Dear Miss Tarbell;

Recently Mrs. Bugbee and I have been reading together your very interesting autobiography.

We were naturally interested in it when we first read the reviews and were happily surprised when we discovered that you had spoken in so kindly a way of my father and mother in your chapter on student days at Allegheny College.

Our own contacts with Meadville, Titusville and Chautauqua County, New York, made your reference to them particularly vital to us, but as we read on we greatly enjoyed the book because of its reference to so much in our contemporary American life.

Thanking you for the pleasure we have had in reading "All in the Day's Work," and with kindest personal regards,

Sincerely yours,

Lucius H. Bugbee
