Mr. H. P. Burton,
New York City

Dear Mr. Burton:-

I am sending, Special Delivery, this morning five to six thousand words.

I regret that the copy is so scandalous. If you have trouble call on my Secretary M. I. Scanlan, 500 Fifth Avenue, Seventh Floor. She is use to handling this kind of stuff for me.

It's been an awful hustle here, but will be easier from now on. I go to Palm Beach this morning to meet Reams.

You will see from Page-2 of the manuscript, the general lines for the next article. The second can be called, if it pleases you, "Deflating the Florida Boom" a remarkable state wide movement. They caught themselves on the edge of the precipice, and the best men are still none too sure, but I really believe that if they held on, they'll make it.

I am going at the Solid Developments of which there are many, admirable developments. Will write you later more fully.

Send telegrams here where I return Sunday until I notify you.

Very sincerely,
