's ancient homestead has been taken over by the Cedar Hollow Country Club to be converted into a club house.

Cassell W. Mowery, firstbaseman on the West Virginia University baseball team died as a result of being hit on the head last Wednesday during the game with Pitt. Steve Swetonic was pitching for the Smoky City at the time.

COURBOIN TO RETURN

Since Mr. Courboin was here last winter it has been discovered that besides being an organist of fame, this versatile artist is also a first class mechanical engineer and a designer of organs as well. He has designed and superintended the building of several very fine organs, but his masterpiece is the one at Scranton, Pennsylvania, where he plays on Sundays except when away on concert tours. This organ is complete in every detail and cost $30,000. Before the coucert which he gave at Meadville last winter, Mr. Courboin spent considerable time going over the organ and tuning it up, even though it had just been rebuilt.
