My dear Miss Tarbell:

Your letter of the 13th instant was forwarded to me here. I was very greatly interested to know that you have been called to the Conference at Washington. It certainly needs something of the point of view which I am sure you will endeavor to impress upon it, judging by the reports I see in the papers.

I have no suggestions to make other than those contained in the papers I sent you, except perhaps to call specifically to your attention that nothing I have written in these papers is in any way objectionable to the trade union movement. My personal feeling is that the employers of the country today, who are refusing to co-operate, are blind the the forces that are at work, for the only way they can draw out of the men the constructive producing attitude is by presenting this attitude to their employees. Of course, you understand that I am not voicing a theory, but giving you the results of actual experience.

With kindest regards and best wishes, I remain,

Very sincerely yours,

RBW.JFS
