My dear Miss Tarbell

I read your letter of the 6th instant at the directors' meeting of the Mac Donald Club the other day, and all were of one mind that we wanted you on the Board, and that we hoped circumstances might arise which would make it possible for you to serve. If this ~~plan~~ should prove impossible we should be forced however unwillingly to accept your assignment.

As to music, I hope you are aware that this is only one of the arts with which the Club concerns itself. And when anyone is as eminent in any one as you are, we don't care at all if he (or she) should confuse the overture to Janhänder with "a hot time to"
Very Sincerely
Walter Cook
